[Valencia Orange Reg. 35]

PART 922—VALENCIA ORANGES GROWN IN ARIZONA AND DESIGNATED PART OF CALIFORNIA

LIMITATION OF HANDLING

§ 922.335 Valencia Orange Regulation 35—(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to Order No. 22 (19 F. R. 1741), regulating the handling of Valencia oranges grown in Arizona and designated part of California, effective March 31, 1954, under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and upon the basis of the recommendation and information submitted by the Valencia Orange Administrative Committee, established under the said order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of handling of such Valencia oranges, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient, and a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective as hereinafter set forth. The Valencia Orange Administrative Committee held an open meeting on May 12, 1955, after giving due notice thereof, to consider supply and market conditions for Valencia oranges and the need for regulation; interested persons were afforded an opportunity to submit information and views at this meeting; the recommendation and supporting information for regulation during the period specified herein was promptly submitted to the Department after such meeting was held; the provisions of this section, including its effective time, are identical with the aforesaid recommendation of the committee, and information concerning such provisions and effective time has been disseminated among handlers of such Valencia oranges; it is necessary, in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act, to make this section effective during the period herein specified; and compliance with this section will not require any special preparation on the part of persons subject thereto which cannot be completed on or before the effective date hereof.

(b) Order. (1) The quantity of Valencia oranges grown in Arizona and designated part of California which may be handled during the period beginning at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., May 15, 1955, and ending at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., May 22, 1955, is hereby fixed as follows:

(i) District 1: 196,350;

(ii) District 2: 184,800 boxes;

(iii) District 3: Unlimited movement.

(2) Valencia oranges handled pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be subject to any size restrictions applicable thereto which have heretofore been issued on the handling of such oranges and which are effective during the period specified herein.

(3) As used in this section, "handled," "handler," "boxes," "District 1," "District 2," and "District 3," shall have the same meaning as when used in said order.

Dated: May 13, 1955.

PART 933—ORANGES, GRAPEFRUIT, AND TANGERINES GROWN IN FLORIDA

LIMITATION OF SHIPMENTS

§ 933.738 Orange Regulation 279—(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 33, as amended (7 CFR Part 933), regulating the handling of oranges, grapefruit, and tangerines grown in the State of Florida, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and upon the basis of the recommendations of the committees established under the aforesaid amended marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of shipments of all Florida oranges, except Temple oranges, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient; a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective not later than May 16, 1955. Shipments of all oranges, except Temple oranges, grown in the State of Florida, are presently subject to regulation by grades and sizes, pursuant to the amended marketing agreement and order, and will so continue until May 16, 1955; the recommendation and supporting information for continued regulation subsequent to May 15, 1955, was promptly submitted to the Department after an open meeting of the Growers Administrative Committee on May 10; such meeting was held to consider recommendations for regulation, after giving due notice of such meeting, and interested persons were afforded an opportunity to submit their views at this meeting; the provisions of this section, including the effective time hereof, are identical with the aforesaid recommendation of the committee, and information concerning such provisions and effective time has been disseminated among handlers of such oranges; it is necessary, in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act, to make this section effective during the period hereinafter set forth so as to provide for the continued regulation of the handling of all oranges, except Temple oranges, and compliance with this section will not require any special preparation on the part of the persons subject thereto which cannot be completed by the effective time hereof.

(b) Order. (1) During the period beginning at 12:01 a. m., e. s. t., May 16, 1955, and ending at 12:01 a. m., e. s. t., May 30, 1955, no handler shall ship:

(i) Any oranges, except Temple oranges, grown in the State of Florida, which do not grade at least U. S. No. 1 Russet;

(ii) Any oranges, except Temple oranges, grown in the State of Florida, which are of a size smaller than a size that will pack 288 oranges, packed in accordance with the requirements of a standard pack, in a standard nailed box; or

(iii) Any oranges, except Temple oranges, grown in the State of Florida, which are of a size larger than a size that will pack 150 oranges, packed in accordance with the requirements of a standard pack, in a standard nailed box.

(2) As used in this section, the terms "handler," "ship," and "Growers Administrative Committee" shall each have the same meaning as when used in said amended marketing agreement and order; and the terms "U. S. No. 1 Russet," "standard pack," and "standard nailed box" shall have the same meaning as when used in the revised United States Standards for Florida Oranges (§§ 51.1140 to 51.1186 of this title).

Shipments of Temple oranges, grown in the State of Florida, are subject to the provisions of Orange Regulation 274 (§ 933.728, 20 F. R. 1359).

§ 933.739 Grapefruit Regulation 224—(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 33, as amended (7 CFR Part 933), regulating the handling of oranges, grapefruit, and tangerines grown in the State of Florida, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and upon the basis of the recommendations of the committees established under the aforesaid amended marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of shipments of grapefruit, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 7 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient; a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective not later than May 16, 1955. Shipments of grapefruit, grown in the State of Florida, are presently subject to regulation by grades and sizes, pursuant to the amended marketing agreement and order, and will so continue until May 16, 1955; the recommendation and supporting information for continued regulation subsequent to May 15, 1955, was promptly submitted to the Department after an open meeting of the Growers Administrative Committee on May 10; such meeting was held to consider recommendations for regulation, after giving due notice of such meeting, and interested persons were afforded an opportunity to submit their views at this meeting; the provisions of this section, including the effective time hereof, are identical with the aforesaid recommendation of the committee, and information concerning such provisions and effective time has been disseminated among handlers of such grapefruit; it is necessary, in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act, to make this section effective during the period hereinafter set forth so as to provide for the continued regulation of the handling of grapefruit; and compliance with this section will not require any special preparation on the part of persons subject thereto which cannot be completed by the effective time hereof.

(i) Any seeded grapefruit, grown in the State of Florida, which do not grade at least U. S. No. 2;

(ii) Any seedless grapefruit, grown in the State of Florida, which do not grade at least U. S. No. 2 Russet;

(iii) Any seeded grapefruit, grown in the State of Florida, which are of a size smaller than a size that will pack 80 grapefruit, packed in accordance with the requirements of a standard pack, in a standard nailed box; or

(iv) Any seedless grapefruit, grown in the State of Florida, which are of a size smaller than a size that will pack 112 grapefruit, packed in accordance with the requirements of a standard pack, in a standard nailed box.

(2) As used in this section, "handler," "ship," and "Growers Administrative Committee," shall have the same meaning as when used in said amended marketing agreement and order; and the terms "U. S. No. 2," "U. S. No. 2 Russet," "standard pack," and "standard nailed box" shall have the same meaning as when used in the revised United States Standards for Florida Grapefruit (§§ 51.750–51.790 of this title).

[Lemon Reg. 588, Amdt. 1]

PART 953—LEMONS GROWN IN CALIFORNIA AND ARIZONA

LIMITATION OF SHIPMENTS

Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 53, as amended (7 CFR Part 953; 19 F. R. 7175), regulating the handling of lemons grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and upon the basis of the recommendation and information submitted by the Lemon Administrative Committee, established under the said amended marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of the quantity of such lemons which may be handled, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice and engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this amendment until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this amendment is based became available and the time when this amendment must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, is insufficient, and this amendment relieves restriction on the handling of lemons grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona.

Order, as amended. The provisions in paragraph (b) (1) (ii) of § 953.695 (Lemon Regulation 588; 20 F. R. 3096) are hereby amended to read as follows:

TITLE 14—CIVIL AVIATION

Chapter I—Civil Aeronautics Board

[Civil Air Regs., Amdt. 40-14]

PART 40—SCHEDULED INTERSTATE AIR CARRIER CERTIFICATION AND OPERATION RULES

EN ROUTE PERFORMANCE OPERATING LIMITATIONS

Adopted by the Civil Aeronautics Board at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 9th day of May 1955.

Currently effective § 40.74, pertaining to the transport category one-engine-inoperative en route performance operating limitations, provides that the airplane weight at take-off shall be such that, in the event of an engine failure at any point along the route, the airplane can meet a prescribed rate of climb at an altitude at least 1,000 feet above the elevation of the highest ground or obstruction within 10 miles on either side of the intended track. This amendment provides an alternative to this performance operating limitation under which, upon approval by the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics, a so-called "drift-down" procedure may be used. For some time a similar alternative has been permitted for the operation of nontransport category airplanes with no adverse effect on safety. The Board, therefore, considers that a properly planned and executed drift-down procedure would not jeopardize the safety of operation of transport category airplanes.

The Board is of the view that experience during recent years demonstrates that the jettisoning of fuel may be accomplished safely when adequate indoctrination of flight crew and other necessary precautions are provided. Accordingly, there is included a provision whereby fuel jettisoning may be used in showing compliance with this requirement if proper safeguards are taken.

Although consideration has been given to the inclusion of certain operational variables such as the incidence of downdrafts, turbulence, and icing conditions in the approval of drift-down procedures, the Board is of the view that these conditions are not sufficiently definitive and do not establish a clear criterion against which a particular drift-down procedure may be examined. They are, therefore, not included in this regulation. On the other hand, temperature and wind are measurable quantities which can be forecast with reasonable accuracy. Accordingly, the Board is of the view that account should be taken of temperature and wind. However, in order to avoid placing an undue burden upon the air carrier in accounting for these conditions, this regulation permits the use of "declared" values or other such approved assumptions with respect to their probable magnitude.

Inasmuch as this regulation prescribes an operational procedure to be used in lieu of compliance with specific performance limitations, the Board has decided that the lateral and vertical clearances should be more nearly related to operating limitations generally in effect. Since minimum flight altitudes are normally predicated on a 5-mile lateral clearance, this value is also used in drift-down procedures. However, since a vertical clearance of 2,000 feet is normally required in mountainous terrain and since terrain elevations which are critical from the standpoint of the performance operating limitations are found only in mountainous areas, the Board believes it logical to apply a 2,000-foot terrain clearance provision in this requirement.

In order that a flight with one engine inoperative not be complicated unduly by navigational problems, the Board believes that the drift-down procedure normally should be related clearly to an approved radio navigational fix. The procedure will be so established that on either side of the governing fix a definite course will be prescribed to an alternate airport. In order to insure that these airports will, in fact, be usable under such circumstances, the Board is applying the same requirements for initial dispatch as are required currently with respect to any other alternate airport.

Although this amendment does not limit the application of a drift-down procedure to airplanes possessing reciprocating engines, the Board intends to continue its consideration of the special problems which may be raised by the introduction of turbine engines and, specifically, will consider whether any different conclusions need be reached with respect to the application of "drift down" to turbine-powered airplanes.

Interested persons have been afforded an opportunity to participate in the making of this amendment, and due consideration has been given to all relevant matter presented. Since this regulation imposes no additional burden on any person, it may be made effective without prior notice.

In consideration of the foregoing, the Civil Aeronautics Board hereby amends Part 40 of the Civil Air Regulations (14 CFR Part 40, as amended) effective May 9, 1955.

By amending § 40.74 to read as follows:

§ 40.74 En route limitations; one engine inoperative. (a) No airplane shall be taken off at a weight in excess of that which would permit a rate of climb (expressed in feet per minute), with one engine inoperative, of at least

(when N is the number of engines installed and V_{s_0} is expressed in miles per hour) at an altitude of at least 1,000 feet above the elevation of the highest ground or obstruction within 10 miles on either side of the intended track, except that for transport category airplanes certificated under Part 4a of this subchapter, the rate of climb shall be $0.02\ V_{s_0}{}^2$.

(b) As an alternative to the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section, an air carrier may utilize an approved procedure whereby its airplanes are operated at an all-engine-operating altitude such that in the event of an engine failure the airplane can continue flight to an alternate airport where a landing can be made in accordance with the provisions of § 40.78, the flight path clearing all terrain and obstructions along the route within 5 miles on either side of the intended track by at least 2,000 feet. In addition, if such a procedure is utilized, subparagraphs (1) through (6) of this paragraph shall be complied with:

(1) The rate of climb (as presented in the Airplane Flight Manual for the appropriate weight and altitude) used in calculating the airplane's flight path shall be diminished by an amount, in feet per minute, equal to

(when N is the number of engines installed and V_{s_0} is expressed in miles per hour) for airplanes certificated under Part 4b of this subchapter and by $0.02\ V_{s_0}{}^2$ for airplanes certificated under Part 4a of this subchapter.

(2) The all-engine-operating altitude shall be such that, in the event the critical engine becomes inoperative at any point along the route, the flight will be capable of proceeding to a predetermined alternate airport by use of this procedure. For the purpose of determining the take-off weight, the airplane shall be assumed to pass over the critical obstruction following engine failure at a point no closer to the critical obstruction than the nearest approved radio navigational fix: Provided, That the Administrator may authorize a procedure established on a different basis where adequate operational safeguards are found to exist.

(3) The airplane shall meet the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section at 1,000 feet above the airport used as an alternate in this procedure.

(4) The procedure shall include an approved method of accounting for winds and temperatures which would otherwise adversely affect the flight path.

(5) In complying with this procedure fuel jettisoning shall be permitted if the Administrator finds that the air carrier has an adequate training program, proper instructions are given to the flight crew, and all other precautions are taken to insure a safe procedure.

(6) The alternate airport shall be specified in the dispatch release and shall meet the provisions of § 40.390.

(c) For the purposes of this section it shall be assumed that the weight of the airplane as it proceeds along its intended track is progressively reduced by normal consumption of fuel and oil.

EN ROUTE PERFORMANCE OPERATING LIMITATIONS

Adopted by the Civil Aeronautics Board at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 9th day of May 1955.

Currently effective § 41.30 (b), pertaining to the transport category one-engine-inoperative en route performance operating limitations, provides that the airplane weight at take-off shall be such that, in the event of an engine failure at any point along the route, the airplane can meet a prescribed rate of climb at an altitude at least 1,000 feet above the elevation of the highest ground or obstruction within 10 miles on either side of the intended track. PART 42—IRREGULAR AIR CARRIER AND OFF-ROUTE RULES

EN ROUTE PERFORMANCE OPERATING LIMITATIONS

Adopted by the Civil Aeronautics Board at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 9th day of May 1955.

Currently effective § 42.74, pertaining to the transport category one-engine-inoperative en route performance operating limitations, provides that the airplane weight at take-off shall be such that, in the event of an engine failure at any point along the route, the airplane can meet a prescribed rate of climb at an altitude at least 1,000 feet above the elevation of the highest ground or obstruction within 10 miles on either side of the intended track. Chapter II—Civil Aeronautics Administration, Department of Commerce

Subchapter C—Aircraft Regulations

PART 501—AIRCRAFT REGISTRATION CERTIFICATES

REVISION OF PART

Part 501 of the Regulations of the Administrator is revised in its entirety, to make editorial changes and to provide a more specific statement of the several standards covering the application for, and issuance of, aircraft certificates of registration. The fees required are stated in §§ 501.3 (a) (4) and 501.4 (c) (2). The statutory definition of "conditional sale" contained in the Civil Aeronautics Act and already applicable by virtue of that Act is added to the first sentence of § 501.4 (b) (2) (ii) as footnote 6. Section 501.8 provides for a temporary certificate of registration pending receipt of a duplicate certificate required because the original was lost, stolen or mutilated. An additional obligation is imposed by § 501.11 in that aircraft owners are required to notify the Administration of any sale or export of the aircraft.

Part 501 appeared as a Notice of Proposed Rule Making in 19 F. R. 9292-9294 on December 29, 1954. All interested persons have been afforded an opportunity to submit written views, data or argument and consideration has been given all relevant data presented.

Part 501 is adopted to read as follows:

Sec.
501.1 Basis and purpose.
501.2 Scope.
501.3 Application.
501.4 Issuance of certificate of registration.
501.5 Effective date.
501.6 Transferability.
501.7 Duration.
501.8 Display.
501.9 Invalidation.
501.10 Surrender.
501.11 Notice of change of address or ownership.

AUTHORITY: §§ 501.1 to 501.11 issued under sec. 205, 52 Stat. 984, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 425. Interpret or apply sec. 501, 52 Stat. 1005, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 521.

§ 501.1 Basis and purpose. The basis for this part is found in sections 205 and 501 of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended. The purpose of this part is to prescribe the regulations under which persons may register aircraft in accordance with the requirements of section 501 of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended.[1]

[1] The certificate of registration issued by the Civil Aeronautics Administration is issued only to the owner of an aircraft. However, section 501 of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended, states that "registration shall not be evidence of ownership of aircraft in any proceeding in which such ownership by a particular person is, or may be, in issue." The Civil Aeronautics Administration does not issue any certificates of ownership, nor is information with respect to ownership endorsed on certificates of registration.

The records of aircraft ownership which are maintained by the Civil Aeronautics Administration are public records and are open for inspection at Temporary Building No. 4, § 501.2 Scope. Except as provided in Part 502 of this chapter with respect to Dealers' Aircraft Registration Certificates, the requirements for aircraft certificates of registration shall be as prescribed in this part.

§ 501.3 Application—(a) Form. Application for the registration of an aircraft shall be made upon the Form ACA–500–B furnished by the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics. The Form ACA–500 contains three parts: Part A, "Certificate of Registration"; Part B, "Application for Registration"; and Part C, "Bill of Sale." An applicant for a certificate of registration shall submit to the Civil Aeronautics Administration, Administrative and Records Branch, W–240, Washington 25, D. C., the following:

(1) An original and a duplicate of Part A;

(2) Signed duplicate of Part B;

(3) A signed and executed duplicate of Part C [2] or another bill of sale or other form of conveyance specified in § 501.4 (b) (2);

(4) A registration fee of $4.00, in the form of a check or money order made payable to CAA, Department of Commerce.

The name of the purchaser shall be identical on Parts A, B, and C. If a contract of conditional sale is submitted, an additional fee of $4.00 shall be enclosed to record it. The applicant shall retain the original of Part B in the aircraft as a temporary registration for 60 days, pending receipt of Certificate of Registration, Part A of the Form ACA–500.

(b) Signatures. All signatures on applications for registration shall be in ink and shall comply with the following, where applicable:

(1) Agent. If an instrument is signed by an agent, the name of the applicant for registration shall be shown above the signature. The agent shall indicate that he is signing as "agent" or "attorney in fact" and shall submit the signed and acknowledged power of attorney under which he is acting or a certified true copy thereof or other acceptable evidence of his authority.

(2) Corporation. The person signing on behalf of a corporation shall show his corporate title on the instrument. The signature of a person signing for a corporation other than the president, vice president, secretary, or treasurer will not be accepted unless there is submitted a certified copy of the authority granted him by the Board of Directors of the corporation to act in that capacity.

(3) Partnership. Where one partner signs for the entire partnership, the names of all partners shall be shown and the person signing shall indicate that he is signing on behalf of the partnership by showing the word "partner" beneath his signature.

(4) Cotenants. A document executed in connection with aircraft owned by several persons as cotenants or tenants in common shall be executed by each of the individuals who have title to the aircraft under that form of ownership.

(5) Trade name. Documents for aircraft owned by one or more persons doing business under a trade name may be executed in the trade name and the signer shall show the capacity (owner, partner, manager, etc.) under which he executed the documents.

§ 501.4 Issuance of certificate of registration—(a) New or previously unregistered aircraft—(1) Application. A certificate of registration will be issued by the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics for aircraft owned by citizens of the United States [3] and not previously registered under the provisions of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, if the applicant

(i) Mails or delivers a duly executed application for registration, accompanied by the $4.00 registration fee, to the Civil Aeronautics Administration, Administrative and Records Branch, W–240, Washington 25, D. C.; and

(ii) Submits with the application proof satisfactory to the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics that the applicant is the owner of such aircraft.

(2) Proof of ownership. An aircraft will be registered only in the name of the owner. The applicant for registration of a new or a previously unregistered aircraft shall submit proof of his ownership. Part "C" of Form ACA–500, or its equivalent, may be used for this purpose.[4] Recognized manufacturers shall submit evidence from an official of the company setting forth the fact of ownership by reason of fabrication of component parts. The owner of home-built aircraft or of an aircraft assembled from parts shall submit his affidavit setting forth that the aircraft was built from parts and that the affiant is the owner of all right, title and interest therein.

(3) Identification. (i) The applicant for registration of an aircraft which has not previously been assigned a registration number shall obtain such a number from the nearest Civil Aeronautics Aviation Safety Agent in the field. In addition to the prefix "N", an aircraft identification number will not exceed five symbols, which may consist of 1 to 5 digits; 1 to 4 digits followed by 1 letter; or 1 to 3 digits followed by 2 letters.

(ii) If the owner of an aircraft desires the assignment of a number not available from the Aviation Safety Agent, or any change from the registration number on the aircraft, he shall apply directly to the Civil Aeronautics Administration, Administrative and Records Branch, W–240, Washington 25, D. C., and shall accompany his request with a check or money order made payable to CAA, Department of Commerce, in the amount of $10.00 for the special number desired.

(b) Previously registered aircraft—(1) Application. A certificate of registration will be issued by the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics for aircraft previously registered under the provisions of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended, if

(i) The applicant submits a duly executed application for registration to the Civil Aeronautics Administration, Administrative and Records Branch, W–240, Washington 25, D. C., accompanied by the registration fee of $4.00;

(ii) The applicant submits with the application for registration a conveyance which meets the requirements prescribed in Part 503 of this chapter and evidence applicant's ownership of the aircraft; and

(iii) The conveyance submitted with the above application establishes, within the recordation system of the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics, ownership to the aircraft in the applicant: Provided, That this requirement shall not be applicable to contracts of conditional sale, in which the seller is the legal owner of the aircraft, if the purchaser is granted the right of possession: And provided further, That if for good reason an applicant for registration cannot comply with the provisions of subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph and this subdivision as specified in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, title evidence satisfactory to the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics shall be submitted.[5]

(2) Proof of ownership. (i) If the applicant for registration purchased the aircraft from the last registered owner, he shall submit a conveyance executed by such person to him. If the applicant did not purchase the aircraft from the last registered owner, he shall submit documents showing consecutive transactions from the last registered owner, through all intervening owners, and thence to him. Part C of Form ACA–500 is a bill of sale which should be completed by the seller. Its use is not compulsory and any equivalent bill of sale is acceptable as proof of ownership provided it is acceptable for recording under the requirements outlined in § 503.1 of this chapter.

(ii) The purchaser of an aircraft under a contract of conditional sale is the owner for the purpose of registration and shall submit the contract of conditional sale as proof of ownership when applying for registration.[6] The contract of conditional sale shall meet the applicable requirements of Part 503 of this chapter. Where an equitable interest under a contract of conditional sale has been assigned, the assignee is the owner for the purpose of registration and shall submit the original contract of conditional sale (unless it has already been recorded with the Civil Aeronautics Administration), and an assignment from the original conditional purchaser to the applicant for registration. This assignment shall meet the applicable requirements of Part 503 of this chapter and there shall also be affixed the signature of the holder (conditional seller or his assignee) of the contract of conditional sale to show assent to the assignment of the equitable interest.

(iii) Where a person repossessing an aircraft desires registration in his name, he shall submit as evidence of his ownership his certificate of repossession, on Form ACA–909 or its equivalent, setting forth that the aircraft has been repossessed pursuant to the terms of the financing agreement involved and the pertinent local laws, together with an original or certified true copy of the financing agreement under which the aircraft was repossessed, unless such financing agreement has been previously recorded by the Civil Aeronautics Administration.

(iv) The purchaser of an aircraft at a foreclosure sale shall submit as evidence of his ownership: A bill of sale, which meets the applicable requirements of Part 503 of this chapter, executed by the officer, sheriff, auctioneer, or other person responsible for the conduct of such sale; an affidavit, on Form ACA–909 or its equivalent, by the holder of the encumbrance stating that the aircraft has been repossessed or otherwise seized, and sold pursuant to the terms of the financing agreement involved and the pertinent local laws; and an original or certified true copy of the financing agreement under which the aircraft was repossessed and sold, unless such financing agreement has been previously recorded by the Civil Aeronautics Administration.

(v) Where the applicant for registration purchased the aircraft at a sale to satisfy a lien for storage or repair, he shall submit as proof of his ownership a bill of sale from the officer, sheriff, auctioneer, or other person responsible for the conduct of such sale, which document shall state that the sale was conducted in accordance with the pertinent local laws.

(vi) In any case where the title to an aircraft has been in controversy and ownership has been determined by a court, the applicant for registration shall submit a properly certified order of the court.

(vii) If the applicant for registration is the administrator or executor of the estate of the deceased former owner, he shall submit with the application for registration a certified copy of the letters of administration or letters testamentary appointing the applicant administrator or executor. If the aircraft is sold to another party, the applicant for registration shall submit a bill of sale executed for the estate by the administrator or executor, together with a certified copy of the letters of administration or letters testamentary. When no executor or administrator has been or is to be appointed, the bill of sale shall be executed in the name of the estate of the former owner by the heir at law and shall be accompanied by an affidavit from the signer that no application has been made for the appointment of an executor or administrator, that in so far as the applicant can determine, no such application will be made, and that he is the person entitled to the aircraft under the laws of the state having jurisdiction, or that under such laws he or she has the right to dispose of the aircraft.

(c) Aircraft previously registered in foreign countries—(1) Application. A certificate of registration will be issued by the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics for aircraft which have been last registered under the laws of a foreign country if the applicant:

(i) Submits a duly executed application for registration and the $4.00 registration fee to the Civil Aeronautics Administration, Administrative and Records Branch, W–240, Washington 25, D. C.; and

(ii) Submits with the application a bill of sale from the foreign seller or other proof satisfactory to the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics that the applicant is the owner of the aircraft; and

(iii) Submits a statement signed by a proper official of the country of foreign registry to the effect that all holders of recorded rights against the aircraft have been satisfied or have consented to the transfer of registry; or

(iv) Submits evidence satisfactory to the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics, (a) if the country of foreign registry has not ratified the Convention on International Recognition of Rights in Aircraft, that the foreign registry has terminated or is invalid, or (b) if the country of foreign registry has ratified the Convention, that the foreign registry has terminated or is invalid, or that ownership in the country of export has been terminated by a sale in execution carried out in conformity with the provisions of the Convention, or that the country of foreign registry does not supply information with respect to recorded rights in aircraft.

(2) Identification. The purchaser of the aircraft shall apply to the Civil Aeronautics Aviation Safety Agent at the port of entry of the aircraft into the United States or to the CAA International Field Office for assignment of a registration number to the aircraft. If the purchaser desires the assignment of a number not available from the agent or field office, he shall apply directly to the Civil Aeronautics Administration, Administrative and Records Branch, W–240, Washington 25, D. C., and shall accompany his request with a check or money order made payable to CAA, Department of Commerce, in the amount of $10.00 for the special number desired.

§ 501.5 Effective date. An aircraft will be deemed to be registered upon the date the documents required by § 501.4 (a), (b), or (c), whichever is applicable, are submitted to the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics.

§ 501.6 Transferability. A certificate of registration is not transferable.

§ 501.7 Duration. Upon application for registration made upon the prescribed form, and submission of the required proof of ownership, an aircraft may be operated for a period of sixty (60) days pending registration by the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics. (See § 406.14 (c) of this chapter.) The certificate of registration issued by the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics pursuant thereto shall remain in effect indefinitely unless suspended or revoked: Provided, That such registration and certificate shall immediately expire on the date,

(a) The aircraft is registered under the laws of any foreign country; or

(b) The registration of the aircraft is cancelled at the written request of the owner; or

(c) The aircraft is totally destroyed or scrapped; or

(d) The ownership of the aircraft is transferred.

§ 501.8 Display. The certificate of registration issued for any aircraft shall be carried at all times in such aircraft and shall be presented upon request of any duly authorized representative of the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics, or any State or municipal official charged with enforcing local laws or regulations involving compliance with Federal law. If a certificate of registration is lost, stolen or mutilated, the person to whom such certificate was issued may apply for a duplicate to the Civil Aeronautics

17th Street and Constitution Avenue, NW., Washington, D. C. Individuals interested in such information may make a personal search of the records or may avail themselves of the services of an agent or an attorney or of one of the several private aircraft title search companies located in Washington, D. C. A list of such companies may be obtained by addressing a request to the Civil Aeronautics Administration, Administrative and Records Branch, W–240, Washington 25, D. C.

[2] A separate Part C (Bill of Sale) to Form ACA–500 has been provided for use when an additional bill of sale is required to complete the chain of ownership, or the execution of a new bill of sale is required to replace that submitted which did not meet the recording requirements of the Act or the Regulations of the Administrator. This form will also serve the aircraft manufacturers, dealers, distributors, and purchasers, who buy for immediate resale.

[3] As defined by section 1 (13) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended, " 'Citizen of the United States' means (a) an individual who is a citizen of the United States or of one of its possessions, or (b) a partnership of which each member is such an individual, or (c) a corporation or association created or organized under the laws of the United States or of any State, Territory or possession of the United States, of which the president and two-thirds or more of the Board of Directors and other managing officers thereof are such individuals and in which at least 75 per centum of the voting interest is owned or controlled by persons who are citizens of the United States or of one of its possessions."

[4] Aircraft donated under Surplus Property Act. Aircraft have been donated to public organizations and educational institutions for the purpose of carrying out public health and educational functions. The documentary evidence of ownership furnished these institutions was in varying forms and frequently contained restrictions regarding future disposition of the aircraft. Therefore, when registration of the aircraft is desired, all available documents and vouchers issued to the welfare institution should be submitted to the Administrative and Records Branch for decision regarding their acceptability.

[5] Acceptable evidence might consist of an affidavit from the applicant for registration setting forth the circumstances of his inability to obtain the required document and submitting therewith any available evidence he may have in support of the transaction.

[6] As defined by Section 1 (17) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended, " 'Conditional sale' means (a) any contract for the sale of an aircraft, aircraft engine, propeller, appliance, or spare part under which possession is delivered to the buyer and the property is to vest in the buyer at a subsequent time, upon the payment of part or all of the price, or upon the performance of any other condition or the happening of any contingency; or (b) any contract for the bailment or leasing of an aircraft, aircraft engine, propeller, appliance, or spare part, by which the bailee or lessee contracts to pay as compensation a sum substantially equivalent to the value thereof, and by which it is agreed that the bailee or lessee is bound to become, or has the option of becoming, the owner thereof upon full compliance with the terms of the contract. The buyer, bailee, or lessee shall be deemed to be the person by whom any such contract is made or given."

Administration, Administrative and Records Branch, W–240, Washington 25, D. C. A fee of one dollar ($1.00) will be charged for the issuance of a duplicate certificate of registration. If a duplicate certificate has been requested and need for operation of the aircraft arises before the duplicate certificate of registration can be received, on request from the owner, the Administrative and Records Branch will issue a temporary certificate in the form of a telegram to be carried in the aircraft, which will be good for a period not to exceed ten days.

§ 501.9 Invalidation. Any registration of an aircraft shall be null and void if at the time of registration:

(a) The aircraft was registered under the laws of a foreign country; or

(b) The person registered as owner was not the true and lawful owner of the aircraft; or

(c) The person registered as owner was not a citizen of the United States; or

(d) The person registered as owner was a citizen of the United States but the interest of such person in the aircraft was created by a transaction not entered into in good faith, being made rather for the purpose of avoiding, with or without the knowledge of the registered owner, the provision of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, which prevents the registration of an aircraft in the name of a person not a citizen of the United States.

§ 501.10 Surrender. Upon the suspension, revocation, expiration, or invalidation of a certificate of registration, the owner of the aircraft shall, upon request, surrender such certificate to any authorized representative of the Administrator.

§ 501.11 Notice of change of address or ownership. The registered owner of any aircraft shall notify the Civil Aeronautics Administration, Administrative and Records Branch, W–240, Washington 25, D. C., immediately of any change of permanent mailing address or of the sale or export of the aircraft.

This revision shall become effective June 15, 1955.

Acting Administrator of Civil Aeronautics.

PART 502—DEALERS' AIRCRAFT REGISTRATION CERTIFICATES

REVISION OF PART

Part 502 of the Regulations of the Administrator governing the application for, and issuance of, dealers' aircraft registration certificates, is revised in its entirety. With the exception of specifying the required fees in § 502.2, substantive revisions are made only in § 502.2 to provide that application for, and issuance of these certificates shall be administered in the CAA Washington Office rather than the several Regional Offices; in § 502.4 (a) (1) (ii), to make clear that these certificates may be employed for demonstration flights of single place aircraft flown by prospective purchasers and to specify certain prohibited uses; and § 502.4 (b) to notify aircraft dealers they are not required to submit documentary evidence of ownership of a particular aircraft prior to operation of the aircraft.

Part 502 appeared as a Notice of Proposed Rule Making in 19 F. R. 9295 on December 29, 1954. All interested persons have been afforded an opportunity to submit written views, data or argument and consideration has been given all relevant data presented.

Part 502 is adopted to read as follows:

Sec.
502.1 Basis and purpose.
502.2 Application.
502.3 Requirements.
502.4 Limitations.
502.5 Rules.
502.6 Notice.

AUTHORITY: §§ 502.1 to 502.6 issued under sec. 205, 52 Stat. 984, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 425. Interpret or apply sec. 501, 52 Stat. 1005, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 521.

§ 502.1 Basis and purpose. The purpose of the regulations in this part is:

(a) To prescribe regulations for the registration of aircraft by persons engaged in the business of manufacturing, distributing or selling of aircraft;

(b) To facilitate the operation, demonstration, and merchandising of aircraft moving in the ordinary trade channels from the manufacturer, distributor, or dealer to the ultimate purchaser without imposing upon the manufacturer, distributor, or dealer the burden of obtaining an individual certificate of registration for such aircraft with each transfer of ownership as required under the registration provisions of Part 501 of this chapter, and

(c) To permit manufacturers to conduct required production flight tests. A dealers' aircraft registration certificate is an alternate form for the registration of civil aircraft from that prescribed by Part 501. Persons engaged in the business of manufacturing, distributing or selling aircraft, upon application, may obtain one or more dealers' aircraft registration certificates issued under the provisions of this part. The basis for this part is found in section 501 of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended.

§ 502.2 Application. Application for a dealers' aircraft registration certificate shall be made upon the Form ACA–1706 furnished by the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics and shall be submitted to the Civil Aeronautics Administration, Administrative and Records Branch, W–240, Washington 25, D. C., with the required registration fee of $5.00 for the first certificate and $1.00 for each additional or subsequent certificate issued to the same dealer. An application containing current data shall be signed in ink and shall be submitted each time certificates are requested and may cover as many certificates as are desired at that time.

(b) The distribution or sale of new aircraft under authority of a franchise, license, letter of authority, agreement, or other arrangement from the manufacturer or his authorized agent, or

(c) The distribution or sale of used aircraft to ultimate purchasers through ordinary trade channels.

§ 502.4 Limitations—(a) Operation. (1) A dealers' aircraft registration certificate shall be valid for the navigation of an aircraft only by a person to whom such certificate was issued, his duly authorized agent or employee, or a prospective purchaser.

(2) A dealers' aircraft registration certificate is valid only for an aircraft owned by a person to whom such certificate was issued and which is being operated,

(i) In the ordinary trade channels between any two of the following persons: the manufacturer, the distributor, the dealer, or the purchaser from any of such persons, or

(ii) For demonstration purposes necessary to the sale of such aircraft (Single place aircraft may be flown by prospective purchasers for sales demonstration purposes under the direct supervision and control of the person or his agent to whom the dealers' aircraft registration certificate was issued, provided the prospective purchaser is a properly certificated airman. Charter flights or other flights which involve the carriage of passengers or property for hire are not permitted. The use of a dealers' aircraft registration certificate in an aircraft which is rented or leased under contract is prohibited.), or

(iii) To conduct required production flight tests.

(3) A dealers' aircraft registration certificate is valid for an aircraft only while the aircraft is operated within the United States and the territories and possessions of the United States, including the territorial waters and the overlying air space thereof.

(b) Transfer of ownership. Whenever the ownership of an aircraft is transferred to a person who is not the possessor of a valid dealers' aircraft registration certificate, the purchaser shall make application for registration of the aircraft in his name in accordance with the provisions of Part 501 of this chapter prior to the operation of the aircraft. Aircraft distributors or dealers, who are operating under the terms of a dealers' aircraft registration certificate are not required to submit documentary evidence of their ownership of a particular aircraft prior to operation of the aircraft.[2]

§ 502.5 Rules—(a) Display. The dealers' aircraft registration certificate shall be carried in the aircraft when operated by the person to whom the certificate was issued, or by his authorized agent or employee.

(b) Duration. A dealers' aircraft registration certificate shall expire one year from the date of issuance thereof.

(c) Transferability. A dealers' aircraft registration certificate is not transferable.

§ 502.6 Notice. The holder of a dealers' aircraft registration certificate shall notify the Civil Aeronautics Administration, Administrative and Records Branch, W–240, Washington 25, D. C., immediately of any change which affects his status as a citizen of the United States as defined in section 1 (13) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, or otherwise affects his eligibility for a dealers' aircraft registration certificate.

This revision shall become effective June 15, 1955.

[SEAL] S. A. KEMP,
Acting Administrator of Civil Aeronautics.

[F. R. Doc. 55–3863; Filed, May 13, 1955; 8:46 a. m.]

[1] As defined by section 1 (13) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended, " 'Citizen of the United States' means (a) an individual who is a citizen of the United States or of one of its possessions, or (b) a partnership of which each member is such an individual, or (c) a corporation or association created or organized under the laws of the United States or of any State, Territory, or possession of the United States of which the president and two-thirds or more of the board of directors and other managing officers thereof are such individuals and in which at least 75 per centum of the voting interest is owned or controlled by persons who are citizens of the United States or of one of its possessions."

[2] If bill of sale is forwarded to Civil Aeronautics Administration, Administrative and Records Branch, W–240, Washington 25, D. C., by the dealer prior to sale of the aircraft, it will be recorded under section 503 of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended, and thus be safeguarded from loss or destruction. There is no fee for the recording of such document.

PART 503—RECORDATION OF AIRCRAFT OWNERSHIP

REVISION OF PART

Part 503 of the Regulations of the Administrator governing the recordation of documents affecting the title to, or interest in, aircraft, is revised in its entirety. While some editorial changes are made throughout and the fee is specified in § 503.3 (a) (6), the revision consists for the most part of the addition of express statements of the standards applicable to the recording of instruments under the part. A substantive revision is made in the definition of "conveyance" in § 503.2. This revision expressly provides for the recordation of such instruments affecting interests in aircraft as judicial decrees and notices of tax liens or of other liens.

Part 503 appeared as a Notice of Proposed Rule Making in 19 F. R. 9295–9296 on December 29, 1954. All interested persons have been afforded an opportunity to submit written views, data or argument and consideration has been given all relevant data presented.

Part 503 is adopted to read as follows:

Sec.
503.1 Basis and purpose.
503.2 Definitions.
503.3 Eligibility of conveyance.

AUTHORITY: §§ 503.1 to 503.3 issued under sec. 205, 52 Stat. 984, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 425. Interpret or apply sec. 501, 52 Stat. 1005, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 521.

§ 503.1 Basis and purpose. The purpose of this part is to prescribe regulations for the recordation of conveyances affecting title to, or any interest in, any aircraft registered under the provisions of section 501 of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended, and Part 501 or Part 502 of this chapter.[1] The basis for this part is found in section 503 of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended.

§ 503.2 Definitions. As used in this part, "conveyance" means:

(a) A bill of sale, contract of conditional sale, assignment of contract of conditional sale, or assignment of equitable interest under contract of conditional sale, mortgage, assignment of mortgage, lease, judicial decree, notice of tax lien or of other lien, or other instrument affecting title to, or any interest in, aircraft; and

(b) Any release, cancellation, invalidation, discharge, or satisfaction relating to any instrument recorded under this part.

§ 503.3 Eligibility of conveyance. (a) A conveyance shall be eligible for recordation only if:

(1) It is executed upon the form prescribed by the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics for such type of conveyance, or upon a form deemed appropriate by the Administrator, and is submitted to the Civil Aeronautics Administration, Administrative and Records Branch, W–240, Washington 25, D. C.;

(2) It describes the aircraft by make, manufacturer's serial number and Civil Aeronautics registration number, or by other detail sufficient to enable identification;

(3) It is the original document or an executed duplicate thereof, with all signatures in ink;[2]

(4) It is accompanied by a duly executed application for registration and the required registration fee, and complies with the other provisions of § 501.4 (a), (b), or (c) of this chapter, whichever is applicable: Provided, That this paragraph shall not apply to conveyances affecting title to United States registered aircraft where such a conveyance does not transfer ownership of the aircraft from the United States citizen: And provided further, That a bill of sale or contract of conditional sale to the holder of a dealer's aircraft registration certificate will be recorded as set forth in § 502.4 of this chapter although not accompanied by an application for registration and registration fee;[3]

(5) It affects an aircraft registered under the terms of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended;

(6) It is accompanied by the required recordation fee of $4.00 in the form of a check or money order made payable to CAA, Department of Commerce, for each aircraft covered by the conveyance (See § 407.14 of this chapter): Provided, That this paragraph shall apply only to conveyances executed for security purposes, and not to any release, cancellation, invalidation, discharge, or satisfaction thereof; and

(7) It is acknowledged by the signer or signers before a notary public or other officer authorized by the law of the United States, or of a State, Territory or possession thereof, or the District of Columbia, to take acknowledgment of deeds.

(b) Additional requirements: (1) Where the seller is not shown on the records of the Civil Aeronautics Administration as being the owner of the aircraft, the bill of sale shall be accompanied by a bill or bills of sale or similar instruments showing consecutive transactions from the last registered owner through all intervening owners and thence to him.

(2) A contract of conditional sale shall be signed and acknowledged by both the conditional seller and the conditional purchaser. If the conditional seller is not shown on the records of the Civil Aeronautics Administration as being the owner of the aircraft, the contract of conditional sale shall be accompanied by a bill or bills of sale or other documents establishing the fact that the conditional seller is the owner.

(3) An assignment of a contract of conditional sale shall be executed by the conditional seller (assignor) and contain a description of the aircraft unless it is attached to, and is a part of, the original contract of conditional sale.

(4) An assignment of equitable interest under a contract of conditional sale shall contain a description of the original contract so as to permit identification; shall be signed and acknowledged by the assignor (conditional purchaser under

[1] A recordable instrument is one which purports to be a "conveyance" as that term is defined by section 1 (18) of the Civil Aeronautics Act. Recordation of an instrument does not mean the instrument does, in fact, affect the title to, or any interest in, an aircraft.

[2] When return of the original conveyance to the sender is desired, a certified true copy thereof shall be submitted with the original document. After recording, the certified true copy will be retained and the original will be returned to the sender stamped with the date and hour of recordation. A certified true copy of an original document is a document which is a complete copy of the original in all respects, including the dates, signatures, and acknowledgments and to which is attached a certificate of a notary public stating that such officer has compared the copy with the original document and that it is a true and correct copy in all respects.

[3] Documents of this nature are recorded under the numbers assigned to aircraft by their manufacturers. No particular dealers' aircraft registration certificate is associated with a particular aircraft. This action of recordation provides information to those consulting the records as to the ownership of the aircraft. The question of whether the full benefits of the recording provisions of the Civil Aeronautics Act are thus acquired has not yet been the subject of judicial review.

the original contract) and also be signed by the holder (conditional seller or his assignee) of the contract of conditional sale to show assent to the assignment of the equitable interest.

(5) When the payments and conditions of the contract of conditional sale have been made or performed, the holder shall execute a release on the reverse side of Form ACA–818, which form is sent to the holder of the contract at the time of the recordation of the encumbrance, or its equivalent, and forward it for recordation.

(6) A chattel mortgage shall be eligible for recording if:

(i) It is signed by the mortgagor; and

(ii) It is executed in the name of the registered owner, or the mortgagor applies for registration as provided in Part 501 of this chapter; except that, a chattel mortgage may be recorded without the submission of an application for registration and registration fee if the mortgagor is the holder of a valid dealers' aircraft registration certificate and submits the documents establishing his ownership as outlined in § 501.4 of this chapter or if the mortgagor was the owner on the date of the execution of the mortgage and the documents recorded with this office establish that fact.

(7) An assignment of a chattel mortgage shall be signed by the mortgagee (assignor) and unless it is attached to, and made a part of, the original mortgage, it shall contain a description of the mortgage and be accompanied by the $4.00 recordation fee for each aircraft listed in the mortgage.

(8) A supplement to a chattel mortgage which has been previously recorded by the Civil Aeronautics Administration shall meet all of the requirements for recording an original mortgage, which shall be described in the supplement in sufficient detail so as to permit identification, and shall be accompanied by a $4.00 recordation fee for each aircraft listed therein.

(9) When a chattel mortgage has been satisfied or any of the mortgaged aircraft released from the terms of the mortgage, the holder of the mortgage shall execute the release on the reverse side of Form ACA–506 (which form is sent to the holder at the time of recordation of the mortgage) or its equivalent, and forward it for recordation. If the mortgage is secured by a number of aircraft and all of the collateral is released, it is not necessary that the collateral be described in detail in the release document. However, the mortgage shall be clearly identified through the names of the mortgagor, mortgagee, and/or assignee, the date of recording of the mortgage with the Civil Aeronautics Administration and the document number thereof.

This revision shall become effective June 15, 1955.

Acting Administrator of Civil Aeronautics.

(1) It affects an aircraft engine which is specifically identified by make, model and manufacturer's serial number;

(2) It affects an aircraft engine of seven hundred and fifty or more rated takeoff horsepower or the equivalent of such horsepower;

(3) It is accompanied by the required recordation fee of $2.00 in the form of a check or money order made payable to CAA, Department of Commerce, for each aircraft engine affected by the conveyance (see § 407.23 of this chapter): Provided, That this paragraph shall not apply to any release, cancellation, invalidation, discharge, or satisfaction relating to any conveyance recorded under this part;

The original recorded document shall be clearly identified by the names of the parties to the transaction, the date of recording with the Civil Aeronautics Administration, and the document number thereof.

This revision shall become effective June 15, 1955.

Subchapter C—Regulations Under Specific Acts of Congress

[File No. 204–6]

PART 300—RULES AND REGULATIONS UNDER WOOL PRODUCTS LABELING ACT OF 1939

In the matter of amending Rule 8 of the regulations under the Wool Products Labeling Act, File No. 204–6.

On April 15, 1955, the Commission issued notice of proposed rule making in the above matter which notice was duly published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Such notice contained a copy of the proposed amendment to Rule 8 of the regulations under the Wool Products Labeling Act and provided that interested parties might participate by submitting to the Federal Trade Commission at its offices in Washington, D. C., on or before the 6th day of May 1955, in writing, their views, arguments or other data in relation to such proposed amendment.

All views, arguments and data submitted by interested parties pursuant to Commission notice have been made a part of the record herein.

Upon consideration of the matter, Rule 8 of the regulations under the Wool

Products Labeling Act of 1939 is amended by striking out § 300.8 and inserting in lieu thereof:

§ 300.8 Common generic name of fiber. (a) Except where another name is required or permitted under the act or regulations, the respective common generic name of the fiber shall be used when naming fibers in the required information; as for example, "wool", "reprocessed wool", "reused wool", "cotton", "rayon", "silk", "linen", "acetate", "nylon".

(b) (1) The term "fur fiber" may be used to describe the hair or fur fiber or mixtures thereof of any animal or animals other than the sheep, lamb, Angora goat, Cashmere goat, camel, alpaca, llama and vicuna. If the name or depiction of any animal producing the hair or fur fiber is used on the stamp, tag, label, or other means of identification applied or affixed to the wool product, the percentage weight of such hair or fiber in the total fiber weight of the wool product shall be separately stated in the required fiber content designation; as for example:

40% Fur Fiber
10% Beaver

(2) The purpose of the amended rule is to afford those subject to the provisions of the Wool Products Labeling Act relief from the hardships resulting from difficulty and impracticability of disclosing accurately on required wool product labels the respective percentages by weight of fur fibers which may be present in the wool product by 5 percentum or more. This relief is to be brought about by permitting the percentage content of the fur fibers to be designated on required labels in the aggregate with the generic description of "fur fibers".

(Sec. 6, 54 Stat. 1131; 15 U. S. C. 68d)

The amendment of this rule relieves the restrictions of the present rule, and shall be effective as of its date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

By direction of the Commission.

Issued: May 10, 1955.

[SEAL] ROBERT M. PARRISH,
Secretary.

TITLE 19—CUSTOMS DUTIES

Chapter I—Bureau of Customs, Department of the Treasury

[T. D. 53797]

MAIL; DELIVERY UNDER A RESIDENT'S $200 OR $300 EXEMPTION

When a mail parcel, for which an informal mail entry has been issued, arrives at the post office of destination (delivery), frequently the addressee makes claim, supported by a certified duplicate copy of a baggage declaration, for free entry under the $200 or $300 exemption provided for in paragraph 1798 (c) (2) (A) or (B) of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U. S. C. 1201, par. 1798 (c) (2) (A) or (B)).

It is considered that in such a case the postmaster should be permitted to make conditional delivery of the parcel to the addressee without the collection of customs duties or taxes prior to the submission of the addressee's claim for free entry to the collector, if the description on such certified duplicate baggage declaration identifies the articles in the parcel.

Accordingly, § 9.10 of the Customs Regulations is hereby amended as follows:

1. The headnote is amended by inserting the following after the semicolon: "delivery under a resident's $200 or $300 exemption;"

2. Paragraph (a) is amended by changing the initial letter in the second sentence to lower case and inserting the following at the beginning of that sentence: "Except as provided for by paragraph (c),"

3. Paragraph (c) is redesignated paragraph (d) and a new paragraph (c) added to read:

(c) In support of a claim for free entry under the $200 or $300 personal exemption, the addressee of a mail parcel may present to the postmaster a copy of his baggage declaration on customs Form 6059 or 6063 bearing on its face the certification by a customs officer that it is a duplicate copy. In such a case, the addressee shall make claim in writing that the articles in the parcel are listed on the certified duplicate baggage declaration and are entitled to free entry under his $200 or $300 personal exemption, and shall include in his claim a statement that he will pay promptly on demand any customs duties or internal-revenue taxes that may be found to be due on any of the articles. If the description of the articles on such certified duplicate baggage declaration identifies the articles with those listed in the postal declaration, mail entry, or invoice attached to the parcel or mail entry, the postmaster may deliver the parcel to the addressee without the collection of customs duties or taxes. The postmaster will then forward the certified duplicate baggage declaration and claim, together with the mail entry, on which he will endorse a report of his action, to the collector of customs at the port where the mail entry was issued, for administrative review. If this procedure is not followed, the postmaster will withhold delivery of the parcel, forward the certified duplicate baggage declaration and claim, together with a report of the facts, to the collector of customs at the port where the mail entry was issued, and await advice from the collector of customs at such port concerning the conditions under which delivery of the parcel may be made.

PART 10—ARTICLES CONDITIONALLY FREE, SUBJECT TO REDUCED RATE, ETC.

PUBLIC INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS

Under the authority of Public Law 357, 80th Congress, the same privileges and immunities extended to diplomatic envoys accredited to the United States have been extended to designated representatives of members to the United Nations, or to a Specialized Agency of the United Nations, and the staffs of such representatives as may be agreed upon in a manner provided for. Under authority of Public Law 486, 82d Congress, these privileges may also be extended to representatives of member states (other than the United States) on the Council of the Organization of American States and to the staffs of such representatives. In order that all such privileges and immunities may be accorded, as provided for, and at the same time leave no doubt that such privileges are applicable only to alien representatives and staff members, § 10.30b, Customs Regulations, is amended by deleting the present paragraph (c) and adding new paragraphs (c) and (d) as follows:

(c) In the absence of a special authorization from the Department prior to arrival of persons of the classes enumerated in paragraph (a) of this section, the privilege of admission free of duty and internal-revenue tax without entry or examination may be extended to their baggage and effects upon presentation of their credentials or other proof of their identity.

(d) Only the alien representatives and the alien members of staffs enumerated in paragraph (a) of this section shall be entitled to the privileges and immunities provided for by this section.

TITLE 12—BANKS AND BANKING

Chapter II—Federal Reserve System

Subchapter A—Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System

[Reg. D]

PART 204—RESERVES OF MEMBER BANKS

SAVINGS DEPOSIT

Effective May 16, 1955, Part 204 is amended in the following respects:

1. a. By adding at the end of § 204.1 (e) the following new undesignated paragraph and footnote reference:

The term "savings deposit" also means a deposit evidenced by a written receipt or agreement although not by a pass book, consisting of funds of the kind described above in this paragraph (e) and in respect to which deposit the depositor is required, or may at any time be required, by the bank to give notice in writing of an intended withdrawal not less than 30 days before such withdrawal is made, and withdrawals are permitted only through payment to the depositor himself but not to any other person whether or not acting for the depositor.[8a]

b. By adding the following new footnote to § 204.1 (e):

[8a] Payment may be made to the depositor over the counter, through the mails or otherwise.

2. Section 204.1 (e) requires that a "savings deposit" be evidenced by a pass book, except as otherwise permitted by the above amendments. The purpose of the amendments is to permit member banks of the Federal Reserve System, as an alternative to the above requirement, to classify a deposit as a "savings deposit," in certain circumstances and subject to certain limitations, although the deposit is not evidenced by a pass book.

The amendments set forth herein were the subject of a notice of proposed rule-making published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (20 F. R. 1853), and were adopted by the Board after consideration of all the relevant matter, including the data, views and arguments received from interested persons. The deferred effective date described in section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act is not followed in connection with these amendments for the reasons and good cause found as stated in the Board's rules of procedure (12 CFR 262.2 (e)), and especially because in connection with these permissive amendments such procedure is unnecessary as it would not aid the persons affected and would serve no other useful purpose.

[Reg. F]

PART 206—TRUST POWERS OF NATIONAL BANKS

COLLECTIVE INVESTMENT OF TRUST FUNDS

Effective June 13, 1955, paragraph (c) of § 206.10 is amended to read as follows:

§ 206.10 Investment of trust fund. * * *

(c) Collective investment of trust[10] funds. Funds received or held by a national bank as fiduciary shall not be invested collectively[11] except that (1) such collective investments may be made in accordance with § 206.17, and (2) funds of a trust which forms part of a pension, profit-sharing, or stock bonus plan of an employer for the exclusive benefit of his employees or their beneficiaries and which is exempt from Federal income taxes under the Internal Revenue Code may be invested collectively with funds of other such pension, profit-sharing, or stock bonus plan trusts if such collective investment is specifically authorized by the instrument creating the trust or by court order.[11a]

The purpose of this amendment is to permit the collective investment of funds of trusts which are established under employers' pension, profit-sharing, or stock bonus plans, without requiring compliance with the provisions of § 206.17, provided each such trust is exempt from Federal income taxes and the collective investment is specifically authorized by the trust instrument or by court order.

The amendment set forth herein was the subject of a notice of proposed rule making published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (20 F. R. 1829), and was adopted by the Board after consideration of all relevant views and arguments received from interested persons.

(Sec. 11 (i), 38 Stat, 262; 12 U. S. C. 248 (i). Interprets or applies secs. 2–4, 24 Stat. 18, 19, sec. 1, 40 Stat. 1043, as amended, sec. 1, 44 Stat. 1225, as amended, sec. 11 (k), 38 Stat. 261, as amended, 53 Stat. 68, as amended; 12 U. S. C. 30–33, 34 (a), 248 (k), 26 U. S. C. 169)

[10] Unless the context otherwise indicates, the term "trust," as used in this section or in any other part of this regulation, refers to any fiduciary relationship which a national bank is authorized to enter into under the provisions of section 11 (k) of the Federal Reserve Act.

[11] This does not prevent the bank from investing the funds of several trusts in a single real estate loan if the bank owns no participation in the loan and has no interest therein except in its capacity as fiduciary.

[11a] Section 584 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 provides that a common trust fund maintained in conformity with rules and regulations of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System "pertaining to the collective investment of trust funds by national banks" and meeting certain other requirements shall not be subject to Federal income taxation. The rules and regulations of the Board of Governors for the purposes of section 584 are contained solely in § 206.17; and the permission contained in paragraph (c) (2) of § 206.10 is not intended to confer exemption from Federal income taxation under section 584.

BOARD OF GOVERNORS OF THE FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM, [SEAL] S. R. CARPENTER,
Secretary.

PART 217—PAYMENT OF INTEREST ON DEPOSITS

SAVINGS DEPOSIT

Effective May 16, 1955, Part 217 is amended in the following respects:

1. a. By adding at the end of § 217.1 (e) the following new undesignated paragraph and footnote reference:

The term "savings deposit" also means a deposit evidenced by a written receipt or agreement although not by a pass book, consisting of funds of the kind described above in this paragraph (e) and in respect to which deposit the depositor is required, or may at any time be required, by the bank to give notice in writing of an intended withdrawal not less than 30 days before such withdrawal is made, and withdrawals are permitted only through payment to the depositor himself but not to any other person whether or not acting for the depositor.[8a]

b. By adding the following new footnote to § 217.1 (e):

[8a] Payment may be made to the depositor over the counter, through the mails or otherwise.

2. Section 217.1 (e) requires that a "savings deposit" be evidenced by a pass book, except as otherwise permitted by the above amendments. The purpose of the amendments is to permit member banks of the Federal Reserve System, as an alternative to the above requirement, to classify a deposit as a "savings deposit," in certain circumstances and subject to certain limitations, although the deposit is not evidenced by a pass book.

The amendments set forth herein were the subject of a notice of proposed rule-making published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (20 F. R. 1853), and were adopted by the Board after consideration of all the relevant matter, including the data, views and arguments received from interested persons. AUTHORITY: §§ 327.100 to 327.267 issued under sec. 9, 64 Stat. 881; 12 U. S. C. 1819.

§ 327.100 General. Assessment decisions in § 327.101, et seq., are interpretative rulings of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act and rules and regulations in this chapter.

§ 327.101 Assessment Decision No. 1; acceptances; bank owned. Acceptances owned by the bank are not eligible for deduction as cash items or otherwise.

§ 327.102 Assessment Decision No. 2; acceptances; deposits made prior to maturity. (This proposed decision relates in part to issues now under submission to the United States District Court, Southern District of New York. The proposed decision will be made and sent to each insured bank after determination by the Court.)

§ 327.103 Assessment Decision No. 3; acceptances; purchases of. (a) An officer's check issued by the bank for the purchase in the open market of acceptances for the bank's own account, where the seller of the acceptance is not primarily or secondarily liable on the acceptance, need not be included as deposit liabilities. Such checks are construed to be issued in payment for investments for the bank's own account.

(b) Where the seller of the acceptance is either primarily or secondarily liable thereon, the officer's check must be included in the assessment base.

§ 327.104 Assessment Decision No. 4; accumulated checks of customers. Where a bank customer who daily draws numerous checks makes arrangements with his bank whereby the bank, instead of charging each individual check against the depositor's account, accumulates them for one or more days; and where at agreed intervals the customer gives the bank a check drawn on his deposit account therein in the amount of and in exchange for the accumulated items; and where these individual checks held as of the close of business on a base day have not been recorded to reduce deposit liabilities, they may be claimed as a deduction in their actual amount on the Certified Statement provided an overdraft in the customer's deposit account would not occur had the items been charged thereagainst. If an overdraft would have occurred, the maximum allowable deduction is limited to the amount of the checks not in excess of the depositor's balance.

§ 327.105 Assessment Decision No. 5; adjustment of errors on Certified Statements. (a) When errors are found in the computation of the assessment on the current Certified Statement, and the correct figures can be ascertained, a form letter in duplicate will be sent to the bank showing the corrected figures. If the corrected figures result in an underpayment of assessment, the bank is asked to return the copy of the form letter with a remittance in the amount of the underpayment. If the corrected figures result in an overpayment of assessment not in excess of $100, the assessment account of the bank on the books of the Corporation will be credited and the bank advised. If the overpayment is in excess of $100 the bank will be required to file a corrected Certified Statement for that period to establish and support such credit to its account.

(b) If the errors are such that the correct figures cannot be determined from the Certified Statement, the bank will be required to file an amended Certified Statement showing the correct assessment. If the corrected statement shows an underpayment, it should be accompanied by a remittance therefor. If it shows an overpayment, the assessment account of the bank on the books of the Corporation will be credited therefor.

(c) When errors are found in prior Certified Statements the bank will be required to file amended Certified Statements for all periods in which errors occurred within the Statute of Limitations set out in section 7 (g) of the FDI Act, and such amended Certified Statements should be accompanied by a remittance for underpayments. The assessment account of the bank will be credited with any overpayments.

(d) Immediately after the close of the calendar year, assessment credit adjustments will be computed on underpayments and overpayments for prior years on the basis of the applicable ratio for the year or years in which the underpayments or overpayments occurred and the bank will be advised of the credit or debit adjustments made to its account.

NOTE: See §§ 327.107 and 327.108, Assessment Decisions No. 7, Assessment Credits and No. 8, Assessment Credit Adjustments on Assessments Applicable to Prior Years.

§ 327.106 Assessment Decision No. 6; advices or authorizations issued for cash letters received. (a) The amount of any advices or authorizations issued by a bank for cash letters received directing that its account in the sending bank be charged with the amount thereof may be excluded from deposits for the assessment base. This means that the amount of such advices or authorizations need not be included in deposits in computing assessments; it does not mean that they may be deducted from the total of other deposits. However, where they are included in the deposits, they may be deducted therefrom.

(b) To illustrate:

(1) Assume that on the base day a bank ("receiving" bank) receives a cash letter for $50,000 and on that day issues an advice directing the "sending" bank to charge the account of the "receiving" bank and the "receiving" bank credits the amount thereof to the account "due from" the "sending" bank. The "receiving" bank charges the respective depositors' accounts. Assume that the general ledger of the "receiving" bank at the close of business on the base day then shows the following:

Demand deposits	$1,000,000
Time deposits	400,000
Treasury tax and loan account	100,000
Cashiers' checks	40,000
Total	1,540,000

In tabulating deposits for the day the bank will show deposits of $1,540,000 because the amount of advices has been excluded.

(2) Assume that the amount of the advice is reflected in the deposits. This is often done when the liability for the cash letters received is evidenced by a deferred credit account. (See § 327.156 Assessment Decision No. 56, Deferred Credit Account.) If the advice directing that the account in the sending bank be charged has been issued and sent to the forwarding bank, the amount of the liability for the cash letter received represented by the deferred credit account need not be included in the assessment base. On the following day the deferred credit account is charged and the "due from" bank account is credited. In this case the amount of the deferred credit account would be included in deposits on the general books showing the following figures:

Demand deposits	$1,000,000
Treasury tax and loan account	100,000
Cashiers' checks	40,000
Deferred credit account	50,000
Total	1,590,000

(c) In the latter illustration the $50,000 deferred credit account representing the amount of the liability for cash letters received for which an advice had been issued directing that the account in the sending bank be charged may be subtracted from the deposits of $1,590,000 leaving a net of $1,540,000 for assessment purposes. This may be done by listing $1,540,000 as Total Deposit Liabilities on the Certified Statement but it is preferred that the $1,590,000 be listed as Total Deposit Liabilities and a deduction claimed on the Certified Statement described substantially as follows: "Advices for cash letters received included in reported deposits, $50,000."

(d) If the advice, authorization, or draft in payment of a cash letter received is not issued by the bank on the day the cash letter is received but, instead, is issued on a following day, the liability of the bank for the cash letters received is a deposit liability until the advice, authorization, or draft is issued. (See § 327.238 Assessment Decision No. 138, Remittance Account.)

(e) Advices, authorizations, or orders issued by the bank for other purposes, such as a transfer of customers' funds, are considered to be drafts within the meaning of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act and thus are exempt from assessment when issued against deposit accounts in other banks in the normal course of business. (See § 327.172 Assessment Decision No. 72, Drafts Outstanding Drawn on Other Banks.)

§ 327.107 Assessment Decision No. 7; assessment credits. (a) At the close of each calendar year 40 percent of the Corporation's net assessment income is transferred to its Capital Account and the balance of the net assessment income is credited pro rata to the insured banks based upon the assessments of each bank becoming due during said calendar year. The "net assessment income" is the income received by the Corporation from assessments less the operating costs and expenses, insurance losses, and reserves provided for insurance losses.

(b) As soon as possible after the close of each calendar year, the Corporation computes the assessment credit rate and promptly advises each bank of such rate. Then, prior to July 1 each year, each bank is informed of the amount of the assessment credit that will be applied to its assessment which becomes due the ensuing July 15. Any balance due on the assessment on July 15 in excess of this credit must be paid in cash. Any balance of the credit remaining after the payment of the assessment due July 15 may be deducted from the assessment due on subsequent Certified Statements.

(c) The year 1950 was the first calendar year for which assessment credits were computed. The assessment credits for the first five years have been as follows:

Assessment credit calendar year	Assessment credit rate	Date applicable on assessment due
	Percent
1950	56.00377265	July 15, 1951
1951	56.50257427	July 15, 1952
1952	56.49787282	July 15, 1953
1953	56.73240442	July 15, 1954
1954	56.76433408	July 15, 1955

§ 327.108 Assessment Decision No. 8; assessment credit adjustments on assessments applicable to prior years. (a) When assessments are received which are due for years prior to the year in which collected, the assessment credit rate applied to such assessments are the rates applicable to the years in which the assessments were due.

(b) To illustrate, assume that in 1954 a bank filed an amended Certified Statement, Form 545AH, based upon deposits for March 31 and June 30, 1952, showing an additional assessment due of $100. This assessment was due for the calendar year 1952, and the assessment credit allowed insured banks on assessments due in that year was 56.49787 percent. The bank is requested to pay the full $100 to the Corporation. Immediately after the close of the calendar year 1954, the assessment credit adjustments are computed and the bank is thereupon informed that the assessment credit adjustment applicable to the $100 is being credited to its account in the amount of $56.50, which may be deducted from the assessment next becoming due.

(c) The same applies to assessment overpayments. To illustrate, assume that in 1954 a bank filed an amended Certified Statement, Form 545AI, based upon deposits for September 30 and December 31, 1952, showing an overpayment of $100. The $100 is credited to the bank's account to be applied upon future assessments but with the explanation that an assessment credit adjustment will be made later. This assessment was due in 1953 in which year the assessment credit rate was 56.7324 percent. When the assessment credit adjustments are computed immediately after the close of the calendar year 1954, the bank is requested to pay to the Corporation the amount of the assessment credit adjustment, in this case, amounting to $56.73.

NOTE: See §§ 327.105 and 327.107, Assessment Decisions No. 5, Adjustment of Errors on Certified Statements and No. 7, Assessment Credits.

§ 327.109 Assessment Decision No. 9; assigned accounts receivable, collections. (a) When accounts receivable are assigned to the bank as security to a liability to the bank and cash collections are received on said accounts and the cash is held as substituted security, such funds, up to the amount of the indebtedness secured, may be excluded from the assessment base provided they are held solely for the purpose of securing the liability to the bank, are not subject to withdrawal by the obligor, and are carried in a special non-interest-bearing account designated to properly show their purpose.

(b) The fact that the depositor has the right to withdraw funds from such a special account upon the substitution of accounts receivable therefor will not make the account assessable if it meets the statutory requirements in paragraph (a) of this section.

(c) A different situation exists if accounts receivable are assigned to the bank under an agreement to pay to the customer the amount of collections in excess of a required stipulated reserve. Any funds held by the bank in excess of the stipulated reserve must be included in deposits for the assessment base. (See § 327.152 Assessment Decision No. 52, Dealers Reserves.)

§ 327.110 Assessment Decision No. 10; automobile "paper" purchased. A cashier's or other officer's check issued by a bank for the purchase of automobile "paper" must be included in deposits for the assessment base if it is outstanding at the close of business on an assessment base day provided the payee is primarily or secondarily liable on the paper purchased. A cashier's or other officer's check issued in payment of the purchase of automobile or other "paper" without recourse on the seller is not subject to assessment.

§ 327.111 Assessment Decision No. 11; availability schedule; cash items. (a) No cash item may be considered as uncollected at the close of business on the base day if such item has been outstanding for a period in excess of the time necessary to send the item in due course to the Federal Reserve bank of the Federal Reserve district or branch thereof in which the reporting bank is located plus the time allowed for collection from the place where the item is payable as shown on the current Time Schedule of such Federal Reserve bank or branch thereof. Thus, when the alternate (bb) method is used in claiming deductions for cash items the maximum time a cash item may be considered as uncollected is limited to the Federal Reserve Time Schedule plus the time of transmittal to the Federal Reserve bank or branch, or the actual time required for collection, whichever is the lesser.

(b) The Federal Reserve Time Schedule is also applicable when the alternate (aa) method is used. For instance, if the base day is Monday and the bank is not open for business on the preceding Saturday, items received and forwarded for collection on Saturday or Sunday would be eligible for deduction on the Monday base day (see footnote 1) provided they remain uncollected at the close of business on Monday and have been outstanding for a time not in excess of the Federal Reserve Time Schedule.

(c) It should be noted that, although the Federal Reserve Time Schedule is used as the guide to the maximum time an item may be considered uncollected, there is no requirement that items be cleared through any Federal Reserve bank or branch thereof. When items are cleared through other banks, an item may be considered uncollected for the actual time required to collect it provided that this time may not exceed the time the item would be uncollected if it had been cleared through the Federal Reserve bank of the Federal Reserve district or branch thereof in which the reporting bank is located.

(d) A cash item drawn on a place not included in the Federal Reserve Time Schedule or an item which a Federal Reserve bank will not accept as a cash item but will handle only on a collection basis may be considered to be in the process of collection for the actual time required to collect it. This applies to items such as sight drafts or checks drawn on nonpar banks. The check or draft received by the reporting bank for such collection is not a cash item if the bank paid or gave credit for the original item or gave credit subject to final payment for the original item when received.

(e) In the case of an insured bank or branch located outside of any Federal Reserve district (see footnote 2), an item shall not be considered as uncollected at the close of business on the base day if such item has been outstanding for a period in excess of the time from the date the cash item is paid or credited to a deposit account and the date of receipt (in the usual course of business) by the correspondent bank to which the item is forwarded for collection plus the collection time allowed by the Federal Reserve Time Schedule for the district in which the correspondent bank is located. This paragraph applies only to banks located outside the States of the United States and the District of Columbia.

§ 327.112 Assessment Decision No. 12; average or estimated deductions. No method of averages or estimates may be used in computing deductions for cash items or any other deductions. The bank must maintain records to support and justify all deductions made for all assessment periods subsequent to January 1945, except that, where a field audit of the assessment records has been made and any adjustment of assessment required thereunder has been effected, the insured bank need not thereafter retain any assessment records in support of its Certified Statements through the date of the audit. (See § 327.234 Assessment Decision No. 134, Records Necessary.)

§ 327.113 Assessment Decision No. 13; bank money orders. Bank money orders issued by the reporting bank for money or its equivalent are subject to assessment, as they are in effect cashiers' or officers' checks; however, such money orders drawn in the normal course of business on deposit accounts in other banks are exempt from assessment as drafts.

§ 327.114 Assessment Decision No. 14; bankruptcy and equity receivership funds. (a) When a bank acts as receiver or trustee in bankruptcy, or receiver in equity, it must include the funds received and maintained in each of these capacities in its deposits for assessment purposes as such funds are trust funds as defined in the Federal Deposit Insurance Act (sec. 3 (p)). However, such funds need not be included in the assessment base if they are deposited in another insured bank, provided the provisions of paragraph (n) of § 327.1 are complied with.

(b) The proper procedure in such cases is for the reporting bank to include the funds in its total of reported deposits on Certified Statements and to claim a deduction for the trust funds deposited in other insured banks. If the funds are deposited by the reporting bank in uninsured banks, including banks located in foreign countries, the reporting bank must include the funds in its assessment base and may not claim a deduction therefor.

§ 327.115 Assessment Decision No. 15; base days. (a) The base days are specified in section 7 (a) of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act and are March 31, June 30, September 30 and December 31. The Certified Statements, which must be filed semiannually, that is, on or before July 15 and January 15 of each year, are based upon deposits as of the close of business on March 31 and June 30, and September 30 and December 31, respectively.

(b) If the base day is a nonbusiness day or a legal holiday, either national or State, the preceding business day shall be used. Thus, when the base day falls on Sunday, a bank shall use as its base day the preceding Saturday provided the bank is open for business on that day; or, if it is not open for business on Saturday, then the base day shall be the preceding business day.

(c) If the base day falls on a day when the bank is open for less than the normal number of hours, such as being open only until noon on Saturday, that day shall nevertheless be used as a base day provided the bank is open for the transaction of all business on such shorter business day.

(d) The fact that a bank may be open to the extent of receiving items by mail, or has open a few of its branches, does not mean that the bank is "open for business" as that term is used in this section.

(e) For interpretation of the base day from September 21, 1950, through the December 31, 1953, base day, see footnote 3.

§ 327.116 Assessment Decision No. 16; bills of exchange. Customers at times have arrangements whereby their bank will pay commodity drafts and similar instruments which are recorded by the bank as loans. When goods covered by these drafts are sold, the proceeds are often credited to a deposit account pending application toward the payment of the instruments. Such funds are not assessable if they are actually applied on the indebtedness as of the date received although such application is made at a later date, or if such funds are held as collateral security to the indebtedness, provided they are held

[1] Amended Rules and Regulations, § 327.1 (e), effective March 30, 1954, not applicable prior thereto.

[2] This means banks located outside of the States of the United States and the District of Columbia.

[3] For the period from the enactment of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act on September 21, 1950, through the December 31, 1953, base day, the base day was the calendar day, i. e., from midnight to midnight. Accordingly, if the base day was December 31 and the bank used the alternate (aa) method of claiming deductions for exchanges, only the cash items received on December 31, and forwarded for collection on that day between midnight of December 30 and midnight of December 31, and those items held for clearings at the close of business December 31, were eligible for deduction.

Beginning with the March 31, 1954 base day, in accordance with the amended rules and regulations effective March 30, 1954, the term "base day" was defined as the period of time beginning with the time of the closing of the books or the "cutoff" time on the last business day immediately preceding the assessment base day to the time of the closing of the books of the bank on the base day according to the normal practice of the bank. Holidays or other nonbusiness days intervening between the preceding business day and the base day are part of the base day. Thus, if the base day is on Monday and the bank was not open for business on Saturday, and Friday was the last preceding business day, then the base day will include all uncollected cash items received after the closing of the books or "cutoff" time on Friday to the closing of the books or "cutoff" time on Monday. This must be in the normal practice of the bank and no change in the closing of the books or "cutoff" time may be made on any day for the purpose of abnormally affecting the deposits or deductions for the base day.

solely for the purpose of securing the liability to the bank, are in an amount not in excess of such liability, are not subject to withdrawal by the obligor, and are carried in a special non-interest-bearing account designated to properly show their purpose. Any such funds in excess of the indebtedness must, of course, be included in the assessment base.

§ 327.117 Assessment Decision No. 17; branch items. (a) An item which is drawn against a deposit account maintained in the main office or branch office of the reporting bank and which is received by an office of the reporting bank other than the office where the deposit account is carried and which has been paid or credited to a deposit account is not eligible for deduction as a cash item. However, if the item is not reflected on the books of the bank on the base day as a charge against deposit liabilities it may be subtracted therefrom in its actual amount.

(b) To illustrate, assume that at the close of business on the base day a bank with one branch had deposits of $1,000,000 at the main office and $500,000 at the branch. Assume also that on the base day, the main office received deposits of $3,000 for credit at the branch office and received checks totaling $2,000 drawn against branch office deposit accounts. Assume further that the $3,000 branch deposits and $2,000 branch checks were accounted for in an interbranch, branch clearing, or a similarly named account on the bank's books. In this instance the $3,000 must be added to deposits for assessment purposes in Column A of the Certified Statement. The $2,000 of checks drawn on the branch office are ineligible as exchange deductions, but may be deducted in their actual amount on the Certified Statement. For assessment purposes the bank would report total deposit liabilities of $1,503,000 on their Certified Statement and take deductions of $2,000 resulting in net deposit liabilities of $1,501,000. Any checks or drafts received at the bank's office applicable to accounts maintained at the main office will be handled in exactly the same manner.

(c) For the definition of a cash item from September 21, 1950, through the December 31, 1953, base day, see footnote 4.

§ 327.118 Assessment Decision No. 18; branches outside the States of the United States. (a) Any obligation of a bank which is payable only at an office of the bank located outside the States of the United States, the District of Columbia, any Territory of the United States, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, is not a deposit for any of the purposes of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act and need not be included in deposits for the assessment base. For instance, an obligation payable only at a branch in France is not subject to assessment.

(b) Any insured bank having its principal place of business in any of the States of the United States or in the District of Columbia which maintains a branch in any Territory of the United States or the Virgin Islands may elect to exclude from insurance its deposit obligations which are payable only at such branch, and upon so electing the insured bank with respect to such branch shall comply with the provisions of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act applicable to the termination of insurance by nonmember banks. Accordingly, if an insured bank wishes to exclude deposits from insurance in such a branch where the deposits are already insured, it is necessary to give notice to depositors at the branch and to pay assessments on the deposits in such branch for a period of two years from the termination of the insured status.

(c) Under Public Law 533 of the 82d Congress enacted July 14, 1952, the Federal Deposit Insurance Act was amended by striking out "Puerto Rico" from the branches outside the United States which could be excluded from insurance and from the assessment base. Thus, deposits in branches in Puerto Rico must be included in the assessment base.

§ 327.119 Assessment Decision No. 19; brokers loans. (a) Official checks issued by an insured bank representing the proceeds of brokers loans and which are issued in exchange for an agreement to pay, do not represent deposits within the meaning of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act and Regulations unless such agreement to pay constitutes a promissory note. This applies to loans commonly designated as brokers loans where the borrower executes the bank's general liability or loan agreement.

(b) Such loan agreements are not construed to be "money or its equivalent" as this term is used in the Federal Deposit Insurance Act and regulations. Accordingly, the official checks issued in exchange therefor are not deposits within the meaning of said act and need not be included in deposits for the assessment base.

§ 327.120 Assessment Decision No. 20; capital stock funds. Funds paid into the bank for the purchase of new capital stock in the bank and carried in an account pending the issuance of the stock need not be included in the assessment base unless, under the agreement, such funds are held as trust funds.

§ 327.121 Assessment Decision No. 21; cash funds received and held as security to indebtedness to the bank. (This proposed decision relates in part to issues now under submission to the United States District Court, Southern District of New York. The proposed decision will be made and sent to each insured bank after determination by the Court.)

§ 327.122 Assessment Decision No. 22; cash collateral; participated loans. (a) Cash funds received and held solely for the purpose of securing a liability to the bank need not be included in deposits for the assessment base provided all of the statutory requirements are met as set out in § 327.121 Assessment Decision No. 21, "Cash Funds Received and Held as Security to Indebtedness to the Bank".

(b) If the reporting bank issues participations in a loan to other banks or individuals, the pro rata share of the cash funds held as security applicable to the participations of others must be included in the assessment base.

(c) To illustrate, assume the reporting bank makes a loan of $500,000 to Company A, and holds cash funds as security in the amount of $50,000. Assume it sells participations in the loan to the amount of $100,000. If all of the requirements of the act are met (which exempts from assessment cash funds held as security), the reporting bank may exclude from the assessment base the sum of $40,000. It must include in the assessment base the $10,000 remainder of the cash collateral. As illustrated, the cash collateral eligible for deduction by the reporting bank is in direct proportion to their share of the total loan, in this instance 80 percent.

(d) It should be noted the act provides that the exemption applies only to cash funds held solely as security to indebtedness to the bank. This exemption does not extend to indebtedness held by the bank for the account of others.

§ 327.123 Assessment Decision No. 23; cash items eligible for deduction as exchanges. (a) The term "cash item" as used in the Federal Deposit Insurance Act and in the rules and regulations refers to items eligible for deduction under local and outside exchanges. Cash items eligible for deduction are defined in § 327.1 (b), effective March 30, 1954. A cash item eligible for deduction as defined therein must meet the following requirements:

(1) The instrument, check, or draft must provide for the payment of money.

(2) The instrument, check, or draft must have been received by the reporting bank in the regular course of business.

(3) The instrument, check, or draft must be in the process of collection.

(4) The instrument, check, or draft must be payable on presentation.

(5) In consideration therefor the reporting bank must have done one of the following:

(i) Given credit to a deposit account;

(ii) Issued a credit instrument;

(iii) Paid the item (see § 327.125 Assessment Decision No. 25, Cash Items Paid by the Reporting Bank);

(iv) Credited the amount thereof upon an indebtedness to the bank; or

(v) Received the instrument in payment for Series E bonds or other security (not an asset of the bank), or as a collection for public utility service, or in a like transaction: Provided, however, That an instrument received in payment of, or arising from, the sale or other disposition of any of the bank's assets is not a cash item.

[4] For the period July 1, 1950, to March 30, 1954, a check payable at a branch office or main office of the reporting bank other than the office where the item was received was included in the definition of a cash item. Thus, if such an item was received on the assessment base day and held for clearings with the other office at the close of business, such items could be multiplied by 2 under the alternate (aa) method of claiming deductions for cash items. Beginning with the March 31, 1954, base day the interbranch items can no longer be deducted, multiplied by 2, under any circumstances.

(6) The payer or drawee of the instrument, check, or draft, must be a bank or person other than the reporting bank.

(b) The following are examples which do not meet the requirements of a cash item eligible for deduction:

(1) Any instrument received in payment of or arising from the sale or other disposition of any of its assets.

(2) A draft payable at a future date such as upon arrival of a car.

(3) Any instrument, check, or draft received in payment of clearings.

(4) Any instrument, check, or draft received in payment for cash items paid or credited to a deposit account and forwarded for collection.

(5) Drafts issued to transfer its own funds.

(6) Any instrument, check, or draft drawn or delivered and exchanged for the purpose of reducing the assessment base.

(7) Any instrument, check, or draft drawn by an officer, director, stockholder or affiliate of the reporting bank, or any person or corporation at its, his, or their suggestion or direction for the purpose of abnormally increasing the deposits on the base day or for the purpose of obtaining abnormal deductions.

(8) Any instrument, check, or draft received by the reporting bank drawn on any branch or office of the reporting bank.

(9) Any instrument, check, or draft held by the reporting bank until made good by the maker or endorser.

(c) For definition of cash item for the base day from September 21, 1950, through the December 31, 1953, base day, see footnote 5.

[5] For the period based upon deposits from July 1, 1950, through the December 31, 1953, base day, the definition of a cash item appeared in § 327.1 (a) of the rules and regulations in effect to March 30, 1954. The elements 1, 2, 3 and 4 given above were the same for that period but items 5 and 6 were different so that the definition for said period included checks and drafts for which cash or other consideration was given and included instruments, checks, or drafts where the payer or drawee was a branch office or a main office of the reporting bank other than the office where the item was received.

The principal differences between cash items eligible for deduction prior to March 30, 1954, and those eligible for deduction thereafter are as follows:

(1) After July 1, 1950, and prior to March 30, 1954, but not thereafter, the bank could include in cash items eligible for deduction instruments drawn on other banks received in payment of or arising from the sale or other disposition of any of its assets.

(2) After July 1, 1950, and prior to March 30, 1954, but not thereafter, the reporting bank could include in cash items eligible for deduction instruments, checks, or drafts received by the reporting bank on the base days drawn on another branch or office of the reporting bank.

(3) After July 1, 1950, and prior to March 30, 1954, the reporting bank could not include in cash items eligible for deduction any instruments, other than checks or bank drafts for which it had given cash. This limitation was removed in the regulations effective March 30, 1954, so that thereafter instruments other than checks and bank drafts, such as postal money orders and interest coupons could be included in cash items eligible for deduction if cash were given therefor.

See §§ 327.127, 327.128, and 327.130, Assessment Decisions No. 27, Cash Items Deductions; Local, No. 28, Cash Items Deductions; Outside, and No. 30, Cash Items Deductions; Change in Alternate Method.

§ 327.124 Assessment Decision No. 24; cash items; methods of claiming deductions. (a) There are two alternate methods of claiming deductions for cash items designated as the (aa) and the (bb) methods. The bank has the option of using the alternate method which is to its greater advantage, but whichever method is chosen must be used for both base days in a semiannual period and must be used for computing both local and outside exchanges.

(b) The two alternate methods are as follows:

(1) Under the alternate (aa) method of deducting cash items, a bank may deduct twice the total of the cash items forwarded for collection on the assessment base day and cash items held for clearings at the close of business on said day, which are in the process of collection and which the bank has received and paid in the regular course of business or credited to deposit accounts on the base day, all in accordance with the normal procedure of the bank.

(2) Under the alternate (bb) method a bank may deduct the total of the cash items forwarded for collection on the assessment base day and cash items held for clearings at the close of business on said day which are in the process of collection and which the bank has received and paid in the regular course of business or credited to deposit accounts on the assessment base day plus the amount of the cash items paid or credited to deposit accounts on preceding days, which are in the process of collection and which remain uncollected at the close of business on the base day, all in accordance with the normal procedure of the bank.

NOTE: See §§ 327.123, 327.127, and 327.128, Assessment Decisions No. 23, Cash Items Eligible for Deduction as Exchanges, No. 27, Cash Items Deductions, Local, and, No. 28, Cash Items Deductions, Outside.

§ 327.125 Assessment Decision No. 25; cash items paid by the reporting bank. (a) Only items credited to deposit accounts or paid are eligible for deduction. (See § 327.123 Assessment Decision No. 23, Cash Items Eligible for Deduction as Exchanges, for a definition of a cash item.)

(b) In the amended rules and regulations, effective March 30, 1954, the word "paid" is defined to include items for which the bank has given cash, received as a payment on a debt to the bank, received in payment for a Series E bond or other security (not an asset of the bank), and as a collection for public utilities service or in a similar transaction.

(c) It is specifically provided in said amended rules and regulations that an instrument received by the bank in payment of, or arising from, the sale or other disposition of any of its assets is not a cash item.

(d) Following are examples of items considered "paid" and eligible for deduction as cash items if they meet all the other requirements of a cash item:

(1) Items cashed over the counter.

(2) Items received and paid for in local clearings or paid for in cash letters received.

(3) Items received as a payment on, or in payment of, a note to the bank.

(4) Items received as a payment on principal or interest on a mortgage held by the bank, not arising from the sale of its own property.

(5) Items received in payment of rent to the bank on wholly owned real estate.

(e) Following are examples of items not within the definition of "paid" and ineligible for deduction:

(1) Items received for the sale or other disposition of securities owned by the bank. (See § 327.139 Assessment Decision No. 39, Checks and Drafts Received for the Sale or Other Disposition of the Bank's Own Assets.)

(2) Items received for the sale of notes or mortgages owned by the bank. (Note the distinction between an item received for the sale of a note or mortgage owned by the bank which is ineligible for deduction and an item received as a payment on a note or mortgage, not arising from the sale of its own property, which is an eligible deduction.) (See § 327.139 Assessment Decision No. 39, Checks and Drafts Received for the Sale or Other Disposition of the Bank's Own Assets.)

(3) Instruments received in payment for cash items previously paid or credited to deposit accounts and previously forwarded for collection. (See § 327.138 Assessment Decision No. 38, Checks or Drafts Received in Payment of Cash Items Forwarded for Collection.)

(4) Instruments received in payment of clearings. (See § 327.137 Assessment Decision No. 37, Checks or Drafts Received in Payment of Clearings.)

(5) Drafts drawn by the reporting bank to transfer its own funds. (See § 327.176 Assessment Decision No. 76, Drafts for Transfer of Bank's Own Funds.)

(6) Drafts drawn and delivered or exchanged for the purpose of reducing the assessment base or any instrument drawn by an officer, director, stockholder, or affiliate of the reporting bank or any person at their suggestion or direction for the purpose of abnormally increasing deductions. (See § 327.202 Assessment Decision No. 102, Instruments Drawn for the Purpose of Abnormally Increasing Deposits or Deductions.)

(f) For the definition of cash items for the base days from September 21, 1950, through December 31, 1953, see footnote 6.

[6] For the period from July 1, 1950, to March 30, 1954, the definition of "paid" was in § 327.1 (a) of the rules and regulations. For that period, the term "paid" was deemed to include checks or bank drafts for which the bank had given cash or other consideration. For that period the only nondeposit items eligible for deduction were checks and bank drafts. Thus, Series E bonds cashed or any coupons cashed were ineligible for deduc-

§ 327.126 Assessment Decision No. 26; cash items charged against a deposit account not deductible by forwarding bank. (a) When a "sending" bank charges the amount of an outgoing cash letter against the "due to" balance of the "receiving" bank, the "sending" bank may not thereafter claim deductions for such cash items because such charge results in the collection of such items. Upon receiving such a cash letter from the "sending" bank, the "receiving" bank may reduce its deposit liability in the amount of such cash items as of the date of the charge to its account by the sending bank.

(b) To illustrate, assume Bank A on March 31 forwarded a cash letter to Bank B and on the same day charged the account due to Bank B. Bank A may not claim a deduction for these items as being uncollected. Assume Bank B receives the letter on April 1. Bank B in tabulating its assessment base for March 31 may subtract the actual amount of the items in said letter which are drawn on deposit accounts in Bank B. It may not claim any deductions for items in the letter drawn on other banks or persons.

§ 327.127 Assessment Decision No. 27; cash items deductions; local. (a) Cash Items Held for Clearings, Local Exchanges, consist of items paid or credited to deposit accounts by the reporting bank which are drawn on banks, persons, or corporations in the same city or local clearing area where the reporting bank is located which are held for clearings at the close of the books on the assessment base day. (See § 327.123 Assessment Decision No. 23, for the definition of a cash item eligible for deduction.)

(b) A cash item is considered to be held for clearings at the close of the books on the base day if it has been received in such manner and within such time as is considered normal in accordance with the usual practices of the reporting bank, and is held for clearance or presentment at the time of the closing in conformity with the normal practice of the reporting bank. The payer or drawee of the instrument held for clearings must be a bank or person other than the reporting bank located in the same city or local clearing area or be a member of or affiliated with the same clearing house as the reporting bank or must regularly clear through the same clearing house or a member or an affiliate thereof.

(c) Thus, the items must be received on the base day after the normal time for effecting clearings on the base day. For instance, if the regular clearings are at 10:00 a. m., all items received prior to that hour, which it is physically possible to include in said clearings, must be included in said clearings, and only those received which cannot be cleared at the regular clearings on the base day may be held for clearings at the close of business. "Held for Clearings" also includes warrants, "payable through" items, sight drafts, and other similar instruments held for presentment and collection on the following day.

(d) The bank may use either the alternate (aa) or the (bb) method of claiming deductions for cash items provided the same method is used for both base days in a semiannual assessment period and provided the same method is used for both local and outside exchanges. The items eligible for deduction are exactly the same under either method but under the (aa) method, they may be multiplied by two whereas under the (bb) method only the actual amount may be deducted. (See § 327.124 Assessment Decision No. 24, Cash Items, Methods of Claiming Deductions.) See footnote 7.

§ 327.128 Assessment Decision No. 28; cash items deductions; outside. (a) Cash items forwarded for collection—outside exchanges, consist of cash items paid or credited to deposit accounts by the reporting bank which are drawn on banks, persons, or corporations in cities other than where the reporting bank is located. (See § 327.123 Assessment Decision No. 23, for the definition of a cash item eligible for deduction.)

(b) The bank may use either the alternate (aa) or (bb) method of claiming deductions for outside cash items, but whichever method is selected must be used for both base days in a semiannual period and must be used for computing both local and outside exchanges.

(c) If the alternate (aa) method of computing outside cash items is used, a bank may deduct twice the amount of the total of the cash items forwarded for collection on the base day which were received and reflected on the books as part of the business of the base day, all in accordance with the normal procedure of the bank. This includes those items received after the close of the books on the preceding business day to the time of the closing of the books on the base day, but there can be no variation in this time of the closing of the books from normal procedure for assessment purposes. When the base day is preceded by a nonbusiness day, or a holiday, any cash items received after the close of the books on the preceding business day which are forwarded for collection on the base day, or on the nonbusiness day or days preceding the base day, may be included in the deduction provided they remain uncollected at the close of business on the base day.

(d) "Forwarded for collection" is defined as including those cash items received on the assessment base day, which either have actually been forwarded for collection on the base day, or are in the process of forwarding in accordance with the normal procedure of the bank. To illustrate, assume the closing of the books occurs at 4:00 p. m. Any cash item received on the base day prior to 4:00 p. m. which is reflected on the books on said day, may be claimed as a deduction even though the actual forwarding cannot be completed on that day.

(e) No deductions may be claimed for any holdovers from the preceding business day. Thus, continuing the illustration of the closing of the books at 4:00 p. m., any cash item received by the reporting bank prior to 4:00 p. m. on the preceding business day, but where the forwarding process is not completed on the preceding business day, may not be included in the deductions for cash items on the base day.

(f) If the alternate (bb) method is used, exactly the same cash items as related above under the alternate (aa) method may be deducted, but they may not be multiplied by two or any other figure, but may be deducted only in their actual amounts. In addition, the bank may deduct the actual amounts of the cash items paid or credited on preceding days which are in the process of collection, and which remain uncollected at the close of the books on the assessment base day.

(g) If the alternate (bb) method is used, no cash item may be considered uncollected for any period in excess of that prescribed in the Federal Reserve Time Schedule plus the time of transmittal for sending the items in due course to the Federal Reserve bank of the Federal Reserve district or branch thereof in which the reporting bank is located. This time of transmittal is usually one day, but if the bank is located in an area where mail is slow, this time may be two or even more days. The Federal Reserve Time Schedule is shown in the bulletins sent out by each Federal Reserve bank. Any cash item not included in the Federal Reserve Time Schedule may be considered uncollected for the actual time required to effect collection. (See § 327.111 Assessment Decision No. 11, Availability Schedule, Cash Items.)

(h) In using the alternate (bb) method, it should be noted that the bank may deduct only the portion of the eligible cash items forwarded for collection on days preceding the base day which remains uncollected at the close of the books on the base day.

(i) To illustrate, assume the reporting bank forwarded cash items totaling $100,000 to its correspondent bank on the day preceding the base day. Assume further, $10,000 of the items were drawn on the correspondent bank, $15,000 on other banks in the city where the correspondent bank is located, $50,000 were drawn on other cities which were one day items under the Federal Reserve Time Schedule, and the remainder of $25,000 were drawn on other cities which were two day items under the Federal Reserve Time Schedule. The $10,000 drawn on the correspondent bank would be collected before the close of business on the base day and would be ineligible for deduction as uncollected items. Assuming that the correspondent bank received the letter early on the morning of the base day in time for local clearings, the $15,000 drawn on other local banks would also be considered collected since clearings would be effected by the correspondent on the base day. The remainder of the letter, or $75,000, would be eligible for deduction. If the same letter had been mailed out two days before the base day, the $50,000 included in the one day Federal Reserve Time Schedule would also be collected, so that only $25,000, or the two day items, would be eligible for deduction.

(j) It should be noted from the foregoing example that the actual time required for collection or the Federal Reserve Time Schedule, whichever is the lesser, is the maximum time for which an item may be considered uncollected. Therefore, the items drawn on the correspondent bank and other banks in the city where the correspondent is located were collected on the day after mailing by the forwarding bank and could not be considered as uncollected for any longer time. (See footnote 8.)

§ 327.129 Assessment Decision No. 29; cash items sent direct to a correspondent for collection. (a) In some cases, cash items are sent direct to a correspondent of the bank in which the sender is to receive credit. For instance, Bank A having an account with Bank B may send the items direct to Bank C for credit in Bank B. In such cases Bank C upon receipt of the items will credit the "due to" or "due from" account of Bank B and instruct Bank B to charge its account and credit Bank A.

(b) Bank C may claim deductions for any uncollected cash items in such deposits in the usual manner. Bank B although it does not actually receive the items may, if it credits the account of Bank A on the base day, claim a deduction for the items in such sendings which remain uncollected at the close of business on the base day. Thus, if it uses the alternate (aa) method it would consider as received by it on the base day the direct sending items received from Bank A by Bank C on the base day for its account. However, Bank B may not claim a deduction for any item which would have been collected at the close of business on the base day if it had received the items direct. To illustrate, if Bank A has an item drawn on Bank B which it forwards to Bank C in such direct sendings, Bank B may not claim a deduction therefor because the check would have been collected if sent by Bank A to Bank B.

§ 327.130 Assessment Decision No. 30; cash items deductions; change in alternate method. (a) A bank may use either the alternate (aa) or the (bb) method of claiming deductions for cash items provided it uses the same method for both local and outside exchanges for both base days on any one semiannual Certified Statement. It may make this selection for each semiannual period and thus may use the (aa) method for one period, the (bb) method for the next, and again change back to the (aa) method on the following Certified Statement.

(b) After the selection of the alternate method of claiming deductions for cash items is made and a Certified Statement has been filed, the bank may within two years from the date on which such Certified Statement was required to be filed, file an amendment of such Certified Statement for the purpose of changing to the other alternate method provided it has the records necessary to support the deductions under the other alternate method.

§ 327.131 Assessment Decision No. 31; cash items processed by special handling. (a) No two reporting banks may deduct the same cash items under the alternate (aa) method for computing deductible cash items unless one of the banks normally, and in the regular course of business, is a collecting and check clearing agent for the other bank. Cash items reaching another bank or banks by special handling on the base day, other than in the normal and regular practice, may not be deducted under the (aa) method by such other bank or banks but such other bank or banks may claim a deduction therefor in the actual amount if included in the reported deposit liabilities.

(b) This does not refer to the normal and day by day procedure where cash items are forwarded by one bank to another and reach the second bank on the same day. However, any items received on the base day which are forwarded to another bank by means of special handling not normally used on other days to make possible the claiming of duplicate deductions may not be multiplied by two by the bank to which forwarded by this special process, but if included in deposits may be deducted by such bank only in its actual amount.

§ 327.132 Assessment Decision No. 32; cash letters received. (a) Section 7 (a) (2) (i) of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act permits the reporting bank to exclude from its assessment base the amount of advices or authorizations issued by it for cash letters received directing that its account in the sending bank be charged with the amount thereof.

(b) This refers to cash letters received by the reporting bank on the base day. The items in the cash letter which are drawn on deposit accounts in the receiving bank will be charged against the respective depositor's accounts thereby reducing the deposit liability. If the bank issues a draft in payment of the letter, this draft is exempt from assessment under section 7 (a) (2) (i) of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act. The amount of an advice issued by the receiving bank directing that its account in the sending bank be charged may also be excluded from deposit liabilities. If a deferred credit account represents the amount of the liability of the bank for cash letters received it likewise need not be included in the assessment base to the extent that advices or drafts have been issued for the cash letters. This means that they need not be included in deposits; it does not mean they may be deducted from other deposits. If the drafts, advices, or deferred credit account are represented in the total of deposits on the Certified Statement, which is often the case with respect to the deferred credit account, the bank may claim a deduction therefor on the Certified Statement. (See §§ 327.106 and 327.156, Assessment Decisions No. 6, Advices or Authorizations Issued for Cash Letters Received and No. 56, Deferred Credit Account.)

(c) If the bank delays for one or more days the issuance of the draft or advice in payment of a cash letter received, its liability for the cash letters received must be included in the assessment base pending the issuance of such draft or advice. (See § 327.238 Assessment Decision No. 138, Remittance Account.)

§ 327.133 Assessment Decision No. 33; cashiers' and other officers' checks. (a) Cashiers' and other officers' checks must be included in the deposit liabilities until paid when issued under any of the following circumstances:

(1) For money or its equivalent received by the issuing bank,

(2) For a charge against a deposit account in the issuing bank,

(3) In settlement of checks, drafts, or other instruments forwarded to the issuing bank for collection,

(4) When issued in exchange for promissory notes upon which the person procuring the check is primarily or secondarily liable.

(b) Cashiers' checks issued for the bank's own purposes need not be included in the assessment base. Any checks issued for the bank's own uses will almost invariably fall within the following classifications:

(1) For the payment of expense items of the bank,

(2) For the purchase of securities for the bank's own portfolio.

(c) Treasurers' checks, tellers' checks, officers' checks, or any other designation given checks issued by the bank on itself, come within the same assessment requirements as "cashiers' checks".

§ 327.134 Assessment Decision No. 34; cashiers' or other officers' checks payable through another bank. The fact that a cashier's or other officer's check may be issued with a designation tion prior to March 30, 1954, but are eligible for deduction thereafter. From July 1, 1950, to March 30, 1954, the reporting bank could include in cash items eligible for deduction the checks and drafts drawn on other banks received in the sale of any of its assets. Such items are ineligible for deduction after March 30, 1954.

[7] After July 1, 1950, and prior to March 30, 1954, there could be included in local cash items eligible for deduction, instruments, checks, or drafts drawn on a branch office or main office of the reporting bank other than the office where the item was received. Effective March 30, 1954, under the amended rules and regulations, such interbranch items are no longer eligible for deduction as cash items. (See § 327.117 Assessment Decision No. 17, Branch Items.)

[8] After July 1, 1950, and prior to March 30, 1954, the base day included only the actual calendar base day and only the cash items actually received on said calendar base day and actually forwarded for collection on that day were eligible for deduction. Thus, during that period no deduction could be claimed for any cash item received and forwarded for collection prior to the base day such as those received and forwarded on Saturday when the bank is not open for business and when the base day was Monday. During that period no deduction could be claimed for cash items received prior to the base day which were forwarded for collection on the base day such as those received on Tuesday and held over and forwarded on the Wednesday base day (similarly under the rules and regulations, effective March 30, 1954, no deductions may be claimed for such items). During that period no deductions could be claimed for cash items received on the assessment base day which were not physically forwarded for collection on said day, i. e., had not left the custody of the reporting bank on the base day.

that it is payable or collectible through another bank does not change its character as an officer's check, and such check must be included in deposits for assessment purposes, when issued under any of the circumstances stated in § 327.133 Assessment Decision No. 33. Such a designation merely facilitates its negotiation and does not transform it into a draft.

§ 327.135 Assessment Decision No. 35; certified checks and drafts. (a) Checks drawn against a deposit account and certified by the drawee bank (the bank on which drawn) must be included in the assessment base of the drawee bank if outstanding at the close of business on a base day.

(b) Bank drafts drawn against a deposit account and certified by the drawee bank must likewise be included in the assessment base of the drawee bank if outstanding at the close of business on a base day.

§ 327.136 Assessment Decision No. 36; Certified Statements to be filed. (a) A newly insured bank must file a First Certified Statement (Form 645) based upon deposits for the last day of the semiannual period in which it became an insured operating member. The assessment to be paid is for the following six months' period.

(b) Each insured bank must file a Certified Statement semiannually on or before January 15 and July 15 of each year. The Certified Statement to be filed on or before January 15 is based upon deposits as of the preceding two base days September 30 and December 31. The Certified Statement required to be filed on or before July 15, is based upon deposits for the two preceding base days March 31 and June 30. The assessment to be paid is for the following six months' period. Thus, on the Certified Statement to be filed on or before January 15 the assessment is for the full six months ending the following June 30. On the report to be filed on or before July 15 the assessment is for the full six months' period ending December 31.

(c) A remittance must be forwarded with the Certified Statement for the assessment due. Assessment credits are allowed annually based upon the assessment net income for the preceding calendar year. Each insured bank is informed of the amount of such credit prior to July 1 of each year. The assessment credit may be applied upon the assessment due July 15 and a remittance should be forwarded for any balance due the Corporation. If the credit is sufficient to pay all of the assessment and an unused balance remains, such balance may be applied upon the assessment due on the next Certified Statement.

(d) A Final Certified Statement (Form 845) must be executed by each insured bank whose deposit liabilities are assumed by another operating insured bank. Special instructions may be obtained from the Fiscal Agent of the Corporation.

(e) Penalties for failure to file Certified Statements and pay assessments are provided in section 18 (b) and section 18 (h) of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act. (See § 327.182 Assessment Decision No. 82, Extension of Time for Filing Certified Statements.)

§ 327.137 Assessment Decision No. 37; checks or drafts received in payment of clearings. (a) Checks or drafts received in payment of the reporting bank's debit balances in clearings are ineligible for deduction as cash items or otherwise.

(b) To illustrate, assume that on the base day, March 31, the reporting bank has items totaling $100,000 drawn on other local banks which items are exchanged with said banks directly or at a clearing house. Assume further that at the clearings, the bank received $75,000 of items drawn on itself, and receives a check or draft for the $25,000 difference due it. This $25,000 check or draft may not be claimed as a deduction as a cash item or otherwise.

§ 327.138 Assessment Decision No. 38; checks or drafts received in payment of cash items forwarded for collection. (a) Checks or drafts received for cash items previously forwarded for collection are ineligible for deduction as cash items or otherwise.

(b) To illustrate, assume that on March 29 the reporting bank receives certain cash items which it pays or credits to deposit accounts and that it forwards said items to Bank A for collection. Assume that on the base day March 31 the reporting bank receives a draft from Bank A drawn on Bank B in payment of said items. This draft may not be claimed as a deduction. These cash items were paid or credited prior to the base day and having been paid or credited once, the bank cannot again pay or credit said items to deposit accounts. Therefore, since one of the requirements of a cash item is that it must be paid or credited to a deposit account by the reporting bank, it follows that the items received on March 29 are not eligible for deduction on the March 31 base day and the check or draft received in substitution therefor is likewise ineligible for deduction.

(c) A different situation exists in those relatively few instances where a bank accepts an item on a collection basis only. Thus, if it receives an item on March 29 which it does not pay or credit to a deposit account until receipt of the proceeds, the check or draft received for such an item which is thereupon paid to the depositor or credited to his account, may be included in deductions for cash items. (See § 327.143 Assessment Decision No. 43, Collection Items Left With The Bank.)

§ 327.139 Assessment Decision No. 39; checks and drafts received for the sale or other disposition of the bank's own assets. (a) Checks, drafts, or instruments drawn on persons or banks other than the reporting bank, received by the reporting bank in payment for the sale or other disposition of any of its assets are ineligible for deduction by the reporting bank as cash items or otherwise. (See footnote 9.)

(b) To illustrate, a check or draft received by the reporting bank in the sale of bonds, mortgages, or any of its other assets including a check or draft received for bonds owned by it which have been called for payment, is not a cash item and is not eligible for deduction.

(c) Although no deduction may be claimed for instruments received for the sale or other disposition of an asset of the bank, it is permissible to claim a deduction for instruments drawn on other banks which are received as a payment on indebtedness to the bank. Thus, a check drawn on another bank received by the reporting bank to be applied on a promissory note to the reporting bank is eligible for deduction.

§ 327.140 Assessment Decision No. 40; Christmas Club accounts. (a) Balances in Christmas Club, Vacation Club, and similar accounts must be included in deposit liabilities. Outstanding, unpaid checks issued and charged against such accounts must likewise be included in the assessment base.

(b) Various systems are sometimes used in connection with the operation of these club accounts. For instance, a customer may be given a check to which he may attach club stamps sold by the bank, and when all the spaces are filled the check will be honored. Such checks are deposits within the meaning of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act, so it is necessary for the bank to include in its deposit liability the amounts of all such stamps sold until they are redeemed.

§ 327.141 Assessment Decision No. 41; clearing house checks. (a) Outstanding cashiers' and other officers' checks issued in settlement of clearing house balances must be included by the issuing bank in its assessment base. If an officer's check is issued in payment of a cash letter received it must likewise be included in the assessment base if outstanding at the close of the base day.

(b) Although drafts and the amount of advices issued for cash letters received are exempt from assessment, the exemption does not apply to officers' checks.

§ 327.142 Assessment Decision No. 42; collections made for customers. (a) Collections are often made by banks on behalf of gas companies, insurance companies, electric companies, and similar companies and also for individuals. Such collections represent funds held in a fiduciary capacity and must be included in deposits for the assessment base. The remittances made to the customer representing such collections, if in the form of a cashiers' or other officers' checks, must be included in the assessment base, if outstanding on the base days.

(b) The checks and drafts drawn on other banks received by the reporting bank in making these collections on behalf of gas companies etc., are eligible for deduction as cash items.

§ 327.143 Assessment Decision No. 43; collection items left with the bank. (a) Items are sometimes left with the bank on a collection basis, that is, the bank receives them for collection and does not credit them to a deposit account until it receives the proceeds. Such collection items need not be included in deposits for assessment purposes and they are ineligible for deduction as cash items in the process of collection.

(b) When the proceeds from such collections are received in the form of checks or drafts drawn on other banks and the customer is either paid or given credit therefor, the checks or drafts so received are cash items.

§ 327.144 Assessment Decision No. 44; commercial paper purchased. A cashier's or other officer's check issued for the purchase of commercial paper on which the payee of the check is not primarily or secondarily liable need not be included as deposit liabilities in determining the assessment base. It is considered that such a check is issued for the bank's own account rather than being issued for money or its equivalent. If the procurer of the check is primarily or secondarily liable on the commercial paper, then the instrument must be included in the deposit liabilities until paid.

§ 327.145 Assessment Decision No. 45; commitments for loans. (a) Commitments for loans are sometimes recorded on the books of the bank among its deposit liabilities. Whether the recorded transaction is in legal effect merely a commitment to lend and nonassessable, or represents the proceeds of a loan and assessable, will depend upon the terms of the agreements under which they are held.

(b) The balance in such an account need not be included in the assessment base if it represents merely a commitment to make a loan and the customer is liable only for amounts as and when they are actually advanced from time to time; on the other hand, the balance in such account must be included in the assessment base if the borrower is liable for the full amount of the commitment, because such commitment then represents borrowed money which is maintained for the customer in the account pending disbursement.

(c) A criterion to determine whether the account represents a commitment to lend or the proceeds of a loan is whether interest is paid by the borrower on only such amounts thereof as are actually advanced to him from time to time, or on the entire balance of the commitment. If the former, then only the advances constitute assessable deposits; if the latter, then the entire account constitutes an assessable deposit.

NOTE: See § 327.148 Assessment Decision No. 48, Construction Loans.

§ 327.146 Assessment Decision No. 46; computation of deductions for cash items by correspondent banks. The Federal Deposit Insurance Act, section 7 (a), requires that each insured bank, as a condition to the right to make any deduction in determining its assessment base, shall maintain such records as will readily permit verification of the correctness thereof. Accordingly, the reporting bank must maintain its own records of uncollected cash items to support its deductions. The figures furnished by correspondents may not be used as a substitute therefor, but such figures may be used in support thereof.

§ 327.147 Assessment Decision No. 47; conditional sales contracts; deposits and payments. (a) Deposits made on conditional sales contracts in connection with the sale of property owned by the bank must be included in the deposit liabilities if such funds are held in a fiduciary capacity pending performance of any unfulfilled conditions. After such conditions have been met, only the bank has an interest in the funds and such funds need not, thereafter, be included in deposit liabilities.

(b) The general rule is that if funds are held by the bank in a fiduciary capacity they must be included in deposits for the assessment base, but if no person other than the bank has any interest therein, they need not be included in the base.

§ 327.148 Assessment Decision No. 48; construction loans. (a) In granting construction loans, banks often require the borrower to sign a note and mortgage for the estimated maximum amount of the loan before construction begins and the proceeds are then credited to a deposit account variously titled "construction loans", "incomplete mortgage loans", or some similar designation. In some instances the borrowers must add a certain proportion of their own funds to this account. As construction progresses payments of the various bills are made from this account.

(b) The balance in this account representing the borrowers' own funds must be included in deposit liabilities and may not be claimed as a deduction.

(c) The balance in this account representing the proceeds of a loan must be included in deposit liabilities and may not be claimed as a deduction if the borrower is liable for the full amount of such balance. The payment of interest on the full amount of the loan, at least from the time the proceeds are credited to the account, is conclusive evidence that the balance constitutes an assessable deposit.

(d) The balance in this account need not be included in deposit liabilities for the assessment base if it represents merely a commitment to make a loan and the borrower is liable only for the amounts actually advanced from time to time with interest thereon from the date of each advancement.

NOTE: See § 327.145 Assessment Decision No. 45, Commitments for Loans.

§ 327.149 Assessment Decision No. 49; coupons and bonds. (a) Coupons and bonds payable upon presentation and which are paid or credited to a deposit account subject to final payment are eligible for deduction as cash items provided all other requirements of a cash item are met.

(b) As a matter of convenience, some banks with large trust departments, for instance, will clip the coupons prior to their maturity date, credit the amount to a control account, and forward the items to be collected when they become due. Such coupons, accordingly, are not received and forwarded for collection on the base day and may not be multiplied by two in claiming a deduction. If the bank has included the amount of such unmatured coupons in its deposit liabilities, a deduction for the actual amount thereof may be claimed if the coupons are uncollected at the close of business on the base day.

(c) The foregoing refers to coupons and bonds paid by the reporting bank or credited to deposit accounts by the reporting bank. It does not refer to coupons and bonds owned by the bank which are ineligible for deduction because an item received for the sale or other disposition of an asset of the bank is not a cash item. (See § 327.150 Assessment Decision No. 50, Coupons or Bonds Owned by the Reporting Bank.)

§ 327.150 Assessment Decision No. 50; coupons or bonds owned by the reporting bank. (a) Coupons and bonds owned by the reporting bank are ineligible for deduction in any manner. Thus, coupons owned by the reporting bank which are forwarded for collection on the base day or any other time may not be included in deductions as cash items or in any other manner.

(b) Only cash items which the bank pays or credits to a deposit account are eligible for deduction and bonds and coupons owned by the reporting bank itself, or the remittance received in payment therefor, are not paid by the bank or credited to deposit accounts. Hence, such items are ineligible for deduction.

§ 327.151 Assessment Decision No. 51; currency acquired for bank's own use. (a) Officers' checks issued to another bank for the purchase of currency need not be included in deposit liabilities. It is considered that such a check is issued for the bank's own purposes. It should be noted, however, that an officer's check issued for currency received over the counter in the usual course of business is subject to assessment, because such a check is issued for money or its equivalent.

(b) The bank receiving a check or draft for currency furnished to another bank may include it in its deductions for cash items provided it is drawn on another bank and all requirements of a cash item are met as shown in § 327.123 Assessment Decision No. 23, Cash Items Eligible for Deduction as Exchanges.

§ 327.152 Assessment Decision No. 52; Dealers Reserves. (a) Funds received and held as security in connection with discounted paper commonly known as "Dealers Reserves" may be excluded from the assessment base provided all requirements of cash funds received and held solely for the purpose of securing a liability to the bank are met. (See §§327.109 and 327.121, Assessment Decisions No. 9, Assigned Accounts Receivable, Collections and No. 21, Cash Funds Received and Held as Security to Indebtedness to the Bank.)

(b) These funds arise through the credit to the Dealers Reserve Account of a certain percentage of the purchase price or by the credit to the account of a portion of the interest or service charge and similar arrangements. The maximum amount which may be excluded from the assessment base is the percentage of the unpaid balance on the contracts as provided in the agreements with the respective dealers and any amount in the Dealers Reserve Account in excess of this percentage (and in excess of delinquencies if the agreement provides for a full reserve therefor) must be included in the assessment base.

* For the period from July 1, 1950, through the December 31, 1953, base day such items were eligible for deduction as cash items.

(c) Example: Contracts in the amount of $10,000 are purchased by the bank with an agreement to hold back 10 percent of the unpaid balance of the contracts as security in a reserve account. In addition, it provides for a full 100 percent reserve for contracts which have been delinquent for a specified period of time. The bank remits $9,000 to the seller and credits $1,000 to the Dealers Reserve Account. Assume that on the assessment base day the balance on the contracts is reduced to $7,000 of which $100 is delinquent and the Dealers Reserve Account has a balance of $850. The bank may exclude from the assessment base $790 of this Dealers Reserve Account, that is 10 percent of the $6,900 unpaid balance which is in current condition and 100 percent of the delinquent accounts of $100. It must include the remaining $60 of the Dealers Reserve Account in the assessment base.

§ 327.153 Assessment Decision No. 53; deductions; in general. (a) The assessment for deposit insurance is based upon the bank's liability for deposits. Certain deposits are exempt from assessment under specific provisions of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act and these exempt provisions are known as "exclusions". (See § 327.157 Assessment Decision No. 57, Deposit Exclusions, In General.)

(b) Certain deductions may be made from the total of reported deposits: Provided, however, That no deduction may be made unless the items deducted have been included in the total of the reported deposits with the exception of cash items paid. (See § 327.125 Assessment Decision No. 25, Cash Items Paid by the Reporting Bank.)

(c) The eligible deductions from reported deposits include the following:

(1) Cash items in the process of collection. (See § 327.123 Assessment Decision No. 23, Cash Items Eligible for Deduction as Exchanges.)

(2) Trust funds deposited by the reporting fiduciary bank in other insured banks. (See § 327.263 Assessment Decision No. 163, Trust Funds Deposited in Other Banks.)

(3) Checks drawn against the reporting bank which it has paid or credited to deposit accounts but has not yet subtracted from the control account for deposits. (See § 327.104 Assessment Decision No. 4, Accumulated Checks of Customers.)

(4) Checks issued in payment for securities purchased for the bank's own portfolio. (See §§ 327.144 and 327.133, Assessment Decisions No. 44, Commercial Paper Purchased, and No. 33, Cashiers' and Other Officers' Checks.)

(5) Expense checks or cashiers' checks issued in payment of the bank's own expenses. (See § 327.133 Assessment Decision No. 33, Cashiers' and Other Officers' Checks.)

(6) Deposits representing the bank's own funds. (See § 327.162 Assessment Decision No. 62, Deposits Representing the Bank's Own Funds.)

(7) Checks issued in payment of dividends on the bank's own stock. (See § 327.165 Assessment Decision No. 65, Dividend Checks and Deposits.)

(8) An item drawn against a deposit account in the main office or branch office of the reporting bank which is received by an office of the reporting bank other than the office where the deposit account is carried and which has been paid or credited to a deposit account, if not subtracted from the control of deposits may be deducted therefrom. (See § 327.117 Assessment Decision No. 17, Branch Items.)

(9) Deposit accounts set up merely to record the amount of commitments for loans where interest is not payable on such commitments. (See § 327.145 Assessment Decision No. 45, Commitments for Loans.)

(d) Reciprocal bank balances with insured banks may also be deducted to the extent explained in § 327.233 Assessment Decision No. 133, Reciprocal Bank Balances.

§ 327.154 Assessment Decision No. 54; deductions are optional. (a) Banks are not required to claim deductions for items in the process of collection or for any other item eligible for deduction under the Federal Deposit Insurance Act and rules and regulations. However, if deductions are not claimed the bank cannot omit any assessable deposits from the assessment base to compensate for deductions not claimed.

(b) When a bank has elected not to claim any deductions for cash items in submitting a Certified Statement it may within two years from the date on which such Certified Statement was required to be filed, file an amendment of such Certified Statement claiming deductions for cash items.

(c) The reporting bank may select either of the two alternate methods (aa) or (bb) for claiming deductions for cash items provided the same method is used for both base days in a semiannual assessment period. (See § 327.124 Assessment Decision No. 24, Cash Items, Methods of Claiming Deductions.)

(d) After the selection of the alternate method of claiming deductions for cash items, the reporting bank may within two years from the date on which such Certified Statement was required to be filed, file an amendment of such Certified Statement for the purpose of changing to the other alternate method. (See § 327.130 Assessment Decision No. 30, Cash Items Deductions, Change in Alternate Method.)

§ 327.155 Assessment Decision No. 55; deductions from employees' salaries. Amounts deducted from bank employees' salaries for the purchase of War bonds, payment of Social Security taxes, and similar items must be included in deposits for the assessment base, and checks issued for the payment of these items must be included in the deposits until paid. (See § 327.267 Assessment Decision No. 167, Withholding Taxes.)

§ 327.156 Assessment Decision No. 56; deferred credit account. (a) The deferred credit account does not always represent the same transactions in all banks. It is therefore necessary to determine the nature of the items represented by the account in order to determine the requirements with respect to assessments.

(b) Usually the account is carried among the liabilities to record the liability for cash letters received by the reporting bank for which payment has not been effected. Upon receipt of the cash letter the amount thereof is credited to this account. A draft is issued by the reporting bank in payment for the letter or an advice is issued directing that its account in the sending bank be charged with the amount thereof, and on the day such draft or advice is received by the forwarding bank and charged against the account maintained by the reporting bank, the reporting bank debits the deferred credit account and credits its "due from" account maintained with the forwarding bank.

(c) Under the Federal Deposit Insurance Act drafts drawn by the reporting bank on deposit accounts in other banks in the regular course of business and the amount of advices or authorizations issued for cash letters received directing that the deposit account in the sending bank be charged need not be included in the assessment base. Therefore, if the reporting bank has issued a draft in payment of the cash letter received or has issued an advice or authorization directing that its account in the sending bank be charged for the cash letter received, the deferred credit account representing the amount of such cash letters need not be included in the assessment base. However, the amount of the deferred credit account must be included in the assessment base until the draft or advice is issued in payment of the cash letter. (See § 327.238 Assessment Decision No. 138, Remittance Account.)

(d) When such a deferred credit account is used to record the amount of the reporting bank's liability on cash letters received, it is usually included in the total of deposit liabilities. If it is included in deposit liabilities on the Certified Statement, it may be claimed as a deduction thereon to the extent that drafts, advices, or authorizations in respect thereto have been issued.

(e) A deferred credit account reflecting a debit balance is sometimes used for recording the amount of cash items forwarded to another bank for collection subject to final payment. Any cash items represented in such an account would be subject to rules governing deductions for cash items. (See §§ 327.123 and 327.128, Assessment Decisions No. 23, Cash Items Eligible for Deduction as Exchanges and No. 28, Cash Items Deductions, Outside, for details.)

(f) There are other types of "deferred credit accounts" and the assessability depends upon the nature of each individual account.

§ 327.157 Assessment Decision No. 57; deposit exclusions; in general. The assessment for deposit insurance is based upon the bank's liability for deposits. Some deposits are specifically exempt from assessment under the provisions of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act. These deposits which may be omitted from the assessment base are known as exclusions. It should be noted that while these "exclusions" may be omitted from the assessment base they may not also be deducted from the total of other deposits. For instance, although outstanding drafts may be excluded from the assessment base they may not be deducted from the total of other deposits in which they are not included. In general, the deposits which may be excluded, that is omitted, from deposits for assessment purposes are the following:

(a) Drafts drawn by a bank on its deposit accounts in other banks which are issued in the regular course of business. (See § 327.172 Assessment Decision No. 72, Drafts Outstanding Drawn on Other Banks.)

(b) The amount of advices or authorizations issued by the reporting bank for cash letters received directing that its deposit account in the sending bank be charged with the amount thereof. (See § 327.106 Assessment Decision No. 6, Advices or Authorizations Issued for Cash Letters Received.)

(c) Cash funds which are received and held solely for the purpose of securing a liability to the bank but not in an amount in excess of such liability and which are not subject to withdrawal by the obligor and are carried in a special non-interest-bearing account designated to properly show their purpose. (See § 327.121 Assessment Decision No. 21, Cash Funds Received and Held as Security to Indebtedness to the Bank.)

(d) Any obligation of a bank which is payable only at an office of the bank located outside the States of the United States, the District of Columbia, any Territories of the United States, and Virgin Islands. (See § 327.192 Assessment Decision No. 92, Foreign Countries, Obligations Payable In.)

§ 327.158 Assessment Decision No. 58; deposits to be included in reported deposits for assessment purposes; in general. (a) The assessment for deposit insurance is based upon the bank's liability for deposits with the exception of certain permissible exclusions. The permissible exclusions are deposits which under the act may be omitted from reported deposits in computing assessments. (See § 327.157 Assessment Decision No. 57, Deposit Exclusions, In General.)

(b) All deposit accounts of every nature, except for such exclusions, must be included in the assessment base. This includes, without being limited to, the following:

(1) Demand deposits of every kind and nature.

(2) Deposits of individuals, partnerships, and corporations.

(3) Deposits of U. S. Government, secured or unsecured. (See § 327.230 Assessment Decision No. 130, Public Funds.)

(4) Deposits of States and public political subdivisions. (See § 327.230 Assessment Decision No. 130, Public Funds.)

(5) Deposits due to other banks in the United States. (Gross.) (See § 327.161 Assessment Decision No. 61, Deposits Due to Other Banks.)

(6) Deposits due to banks in foreign countries. (See § 327.161 Assessment Decision No. 61, Deposits Due to Other Banks.)

(7) Savings accounts.

(8) Certificates of deposits.

(9) Travelers' checks. (See § 327.259 Assessment Decision No. 159, Travelers' Checks.)

(10) Letters of credit issued for money or its equivalent. (See §§ 327.209 and 327.210, Assessment Decisions No. 109, Letters of Credit, Commercial, and No. 110, Letters of Credit, Travelers.)

(11) Cashiers' checks. (See § 327.133 Assessment Decision No. 33, Cashiers' and Other Officers' Checks.)

(12) Officers' checks. (See § 327.133 Assessment Decision No. 33, Cashiers' and Other Officers' Checks.)

(13) Tellers' checks. (See § 327.133 Assessment Decision No. 33, Cashiers' and Other Officers' Checks.)

(14) Christmas Club deposits. (See § 327.140 Assessment Decision No. 40, Christmas Club Accounts.)

(15) Escrow funds. (See § 327.178 Assessment Decision No. 78, Escrow Funds.)

(16) Treasury Tax and Loan Account. (See § 327.261 Assessment Decision No. 161, Treasury Tax and Loan Account.)

(17) Trust funds. (See § 327.262 Assessment Decision No. 162, Trust Funds.)

(18) Taxes withheld. (See §§ 327.252, 327.220 and 327.267 Assessment Decisions No. 152, Social Security Taxes, No. 120, Old Age Benefits Account, and No. 167, Withholding Taxes.)

(19) Certified checks and drafts. (See § 327.135 Assessment Decision No. 35, Certified Checks and Drafts.)

§ 327.159 Assessment Decision No. 59; deposit accounts in excess of $10,000. Under the Federal Deposit Insurance Act the maximum amount of the insured deposit of any depositor in an insured bank is $10,000. However, all deposits subject to assessment must be included in the assessment base regardless of the amount in the deposit account or accounts without offset for any indebtedness of the depositor to the bank. Accordingly, the amount in excess of the $10,000 limitation must also be included in the assessment base, and assessments paid thereon.

§ 327.160 Assessment Decision No. 60; deposits for bond subscriptions. Customers often post with banks amounts as required in offering circulars in connection with cash subscriptions entered for their accounts for United States Treasury Securities. Such funds are held in a fiduciary capacity and are required to be included in deposits for assessment purposes.

§ 327.161 Assessment Decision No. 61; deposits due to other banks. (a) All deposits due to other banks must be included in the total of reported deposits opposite Item A. This includes balances due to banks with which a reciprocal relationship is maintained, although eligible deductions for reciprocal bank balances with insured banks may be claimed in accordance with § 327.233 Assessment Decision No. 133, Reciprocal Bank Balances.

(b) All balances on deposit in the reporting bank due to foreign banks must also be included in the reported deposit liabilities for assessment purposes.

§ 327.162 Assessment Decision No. 62; deposits representing the bank's own funds. (a) Accounts carried in the deposit ledger representing the bank's own funds need not be included in deposits for assessment purposes. An example of such an account is one representing rents received from wholly owned real estate. Another example is a reserve for the bank's own expenses such as a reserve for income taxes, or a reserve for a special contingency.

(b) An account maintained by the bank in the operation under an assignment of rents of property owned by others must be included in the assessment base. (See § 327.217 Assessment Decision No. 117, Mortgagee in Possession Funds.)

§ 327.163 Assessment Decision No. 63; deposit to secure bid for securities. (a) Cashiers' checks or similar instruments issued for use as good faith deposits when a bank bids on a new bond issue are considered to be issued for the bank's own purpose, and are not required to be included in the assessment base.

(b) For the assessability of funds held by the bank as syndicate manager see § 327.256 Assessment Decision No. 156, Syndicate Deposits.

§ 327.164 Assessment Decision No. 64; deposits of wholly owned bank or corporation. A deposit account in the reporting bank made by a corporation or another bank the capital stock of which is wholly owned by the reporting bank, its officers, or its stockholders, must be included in the deposit liabilities for the assessment base. From an assessment standpoint there is no difference between such a deposit and a deposit made by any other bank, company, or individual.

§ 327.165 Assessment Decision No. 65; dividend checks and deposits. Checks issued in payment of dividends on the bank's own stock are considered to be for the bank's own business and are not required to be included in the assessment base. If an account is set up as a liability for the amount of such dividend without segregation of funds for payment thereof the account need not be included in the assessment base; however, if funds for the payment of a dividend are set apart and segregated from the other assets of the bank, such funds would be trust funds subject to assessment until the dividend checks drawn thereagainst are paid.

§ 327.166 Assessment Decision No. 66; dividends on stocks pledged as security or held in safekeeping. (a) Dividends on stocks pledged to the reporting bank as collateral security to indebtedness to the reporting bank if retained by the bank as security to the indebtedness are exempt from assessment provided all requirements of the statute are met.

(See § 327.121 Assessment Decision No. 21, Cash Funds Received and Held as Security to Indebtedness to the Bank.) The funds to be exempt from assessment must be segregated in a special non-interest-bearing account which may be in the form of a cashier's check or officer's check designated to show its purpose. The fact that such funds may eventually be returned to the borrower or pledgor does not affect their former exempt status as security.

(b) An officer's check issued by the bank to the claimant in payment of dividends received on collateral security which is outstanding on the base day must be included in the assessment base.

(c) All dividends received by the reporting bank on securities held for safekeeping must be included in deposits for the assessment base as they constitute deposits held by the bank in a fiduciary capacity or for a special purpose.

§ 327.167 Assessment Decision No. 67; dormant accounts. (a) Balances in dormant accounts must be included in deposit liabilities for the assessment base. The fact that such deposit accounts may be placed in a special section of the ledger, or accumulated in a control account or otherwise carried on the books of the bank does not affect their status as deposits.

(b) When such accounts are reduced or eliminated by service charges, the service charges must have been legally made to be thenceforth exempt from assessment.

§ 327.168 Assessment Decision No. 68; drafts with bills of lading attached not payable upon presentation. Commodity drafts, that is, drafts with shipping documents attached which are not payable upon presentation including those payable upon arrival or inspection of certain goods, or those which are not customarily cleared or collected by the reporting bank as cash items, are ineligible for deduction as cash items.

§ 327.169 Assessment Decision No. 69; drafts with bonds and coupons attached. Drafts with bonds and/or coupons attached payable upon presentation which are paid by the reporting bank or credited to deposit accounts are eligible for deduction as cash items.

§ 327.170 Assessment Decision No. 70; drafts or checks drawn by one office on another office of a branch bank. (a) Any drafts or checks drawn by one office on another office in a branch banking system if issued for money or its equivalent, for a charge against a deposit account, or in settlement of checks, drafts, or other instruments forwarded to the issuing bank for collection must be included in deposits for the assessment base. Such so-called "drafts" are for all assessment purposes, the same as officers' checks.

(b) To illustrate, assume that on the base day a branch office receives a cash letter and draws a draft on the main office for the amount thereof. This so-called "draft" is an officer's check and must be included in the assessment base. The deposits represented by any type of instrument or advice directing the main office to pay for a cash letter received remain a deposit liability of the reporting bank until paid.

(c) The only "drafts" exempt from assessment are those issued by the reporting bank drawn on deposit accounts in other banks. A draft drawn by a branch on the main office is not drawn on another bank and therefore does not come within the exemption.

§ 327.171 Assessment Decision No. 71; drafts drawn on deposits in the Federal Reserve banks. Drafts drawn on deposit accounts in Federal Reserve banks if issued in the normal course of business are exempt from assessment in the same manner as drafts drawn on deposit accounts in other banks. (See § 327.172 Assessment Decision No. 72, Drafts Outstanding Drawn on Other Banks.)

§ 327.172 Assessment Decision No. 72; drafts outstanding drawn on other banks. (a) Drafts outstanding drawn by the reporting bank on its deposit accounts in other banks which are issued in the regular course of business may be excluded from deposits for the assessment base. Ordinarily, the amount of outstanding drafts is not represented in the bank's total of deposit liabilities on the general books and the bank need not report the drafts on the Certified Statement. However, it may not subtract the outstanding drafts from the total of other deposits.

(b) To illustrate:

(1) Assume that on the base day the deposits on the general ledger of the bank were as follows:

Demand deposits	$1,000,000
Time deposits	500,000
Treasury tax and loan account	50,000
Cashiers' checks	30,000
Total	1,580,000

(2) Assume that the bank had issued drafts in the total amount of $60,000 which remained outstanding at the close of business on the base day. When these drafts were drawn, customarily the "due from" bank account would be credited thus reducing the balance due from other banks and the $60,000 is not reflected in the above deposits of $1,580,000. Accordingly, for the base day the bank would record deposits of $1,580,000.

(c) If the bank includes outstanding drafts in its total of deposit liabilities then it is proper to subtract such drafts from the total of deposits which includes the amount of such drafts.

(d) For assessment purposes an order, advice, or authorization is treated the same as a draft. This refers to "orders" such as those issued by one bank directing another bank to charge its account and to credit a stated sum of money to a designated account. Such orders may be excluded from the assessment base since for assessment purposes they serve the same purpose as drafts.

(e) The drafts referred to herein may be drawn on deposit accounts in other banks whether those banks on which drawn are insured or noninsured.

(f) It should be noted that to be exempt from assessment the drafts must be drawn against existing funds in the drawee bank and the drafts must be drawn in the usual or normal course of business. Ordinarily, drafts are used as a means of effecting a payment. If a draft has been outstanding for a long period of time, the question would arise as to whether it was issued in the usual course of business or whether it was used as a means of carrying a deposit account. (See § 327.173 Assessment Decision No. 73, Drafts Outstanding For Extended Period.) If a draft is issued to represent a temporary deposit to avoid the assessment or for any other purpose where a draft is not normally used, it is not considered to have been issued in the usual course of business and must be included in the assessment base. A specific example of such a draft subject to assessment is the case where a company at the end of an accounting period deposits with the bank sufficient funds to make the payment of all its outstanding checks or buyers' drafts issued by its agents. If these funds are placed in the form of a draft which is rewritten daily as it is reduced by the payment of the outstanding checks and buyers' drafts it could not be considered as issued in the normal course of business and must be included in the assessment base.

§ 327.173 Assessment Decision No. 73; drafts outstanding for extended period. (a) Under the Federal Deposit Insurance Act drafts drawn on deposit accounts in other banks in the normal course of business may be excluded from deposits for the assessment base.

(b) If a draft is outstanding for an extended period the question arises as to whether it was issued in the normal course of business. The circumstances of its issuance would be the controlling factor. If the circumstances indicate that a draft was used as a means of representing a deposit in order to avoid assessment it must be included in the assessment base. (See § 327.172 Assessment Decision No. 72, Drafts Outstanding Drawn On Other Banks.)

§ 327.174 Assessment Decision No. 74; drafts payable on presentation with bills of lading attached. (a) Commodity drafts, that is, drafts with shipping documents attached, if payable upon presentation and if they have been paid or credited to deposit accounts subject to final payment, are eligible for deduction as cash items. For the purpose of claiming deductions, if the alternate (bb) method is used, they may be considered as uncollected for the time required to effect collection. If the collecting bank forwards a check or draft in payment, such check or draft received by the reporting bank is not a cash item eligible for deduction.

(b) Commodity drafts are known under many names, such as "livestock drafts," "cotton drafts," "documentary drafts," "peanut drafts," "fruits and vegetable drafts," etc. The procedure in handling all of these types of drafts is nevertheless, the same.

(c) Only drafts payable upon presentation may be claimed as a deduction. Accordingly, drafts payable at some future date or upon arrival of a car, etc., are ineligible for deduction. (See § 327.168 Assessment Decision No. 68, Drafts With Bills of Lading Attached Not Payable Upon Presentation.)

(d) Drafts, which are in fact loans, are not eligible for deduction.

§ 327.175 Assessment Decision No. 75; drafts; sight. (a) Sight drafts payable on presentation which the bank has paid or credited to deposit accounts are eligible for deduction as cash items. (See § 327.123 Assessment Decision No. 23, Cash Items Eligible for Deduction as Exchanges.)

(b) The Federal Reserve Time Schedule is used as a maximum time for which an item may be considered as uncollected. (See §§ 327.111 and 327.257 Assessment Decisions No. 11, Availability Schedule, Cash Items, and No. 157, Time Schedule of Federal Reserve Bank.) Any sight drafts not handled as cash items by the Federal Reserve System may be considered as uncollected for the actual time required to effect collection. The check or draft received by the reporting bank in payment for a sight draft previously paid or credited to a deposit account is not a cash item eligible for deduction. (See § 327.138 Assessment Decision No. 38, Checks or Drafts Received in Payment of Cash Items Forwarded for Collection.)

§ 327.176 Assessment Decision No. 76; drafts for transfer of bank's own funds. Drafts drawn by the reporting bank for the purpose of transferring its funds from one bank to another are ineligible for deduction as cash items by the reporting bank. For instance, the reporting bank may draw a draft on Bank A payable to Bank B for the purpose of increasing its "due from" balance in Bank B and include such a draft in the cash letter forwarded to Bank B. This is not a cash item in the process of collection which the reporting bank has paid or credited to a deposit account and the reporting bank may not claim a deduction for it. It should be noted that such a draft does not affect the assessment in any way.

§ 327.177 Assessment Decision No. 77; due bills for local cash items. (a) Cash Items Held for Clearings, Local Exchanges, consist of items paid or credited to deposit accounts by the reporting bank which are drawn on banks, persons, or corporations in the same city or local clearing area where the reporting bank is located which are held for clearings at the close of the books on the assessment base day. (See § 327.127 Assessment Decision No. 27, Cash Items Deductions, Local.)

(b) The settlement with other local banks is customarily made at some designated hour(s) such as 10:00 a. m. The actual physical delivery of the cash items may have been at an earlier hour and possibly in the evening of the preceding day. When the local cash items are thus delivered to the drawee bank prior to the actual settlement, the delivering bank may receive some type of ticket or instrument which is commonly referred to as a "due bill".

(c) The physical delivery of local cash items to the banks on which drawn does not preclude such items from being considered as held for clearings and, thus, eligible for deduction provided the following factors are present:

(1) The items were received in the usual course of business on the base day before the close of the books on that day and paid or credited to deposit accounts.

(2) No change is made in the normal procedure on base days.

§ 327.178 Assessment Decision No. 78; escrow funds. (a) Funds held in escrow by the reporting bank must be included in the assessment base. These funds are held for a special purpose in a fiduciary capacity and are in the nature of trust funds. This includes all types of escrow funds.

(b) Examples of escrow funds subject to assessment:

(1) Funds received from mortgagors representing a certain portion of monthly payments which are to be used for the payment of taxes, special assessments, and insurance on the mortgaged property.

(2) Funds held pending clearing of title on property involved in a mortgage settlement.

(3) Funds held by the bank pending disbursement after certain construction has been completed.

§ 327.179 Assessment Decision No. 79; estimate of assessment. It is not permissible for a bank to estimate its assessment either tentatively or permanently. The Certified Statements must be accurately filled out in detail based on records maintained by the bank and forwarded to the Corporation by not later than the 15th of each January and July. A remittance must accompany the statement for the assessment computed to be due, less the amount of any credit in the account of the reporting bank.

§ 327.180 Assessment Decision No. 80; estimate of deductions. It is not permissible to make estimates of deductions when submitting Certified Statements. If deductions are claimed, they must be computed in accordance with the rules and regulations and proper records must be maintained to support them.

§ 327.181 Assessment Decision No. 81; evening; open for business. (a) It is the practice of some banks to reopen for business on one or more evenings a week as a convenience to its customers. If the base day falls on a day on which the bank is customarily open in the evening the bank should follow its normal practice for such a day for the determination of the assessment base.

(b) To illustrate, if the bank normally closes its books after the close of business, say at two o'clock, and the general ledger for the day is prepared from that closing hour, that will be the end of the base day. Under such circumstances the evening work will be part of the next business day.

(c) On the other hand, if the bank regularly has only a trial or partial closing at two o'clock and reopens its books to include the evening transactions and prepares its general ledger figures to include the evening business, then the evening business becomes part of that business day.

§ 327.182 Assessment Decision No. 82; extension of time for filing Certified Statements. (a) Under the Federal Deposit Insurance Act and regulations, Certified Statements must be filed on or before January 15 and July 15 of each year, and each such Certified Statement must be accompanied by a remittance for the assessment due shown thereon, less the amount of any credit to the account of the reporting bank on the books of the Corporation.

(b) Partial payments, advances or prepayments, or payments on estimated assessments will not be accepted.

(c) If the Certified Statement is placed in the United States mail in a sealed envelope postage prepaid, addressed to the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, Washington 25, D. C., on or before the day it is due, the statement will be considered as having been filed within the proper time.

(d) There are no provisions in the law for granting extensions of time for the filing of Certified Statements; however, in the case of an emergency, such as a fire, flood, or epidemic, the Corporation will make no objection to a late filing provided due diligence is exercised in the preparation and filing of the Certified Statement as soon thereafter as possible.

(e) The penalties imposed by law for the failure of a bank to meet its statutory requirements pertaining to Certified Statements are (1) that it may not pay dividends on its capital stock or distribute any of its capital assets while it remains in default, and for the violation thereof any participating officer or director may be fined up to $1,000 and/or imprisoned for one year; and (2) that, in case of willful failure or refusal to file a Certified Statement or pay any assessment, the bank is subject to a penalty in the amount of $100 for each day the failure continues. If the amount of the assessment is in dispute, these penalties are not applicable if the bank deposits its security satisfactory to the Corporation for payment upon final determination of the issue.

§ 327.183 Assessment Decision No. 83; Federal Funds purchased and sold. (a) The term "Federal Funds" means the title to reserve balances with the Federal Reserve banks. They are funds which are immediately available at the Federal Reserve banks. Member banks with excess reserve balances supply Federal Funds in the market; also nonbanking institutions such as Government security dealers supply such funds. The demand for Federal Funds comes mainly from member banks which need to adjust their reserve positions with the Federal Reserve banks and from dealers who buy Government securities from the Federal Reserve System and need Federal Funds in order to be able to make payment on the day the securities are delivered.

(b) The actual transfer of Federal Funds within a given locality usually involves an exchange of checks. The lender gives a draft on the Federal Reserve bank and receives a clearing house check payable the following business day.

(c) Federal Funds purchased and sold have no part in the computation of the assessment base. Thus, any checks or drafts issued in such purchases and sales need not be included in the assessment base by the issuing bank and any checks or drafts received are ineligible for deduction as cash items or otherwise. The liability for Federal Funds purchased does not represent an assessable deposit.

§ 327.184 Assessment Decision No. 84; Federal Housing Administration loans. (a) Repayments of principal and interest on Federal Housing Administration loans carried in deposit accounts in the reporting bank, which are held as security for later application on the indebtedness to the bank, need not be included in the assessment base provided such funds are not subject to withdrawal by the mortgagor, are carried in special non-interest-bearing accounts designated to properly show their purpose and provided the amount of funds so held does not exceed the liability for which they are held as security.

(b) The portion of the payments on Federal Housing Administration loans representing the accumulation of funds held for the payment of taxes, insurance, and similar charges, are deposits and must be included in the assessment base. Such funds are trust funds under the Federal Deposit Insurance Act and may not be deducted from the assessment base regardless of whether they are held in the trust department or deposited in any other department of the bank: Provided, however, That where such funds are deposited in another insured bank such deposited trust funds are deductible in accordance with section 7 (1) of the act. (See § 327.263 Assessment Decision No. 163, Trust Funds Deposited in Other Banks.)

(c) Checks issued in payment of taxes, assessments, fire or mortgage insurance premiums, and charged against the funds accumulated for the payment of these items under Federal Housing Administration loans must be included in the assessment base if outstanding on the base day.

(d) The rule in paragraphs (a)–(c) of this section is equally applicable to Modernization loans.

§ 327.185 Assessment Decision No. 85; Federal Housing Administration loans and promissory notes as deductions. (a) Federal Housing Administration loans sold to other banks are occasionally included in cash letters sent to the purchasing bank for collection. These notes are not cash items as defined in § 327.1 (b) and are ineligible for deduction in any manner as they represent the bank's own business.

(b) Likewise, loans are sometimes made by one bank on behalf of another bank. As an illustration, Bank A unable to meet the borrowing requirements of its customer makes arrangements for its correspondent bank to make the loan. The note will be executed in the office of Bank A and it will give credit in the amount thereof to a deposit account of the borrower and the note will then be sent to the correspondent bank for collection. As explained in paragraph (a) of this section with respect to Federal Housing Administration loans, such notes are not cash items and are not eligible for deduction in any manner.

§ 327.186 Assessment Decision No. 86; Federal Housing Administration Title I insurance premium account. An account established for the payment of insurance premiums due from the bank to the Federal Housing Administration on Title I loans need not be included in deposits for the assessment base provided the borrower has no beneficial interest therein. Under these loans the bank is the insured rather than the borrower and if the bank segregates certain funds in an account to be used for the payment of insurance premiums due to the Federal Housing Administration it is considered to be an account payable or a reserve of the bank and exempt from assessment. It should be noted that this applies only to the insurance premiums due to the Federal Housing Administration on Title I loans. The payments received from the borrowers to be used for the payment of taxes, insurance, and similar charges against the mortgaged properties must be included in the assessment base. (See § 327.184 Assessment Decision No. 84, Federal Housing Administration Loans.)

§ 327.187 Assessment Decision No. 87; fiduciary funds held. Funds held by the reporting bank in any fiduciary capacity are trust funds and must be included in the deposits for the assessment base and may not be claimed as a deduction, unless deposited as trust funds in another insured bank. (See § 327.263 Assessment Decision No. 163, Trust Funds Deposited in Other Banks.)

§ 327.188 Assessment Decision No. 88; float. (a) "Float" is a broad term used in many different ways. It is most frequently used in reference to uncollected cash items. (See §§ 327.127 and 327.128, Assessment Decisions No. 27, Cash Items Deductions, Local and No. 28, Cash Items Deductions, Outside.)

(b) Cash letters received are sometimes referred to as "float". (See § 327.132 Assessment Decision No. 32, Cash Letters Received.)

(c) The term "float" is also used in relation to outstanding drafts. (See § 327.172 Assessment Decision No. 72, Drafts Outstanding Drawn on Other Banks.)

§ 327.189 Assessment Decision No. 89; foreign bank collections. (a) Cash letters and collections representing items payable on presentation which are paid or credited to a deposit account subject to final payment and forwarded for collection direct to foreign banks or to banks located outside the States of the United States and the District of Columbia, may be considered as uncollected until collection is actually effected. This time is not limited by the Federal Reserve Time Schedule.

(b) Accordingly, if the bank uses the alternate (bb) method of claiming deductions for exchanges it may deduct the amount of such eligible items paid or credited to deposit accounts which remain uncollected at the close of business on the base days. If the bank uses the alternate (aa) method it may multiply by two and claim as a deduction only the eligible items which are received on the assessment base day and forwarded for collection on that day. (See § 327.128 Assessment Decision No. 28, Cash Items Deductions, Outside.)

(c) A check or draft received in payment of such items is not eligible for deduction. (See § 327.138 Assessment Decision No. 38, Checks or Drafts Received in Payment of Cash Items Forwarded for Collection.)

§ 327.190 Assessment Decision No. 90; foreign branch items. (a) Section 3 (1) of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act provides that any obligation of a bank which is payable only at an office of the bank located outside the States of the United States, the District of Columbia, any Territory of the United States, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands, shall not be a deposit for any of the purposes of the act or be included as a part of total deposits or of an insured deposit. Since deposits in a foreign branch are not deposits within the Federal Deposit Insurance Act, checks and drafts received in the foreign branches have no part in the computation of the assessment base. Accordingly, any check or draft received in such foreign branch may not be included in deductions for cash items under any circumstances.

(b) When any check or draft received in a foreign branch is collected and the proceeds credited to the branch account in an office of the bank in the United States, such a credit or account is not a deposit under the Federal Deposit Insurance Act or regulations and it follows than any check or draft credited to such account is not a cash item.

§ 327.191 Assessment Decision No. 91; foreign branch office dollar accounts. Checks issued in making payments against foreign branch office dollar accounts and charged thereto, where the checks are issued against letter or cable instructions received from the branch office which has received money or its equivalent for the issuance of the check, must be included in deposit liabilities. The same is true of a check issued by the home office in exchange for a draft on its foreign branch office because such checks are issued for money or its equivalent within the meaning of § 326.1 of this chapter.

§ 327.192 Assessment Decision No. 92; foreign countries; obligations payable in. Any obligation of a bank which is payable only at an office of the bank located outside of the States of the United States, the District of Columbia, any Territory of the United States, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands, need not be included as a deposit liability in computing the assessment base. However, if any such obligation is also payable in the United States, the District of Columbia, any Territory of the United States, Puerto Rico, or the Virgin Islands, it must be included as a deposit liability in computing the asssesment base.

§ 327.193 Assessment Decision No. 93; foreign currency deposits. (a) Deposits carried on the books of a bank in the terms of a foreign currency such as in Canadian dollars or Mexican dollars are required to be included in deposits for the assessment base in the same manner as deposits carried in the terms of United States dollars.

(b) In tabulating the foreign currency deposits for assessment purposes, the amount thereof should be converted to the equivalent in the United States dollars.

§ 327.194 Assessment Decision No. 94; foreign drafts. (a) Drafts drawn on banks located in foreign countries or on its own branch offices in foreign countries need not be included in deposits for the assessment base regardless of whether or not the bank drawing the draft has a deposit account in the drawee bank.

(b) Included in this type of drafts is a draft drawn under the following circumstances: A customer of a New York bank requests the New York bank to provide a designated person in a foreign country with funds. The New York bank has no funds on deposit with its correspondent bank in the foreign country. However, the foreign correspondent has a deposit account in the New York bank. The New York bank issues a draft payable to the person designated drawn on the correspondent bank and notifies the correspondent of its issuance of the draft. The correspondent bank by prior arrangement pays the draft on presentation and then advises the New York bank of the payment. The New York bank receives cash from its customer at the time of the issuance of the draft or makes a charge against his deposit account in the amount of the draft. The funds received from the customer are held pending acceptance and payment of the draft either in a special account bearing a designation such as "Dollar Drafts" or, in some instances, are actually credited to the correspondent's account in the New York bank. Where funds are credited to the special account, the funds are transferred to the foreign correspondent's deposit account upon advice that the foreign correspondent has paid the draft.

(c) The funds received, in the above illustration, need not be included in deposits for the assessment base until receipt of advice of payment of the draft by the foreign correspondent. Therefore, the "Dollar Drafts" account as used as an illustration herein is not subject to assessment and where the funds are immediately credited to the foreign correspondent's deposit account with the New York bank such credit may also be excluded from the assessment base until payment of the draft is effected by the foreign correspondent.

§ 327.195 Assessment Decision No. 95; foreign exchange purchased for bank's own account. Where foreign exchange is purchased solely for the bank's own account the checks issued in payment therefor do not constitute a deposit liability and consequently need not be included in deposits in determining the assessment base.

§ 327.196 Assessment Decision No. 96; foreign exchange transactions; checks received. (a) A check or draft received in payment for foreign currency delivered over the counter, if it otherwise complies with the requirements of a cash item as shown in § 327.123 Assessment Decision No. 23, Cash Items Eligible for Deduction as Exchanges, is eligible for deduction as a cash item.

(b) A check or draft received in payment for a draft or bill of exchange drawn on a bank located outside of the States of the United States, the District of Columbia, any Territory of the United States, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands, is not eligible for deduction as a cash item or otherwise. This applies whether such a draft or bill of exchange is in the terms of foreign exchange or United States dollars.

§ 327.197 Assessment Decision No. 97; foreign exchange brokers; commission due. (a) Official checks issued to Foreign Exchange Brokers in payment of brokerage commissions for the bank's own account need not be included in the deposit liabilities as they represent expense items.

(b) Official checks issued in payment of brokerage commissions for the account of customers must be included in deposits for the assessment base.

§ 327.198 Assessment Decision No. 98; funds received by a bank from the sale of any of its assets. Funds received by an insured bank from the sale of any of its assets need not be included in the assessment base. For instance, if a group of mortgages are sold and the funds received are carried in a special account pending execution of assignments or other papers, such funds are not required to be included in the assessment base. However, if it is not certain that the sale will be completed and there is a possibility that the funds must be returned to the prospective purchaser, then it is considered that the funds are held in escrow and must be included in the assessment base.

§ 327.199 Assessment Decision No. 99; guarantee deposit fund. (a) Funds received by the bank on behalf of a customer as a guarantee for the return of a certain article or for compliance with a certain condition are required to be included in the assessment base.

(b) An illustration of such an account is where a city furnishes water meters to its customers and requires the customer to deposit a certain amount as a guarantee against loss or damage to the meter. Such funds paid into the bank by the customer or city and carried in a guarantee account are subject to assessment. This refers only to guarantee deposits for articles owned by customers. For deposits on articles owned by the bank itself see § 327.243 Assessment Decision No. 143, Safety Deposit Key Deposits.

§ 327.200 Assessment Decision No. 100; holdovers. (a) "Holdovers" is a general term covering a variety of items. The term usually refers to cash items which are not forwarded for collection on the day received, but instead are held by the bank overnight.

(b) Under the alternate (aa) method of claiming deductions for cash items such "holdovers" received on the business day or days preceding the base day are ineligible for deduction as cash items or otherwise. Under the alternate (bb) method the time an item may be considered as uncollected may not be extended by not forwarding it on date of receipt. (See § 327.111 Assessment Decision No. 11, Availability Schedule, Cash Items.) Such cash items received on the assessment base day which in accordance with the normal procedure of the bank are still in its possession at the time of the closing of the books on the base day are eligible for deduction as cash items. (See footnote 10.)

(c) Any checks held over at the close of business on the base day which are drawn on the reporting bank itself may be subtracted in their actual amount if represented in the total of reported deposits provided the charging of the items to the respective deposit accounts at the close of business on the assessment base day would not result in an overdraft.

§ 327.201 Assessment Decision No. 101; hypothecated deposits. The term "hypothecated deposits" often refers to payments on installment loans accumulated in deposit accounts pending application on the indebtedness. The term is sometimes used in a broader sense to include any deposits pledged as security for indebtedness. The deposits in either category are exempt from assessment if all requirements are met as fully described in § 327.121 Assessment Decision No. 21, Cash Funds Received and Held as Security to Indebtedness to the Bank.

§ 327.202 Assessment Decision No. 102; instruments drawn for the purpose of abnormally increasing deposits or deductions. (a) No deductions as cash items or otherwise may be claimed for drafts drawn and delivered or exchanged for the purpose of reducing the assessment base. This also applies to any cash item drawn by an officer, director, stockholder, or affiliate of the reporting bank or any person or corporation at its, his, or their suggestion or direction for the purpose of abnormally increasing the deposits on the base day or for the purpose of obtaining abnormal deductions.

(b) This applies to any abnormal transactions designed to increase deposits on the base days and/or to increase the deductions for cash items, reciprocal bank balances, or any other type of deduction. The length of time such funds remain on deposit will be a factor in determining the purpose.

§ 327.203 Assessment Decision No. 103; insurance premium deposits. (a) Funds received by the reporting bank representing premiums paid to it for insurance in which the customer or the insurance company, or both, have a beneficial interest must be included in the assessment base.

(b) Any funds in the account representing commissions due to the bank need not be included in the assessment base.

§ 327.204 Assessment Decision No. 104; interbranch deposits. The deposit liabilities of the bank as of the close of business on the base day must be recorded in the assessment base. Accordingly, this includes all deposits in accounts at the branches and the bank must employ the proper means to assure that all deposits made in one office where the account is maintained at another office are properly included in the base. The deposits made in one office where the account is maintained at another office may be recorded under "Suspense Liabilities", "Entry Letters", "Interbranch Account", or under other designations. The important point is that the true deposit liabilities of the bank as a whole must be reflected in the base. (See § 327.117 Assessment Decision No. 17, Branch Items.)

§ 327.205 Assessment Decision No. 105; interdepartmental accounts. If a bank has interdepartmental accounts such as the trust department having an account in the commercial department, the deposit liability should not be duplicated in computing the assessment base. Therefore, if the same deposits appear twice in the total of deposit liabilities, that is, once in the commercial department and once in the trust department, a deduction may be taken for the duplication.

§ 327.206 Assessment Decision No. 106; interest or dividends on deposits. (a) Interest, and dividends in mutual savings banks, allowed on deposit accounts must be included in deposits for the assessment base on and after the date the interest or dividend is due.

(b) Officers' checks issued in payment of interest or dividends due on deposits must be included in the assessment base.

(c) The mere pre-entry on the bank's books of such dividends or interest does not require the inclusion thereof in the assessment base unless the depositors have the right to withdraw the interest or dividends prior to the due date. To illustrate, if interest or dividends are payable on January 1, they must be in the assessment base on that date and thereafter. If the bank enters the interest or dividends on the respective depositors' accounts during the last days of December, the amount need not be included in the base for the December 31 base day unless the depositors have the right of withdrawal. If the bank permits any depositor to withdraw such interest or dividends entered on the books prior to January 1, the full amount of the accounts as of the close of business December 31 including interest and dividends must be included in the assessment base for December 31.

§ 327.207 Assessment Decision No. 107; interest prepayment. (This proposed decision relates in part to issues now under submission to the United States District Court, Southern District of New York. The proposed decision will be made and sent to each insured bank after determination by the Court.)

§ 327.208 Assessment Decision No. 108; Items in Transit and Items in Process of Collection. (a) "Items in Transit" and "Items in Process of Collection" are general terms usually referring to items forwarded by a bank for collection.

(b) Under the Federal Deposit Insurance Act there are two alternate methods of claiming deductions for cash items as explained in § 327.124 Assessment Decision No. 24, Cash Items, Methods of Claiming Deductions. The "items in transit" account, in itself, is not eligible for deduction. However, any cash item represented therein which is eligible for deduction under the alternate method used by the bank in claiming deductions for cash items, may be deducted in accordance with such method.

§ 327.209 Assessment Decision No. 109; letters of credit; commercial. (This proposed decision relates in part to issues now under submission to the United States District Court, Southern District of New York. The proposed decision will be made and sent to each insured bank after determination by the Court.)

§ 327.210 Assessment Decision No. 110; letters of credit; travelers. (a) Travelers' letters of credit on which the bank is primarily liable issued for money or its equivalent received by the issuing bank or for a charge against a deposit account in the issuing bank must be included in deposits for the assessment base.

(b) Travelers' letters of credit are almost invariably sold for cash or for a charge against a deposit account, and must be included in deposits for assessment purposes in the absence of proof to the contrary.

§ 327.211 Assessment Decision No. 111; letters of credit; issued through another bank. (a) Funds received by an insured bank to be held to meet drawings under letters of credit issued through another bank must be included in the assessment base.

(b) To illustrate, assume Bank A does not issue letters of credit. One of its customers, however, requests a letter of credit and deposits with Bank A the amount of the letter of credit requested. Bank A requests Bank B to issue the letter of credit. When drafts are drawn under such letters of credit the customary procedure is for Bank B to pay them and charge the deposit account of Bank A with advice to Bank A. Upon receipt of this advice, Bank A credits Bank B with the amount of the payment and charges the account representing the funds deposited by its customer.

(c) In this case the funds deposited in Bank A by its customer do not represent cash funds held solely for the purpose of securing indebtedness to the bank. Instead, Bank A holds the funds as a special deposit or as a fiduciary for the purpose of making payments to Bank B for drawings under the letter of credit and must include them in the assessment base.

§ 327.212 Assessment Decision No. 112; life insurance premium payments. (a) Funds received to apply on group life insurance premiums must be included in deposit liabilities. This includes deductions from employees' salaries to be used for the purchase of insurance or annuities and also premiums received from borrowers to obtain life insurance to be held as collateral to the loan.

(b) However, the above rule does not apply where life insurance is obtained on borrowers in the Personal Loan Department and the proceeds are used for the retirement of the loan if the borrower dies prior to the retirement of the note. In these cases the borrower or insured never receives any proceeds from the policy, the proceeds being used solely for the retirement of any unpaid balance on the obligation to the bank. In these cases where the bank obtains insurance on the lives of its borrowers in the amount of the unpaid balance of the loans and makes a charge against the borrower for this protection, the amount of the charge, when received by the bank, is not a deposit.

§ 327.213 Assessment Decision No. 113; loans and discounts suspense account. (a) Borrowers will occasionally make payments to be accumulated in a so-called suspense account to be held until the maturity of an obligation.

(b) The balance in such an account is considered to be held as collateral to the indebtedness and if it meets the requirements of cash funds held as collateral to indebtedness as described in § 327.121 Assessment Decision No. 21, Cash Funds Received and Held as Security to Indebtedness to the Bank, the account need not be included in the assessment base.

NOTE: See § 327.255 Assessment Decision No. 155, Suspense Account.

§ 327.214 Assessment Decision No. 114; missorts. (a) The term "missorts" is used by many reporting banks to denote either or both of the following:

(1) Items drawn on deposit accounts of the reporting bank, which have been improperly sorted preparatory to their posting to the accounts. These arise through an internal missort and are the bank's own items, often referred to as "Us" or "Own" items.

(2) Cash items drawn on other banks, intermingled with those drawn on the reporting bank, received in the in-clearings, or in cash letters, which are held for return to clearings, for collection from the drawee bank, or return to the sending bank. These arise through improper sorting by the sending bank which has unintentionally included checks drawn on other banks with checks drawn on the reporting bank.

(b) The items described under paragraph (a) (1) of this section may be deducted in their actual amount in computing the assessment base if they have not been recorded to reduce deposit liabilities.

(c) The items described under paragraph (a) (2) of this section are eligible for deduction as cash items. (See § 327.123 Assessment Decision No. 23, Cash Items Eligible for Deduction as Exchanges.)

§ 327.215 Assessment Decision No. 115; mortgage loan payments. (a) Payments on principal and interest received by the reporting bank, on mortgages owned by it, and held in deposit accounts in the reporting bank as security for later application on the indebtedness, need not be included in the assessment base provided such funds are not subject to withdrawal by the mortgagor, are carried in a special non-interest-bearing account designated to properly show their purpose, and provided the amount of the funds so held do not exceed the liability for which they are held as security.

(b) The portion of payments received by the reporting bank on such mortgage loans accumulated for the purpose of paying taxes, insurance, and similar charges on the mortgaged property must be included in deposits for the assessment base. Such funds are held in a fiduciary capacity and are trust funds within the meaning of our act. However, if such funds are deposited by the reporting bank in a trust account in another insured bank, they are deductible in accordance with section 7 (i) of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act and § 327.1 (n). (See § 327.263 Assessment Decision No. 163, Trust Funds Deposited in Other Banks.)

(c) Checks issued in payment of taxes, insurance premiums, and similar charges, from the funds accumulated for the payment of these items under the mortgage loans must be included in the deposit liabilities until paid if the amounts thereof are charged against the account at the time the checks are issued. If such checks are not charged against the account until paid they need not be included in the deposit liabilities for in this case the entire amount of the account itself must be included in the deposit liabilities.

§ 327.216 Assessment Decision No. 116; mortgage and loan payments held to apply on arrears. Payments made to a bank by borrowers to be applied upon principal and interest in arrears are not deposits. However, if such payments include funds for the payment of taxes, insurance, etc., the portion of the funds so held must be included in deposit liabilities for assessment purposes.

§ 327.217 Assessment Decision No. 117; mortgagee in possession funds. (a) Where the bank operates a mortgaged property under an assignment of rents or operates it as mortgagee in possession or through any other means, all funds received are considered to be held in a fiduciary capacity and must be included in deposit liabilities until disbursed either for payment of expenses or for application on the indebtedness: Provided, however, That any portion thereof held solely as security for the mortgage indebtedness due to the bank may be excluded from deposits in computing the assessment base if such funds meet all the requirements of section 7 (a) (2) (ii) of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act. (See § 327.121 Assessment Decision No. 21, Cash Funds Received and Held as Security to Indebtedness to the Bank.)

(b) Officers' checks issued in payment of expenses and taxes against the mortgaged properties must be included in deposit liabilities until paid.

§ 327.218 Assessment Decision No. 118; multiples of $100 and $1,000 in tabulating deposits and deductions. A bank may report total deposit liabilities and deductions claimed in the nearest multiple of $100 or $1,000: Provided, however, That the method adopted must be consistently followed for both base days in the semiannual period covered by the Certified Statement and both deposit liabilities and deductions must be computed in the same manner.

§ 327.219 Assessment Decision No. 119; nonpar point items. (a) Cash items drawn on nonpar banks which are payable upon presentation and which the reporting bank has paid or credited to deposit accounts subject to final payment may be considered as uncollected for the actual time required for collection. An item which the Federal Reserve bank will not accept as a cash item but will handle only on a collection basis may likewise be considered as uncollected for the actual time required for collection.

(b) The check or draft received by the reporting bank for such collections is not a cash item if the bank paid or gave credit, subject to final payment for the original items when received. (See § 327.138 Assessment Decision No. 38, Checks or Drafts Received in Payment of Cash Items Forwarded for Collection.)

NOTE: See § 327.111 Assessment Decision No. 11, Availability Schedule, Cash Items.

§ 327.220 Assessment Decision No. 120; Old Age Benefits Account. The balance in a Federal Old Age Benefits Account derived from salaries of employees must be included in the assessment base. The bank's portion of these payments must be included in the assessment base from the time they become due. If the bank sets aside a reserve for its share of such payments before they are due, the amount of the reserve so provided need not be included in the assessment base until the payments are due. (See § 327.267 Assessment Decision No. 167, Withholding Taxes.)

§ 327.221 Assessment Decision No. 121; overdrafts. (a) If the ledger controlling accounts are reduced by the overdrafts, the amount by which the controlling accounts have been reduced by the overdrafts must be added to the total deposit liabilities at the close of the base day in determining the assessment base. For example, if depositors with credit balances have a total of $1,000,000 on deposit and total overdrafts amounting to $5,000 are deducted therefrom to arrive at a net deposit balance of $995,000 in the controlling account, it is necessary to add $5,000 to the controlling account to reflect the correct total deposit liabilities of $1,000,000.

(b) If a depositor has two or more accounts maintained in the same right and capacity, there must be added back to the total of deposits only the amount by which the overdraft exceeds the credit balance in the account or accounts carried in the same right and capacity.

§ 327.222 Assessment Decision No. 122; participations; interest. Cashiers' checks issued to customers and other banks representing interest collected and due them on their participations in loans allotted to them by the bank or acquired in any other manner must be included in the deposit liabilities.

§ 327.223 Assessment Decision No. 123; payable if desired at another bank. (a) Some customers draw checks on their bank with the check bearing the further notation that they are payable if desired at another bank. For instance, the check may be drawn on Bank A in Chicago, but also payable at Bank B in Los Angeles. In such cases, Bank A will have a deposit with Bank B and Bank B charges such checks to Bank A's deposit with them and forwards the checks to Bank A. When received by Bank A it charges its customer's account with the total amount thereof and credits its balance with Bank B.

(b) If at the close of business on a base day, in the example above, Bank B has paid checks on behalf of Bank A and has charged them against the deposit account maintained with it by Bank A, but Bank A has not reduced its deposit liability for said checks, Bank A may claim a deduction for them in the exact amount thereof. It is considered that when the funds of Bank A were used to pay the checks, that Bank A's deposit liability was discharged and it should, therefore, be permitted to reduce its deposit liability even though the "P. I. D." items have not been received by it at the close of business on the base day.

(c) The same arrangement applies to drafts drawn on a correspondent bank which are paid by a Federal Reserve bank and charged against the funds of the correspondent bank on deposit in the Federal Reserve bank. If the correspondent bank has not received the drafts as of the close of business on the base day but its funds have been used for the payment thereof it may, as in the illustration above, claim a deduction from its reported deposit liabilities for the actual amount of such drafts.

§ 327.224 Assessment Decision No. 124; payable through items. (a) Corporations in some cases draw drafts against an official of the company, usually its treasurer, which instruments are "payable through" a certain bank or banks. Usually the name or names of the bank or banks through which they are payable appear on the face of the instruments but in some cases they are listed on the back.

(b) Such "payable through" items are eligible for deductions as cash items if all of the requirements of a cash item are met. (See § 327.123 Assessment Decisions No. 23, Cash Items Eligible for Deduction as Exchanges, and No. 166, Warrants.)

§ 327.225 Assessment Decision No. 125; personal loan repayments. (a) Repayments on personal loans are generally credited to a deposit account pending application of the funds to the note itself. These personal loans are made under a variety of names such as, Personal Loans, Industrial Loans, Small Loans, Budget Savings Loans, Thrift Loans, Systematic Savings Loans, etc., but the same rulings are applicable to all of such installment loans.

(b) Such repayments credited to a deposit account for application to the notes are considered to be held as security to the indebtedness and may, therefore, be excluded from the assessment base provided all statutory requirements are met. (See § 327.121 Assessment Decision No. 21, Cash Funds Received and Held as Security to Indebtedness to the Bank.)

§ 327.226 Assessment Decision No. 126; post office money orders. Post office money orders received and paid or credited to deposit accounts and which are held for clearings at the close of business on the assessment base days or which were forwarded for collection are eligible for deduction as cash items. (See § 327.123 Assessment Decision No. 23, Cash Items Eligible for Deduction as Exchanges.)

§ 327.227 Assessment Decision No. 127; Postal Savings deposits. The Postal Savings Accounts, the Postmasters' Accounts, and any similar accounts must be included in deposit liabilities and may not be claimed as a deduction. This is true whether the accounts are secured or unsecured.

§ 327.228 Assessment Decision No. 128; proceeds of loans. (a) Cashiers' checks or other forms of deposits representing the proceeds of loans, when based upon promissory notes upon which the recipient is primarily or secondarily liable, must be included in the assessment base. This is true whether the loans are unsecured or are secured by stocks, bonds, mortgages, or any other type of security.

(b) The only exception is an official check issued for the proceeds of a loan based upon a loan agreement which does not constitute, or which is not accompanied by, a promissory note. (See § 327.119 Assessment Decision No. 19, Brokers Loans.)

§ 327.229 Assessment Decision No. 129; promissory notes. (a) Any promissory note owned by a bank is ineligible for deduction as a cash item or otherwise. If such a promissory note is included in clearings, or in a cash letter forwarded for collection, no deduction may be taken therefor.

(b) If, in the usual course of business, a reporting bank receives a promissory note and credits the same to a deposit account subject to collection and forwards it for collection as a cash item or holds it for clearings and treats it in all respects the same as any other cash item, such promissory note is eligible for deduction among exchanges provided all other requirements of a cash item are met. (See § 327.123 Assessment Decision No. 23, Cash Items Eligible for Deduction as Exchanges.)

§ 327.230 Assessment Decision No. 130; public funds. (a) All public funds whether secured or unsecured and regardless of the amount thereof must be included in the deposits for the assessment base and may not be claimed as deductions. This is true of every type of public account regardless of their source or the fact that they represent funds transferred or deposited by the United States Treasury or any department, agency, instrumentality or official of the Government, or by a State, county, municipality, school, or any other political subdivision, including the Treasury Tax and Loan Account formerly known as War Loan Deposit Account.

(b) The fact that public funds are secured by collateral, by State guaranty, or otherwise, does not exempt them from assessment.

NOTE: See § 327.261 Assessment Decision No. 161, Treasury Tax and Loan Account.

§ 327.231 Assessment Decision No. 131; real estate owned. (a) Funds received by a bank in connection with the operation of its wholly owned real estate need not be included in the deposit liabilities, and, if included in reported deposits on the Certified Statement, may be deducted. The same is true of checks issued in the operation of the property.

(b) Funds received in connection with the operation of real estate not wholly owned by the bank must be included in deposit liabilities. (See § 327.217 Assessment Decision No. 117, Mortgagee in Possession Funds.)

§ 327.232 Assessment Decision No. 132; rebate of discount on loans. Checks issued for rebate of discount on loans paid off before maturity and charged to unearned discount need not be included in deposit liabilities because they represent checks issued in the conduct of the bank's own business.

§ 327.233 Assessment Decision No. 133; reciprocal bank balances. The reporting bank must include opposite Item A on its Certified Statements the gross amount of deposits due to all other banks as shown by its books at the close of business on the base days. It may deduct from the deposit balance due to an insured bank the deposit balance due from such insured bank (other than trust funds deposited by it in such bank) which is subject to immediate withdrawal. Such deduction may be made opposite the designation "Reciprocal Bank Balances" on the Certified Statement. An explanation of the computation of this deduction and examples follow:

(a) A reciprocal bank balance eligible for deduction arises in those instances where the reporting bank has a deposit balance due to another insured bank and a deposit balance due from the same insured bank, disregarding for this purpose balances representing deposits of trust funds. The reporting bank must include in the total of its deposit liabilities for assessment purposes the total of its deposit liabilities to the other insured bank at the time of the closing of its books on the base day. It may deduct from such total deposit liabilities the amount of the deposit balance due from such other insured bank but not in an amount in excess of the balance due to such insured bank. In other words, where the "due to" balance is the larger of the two balances, the deduction is limited to the amount of the "due from" balance; where the "due to" balance is the smaller of the two balances, the deduction is limited to the amount of the "due to" balance. For the purpose of computing the reciprocal bank balance deduction the balances used must be subject to immediate withdrawal. This means that items in the process of collection must be excluded from the computations of both the "due from" and "due to" balances as shown on the books of the reporting bank; any uncollected items charged to the "due from" account should be subtracted from the book balance; any uncollected items credited to the "due to" account should be subtracted from the book balance. Any outstanding unpaid draft credited to the "due from" account may be added back to the book balance to show the actual collected balance due from the other insured bank in computing this deduction.

(b) Illustrations of the computations of such balances and applicable deductions are given below:

Example I. Assume that Bank A, the reporting bank, shows on its books a balance due to Bank B, another insured bank, of $50,000. It also shows on its books a balance due from Bank B in the amount of $25,000. Bank A must include in its deposit liabilities on the Certified Statement the $50,000 due to Bank B and if both balances are subject to immediate withdrawal, a deduction of $25,000 may be claimed on the Certified Statement.

However, assume that included in the $50,000 balance in the "due to" account was a credit of $15,000 representing items drawn on other banks which remain uncollected at the close of the base day. In computing its eligible deduction for reciprocal bank balances, this $15,000 must be subtracted to arrive at the net balance subject to immediate withdrawal, of $35,000.

Assume further that Bank A drew a draft on Bank B in the amount of $5,000 which was outstanding on the base day and that this $5,000 had been credited to the "due from" account having a balance of $25,000. The $5,000 unpaid draft may be added to this $25,000 balance thus increasing it to the actual balance subject to immediate withdrawal of $30,000. The eligible deduction for reciprocal bank balances in this example is $30,000, that is, the lesser of the two balances subject to immediate withdrawal.

Example II. Assume that Bank A, the reporting bank, shows on its books a balance due to Bank B, another insured bank, in an amount less than the "due from" balance, the balance due to Bank B being $75,000. It also shows on its books a balance due from Bank B in the amount of $100,000. Bank A must include in its deposit liabilities on the Certified Statement the $75,000 due to Bank B and if both balances are subject to immediate withdrawal the bank may claim a deduction of $75,000 on the Certified Statement.

However, assume that included in the $75,000 due to Bank B was a credit made on the base day of $10,000 and a credit of $5,000 made on the previous day and that both credits represent items drawn on other banks which remain uncollected at the closing of the books on the base day. In computing its eligible deductions for reciprocal bank balances, this $15,000 must be subtracted to arrive at a net "due to" balance subject to immediate withdrawal of $60,000. The eligible deduction for reciprocal bank balances is $60,000, that is, the lesser of the two collected balances subject to immediate withdrawal.

§ 327.234 Assessment Decision No. 134; records necessary. (a) Section 7 (a) of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act of 1950, requires each insured bank, as a condition to the right to make any deduction or exclusion in determining its assessment base, to maintain such records as will readily permit verification of the correctness thereof. For this purpose the Corporation has prepared Form 555, entitled "Tabulation of Assessment Base". This form must be completed and maintained by every insured bank for the four assessment base days in each year and be supported by adequate records to permit verification of all figures.

(b) Included in the data which must be maintained are records supporting deductions for cash items. If the alternate (bb) method of claiming deductions for cash items is used the reporting bank must maintain records to show the portions of collection letters sent on days preceding the base days which remain uncollected at the close of business on the base day.

(c) Section 7 (g) of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act of 1950, provides that no action or proceeding may be brought for the recovery of any assessments on deposits for any year prior to 1945. Therefore, insofar as assessment requirements are concerned, an insured bank need not retain any assessment records for any year prior to the year 1945.

(d) The records necessary to support the assessment base for the year 1945, and subsequent years, should be retained indefinitely by the insured bank except where a field audit of the assessment records of an insured bank has been made by the Corporation, and the necessary adjustments of the assessment under such audit have been made, the insured bank need not thereafter retain any assessment records in support of its Certified Statements through the date of the audit.

§ 327.235 Assessment Decision No. 135; records destroyed accidentally. If the records of a bank are destroyed by fire, flood, or other causes beyond its control, the assessment base for the period or periods concerned must be determined from all available sources and supported by whatever evidence is available and pertinent.

§ 327.236 Assessment Decision No. 136; redemption checks. When a check previously taken to clearings by the reporting bank is returned to said reporting bank because of insufficient funds in the drawer's account in the receiving bank or for any other reason, and the reporting bank issues a redemption check on itself in payment therefor, such redemption check must be included in deposits for the assessment base. The bank which returns a check because of insufficient funds or for any other reason and receives a redemption check therefor may not treat such redemption check as a cash item or claim a deduction for it in any manner.

§ 327.237 Assessment Decision No. 137; refunds of assessments. (a) An overpayment of an assessment made by an insured bank is normally credited to its account and left to apply upon the assessment next becoming due. However, upon request from the bank a refund will be made of the overpayment of assessment.

(b) An assessment credit, that is, the statutory credit allowed annually based upon the net assessment income for the preceding calendar year, cannot be refunded to operating banks since section 7 (d) of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act specifically provides that assessment credits shall be applied upon future assessments. However, where the insured status of a bank has been terminated, refunds of all credits, including assessment credits, will be made to the insured bank after all requirements in respect to assessments and the termination of its insured status have been met. In lieu of a refund, a bank whose deposit liabilities have been assumed by another insured bank may assign its unused credits to the assuming bank after all requirements on assessments and the termination of its insured status are met.

§ 327.238 Assessment Decision No. 138; remittance account. (a) Under the Federal Deposit Insurance Act, the bank may exclude from its assessment base drafts drawn by it on deposit accounts in other banks when issued in the regular course of business and the amount of any advices or authorizations issued for cash letters received directing that its deposit account in the sending bank be charged with the amount thereof.

(b) It is sometimes the practice for a bank to receive a cash letter on one day, credit the amount thereof to a "remittance account" on that day, and the following day issue a draft or an advice in payment therefor. In such cases, the "remittance account" representing the liability of the bank for a cash letter received must be included in deposits for assessment purposes. It should be noted in this connection that the exemption under the act applies only to drafts and the amount of any advices issued in payment of the cash letters received; it does not extend to the bank's liability for such letters pending the issuance of the draft or advice.

(c) A similar situation exists where some of the items received by the bank are drawn on one of its branches and payment for the letter is delayed for one or more days pending determination of whether the items drawn on the branches will be finally paid. The liability of the bank for the cash letters received must be included in the assessment base pending the issuance of the draft or advice in payment therefor.

§ 327.239 Assessment Decision No. 139; rent security deposits. (a) Deposits made with the bank by a tenant for security under a lease on real estate owned by the bank must be included in the assessment base.

(b) If the funds deposited by the tenant secure past due rent and the funds are received solely for the purpose of securing such liability to the bank, are not subject to withdrawal by the obligor and are carried in a special non-interest-bearing account designated to properly show their purpose and the amount of the funds do not exceed the liability for which they are held as security they would be exempt from assessment. However, such funds would rarely meet these requirements because the deposit of money is usually made to protect the bank against loss on rent not yet due. Therefore, in the absence of any actual liability to the bank, the rent security deposits would be subject to assessment.

(c) Deposits made with the bank by a tenant for security for rental due on real estate operated by the bank as agent, mortgagee in possession, or any other capacity other than as owner must be included in deposits for assessment purposes under all circumstances.

§ 327.240 Assessment Decision No. 140; retirement fund for bank employees. (a) The contributions made by employees to a retirement fund, maintained by the bank, must be included in deposit liabilities for assessment purposes. The contributions to the fund made by the bank itself must also be included in the assessment base if the employees have a vested interest therein.

(b) Where a bank carries a reserve account for the purpose of increasing retirement payments to employees under certain conditions the balance in such an account need not be included in deposit liabilities unless the employees have a vested interest in the account. In the absence of such vested interest therein, the balance of the reserve account is considered to be the bank's own funds, as are other contingent reserves of the bank. Occasionally this type of a reserve is set up by banks out of their own funds to continue retirement payments to employees after their benefits from the regular retirement fund have been depleted.

(c) In some cases, the funds received from employees' salaries and from contributions by the bank are used for the payment of premiums to an insurance company for annuity policies for employees. The funds deducted from salaries of employees must be included in the assessment base. The portion of the premium payable by the bank need not be included in the assessment base as it constitutes expense of the bank and under such a type of retirement fund the employees do not have a vested interest in the money used by the bank for the payment of the premium. There may be cases where the bank has established a reserve fund with which to pay the premiums and the deductions from employees' salaries is a repayment to the bank of advances made on their behalf. In such a case, the reserve balance would not be subject to assessment except to the extent, if any, that it included funds belonging to employees to be used for the payment of premiums.

§ 327.241 Assessment Decision No. 141; returned checks. (a) Checks drawn on the reporting bank and received by it in clearings or in cash letters, and returned unpaid to the bank from which received, are not eligible for deduction as cash items or otherwise.

(b) An example of such a check is one received in a cash letter on the base day and which is returned to the sending bank because of "insufficient funds".

Such a check is ineligible for deduction by the reporting bank.

(c) Another example is a check received in clearings on the base day which is held at the close of business to be returned at the clearings the following day. Such a check is not eligible for deduction, nor is a redemption check received in lieu thereof eligible for deduction.

(d) When a check is returned directly to the bank of original credit or payment, through the use of a multiple draft and the original of such draft is sent through regular channels as a cash collection, such draft is not a cash item eligible for deduction by the issuing bank. (See § 327.255 Assessment Decision No. 155, Suspense Account.)

§ 327.242 Assessment Decision No. 142; safety deposit box taxes. Amounts collected as taxes on safety deposit boxes must be included in the deposits for the assessment base until paid to the United States Treasury or its Fiscal Agent.

§ 327.243 Assessment Decision No. 143; safety deposit key deposits. Funds paid into a bank as a deposit against keys for safety deposit boxes which actually represent the purchase price of the keys need not be included in deposit liabilities, even though the bank agrees to repurchase such keys by refunding the money on demand by the customer.

§ 327.244 Assessment Decision No. 144; sale or other disposition of bank's own assets. Any instrument received by a bank in payment of or arising from the sale or other disposition of any of its assets is ineligible for deduction as a cash item. This includes checks or drafts received from the sale of the bank's own securities, from the sale of mortgages owned by the bank, from the sale of bank owned real estate, and all similar transactions. It also refers to checks or drafts received for the redemption of any securities owned by the bank. (See footnote 11.) (See § 327.123 Assessment Decision No. 23, Cash Items Eligible for Deduction as Exchanges.)

§ 327.245 Assessment Decision No. 145; savings accounts; investment of trust funds. Only trust funds deposited by the fiduciary bank in another insured bank may be claimed as a deduction from the deposits for the assessment base by the fiduciary bank. Any funds deposited in an uninsured bank must be included in the deposits for the assessment base, and may not be claimed as a deduction even if the deposits, under applicable law, are legal trust investments. Classification of such funds by a State as "investments" does not change their status as deposits for assessment purposes but merely places such deposits in the category of permissible investments for trust funds. (See § 327.263 Assessment Decision No. 163, Trust Funds Deposited in Other Banks.)

§ 327.246 Assessment Decision No. 146; secured deposits. A deposit secured by a pledge of securities, by a State guaranty, or in any other manner must be included in deposits for the assessment base and may not be claimed as a deduction. For the purpose of Federal Deposit Insurance assessments, no distinction is made between secured and unsecured deposits.

§ 327.247 Assessment Decision No. 147; securities purchased for customers. Funds received by a bank to be used for the purchase of securities for the account of customers must be included in the deposit liabilities for assessment purposes until disbursed by the bank in payment of said securities, except where the bank contracts to deliver specified securities at a certain price. In this case, the title to the funds would pass to the bank upon receipt thereof.

§ 327.248 Assessment Decision No. 148; securities purchased for bank's own account. Cashiers' and other officers' checks issued for the purchase of securities for the bank's own account need not be included in the deposit liabilities.

§ 327.249 Assessment Decision No. 149; securities purchased for customers' collateral. (a) Cashiers' and other officers' checks issued by the bank and charged against the customer's collateral funds for the purchase of securities to be held as substituted collateral to the indebtedness are exempt from assessment if the funds so used meet the requirements of cash funds held as security to indebtedness. (See § 327.121 Assessment Decision No. 21, Cash Funds Received and Held as Security to Indebtedness to the Bank.) Such checks acquire the exempt status of the collateral funds they represent pending transition into the substituted collateral.

(b) However, such an official check issued in returning cash collateral to the borrower must be included in the assessment base. In this case the funds are not in a transition state but, instead, have been released as collateral security.

§ 327.250 Assessment Decision No. 150; securities sold for customers. Net credit balances due to customers for securities sold in their behalf are held in a fiduciary capacity and must be included in deposits for the assessment base. This includes officers' checks or bond managers' checks issued representing the proceeds of such sales, which checks must be included in the assessment base if outstanding on base days.

§ 327.251 Assessment Decision No. 151; Series E bonds paid or credited to deposit accounts. (a) Series E bonds and similar bonds paid or credited to a deposit account by the reporting bank are eligible for deduction as cash items provided they meet all the requirements of a cash item. (See § 327.123 Assessment Decision No. 23, Cash Items Eligible for Deduction as Exchanges.)

(b) However, no deduction may be claimed for bonds accumulated. For instance, if the bank uses the alternate (aa) method of claiming deductions for cash items, a deduction may be taken only for the bonds received on the assessment base day which are held for clearings at the close of business on said day or which are forwarded for collection on said day. No deductions may be taken for the bonds received on prior days and accumulated to be forwarded at the end of the month or at other intervals.

(c) The same rules apply to War Savings stamps paid or credited to deposit accounts.

§ 327.252 Assessment Decision No. 152; Social Security taxes. Social Security taxes deducted from employees' salaries, as well as contributions made by the reporting bank itself for its portion of the tax liability must be included in the assessment base. The contributions of the bank itself, however, are not subject to assessment until actually due from the bank, so any reserve of the bank for the payment of its share of the Social Security taxes when they become due is not subject to assessment.

§ 327.253 Assessment Decision No. 153; special purpose deposits. Deposits made for special purposes are required to be included in deposits for the assessment base. An example of a special purpose deposit is the deposit of funds by a company for the payment of a dividend on its stock or for the redemption of its bonds.

§ 327.254 Assessment Decision No. 154; statute of limitations. (a) The Federal Deposit Insurance Act provides a statute of limitations in respect to assessments (sec. 7 (g)). The statute prescribes a limitation of five years (1) on suits brought by the Corporation for the recovery of any assessment due it, and (2) on suits brought by a bank for the recovery of any overpayment of assessments. This statute of limitation begins to run against the Corporation at the time the assessment is due, except where the Certified Statement is intentionally false or fraudulent, then the statute does not begin to run until the Corporation has actual knowledge that the Certified Statement is false or fraudulent.

(b) The failure to claim a deduction for cash items, or to use the more favorable alternate method in claiming the deductions, does not constitute an overpayment within the meaning of the above statute. The regulations permit a bank, within two years from the date on which a Certified Statement was required to be filed, to file an amended Certified Statement for the purpose of changing to the other alternate method of claiming deductions for cash items, or to file an amended Certified Statement claiming deductions for cash items when none were claimed on the original Certified Statement (§ 327.1 (j)). (See § 327.130 Assessment Decision No. 30, Cash Items Deductions, Change in Alternate Method.)

§ 327.255 Assessment Decision No. 155; Suspense account. (a) The nature of the items comprising a "Suspense" account determines whether the account is subject to assessment. Frequently, the account represents a variety of items and the general test is whether the funds belong absolutely to the bank, in which case they are not subject to assessment, or whether they are customers' funds, in which case they must be included in the assessment base.

(b) There is a special type of Suspense account in use in some banks in connection with a plan for the direct return of unpaid items. The drawee bank returns an unpaid item direct to the originating bank, that is, the bank where the check was originally paid or credited to a deposit account. A multiple draft is drawn for the amount of the unpaid check and one copy is forwarded directly to the originating bank as a transmittal letter with the unpaid check attached. The original of this draft is forwarded for collection by the drawee bank through regular collection channels. Upon receipt of the unpaid check the originating bank reverses the credit which it gave to its customer or collects the amount of the check from its customer and credits the Suspense account with the amount thereof. This Suspense account which records the total amount of such unpaid checks until the collection draft is received and charged thereto, must be included in the assessment base. The collection draft drawn by the returning bank and sent through regular channels for collection is not a cash item eligible for deduction by the returning bank. (See § 327.241 Assessment Decision No. 141, Returned Checks.)

§ 327.256 Assessment Decision No. 156; syndicate deposits. (a) A syndicate deposit account is often maintained by large banks consisting of funds intended for use in group underwritings of security issues.

(b) The portion of the balance in this account representing funds deposited by others, such as investment concerns and other banks, for a participation in security issues, must be included in deposit liabilities until the funds are disbursed by the bank in the actual purchase of the securities. Likewise any undisbursed portion of the account belonging to participants must be included in the assessment base.

(c) Funds deposited by other participants in a proposed purchase of security issues are, from an assessment standpoint, no different than a deposit made in the bank for any other purpose.

(d) If the terms of the syndicate agreement provide that the bank in which the funds are deposited is also required to deposit its pro rata share to the credit of the syndicate, and the bank actually deposits such funds to the credit of the syndicate, the funds are then under the direction and control of the syndicate, and the funds contributed by the bank of deposit itself must also be included in deposit liabilities in the same manner as the funds deposited by others. However, if the agreement provides that the participating bank in which the funds are deposited is merely required to deposit such funds at a future date, then, and until such time as a deposit is actually made to the credit of the syndicate, the funds which it has agreed to furnish do not constitute a deposit liability for assessment purposes. Whether the portion of the funds contributed by the bank of deposit itself are assessable will depend upon the terms of the agreement in each case.

§ 327.257 Assessment Decision No. 157; Time Schedule of Federal Reserve bank. (a) A cash item shall not be considered as uncollected at the close of business on the base day if such item has been outstanding for a period in excess of the time from the date the cash item is paid or credited to a deposit account to the date of receipt in the usual course of business by the correspondent bank to which the item is forwarded for collection plus the collection time allowed by the Federal Reserve Time Schedule for the district in which the correspondent bank is located. Each Federal Reserve bank issues a Time Schedule and the items may not be considered as uncollected for longer than the time set out therein plus the time of transmittal to the Federal Reserve Bank.

(b) The bank is not required to clear its items through the Federal Reserve banks and the Federal Reserve Time Schedule is merely used as the maximum eligible deduction time. If collection is effected in less time than allowed by the Federal Reserve Time Schedule the actual time of collection is the maximum time for which the item may be considered uncollected. In other words, the time an item may be considered uncollected is the actual collection time or the Federal Reserve Time Schedule, whichever is the lesser.

(c) The Federal Reserve Time Schedule pertains only to items which the Federal Reserve banks will handle as cash items and which are drawn on banks on the par list. For any item drawn on nonpar banks or which the Federal Reserve bank will not handle as a cash item, the maximum time the item may be considered uncollected is the actual time required to effect collection.

§ 327.258 Assessment Decision No. 158; transfer of funds. (a) Drafts drawn on deposit accounts in other banks in the normal course of business are exempt from assessment under the Federal Deposit Insurance Act. Transfer drafts, therefore, are exempt from assessment under this provision in the act and they, and like instruments issued by the bank for the transfer of funds, represent items issued for the bank's own purposes and are exempt from assessment. The same is true of wire transfers of the bank's own funds from one correspondent bank to another.

(b) Transfer drafts and any other instruments used by the bank for transferring funds from one correspondent bank to another are ineligible for deduction as cash items or in any other manner.

§ 327.259 Assessment Decision No. 159; travelers' checks. (a) Outstanding travelers' checks on which the bank is primarily liable, issued for money or its equivalent, received by the issuing bank, or for a charge against a deposit account in the issuing bank, must be included in deposit liabilities.

(b) An officer's check issued by the reporting bank as agent for others in payment of travelers' checks sold to customers must be included in deposits for assessment purposes. (See § 327.260 Assessment Decision No. 160, Travelers' Checks Sold for Others.)

(c) Travelers' checks issued to bank officers for traveling expenses need not be included in the deposits for the assessment base, for they represent items issued for the bank's own purposes.

§ 327.260 Assessment Decision No. 160; travelers' checks sold for others. When an insured bank sells travelers' checks issued by others and holds the proceeds of such sales as agent, such proceeds are deposits and must be included in the assessment base. Officers' checks outstanding as of the close of business on base days issued in payment of the bank's obligation as such agent must be included in the assessment base.

§ 327.261 Assessment Decision No. 161; Treasury Tax and Loan Account. Effective January 1, 1950, the title of the War Loan Deposit Account was changed to Treasury Tax and Loan Account. This account must be included in deposit liabilities for the computation of assessments.

§ 327.262 Assessment Decision No. 162; trust funds. (a) Trust funds held by an insured bank in a fiduciary capacity, whether held in its trust department or deposited in any other department, or in another bank, must be included in the deposits for the assessment base. All of the uninvested funds of the trust, including the change fund, whether this change fund is held in cash or deposited in some account, such as a commercial account, must be included in the assessment base.

(b) "Trust funds" within the meaning of this decision, includes not only funds held under formal trust agreements but also includes, without being limited to, funds held as trustee, executor, administrator, guardian, or agent. It includes payments made by mortgagors to be held by the bank for the purpose of paying taxes, insurance, and other charges on mortgaged properties.

(c) Any trust funds deposited by the fiduciary bank in another insured bank, that is, a bank which is a member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, may be claimed as a deduction from deposits for the assessment base by the fiduciary bank. The proper procedure is to show the trust funds in the total of deposits on the Certified Statement and to claim a deduction in the space provided on the Certified Statement for the trust funds which are deposited in another insured bank. No deduction may be claimed for trust funds deposited by the fiduciary bank in a bank which is not a member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation even though such deposited funds may be considered as a legal trust investment under applicable law. The depository bank must include such deposited trust funds in its assessment base. (See § 327.263 Assessment Decision No. 163, Trust Funds Deposited in Other Banks.)

§ 327.263 Assessment Decision No. 163; trust funds deposited in other banks. (a) The term "trust funds" means funds held by an insured bank in a fiduciary capacity whether held in its trust department or deposited in any other department or in another bank and includes without being limited to, funds held as trustee, executor, administrator, guardian, or agent.

(b) The reporting bank must include in its total deposit liabilities for assessment purposes all trust funds held by it in a fiduciary capacity whether held in its own trust department or in another bank. It may deduct from the reported total deposit liabilities the following portion of such trust funds:

(1) Trust funds received by the reporting bank in its trust department which the reporting bank has deposited directly from its trust department to a depositary insured bank;

(2) Trust funds received by other departments of the reporting bank from sources other than the trust department which funds the reporting bank has deposited directly from such department or from its trust department to the depositary insured bank;

(3) Trust funds deposited directly to the account of the reporting bank in a depositary insured bank by a person or persons other than the reporting bank;

(4) Trust funds originating from a pre-existing deposit account in another insured bank to which the reporting bank has become entitled in its fiduciary capacity: Provided, That in each of the foregoing instances:

(i) The account is maintained in the depositary insured bank by the reporting bank as fiduciary and the account is appropriately entitled to show that the funds therein are trust funds;

(ii) The funds in such account are used exclusively for their trust purposes by the reporting bank; and

(iii) Records are kept which clearly show that the trust funds have been deposited and maintained in the manner above stated.

(c) It should be noted from the foregoing that no deduction may be made if the funds are deposited in a noninsured bank. This means that the fiduciary bank must include in its deposits for the assessment base the full amount of the uninvested trust funds deposited in a noninsured bank.

(d) It should also be noted that there is no distinction from an assessment standpoint between trust funds actually deposited by the trustee bank and trust funds already on deposit in another bank at the time of its appointment as trustee. Accordingly, any of such funds already on deposit in a noninsured bank must be included in the assessment base of the fiduciary bank. Such funds on deposit in an insured bank must be reported in the deposit liabilities on the Certified Statement but in such case may be claimed as a deduction on the Certified Statement.

§ 327.264 Assessment Decision No. 164; trust department vouchers and drafts or checks. (a) Trust funds held by an insured bank in a fiduciary capacity whether held in its trust department or deposited in any other department of the bank, are required to be included in deposits for the assessment base. When checks, vouchers, or drafts are issued against such funds, the funds continue to be subject to assessment until actually disbursed by the bank. Therefore, if the trust accounts are not charged upon the execution of the check, voucher, or draft, such check, voucher, or draft, need not be included in the assessment base but the accounts themselves must be included therein. However, if the respective trust accounts are charged, the amount of the outstanding check, voucher, or draft, or the account set up to record the amount thereof must be included in the assessment base.

(b) When such checks, drafts, or vouchers are drawn by the fiduciary bank against trust funds deposited in a bank which is not insured, the same rules apply; that is, the fiduciary bank is required to include the trust funds in its assessment base whether retained in the fiduciary bank or deposited in a noninsured bank: Therefore, it must include the trust funds in its assessment base until the check, voucher, or draft, drawn against the funds deposited in a noninsured bank are actually disbursed by the noninsured bank.

(c) When checks, drafts, or vouchers are drawn by the fiduciary bank against trust funds deposited in another insured bank, they need not be included in the assessment base.

§ 327.265 Assessment Decision No. 165; trustee funds held for redemption of bonds. A bank acting as a trustee under an indenture and holding funds for the payment of bonds matured or called for redemption, is required to include such funds in the deposit liabilities and may not claim them as a deduction.

§ 327.266 Assessment Decision No. 166; warrants. (a) A large variety of so-called warrants are issued by county, State, and municipal officials. Usually these warrants are drawn against the treasurer of the entity.

(b) Some warrants direct the treasurer to pay a certain sum of money to the payee with the charge to be made to some specific fund, others provide a space for the official to insert the notation that the warrant has been presented but not paid for want of funds, and still others appear to be more in the nature of an order directing the public official to issue a warrant to the stated payee for a certain amount of money.

(c) To be eligible for deduction as a cash item, the warrant must meet the requirements of a cash item as that term is defined in § 327.1 (b). (See § 327.123 Assessment Decision No. 23, Cash Items Eligible for Deduction as Exchanges.) One of these requirements is that the item must be payable upon presentation. The fact that a warrant may not be paid on presentation does not make the item ineligible as a cash item if it otherwise meets the requirements of a cash item, and if the bank has no knowledge that the item will not be paid on presentation.

(d) If the receiving bank knows that a warrant will not be paid upon presentation as, for instance, it has knowledge that the paying municipality does not have sufficient funds at the time to make payment, and the warrant is not handled as a cash item, such a warrant is not eligible for deduction as a cash item either on the day of receipt or later when funds are available for payment. Such a warrant obviously would not meet the requirements that it must be payable on presentation and when it is presented later and paid, it would not meet the requirement of a cash item with respect to time of receipt by the reporting bank.

§ 327.267 Assessment Decision No. 167; withholding taxes. (a) Withheld taxes must be included in deposits for the assessment base. This is true whether the amounts are deducted from the employees' salaries or contributed by the bank itself, for it is considered that an employer or "withholding agent" is an agent of the Federal Government in the collection of taxes and that the funds so deducted are not the property of the withholding agent but are held in trust pending transmittal to the United States Treasury and the beneficial ownership thereof is the United States.

(b) The Treasury Tax and Loan Account originated January 1, 1950, and since that date the withheld taxes were included in that account. As this account must be included in the assessment base, the withheld taxes included therein are automatically included in the base.

(c) If a bank makes provision for payment of its share of any withholding taxes before such taxes are due to the government, the amount of reserve so provided for the payment of its share of taxes need not be included in the assessment base until the taxes become due.

PART 329—PAYMENT OF DEPOSITS AND INTEREST THEREON BY INSURED NONMEMBER BANKS

SAVINGS DEPOSIT

Effective May 16, 1955, Part 329 is amended:

1. By adding at the end of § 329.1 (e) the following new undesignated paragraph and new footnote reference:

The term "savings deposit" also means a deposit evidenced by a written receipt or agreement although not by a pass book, consisting of funds of the kind described above in this paragraph (e) and in respect to which deposit the depositor is required, or may at any time be required, by the bank to give notice in writing of an intended withdrawal not less than thirty (30) days before such withdrawal is made, and withdrawals are permitted only through payment to the depositor himself but not to any other person whether or not acting for the depositor.[5a]

2. By adding the following new footnote to said § 329.1 (e):

[5a] Payment may be made to the depositor over-the-counter, through the mails or otherwise.

The notice and public participation described in section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act and Part 302, Title 12, Code of Federal Regulations, are found to be unnecessary because they would not aid the persons affected, would serve no useful purpose, and because these amendments do not diminish but enlarge the rights of depositors and insured nonmember banks.

§ 404.1201 General effect of section 218 of the act—(a) States. Under the provisions of section 218 of the act a State may request the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare to enter into an agreement with the State for the purpose of extending to certain employees of the State and its political subdivisions protection accorded other employees by the old-age and survivors insurance system embodied in the Social Security Act. Each State may signify its intention to extend the benefits of the system to certain groups of its employees and to certain groups of employees of its political subdivisions by requesting the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare to enter into an agreement with the State to provide for coverage under the old-age and survivors insurance system of any one or more groups of such employees.

§ 404.1220 Measure of contribution. The State's contribution is measured by the amount of wages actually or constructively paid on or after the effective date of an agreement entered into between the State and the Secretary with respect to services performed in employment by an employee in a coverage group included in such agreement. (See § 404.1003 relating to employment and §§ 404.1026 and 404.1027 relating to wages.)

For the calendar years 1970 to 1974, both inclusive	3½
For the calendar year 1975 and subsequent years	4

(c) Method of computation of contributions. The tax is computed by applying to the wages actually or constructively paid to an employee the rate in effect at the time such wages are actually or constructively paid.

Example. During 1953, A is engaged in the performance of service in employment. In the following year, 1954, A receives $250 from his employer as remuneration for services which he performed in the preceding year. The applicable rate is the rate for the year 1954 (the year in which the wages are received), and not 1½ percent, the rate for the calendar year 1953 (the year in which the services were performed).

§ 404.1222 Liability of State for contributions. The State is liable for contributions with respect to the wages paid to individuals performing services in employment as employees in any coverage group included in the agreement. The amount of the State's liability is equal to the sum of the taxes which would be imposed by sections 1400 and 1410 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1939 if the services of the employees covered by the agreement constituted employment as defined in section 1426 of such code, and the sum of the taxes which would be imposed by sections 3101 and 3111 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 if the services of the employees covered by the agreement constituted employment as defined in section 3121 of such code. With respect to service covered under the agreement and performed subsequent to the date of execution of the agreement, the liability of the State attaches at the time that the wages are either actually or constructively paid to individuals performing service in employment as employees in any coverage group included in the agreement, notwithstanding the fact that the wages are paid in media other than money (for example, wages paid in board or lodging; see § 404.1026 (a)). If the agreement is effective retroactively with respect to service in employment performed by individuals as members of any coverage group, the liability of the State with respect to wages paid during such retroactive period attaches as of the date of execution of the agreement, or the modification of the agreement pursuant to which the coverage group is included thereunder, as the case may be.

§ 404.1223 Manner and time of payment of contributions by State. Federal Reserve Banks are authorized to receive the contributions required to be paid to the Secretary of the Treasury by an agreement made pursuant to the Social Security Act, as amended. The contributions shall be paid in money to the Federal Reserve Bank, or any branch thereof, serving the district in which the State is located, without notice, at the time fixed for filing of its contribution returns. (For provisions relating to the filing of contribution returns, see § 404.1255.)

§ 404.1224 When fractional part of a cent may be disregarded. In payment of contributions to a Federal Reserve bank, a State may disregard a fractional part of a cent unless it amounts to one-half cent or more, in which case it shall be increased to one cent. Fractional parts of a cent shall not be disregarded in the computation of contributions.

§ 404.1225 Rate of interest. If the contribution is not paid to the Federal Reserve bank, or branch thereof, when due and is not adjusted under § 404.1261, interest accrues at the rate of 6 percent per annum.

§ 404.1226 Addition of interest to contributions for delinquent contribution returns. If a State fails to make and file any of the contribution returns required by the regulations in this subpart within the prescribed time, interest accrues at the rate of 6 percent per annum.

§ 404.1227 Failure to make payments. If any State which has entered into an agreement with the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare pursuant to section 218 of the Social Security Act, as amended, does not pay the contributions at the time or times such contributions are due, the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare may deduct the amounts of such unpaid contributions plus interest from any amounts certified by him to the Secretary of the Treasury for payments to such State under title I, title IV, title V, title VI, or title X of the Social Security Act, as amended. The Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare will notify the Secretary of the Treasury of the amounts so deducted and request him to credit such amounts to the Trust Fund. Amounts so deducted shall be deemed to have been paid to the State under such other provision of the Social Security Act, as amended. (See § 404.1223 relating to time of payment; see § 404.1225 relating to rate of interest.)

§ 404.1230 Statements for employees. Every State shall furnish or cause to be furnished to each individual performing services in employment as an employee in a coverage group included in an agreement, a written statement or statements, in a form suitable for retention by the employee, showing with respect to wages paid to the employee for such services on or after the effective date of the agreement: (a) The name, business address, and identification number of the State or political subdivision, as the case may be, in the employ of which such service was performed; (b) the name, address, and account number of the employee; (c) the period covered by the statement; (d) the total amount of wages subject to contributions under section 218 of the Social Security Act, as amended, paid during such period; and (e) if the State collects or causes to be collected contributions from individuals performing services in employment as employees in coverage groups included in the agreement, the amount of employees' contributions with respect to such wages not in excess of the amount of the tax which would be imposed by the Federal Insurance Contributions Act if the services performed by such employees constituted employment as defined in such act. If an adjustment of employees' contributions is made in accordance with § 404.1266, the amount set forth in paragraph (e) of this section shall be the adjusted amount of such contribution. If the State collects or causes to be collected employees' contributions from any individual performing services in employment as an employee in a coverage group included in an agreement, a statement (Internal Revenue Form W–2) furnished by a State or any political subdivision thereof in accordance with the provisions of section 1633 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1939 or section 6051 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 to such employee shall constitute the statement required for purposes of this section, if there is included in such statement all of the information required by this section. The statement shall be furnished to the employee not later than January 31 of the year following the calendar year covered by the statement, except that, if the employee leaves the employ of the State or of the political subdivision, so that he no longer performs services in employment as an employee in a coverage group included in an agreement, the final statement shall be furnished on the day on which the last payment of wages is made to the employee. (See § 404.1250 (b) relating to the performance of services in more than one coverage group.)

§ 404.1240 Identification numbers—(a) Identification number for State and political subdivision. Every State requesting the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare to enter into an agreement pursuant to section 218 of the act shall furnish a list of the political subdivisions included or to be included in the agreement. Such list shall indicate the title of the official responsible for preparing the report on Form OAR–S3 for the State and the title of each official responsible for filing with the State the report on Form OAR–S3 for each such political subdivision and the business address of each such official. Every State shall file such list with the regional office of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare for the region in which the State is located at the time of requesting the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare to enter into an agreement pursuant to section 218 of the act. If any political subdivision is included in the agreement (with respect to any of its employees) as a result of a referendum held in accordance with section 218 (d) (3) of the act, the State shall include such political subdivision in such list, or shall furnish a supplemental list including such political subdivision at the time the political subdivision is first included under the agreement. Only one identification number will be assigned to the State and only one identification number will be assigned to each political subdivision included in the list. If an identification number has been assigned to any State or to any of its political subdivisions for purposes of reporting covered transportation services, the State shall nevertheless obtain a separate identification number and shall obtain a separate identification number for each political subdivision included in the list for purposes of reporting services covered under an agreement.

(b) Coverage group number for coverage groups. If a State or any political subdivision thereof shall designate the coverage groups of its employees to be included in the agreement, the list referred to in paragraph (a) of this section shall identify each coverage group under the listing of the State, with regard to individuals who perform services as employees of the State in each such coverage group, or of the political subdivision, with regard to the individuals who perform services as employees in each such coverage group of such political subdivision. Such list shall also indicate the title of the official responsible for preparing the report on Form OAR–S3 for each such coverage group and the business address of each such official. A coverage group number will be assigned to each coverage group of the State and each coverage group of such political subdivisions upon the basis of information furnished on the list. The term "coverage group," as used in this section, means a "coverage group," as defined in section 218 (b) (5) of the act, and shall not include a "coverage group" as defined in section 218 (d) (4) of the act.

(c) Unit numbers for pay roll record units. If a State or any political subdivision thereof maintains more than one pay roll record unit with respect to the employees in any one or more coverage groups included under the agreement, the lists referred to in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section shall also indicate the agencies, departments, or other branches of the State and of such political subdivisions, the records for which are maintained in each such pay roll unit, the title of the official in charge of such pay roll unit and the business address of such official. A unit number will be assigned to each separate pay roll record unit within a State or within any political subdivision thereof.

(d) Use. The identification number (including coverage group numbers assigned to coverage groups and unit numbers assigned to payroll record units) shall be shown on the State's records, reports, returns, and claims to the extent required by §§ 404.1254, 404.1255 (a), 404.1256, and 404.1263 and by the instructions relating to Forms OAR–S1, OAR–S2, OAR–S3, OAR–S4, and Treasury Form 201 to be used by States for reporting wages, adjustments, and contributions.

§ 404.1241 Employees' account numbers—(a) Assignment.—Every individual who performs services in employment as an employee in a coverage group included in an agreement, and who previously has neither secured an account number nor made application therefor, shall make an application on Form SS–5 with any district office of the Social Security Administration on or before the seventh day after the date on which he first performs services in employment for wages as an employee in a coverage group included in an agreement, except that the application shall be made on or before the date the employee leaves the employ of the State or its political subdivision if such date of leaving precedes such seventh day. Copies of Form SS–5 may be obtained from any district office of the Social Security Administration or from any district director of internal revenue. An account number will be assigned to the employee on the basis of information reported on the application required under this section.

(b) Change. An employee may have his account number changed at any time by applying to a district office of the Social Security Administration and showing good reason for a change. With that exception, only one account number will be assigned to an employee. Any employee whose name is changed by marriage or otherwise, or who has stated incorrect information on Form SS–5 should report such change or correction to a district office of the Social Security Administration. Copies of the Form OAAN–7003 for making such reports may be obtained from any district office of the Social Security Administration.

§ 404.1242 Duties of employee with respect to his account number—(a) Employee required to show his account number card. Every individual who performs services in employment as an employee in a coverage group included in an agreement shall show his account number card to the State or political subdivision thereof by which he is employed so that his account number and his name can be recorded exactly as they are shown on his account number card as issued to him by the Social Security Administration. The employee shall show his account number card as soon as he first performs services in employment as an employee in a coverage group included in an agreement entered into by any State. The account number originally assigned to an employee (or the number as changed in accordance with § 404.1241 (b)) shall be used by him even though he enters the employ of other employers or performs services in employment as an employee in a coverage group included in an agreement entered into by any other State.

(b) Duties if employee does not have an account number card in his possession—(1) Where employee has receipt for application for account number. If, when an individual first performs services in employment for wages as an employee in a coverage group included in an agreement, such individual, for any reason, does not have an account number card in his possession, he shall, in every case, show his account number card in accordance with paragraph (a) of this section as soon as he receives it, whether or not at that time he is still performing services in employment for wages as an employee in a coverage group included in an agreement. However, if such individual has available a receipt issued to him by an office of the Social Security Administration, acknowledging that application for account number has been received, the individual shall show such receipt in lieu of an account number card. (For provisions related to the duties of the State when an individual shows such a receipt see § 404.1243 (a).)

(2) Where employee has no receipt. If the individual does not have an account number card or a receipt issued to him by an office of the Social Security Administration acknowledging that application for an account number has been received, he shall furnish to the State or political subdivision by which he is employed, as the case may be, an application on Form SS–5 completely filled in and signed by him. If a copy of Form SS–5 is not available, the individual shall in lieu thereof furnish the State or political subdivision by which he is employed, as the case may be, a statement in writing, signed by him setting forth the date of the statement, his full name, present address, date and place of birth, father's full name, mother's full name before marriage, and the individual's sex and color, including a statement as to whether he has previously filed application on Form SS–5, and if so, the date and place of such filing. The furnishing of an executed Form SS–5, or statement in lieu thereof, by the individual to the State or political subdivision, as the case may be, does not relieve such individual of his obligation to make application on Form SS–5 and file it with a district office of the Social Security Administration as required by § 404.1241. (For provisions related to the disposition to be made by the State of an executed Form SS–5 or a statement in lieu thereof furnished by the individual under this subparagraph, see § 404.1243 (b) (2).)

§ 404.1243 Duties of State with respect to employees' account numbers—(a) Where employee has account number or receipt. The State shall enter or cause the entry of the employee's name and account number exactly as shown on his account number card on all records, returns, reports, and claims to the extent required by §§ 404.1254, 404.1256, and 404.1265 of the regulations in this subpart and by the instructions relating to Form OAR–S3, for reporting wages, and Form OAR–S4, for reporting adjustments. Upon failure of an individual to show his account number card when he first performs services in employment as an employee in a coverage group included in an agreement, the State or the political subdivision by which he is employed, as the case may be, shall request the individual for such card. If he does not have an account number card and has not filed application for an account number with a district office of the Social Security Administration, the State or political subdivision, as the case may be, when the individual first performs services in employment as an employee in a coverage group included in an agreement, shall inform the individual of the provisions of § 404.1241 and § 404.1242. The State or political subdivision, as the case may be, shall also request him to show his account number card as soon as he receives it from the Social Security Administration. If the individual shows, as provided in § 404.1242 (b) (1), a receipt issued by the Social Security Administration acknowledging that application for account number has been received from him, the State or the political subdivision, as the case may be, shall enter in its records with respect to such individual the date of issue of the receipt, its termination date, the address of the issuing office, and the name and address of the individual exactly as shown in the receipt. The receipt shall be retained by the individual.

(b) Where employee has no account number. In any case in which the individual has not shown his account number to the State or political subdivision, as the case may be, prior to the time the State's report on Form OAR–S3 is filed for any quarter during which the employee receives wages from such State or political subdivision:

(1) If the individual has shown, as provided in § 404.1242 (b) (1), a receipt of the Social Security Administration acknowledging that application for account number has been received from him, the State shall enter or cause to be entered on the report with the entry with respect to such individual with the words "Temporary Receipt" together with the name and address of the individual exactly as shown in the receipt, the date of issue of the receipt, address of the issuing officer; or

(2) If the individual has furnished, as provided in § 404.1242 (b) (2), an executed Form SS–5, or statement in lieu thereof, the State shall attach or cause to be attached a copy of such form or statement to the report. The State shall retain or cause to be retained the copy executed by the individual until he shows his account number card; or

(3) If the individual has not shown his account number or an executed Form SS–5, and does not submit a statement to the State or political subdivision by which he is employed, as provided in § 404.1242 (b) (2), the State or political subdivision shall file a statement in writing with a district office of the Social Security Administration, setting forth the date of the statement, full name of the employee, his present address, date and place of birth, father's full name, mother's full name before marriage, and the individual's sex and color, and, in lieu of the employee's signature, a notation that the employee refused to file application for account number. An account number will be assigned to the employee and communicated to the State or political subdivision furnishing such statement, and such account number will be entered on the wage reports filed with respect to the wages of such employee.

If the individual shows his account number card or receipt prior to the time the State's report on Form OAR–S3 is filed and the State enters or causes to be entered such name and number on the report, the State shall return or cause to be returned to the individual any executed Form SS–5 or statement in lieu thereof furnished by such individual to the State or political subdivision in accordance with § 404.1242 (b) (2).

(c) Prospective employees. While not mandatory, it is suggested that the State advise or cause to be advised any prospective employee who does not have an account number card as to the requirements of §§ 404.1241 and 404.1242.

§ 404.1250 Wage reports and contribution returns—(a) In general—(1) Wage reports. Every State that enters into an agreement shall make or cause to be made, with respect to individuals performing services in employment as employees in a coverage group included in an agreement, a wage report on Form OAR–S3 for each calendar quarter (whether or not wages are paid therein), beginning with the first calendar quarter with respect to which the agreement is effective, until it files a final report as required by the provisions of § 404.1252. Every State shall make such wage report on Form OAR–S3 with respect to employees of the State included in an agreement and shall obtain, with respect to employees in every other coverage group included in the agreement a complete and correct wage report on Form OAR–S3 for the employees of each such coverage group. The State shall prepare a recapitulation report, Form OAR–S2, identifying each political subdivision by the identification number assigned to each political subdivision, in accordance with instructions relating to Form OAR–S2, and shall file the original of the recapitulation report, along with the original of each wage report (Form OAR–S3), with the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, Social Security Administration, Candler Building, Baltimore 2, Maryland.

(2) Wage reports of remuneration for agricultural labor subject to $100 wage limitation. If any State that enters into an agreement shall, in accordance with section 218 (c) (5) of the Social Security Act, exclude from such agreement with respect to any coverage group services the remuneration for which would be excluded from wages under paragraph (2) of section 209 (h) of the act, the State shall include or cause to be included in the wage report on Form OAR–S3 and on any report of adjustments on Form OAR–S4 for such coverage group any remuneration paid in any calendar quarter for such services subject to the limitation on wages for such services in said section 209 (h) (2) of the act; and the State shall identify or cause to be identified on the wage report (Form OAR–S3) and on any report of adjustments (Form OAR–S4) the individuals in such coverage group performing such services, in accordance with instructions relating to Form OAR–S3 and Form OAR–S4.

(3) Contribution returns. The State shall also file with the Federal Reserve Bank, or any branch thereof, serving the district in which the State is located, a quarterly contribution return (Form OAR–S1), and shall accompany such return with payment of the amount of contributions due and payable. A certificate of deposit (Treasury Form 201) shall be filed in quadruplicate, the first carbon copy of which shall be signed by the depositing officer of the State, and the third carbon copy of which shall be securely stapled to the Form OAR–S1. Checks for such contributions shall be made payable to the Treasurer of the United States. A copy of the contribution return (Form OAR–S1) shall be attached to the recapitulation report (Form OAR–S2) filed by the State with the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare. For the purposes of reports and returns under the act, the quarters shall each be three calendar months as follows: (i) January 1 to March 31, both dates inclusive; (ii) from April 1 to June 30, both dates inclusive; (iii) from July 1 to September 30, both dates inclusive; and (iv) from October 1 to December 31, both dates inclusive.

(b) Employees performing services for more than one coverage group—(1) Employee of State in more than one coverage group. Where an individual performs services in employment as an employee of the State in more than one coverage group included in an agreement, the aggregate wages paid to such employee by the State, not in excess of $3,600 paid in any calendar year prior to 1955 and not in excess of $4,200 paid in any calendar year subsequent to 1954 by the State, shall be reported in the report filed for only one such coverage group, in such manner as may be specified in the agreement.

(2) Employee of political subdivision in more than one coverage group. Where an individual performs services in employment as an employee of a political subdivision of the State in more than one coverage group included in an agreement, the aggregate wages paid to such employee by the political subdivision, not in excess of $3,600 paid in any calendar year prior to 1955 and not in excess of $4,200 paid in any calendar year subsequent to 1954 by the political subdivision, shall be reported in the report filed for only one such coverage group, in such manner as may be specified in the agreement.

(3) Employee of State and of one or more political subdivisions. Where an individual performs services in employment as an employee of the State in one or more coverage groups included in an agreement and as an employee of one or more political subdivisions of a State in one or more coverage groups included in an agreement, the aggregate wages paid to such employees by the State, not in excess of $3,600 paid in any calendar year prior to 1955 and not in excess of $4,200 paid in any calendar year subsequent to 1954 by the State, shall be reported by the State in accordance with subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, and the aggregate wages paid to such employee by each political subdivision of the State, not in excess of $3,600 paid in any calendar year prior to 1955 and not in excess of $4,200 paid in any calendar year subsequent to 1954 by each such political subdivision, shall be reported by each such political subdivision in accordance with subparagraph (2) of this paragraph.

(4) Employee of more than one political subdivision. Where an individual performs services in employment as an employee of one political subdivision in one or more coverage groups included in an agreement and as an employee of one or more other political subdivisions in one or more coverage groups included in an agreement, the aggregate wages paid to such employee by each such political subdivision, not in excess of $3,600 paid in any calendar year prior to 1955 and not in excess of $4,200 paid in any calendar year subsequent to 1954, by each such political subdivision, shall be reported by each such political subdivision in accordance with subparagraph (2) of this paragraph.

(c) Filing of wage reports and contribution returns with district directors of internal revenue. (1) Where a State or any of its political subdivisions has in its employ individuals performing services for the State or a political subdivision of the State as members of a coverage group included under an agreement and such individuals also regularly perform services identical in nature in the employ of employers who are subject to the provisions of subchapter A or E of Chapter 9 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1939 and the corresponding provisions of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 with respect to the wages paid by such employers for such services to such individuals, and where, with the approval of the Internal Revenue Service, the payment of the taxes and the filing of information returns required of employers under subchapter A or E of Chapter 9 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1939 and the corresponding provisions of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 are made for all such employers by an agent appointed by them, such State may, with respect to such individuals, elect to permit the agent of such employers to file tax and information returns with, and to make payment thereon to, a district director of internal revenue in the manner and according to the conditions prescribed in regulations of the Internal Revenue Service relating to the employees' tax and the employers' tax under subchapter A or E of Chapter 9 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1939 and the corresponding provisions of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954.

(2) Where the Secretary has been furnished with written evidence to the effect that a State has made such an election and that the Commissioner of Internal Revenue has agreed to permit a district director of internal revenue to accept and receive such contribution and information returns and payment of contributions, the filing of such tax and information returns with, and the payment of such contributions to, the district director shall be deemed to be compliance with the requirements imposed upon the State by paragraph (a) of this section, except that nothing contained in this paragraph shall relieve any such State of its obligations and responsibilities under its agreement and the regulations in this subpart relative to its liability for the payments required under its agreement.

§ 404.1251 When to report wages.—Wages shall be reported in the wage report (Form OAR–S3) for the calendar quarter in which they are actually paid unless they were constructively paid in a prior calendar quarter, in which case such wages shall be reported in the report for such prior quarter (see § 404.1001 (1) relating to constructive payment of wages).

§ 404.1252 Final reports—(a) Termination of agreement. A final report can be filed only by a State whose agreement with the Secretary has been terminated. The last report on Form OAR–S3 for each coverage group included in an agreement of any State whose agreement has been terminated shall be marked "final report." Such report shall be filed by the State in accordance with § 404.1250 (a) on or before the 30th day after the date on which the final payment of wages subject to the agreement is made for services in employment performed by an individual as an employee in a coverage group, and shall plainly show the period covered and also the date of the last payment of wages. There shall be executed as a part of each final report a statement giving the title and business address of the official of the State responsible for keeping the records of the State and the title and business address of each official of the State and each official of its political subdivisions responsible for keeping the records of any political subdivision included in an agreement for the periods covered by the agreement in the event that it is necessary to communicate with the State or any of its political subdivisions regarding such records.

(b) Partial termination of agreement. If an agreement is not terminated in its entirety, but is terminated only with respect to one or more coverage groups, the last wage report on Form OAR–S3 for each such coverage group shall be marked "final report," and there shall be attached to each such report a statement setting forth the title and business address of the official responsible for keeping the records with respect to such coverage group or groups for the periods covered by the agreement.

§ 404.1253 Execution of contribution returns and wage reports. Each contribution return on Form OAR–S1 and wage report on Form OAR–S2 shall be signed by a responsible and duly authorized officer of the State.

§ 404.1254 Use of prescribed forms—(a) Procurement of forms. Copies of prescribed return and report forms will, as far as possible, be regularly furnished the State by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare without application therefor. A State will not be excused from making a return, or report, however, by the fact that no return or report form has been furnished to it. States or political subdivisions not supplied with the proper forms should make application therefor to the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, Social Security Administration, Candler Building, Baltimore 2, Maryland, in ample time to have returns and reports prepared and verified, compiled and filed with the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare and Federal Reserve Banks on or before the due date (see § 404.1255 relating to the place and time for filing returns and reports, see also § 404.1252 relating to final reports).

(b) Compliance with instructions. Each contribution return and wage report, together with a copy thereof and any supporting data, shall be filled in and disposed of in accordance with the instructions and regulations applicable thereto. (See § 404.1255 relating to the place and time for filing returns and reports and § 404.1256 (c) and (e) relating to copies of returns, reports, schedules and statements, and to the place and period for keeping records.) The returns and reports should set forth fully and accurately the data therein called for. Returns and reports which have not been so prepared will not be accepted as meeting the requirements of the act nor the terms of the agreement under which the State is reporting. Only one wage report for a reporting period with regard to services covered under an agreement shall be filed by or for a State. Any supplemental wage report filed for such period in accordance with § 404.1261, § 404.1262, § 404.1263, or § 404.1264 of the regulations in this subpart shall constitute a part of such wage report. Individual wage reports of political subdivisions may not be filed directly with the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare by political subdivisions, but must be filed by the State as a part of the State's consolidated report.

(c) Correction of errors. If in a wage report or in any other manner the State fails to report or incorrectly reports to the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare the wages of an employee, the State shall fully advise the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare of the omission or error on a report of adjustments (Form OAR–S4). The State shall include in such report the identification number of the political subdivision involved, each calendar quarter for which the data were omitted or for which the incorrect data were furnished, the data incorrectly reported for each period, and the data which should have been reported. The State shall retain or cause to be retained a copy of each such form OAR–S4 as a part of its records.

§ 404.1255 Place and time for filing contribution returns and wage reports—(a) In general. Each wage report on Form OAR–S3, together with a recapitulation report (Form OAR–S2) shall be filed with the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, Social Security Administration, Candler Building, Baltimore 2, Maryland. Contribution returns shall be filed in the manner prescribed in § 404.1250 (a) (2), together with the contribution payment, with the Federal Reserve Bank, or branch thereof, serving the district in which the State is located. Such returns shall be filed with respect to contributions for any wage payment or any supplemental wage payment reported on Form OAR–S3. Such returns shall also be filed if contributions are payable with respect to any adjustment of wages reported on Form OAR–S4. Except as provided in § 404.1252 and paragraph (b) of this section, the contribution return and wage report for any calendar quarter any part of which is in the first 12-month period following the date of acceptance of an agreement by the Secretary (but not including the date of acceptance of any modification thereof) shall be filed on or before the last day of the second month following the calendar quarter for which it is made; the contribution return and wage report for any subsequent calendar quarter shall be filed on or before the last day of the first month following the calendar quarter for which it is made: Provided, however, That the Secretary, for good cause shown, may, upon application by a State, allow such further time as he may deem proper for the filing of contribution returns and wage reports for the periods for which they are made. If wage reports on Form OAR–S3 for the State or for all the political subdivisions included in the agreement have not been received by the State in time to permit the State to file a completed consolidated wage report and the completed contribution return on or before the due date, the State shall indicate on the recapitulation report (Form OAR–S2) each political subdivision or coverage group with respect to which no report on Form OAR–S3 has been received for the calendar quarter for which the consolidated report is being submitted. The State, promptly upon receipt of the wage report for the delinquent political subdivision, shall file such report, with the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare and shall file with the Federal Reserve Bank, or branch thereof, a contribution return with respect to wages reported in such report and shall pay the contributions thereon plus interest. If the last day for filing any contribution return or wage report falls on Sunday or a legal holiday, the return or wage report may be filed on the next following business day. If placed in the mails, the contribution return or wage report shall be posted in ample time to reach the Federal Reserve Bank, or branch thereof, or the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare under ordinary handling of the mails on or before the due date. (As to interest assessable for failure to file a contribution return within the prescribed time see § 404.1226.)

(b) For periods prior to date of execution of agreement. If the agreement provides for the coverage of employees performing services in employment for the State or any of its political subdivisions at the time the agreement is executed for calendar quarters during which such employees were in the employ of the State or any of its political subdivisions prior to the date of execution of the agreement, including the calendar quarter in which the agreement is executed, any contribution returns or wage reports for such prior calendar quarters shall be filed not more than 90 days after date of execution of the agreement. The Secretary, for good cause shown, may, upon application by a State, allow such further time for the filing of contribution returns and wage reports for periods prior to the date of execution of the agreement (or modification) as he may deem proper. (As to interest assessable for failure to file a contribution return within the prescribed time see § 404.1226.)

§ 404.1256 Records—(a) Records of States. Every State which enters into an agreement shall keep or cause to be kept accurate records of all remuneration (whether in cash or in a medium other than cash) paid to employees performing services in employment in a coverage group included in an agreement after the effective date of such agreement, for services covered by such agreement. Such records may be maintained by such State, or, with respect to employees of any political subdivision thereof, by such political subdivision. No particular form is prescribed for keeping the records required by this paragraph. Each State shall use or cause to be used such forms and systems of accounting as will enable the Secretary to ascertain whether the contributions for which the State is liable are correctly computed and paid. Such records shall show with respect to each employee:

(1) The name, address, and account number of the employee (see § 404.1243 relating to account numbers) and such additional information with respect to the employee as is required by § 404.1243 (a) when the employee does not show his account number card as issued to him by the Social Security Administration;

(2) The total amount (including any sum withheld therefrom as contribution or for any other reason) and date of each remuneration payment and the period of services covered by such payment;

(3) The amount of such remuneration payment which constitutes wages (see § 404.1026 for wages and § 404.1027 for exclusions from wages); and

(4) The amount of employees' contribution, if any, withheld or collected with respect to such payment, and if collected at a time other than the time such payment was made, the date collected. If the total remuneration payment (subparagraph (2) of this paragraph) and the amount thereof which is subject to contribution (subparagraph (3) of this paragraph) are not equal, the reason therefor shall be made a matter of record. Accurate records of the details of each adjustment or settlement made pursuant to § 404.1261 or § 404.1262 shall also be kept.

(b) Records of employees. While not mandatory, it is advisable for each employee to keep permanent, accurate records showing the name and address of the State or political subdivision for which he performs services in employment as an employee in a coverage group included in an agreement, the dates of beginning and termination of such services, the information with respect to himself which the State is required by paragraph (a) of this section to keep or cause to be kept, and the statements furnished in accordance with the provisions of § 404.1230. (See paragraph (d) of this section relating to records of claimants.)

(c) Copies of returns, reports, schedules, and statements. Every State which is required, by these regulations or by instructions applicable to any form prescribed under these regulations, to keep or cause to be kept any copy of any return, report, schedule, statement, or other document, shall keep such copy or cause it to be kept as part of its records.

(d) Records of claims for refund or credit of contributions. Any State claiming refund or credit of any contribution or interest shall keep or cause to be kept a complete and detailed record with respect to such contribution or interest.

(e) Place and period for keeping records. All records required by the regulations in this subpart shall be kept at one or more convenient and safe locations accessible to Social Security Administration officers. Such records shall at all times be open for inspection by such officers. Records required by paragraphs (a) and (c) of this section shall be maintained for a period of at least four years after the date of the contribution to which they relate became due or after the date the contributions were paid, whichever is later, whether or not, in the interim, the agreement has been terminated in whole or in part. Records required by paragraph (d) of this section (including any record required by paragraphs (a) or (c) which relates to a claim) shall be maintained for a period of at least four years after the date the claim is filed, whether or not, in the interim, the agreement has been terminated in whole or in part.

§ 404.1257 Employees as members of "retirement system" coverage group—(a) Retirement system coverage group comprised of employees of the State or of a single political subdivision. Where an agreement is made applicable to individuals performing services in employment as employees in a coverage group, as the term "coverage group" is defined in section 218 (d) (4) of the act, and all of the individuals in such coverage group are employees of the State, the State shall make a wage report with respect to employees of the State in such coverage group. If all of the individuals in such coverage group are employees of a single political subdivision, the State shall obtain a wage report for the individuals in such coverage group from the political subdivision. If employees of the State or of such political subdivision, other than individuals in such coverage group, are also included under the agreement, a single wage report shall be made or obtained with respect to all of the employees of the State, or all of the employees of the political subdivision, as the case may be, who are included under the agreement. The wage report shall be made and filed in the manner and form, and at the times, and subject to the requirements prescribed in the regulations in this subpart.

(b) Retirement system coverage group comprised of employees of the State and political subdivisions or more than one political subdivision. Where the agreement is made applicable to individuals performing services in employment as employees in a coverage group, as the term "coverage group" is defined in section 218 (d) (4) of the act, and some of the individuals in such coverage group are employees of the State and some of the individuals in such coverage group are employees of one or more political subdivisions of the State, or some of the individuals in such coverage group are employees of a political subdivision of the State and some of the individuals in such coverage group are employees of any other political subdivisions or political subdivisions of the State, the State shall make or cause to be made a single wage report with respect to all of the employees of the State to whom the agreement applies (including employees of the State in such coverage group) and shall make or cause to be made a single wage report with respect to all of the employees of each political subdivision of the State to whom the agreement applies (including employees of such political subdivision in such coverage group) in the manner and form, and at the times, and subject to the requirements prescribed in the regulations in this subpart.

(c) Retirement system coverage group comprised of employees of institutions of higher learning which are not political subdivisions. If an institution of higher learning is not a political subdivision of the State, individuals performing services for such institution of higher learning as employees in a coverage group (as the term "coverage group" is defined in section 218 (d) (4) of the act) included under the agreement pursuant to section 218 (d) (3) of the act, the wages paid to such individuals shall be reported in the wage reports made by the State. If such individuals are employees of a political subdivision of the State, the wages paid to such individuals shall be reported in the wage reports made by the political subdivision by which they are employed.

Such wage reports shall be made in the manner and form, and at the times, and subject to the requirements prescribed in the regulations in this subpart.

§ 404.1260 Adjustments in general. Errors in the payment of contributions must be adjusted in certain cases without interest. Not all corrections of erroneous payments of contributions, however, constitute adjustments within the meaning of the regulations in this subpart. The various situations under which such adjustments shall be made are set forth in §§ 404.1261, 404.1262, 404.1263, and 404.1264, the provisions of which also relate to settlement other than by adjustment under certain circumstances set forth therein. Errors in the payment of contributions must be reported to the Social Security Administration by the State (and not directly by any political subdivision of the State). Likewise, all claims shall be filed by the State. Refunds and credits will be made only to the State (and not directly to any political subdivision of the State).

§ 404.1261 Adjustment of the underpayments of contributions—(a) Method of making adjustment. (1) If a State shall file a quarterly contribution return and shall accompany such return with payment of contributions due and payable as reported on such return in accordance with § 404.1250 (a) (3) but the amount of the contributions reported and paid is less than the correct amount of contributions due and payable and the underpayment of contributions is attributable to an error in computing the contributions (other than an error in applying the rate of contributions in effect at the time the wages were paid), the State shall adjust the underpayment by reporting the additional amount due by reason of such underpayment either as an adjustment of total contributions due with the first quarterly wage report filed after notification of the underpayment by the Social Security Administration, or as a single adjustment of total contributions due with any contribution return filed prior to the filing of such quarterly wage report.

(2) If an underpayment of contributions is due to an underreporting of or a failure to report one or more employees on Form OAR–S3, a Form OAR–S4 shall be filed within 30 days after ascertainment of the error by the State together with a copy of the Form OAR–S1 prepared in accordance with the instructions contained therein. The Form OAR–S4 shall show the amount of wages, if any, erroneously reported for the calendar quarter and the correct amount of wages that should have been reported and the identification number of the State or the political subdivision for each employee who was omitted or erroneously reported. The filing of the Form OAR–S4 to correct an underreporting of or a failure to report one or more employee's wages shall not constitute an adjustment under this section unless the wages were erroneously omitted from or erroneously reported on the Form OAR–S3.

(b) Payment. The amount of each underpayment adjusted in accordance with this section shall be paid to the Federal Reserve Bank, or branch thereof, serving the district in which the State is located, without interest, at the time of reporting the adjustment. If an adjustment is reported pursuant to this paragraph but the amount thereof is not paid when due, interest thereafter accrues. (For interest accruing on amounts so reported, see § 404.1225.)

§ 404.1262 Adjustment of overpayment of contributions—(a) In general. If a State pays more than the correct amount of contributions, the State shall cause the adjustment of the overpayment by reporting such amount either as an adjustment of total contributions due with the first quarterly wage report filed after notification of the overpayment by the Social Security Administration or as a single adjustment of total contributions due with any contribution return filed prior to the filing of such quarterly wage report.

(b) Overpayment due to overreporting of wages. If the overpayment is due to an overreporting of the amount of wages paid to one or more employees during one or more calendar quarters, and such overpayment is not adjusted in accordance with paragraph (a) of this section, a report on Form OAR–S4 showing the amount or amounts of wages previously reported for the quarter or quarters and the correct amount or amounts of wages, if any, paid to such employee in such calendar quarter or quarters, shall be filed upon ascertainment of the error by the State, together with a copy of the Form OAR–S1 prepared in accordance with the instructions contained thereon.

§ 404.1263 Refund or recomputation of overpayments which are not adjustable—(a) In general. If more than the correct amount of contribution or interest is paid to the Federal Reserve Bank, or branch thereof, by any State, and such overpayment is not adjustable in accordance with § 404.1262, such State may file a claim for refund or recomputation of such overpayment.

(b) Request for recomputation. If more than the correct amount of contribution or interest is claimed by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, but not paid to the Federal Reserve Bank, or branch thereof, the State may file a request for recomputation of such claim.

(c) Form of claims. Each claim for refund or recomputation under this section shall be made in accordance with the regulations in this subpart. No special form is required for such claims. If a credit is taken pursuant to § 404.1262, a claim is not required. Whenever a claim for refund or recomputation is made with respect to remuneration which was erroneously reported on a wage report, such claim shall include a statement showing (1) the identification number of the State or the political subdivision which reported the employee or employees; (2) the name and account number of the employee or employees for whom such remuneration was so reported; (3) the calendar quarter covered by such wage report; (4) the amount of remuneration previously reported as wages paid in such calendar quarter for such employee or employees; and (5) the amount of wages which should have been reported for such employee or employees. This information should be reported on Form OAR–S4.

(d) Claims improperly made. Any claim which does not comply with the requirements of this section will not be considered for any purpose as a claim for refund or recomputation.

(e) Proof of representative capacity. If a report or return is made by a duly authorized official of the State who thereafter dies, is removed from office, or otherwise ceases to act in such official capacity and a refund claim is made by a successor official, a certified letter attesting such official authorization to make claim for and receive refund of contribution previously paid by such former official must be annexed to the claim to show the authority of such successor official. Such certified letter will not be necessary if such successor official has previously filed one or more reports or returns which contain the signature and official title of such official.

§ 404.1264 Credit and refund of contributions paid for period during which no liability existed under the Social Security Act. If any State pays any amount of contribution under an agreement entered into pursuant to section 218 of the act with respect to any period for which it is not liable for such contribution, and such State is liable for a contribution for some other period, the amount paid as contribution under such agreement shall be credited against such contribution for which the State is liable and the balance, if any, shall be refunded. Each claim for refund under this section shall be made in accordance with § 404.1263. Each claim for credit under this section shall be made in accordance with the applicable provisions of § 404.1262 of the regulations in this subpart.

§ 404.1265 Opportunity to States to adjust underpayments. If any contribution is not paid to the Federal Reserve Bank, or branch thereof, when due, the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare may afford the State the opportunity to adjust the underpayment pursuant to § 404.1261. Unpaid contributions are chargeable against the State. (See § 404.1225, relating to interest.)

§ 404.1266 Adjustment of employee contributions. If a State deducts or causes to be deducted employees' contributions with respect to remuneration paid to employees in coverage groups included in an agreement with the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare, the amount deducted or caused to be deducted from the remuneration of an employee or any correction in the undercollection or overcollection of such amount, is a matter for settlement between the employee and the State or political subdivision, as the case may be. Any correction of an undercollection or overcollection of an employee's contribution shall be shown on statements furnished to the employee in accordance with § 404.1230.

(j) Academic year. The period that begins September 1 and ends August 31 the following year, except for the University of Puerto Rico, where the period begins the opening date of registration in August and ends the day before August registration the following year.

(k) Cadet. A student who has been admitted to full membership in the AFROTC and is entitled to all benefits authorized by law and regulations pertaining thereto.

(l) Student. A student who is permitted to pursue the AFROTC course for academic credit only.

(r) On-board year. Fiscal year in which the commissioned members of the graduating class, as defined in paragraph (g) of this section, are brought on active duty. For example, the graduating class of 1955 is made up of cadets appointed during the period of May 1, 1955 through April 30, 1956. They are brought on active duty during FY 1956 (July 1, 1955 through June 30, 1956), which is the on-board year for that graduating class.

§ 862.4 Organization. (a) The AFROTC is organized as a subordinate command of the Air University with the procedural functions and responsibilities of a numbered air force. This command is composed of a headquarters, standard units, and certain subunits thereof.

(b) By Federal statutes, a senior division and a junior division of the ROTC are authorized. The Air Force establishes and maintains ROTC units of the senior divisions only.

§ 862.5 Establishment and disestablishment of AFROTC units. An AFROTC unit will not be established or disestablished without the approval of the Secretary of the Air Force.

§ 862.6 Eligibility requirements—(a) Statutory. At institutions where AFROTC units are established, enrollment is restricted to students who are:

(1) Citizens of the United States.

(2) Not less than 14 years of age.

(3) Physically qualified for military service, age requirement notwithstanding.

(b) Character. A student who has been convicted by any court-martial or by any civil court for other than a minor traffic violation will not be enrolled initially or continued in the advanced course, AFROTC; however, the Commander, Air University, is authorized to waive nonrecurrent minor violations not considered prejudicial to performance of duty as an officer of the Air Force. Waiver for offenses involving moral turpitude will not be granted.

(c) Loyalty. (1) If a student fails or refuses after instruction to fill out DD Form 98, "Loyalty Certificate for Personnel of the Armed Forces," in its entirety, the professor of air science will deny his enrollment as a cadet in the Air Force ROTC. If a student completes DD Form 98 with qualification or makes entries thereon which provide reason for believing that his enrollment is not clearly consistent with the interest of national security, the professor of air science will withhold his enrollment as a cadet. The professor of air science will forward all pertinent information, including DD Form 98, to the Director of Personnel Procurement and Training, Headquarters USAF, Washington 25, D. C., for action and decision.

(2) At his discretion and that of institution authorities, the professor of air science may accept such persons, whom the institution may require or permit to take military training and who are not accepted for enrollment as cadets, for instruction in the AFROTC basic course as students (see § 862.3 (l) for definition of "students").

(3) Professors of air science will make certain that United States citizens failing to fill out DD Form 98 are not permitted to wear the AFROTC uniform.

(d) Age. A student will not be enrolled initially or be allowed to reenroll in the AFROTC after a period of nonparticipation in AFROTC training, if his age is such that he will be unable to complete all requirements for appointment as a Reserve of the Air Force prior to reaching his 28th birthday.

§ 862.7 Election of courses. The AFROTC program is composed of two separate and distinct phases, a 2-year basic course and a 2-year advance course. Completion of the basic course does not guarantee acceptance into the advance course. As stipulated in the contract between the institution and the Air Force, each cadet who has enrolled in either course will complete that course as a prerequisite to his graduation from the institution unless he is relieved of this obligation under regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Air Force.

§ 862.8 Categories of advanced course cadets. Four categories of cadets are established for the advanced course enrollees. Qualified students may be enrolled in the appropriate category within the quota furnished by Headquarters USAF. Cadets will be required to sign the appropriate category agreement (AF Form 1056, "Category I Agreement of Certain Members of the Air Force Reserve Officers' Training Corps (Flying Training Candidate)," AF Form 1056a, "Category II Agreement of Certain Members of the Air Force Reserve Officers' Training Corps (Technical)," AF Form 1056b, "Category III Agreement of Certain Members of the Air Force Reserve Officers' Training Corps (Non-Flying, Non-Technical)," or AF Form 1056c, "Category IV Agreement of Certain Members of the Air Force Reserve Officers' Training Corps (Veteran)," as appropriate). Advanced course cadets must meet the physical requirements set forth in current regulations. Service-obligated students who are physically qualified and selected must be enrolled in either category I or category II if they are to pursue the advanced course.

(a) Category I. Category I consists of cadets who qualify for flying training. They must meet the required physical, measured aptitude, and interest qualifications, and desire entry in this category. Service-exempt cadets accepted in this category will be required to serve the same active duty tour as that required of service-obligated graduates. For reporting purposes, category I is divided into two subcategories, I for pilot candidates, and IA for observer candidates.

(b) Category II. Category II consists of service-obligated cadets enrolled in college programs leading to baccalaureate degrees with majors in prescribed engineering and scientific fields of study, who meet physical standards for an Air Force commission, and are selected for the advanced course.

(c) Category III. Category III consists of service-obligated, non-technical cadets selected for the advanced course who meet physical standards for a commission but do not qualify physically for flight training.

(d) Category IV. Category IV consists of service-exempt cadets, other than those accepted in category I, selected for the advanced course.

§ 862.9 Additional requirements for enrollment in advanced course. (a) Each cadet accepted for enrollment in the advanced course must have successfully completed such general survey or screening tests as may be prescribed for entrance into each of the categories.

(b) Each cadet accepted for enrollment in the advanced course must have completed the basic course or must have received credit in lieu thereof as prescribed in § 862.13.

(c) Completion of the advanced course and award of the degree should coincide so that commissioning requirements may be fulfilled simultaneously. The professor of air science should not enroll a cadet until such time as he has only 2 academic years remaining before qualifying both for an academic degree and an appointment in the Air Force Reserve. When following such a policy causes problems which cannot be resolved in any other way, the professor of air science is authorized to enroll a cadet at the beginning of his third academic year. The professor of air science may grant him a period of non-attendance after completeion of AFROTC.

(d) With the exception of those cadets who are service exempt, each cadet who applies for the advanced course must sign a deferment agreement before he may be accepted as a cadet (see §§ 862.76 to 862.88).

(e) Priority consideration should be given to Civil Air Patrol members holding Civil Air Patrol certificates of proficiency.

(f) Graduate students may be enrolled in the advanced course provided that:

(1) Their selection is within category quotas.

(2) Selection is in competition with undergraduate students.

(3) The provisons of paragraph (c) of this section are fulfilled.

(g) The Commandant, AFROTC, may authorize cadets to postpone attendance at AFROTC summer training. The Commandant, AFROTC, will not authorize postponement of such attendance beyond the summer following the completion of academic work. Cadets who are authorized postponement will take the final-type medical examination for the category in which they are enrolled at the time postponement is authorized. The professor of air science will discharge those failing this examination under § 862.17 (b).

§ 862.10 Waivers for enrollment in advanced course. Waivers to permit enrollment of cadets in the advanced course are discouraged.

§ 862.11 Conditional enrollment in advanced course. (a) The purpose of conditional enrollment is to enable the professor of air science to accept, tentatively, a cadet for enrollment in the advanced course pending determination of his eligibility or notification of enrollment quotas.

(b) Before conditional enrollment, each cadet will sign the following:

I understand and agree that no rights or benefits will be made available to me, or in my behalf, unless and until it is determined by proper authority that I am fully qualified and selected for unconditional enrollment in the advanced course of the AFROTC; that, upon such determination being made by proper authority, I will be entitled to receive all rights and benefits I would have earned and accrued but for the conditional nature of my enrollment from the date upon which I began work of the advanced course under the terms of this agreement. I further understand and agree that, if I am found to be not fully qualified and selected for such enrollment, I will be considered as not having been an advanced course cadet and will not be entitled to any rights or benefits under the terms of this agreement.

(c) Cadets accepted for conditional enrollment are authorized deferment as outlined in §§ 862.76 to 862.88.

§ 862.12 Students ineligible for enrollment as cadets or conditional cadets in advanced course. (a) When approved by institutional authorities and the professor of air science, students who for any reason cannot be enrolled as cadets or conditional cadets may be permitted to pursue the advanced course. Additional personnel will not be assigned for the purpose of conducting instruction for such students. Such students will not be charged against enrollment quotas. Students accepted under this section are not entitled to commutation of subsistence or Government uniforms, or uniform allowance, but may use arms and equipment issued for instructional purposes. Arms and equipment will not be provided especially for the benefit of such students.

(b) A professor of air science will require such students to sign:

I, _____, do hereby agree and understand that, notwithstanding the fact that I am permitted to pursue the AFROTC course, the Air Force will not tender me a commission as a Reserve of the Air Force nor award me a certificate of completion based upon my successful completion of the institutional phase of the advanced course, nor will I be permitted to attend AFROTC summer training.

(c) Female students of the institution are not eligible for enrollment as cadets in the AFROTC; however, they may be permitted to pursue the AFROTC course of instruction as students.

(d) A professor of air science will not enroll as cadets persons eliminated for disciplinary reasons from an officer candidate school, from an aviation cadet training class of the Air Force or Navy, or from one of the service academies of the Armed Forces. He will not enroll in category I (pilot) any person eliminated from an aviation cadet pilot training class of the Air Force or Navy for flying deficiency. But he may, if recommended by the authority eliminating them, enroll these persons as cadets in category IA (observer) or other categories. The Commandant, AFROTC, is authorized to grant waivers for enrollment as cadets to persons eliminated for other reasons. The Commandant will not appoint such cadets until after the date of graduation of the class from which they were eliminated.

§ 862.13 Credit for previous military training. (a) An AFROTC cadet who transfers to another institution at which an AFROTC unit is also maintained will be given credit for that part of the AFROTC course which he successfully completed at the losing institution, as evidenced by the AFROTC student record form.

(b) On the basis of previous honorable active service in the Air Force, Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard, a cadet may request a waiver of the basic course, or any portion thereof, as a requirement for entrance into the advanced course. The professor of air science may then waive so much of the basic course as he considers equivalent to the active service training, provided that he does not waive any portion which the cadet can complete prior to entrance into the advanced course. To satisfy entrance requirements for the advanced course, veterans entering an institution at freshman or sophomore level who desire a commission through AFROTC will be required to take in phase with non-veteran contemporaries the portion of the basic program which remains.

(c) The professor of air science may waive on a year-for-year basis so much of the AFROTC program as he considers equivalent to previous training at the United States Military Academy, United States Naval Academy, United States Coast Guard Academy, or in the Senior Division of the Army ROTC or Naval ROTC.

(d) Advanced standing will not be granted for training received prior to the student's 14th birthday, nor for training received as a member of the Civil Air Patrol, nor for the training received as a member of a Reserve component of any of the Armed Forces of the United States when not in the active military service, nor for training received at an institution at which no commissioned officer of the active military forces is detailed by orders of the appropriate department as professor of military science and tactics, professor of naval science, or professor of air science, nor for training received as a member of the Junior Division, Army ROTC.

(e) By use of DD Form 785, "Record of Disenrollment From Officer Candidate-Type Training," the Armed Services may exchange information on persons disenrolled from officer training who subsequently apply for another officer program. When the professor of air science receives a request for information on a person who has been a member of the AFROTC, he will furnish one copy of DD Form 785 direct to the requesting service. At the time of this request, the professor of air science will also make an additional copy for the cadet record in the event of a subsequent inquiry from another service. If a professor of air science desires information from the other services, he will address his request to:

(1) Department of Army. The Adjutant General, Department of the Army, Attention: AGPB–O, Washington 25, D. C.

(2) Department of Navy. Chief of Naval Personnel, Department of the Navy, Washington 25, D. C., or Commandant, U. S. Marine Corps, Code DIG, Department of the Navy, Washington 25, D. C.

§ 862.14 Concurrent membership in Reserve component of an Armed Force. (a) Present and former commissioned officers of any component of the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard, and officers or former officers of the Public Health Service may not be enrolled in the AFROTC.

(b) Persons who are members of the Reserve components of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard may be enrolled in the basic course. However, such persons will not be enrolled as cadets in the advanced course until they have been discharged from such membership or transferred to the Air Force Reserve.

(c) Members of any component of the Armed Forces who are on active military duty may not be enrolled in the AFROTC.

(d) Reserve airmen who are otherwise qualified and accepted for enrollment in the basic or advanced course will be enrolled therein, and will not be discharged from their Reserve status for the purpose of undertaking such course. However, Reserve airmen who are affiliated with Air Force Reserve units, units of the Air National Guard, or who hold mobilization assignments or designations, may be enrolled as conditional cadets in the advanced course pending release from such affiliation, assignments, or designations. Subsequent to release, they may participate concurrently in Air Force Reserve point-earning activities on an unassigned or nonaffiliated status. A professor of air science will comply with §§ 864.31 to 864.43 if he has Reserve airmen enrolled.

§ 862.15 Compression, curtailment, or concurrent pursuit of courses. Under Federal statute, the basic course may not be compressed or curtailed into a time period of less than 2 academic years. The entire AFROTC course of study is expected to cover 4 full academic years. However, the Commandant, AFROTC, may permit reduction of the entire course into not less than 3 full academic years, through concurrent enrollment or compression, under the following conditions:

(a) For cadets enrolled in an academic program involving less than 4 years of resident study for the degree.

(b) For cadets with outstanding leadership qualities who would otherwise be unable to complete the entire AFROTC course of study prior to the award of degree.

The academic phase of the AFROTC course of study will not be curtailed.

§ 862.16 Transfer of AFROTC cadets. Interservice transfer of AFROTC cadets is authorized under the Statements of Joint ROTC Policies.

§ 862.17 Discharge—(a) From basic course. With the concurrence of the institutional authorities, the professor of air science may discharge a basic cadet from the AFROTC. Such discharge relieves the institution of its obligation to require the cadet concerned to complete the basic course as a prerequisite for graduation.

(b) From advanced course. (1) The professor of air science may discharge a cadet from the advanced course. Each such discharge must receive the concurrence of the head of the institution or his designated representative.

(2) A cadet will be discharged from the advanced course for the "convenience of the Government." A refund of commutation of subsistence paid the cadet will not be required.

(3) A cadet who, for any reason, is unable to continue regular enrollment in the institution, will be discharged from the advanced course. Such cadet may be reenrolled in the advanced course upon his return to an institution having an AFROTC unit.

(4) A cadet who, under competitive criteria, falls below acceptable retention standards will be discharged from the advanced course. Such cadet may be reenrolled only upon approval of the Commandant, Air Force ROTC.

(5) The professor of air science may discharge a cadet because of inaptitude, indifference to training, incompatibility, willfully evading the terms of his advanced course agreement, for disciplinary reasons, or for reasons involving undesirable traits of character. A cadet so discharged will not be reenrolled in the advanced course.

(6) The professor of air science will establish such board or boards as required to consider the cases of cadets recommended for discharge for reasons stated in subparagraph (5) of this paragraph. The board will be composed of at least three Air Force officers. The institution will be invited to provide a representative for board membership.

(c) With prejudice. A discharge "with prejudice" is established to provide an elimination from the advanced course of a cadet whose conduct is or has been such as to bring dishonor on the corps and upon himself. The board may recommend the cadet for discharge "with prejudice." The professor of air science will forward the case, with a statement from the head of the institution, to the Commandant, Air Force ROTC, for review and final approval. A cadet discharged "with prejudice" is not eligible for enrollment in an Air Force officer procurement program or for appointment in any component of the Air Force.

§ 862.18 Organization of program, textbooks, and substitution of academic courses. (a) The AFROTC program of instruction is organized into the institutional phase which comprises the basic and advanced courses and the AFROTC summer training phase.

(b) Textbooks for authorized air science courses and instructor guides will be prepared and issued by the Commandant, Air Force ROTC, subject to directives and final approval of Headquarters USAF.

(c) The Commandant, Air Force ROTC, is authorized to approve requests for permission to substitute academic courses for a portion or portions of the AFROTC curriculum.

§ 862.19 Appointment as Reserves of the Air Force or award of certificate of completion. AFROTC graduates may either be appointed as Reserves of the Air Force or awarded certificates of completion, within the number prescribed by Headquarters USAF. An AFROTC graduate must have successfully completed the military training required by law and regulations, including AFROTC summer training, and have been awarded a baccalaureate degree from an accredited educational institution.

CONSOLIDATED NATURAL GAS CO. ET AL.

NOTICE OF FILING REGARDING PROPOSED ISSUANCE AND SALE BY PARENT OF CAPITAL STOCK PURSUANT TO RIGHTS OFFERING AND BORROWING FROM BANKS; REFUNDING OF SUBSIDIARIES' SHORT-TERM NOTES OWING PARENT BY ISSUANCE AND SALE OF COMMON STOCK AND LONG-TERM NOTES; AND ISSUANCE AND SALE OF SHORT-TERM NOTES BY SUBSIDIARIES AND ACQUISITION THEREOF BY PARENT

MAY 10, 1955.

In the matter of Consolidated Natural Gas Company, the East Ohio Gas Company, Hope Natural Gas Company, The Peoples Natural Gas Company, New York State Natural Gas Corporation, The River Gas Company, File No. 70-3376.

Notice is hereby given that Consolidated Natural Gas Company ("Consolidated"), a registered holding company, and its wholly owned subsidiaries, The East Ohio Gas Company ("East Ohio"), Hope Natural Gas Company ("Hope"), The Peoples Natural Gas Company ("Peoples"), New York State Natural Gas Corporation ("New York State") and The River Gas Company ("River"), have filed a joint application-declaration and an amendment thereto with this Commission pursuant to the provisions of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act") and rules thereunder. The companies have designated sections 6 (a), 6 (b), 7, 9 (a), 10 and 12 (f) of the act and Rules U-43 and U-45 thereunder as applicable to the proposed transactions which are summarized as follows:

Consolidated proposes to offer 738,721 shares of its capital stock, par value $10 per share, for subscription, at a price per share to be fixed at a later date by its board of directors, which price will be supplied by amendment, on warrants to be issued to the holders of its outstanding capital stock of record at the close of business on June 2, 1955. Each such holder will be granted the right to subscribe for shares of capital stock at the rate of one share for each ten shares held on such record date, the subscription offer to expire at 3:30 p. m., New York time, June 21, 1955.

The rights to subscribe will be evidenced by transferable subscription warrants. No fractional shares of capital stock will be issued. Rights may be purchased to entitle the holder of the warrant to subscribe to one or more full shares of capital stock or rights may be sold. For the convenience of stockholders and without charge to them for such service, The Hanover Bank will act as agent for the warrant holders in purchasing and selling rights, but not to exceed 9 rights for each warrant holder.

Consolidated anticipates that some shares of its capital stock offered for subscription will not be subscribed for, and, on the basis of past experience, estimates that this number of shares will amount to about 3 percent of the total offering. Shares for which subscriptions are not exercised, up to 5 percent of the issue, will be offered after the subscription date at the subscription price to Bankers Trust Company as Trustee of Consolidated's Annuity Trust, subject to call for the account of the Trustees under the Alternative Thrift Trust of Consolidated's Employees Thrift Plan. Any such shares not so subscribed or sold to Bankers Trust Company will thereafter be sold on the open market.

According to the filing, the primary purpose of the financing is to obtain funds to repay $20,000,000 of Consolidated's short-term bank loans made on March 15, 1955, the remaining funds realized to be used by Consolidated to finance in part the construction program of its subsidiaries during 1955.

Upon consummation of the stock financing by Consolidated as outlined above, Consolidated and its subsidiaries propose to replace the $22,500,000 short-term notes of the subsidiaries, owing the parent, and to carry out additional long-term financing for construction purposes by the issuance of long-term notes and shares of capital stock of the subsidiaries in the amounts as indicated in the following tabulation:

Company	Common	Notes
East Ohio		$3,500,000
Hope		4,500,000
New York State	$10,000,000
Peoples	4,000,000	3,500,000
River		100,000
Total	14,000,000	11,600,000

The shares of capital stock of New York State and Peoples will be issued for cash equal to the par value thereof. The long-term notes of the subsidiaries will be non-negotiable promissory notes bearing an interest rate of 3 percent per annum payable semi-annually, which rate is the same as that borne by the debentures last issued by Consolidated.

The maturity dates of the proposed long-term notes are as follows:

East Ohio's notes will mature at the rate of $500,000 on July 31 in each of the years 1964 through 1970; Hope's notes will mature at the rate of $250,000 on July 31 in each of the years 1961 through 1974, and at the rate of $500,000 on July 31 in the years 1975 and 1976; Peoples' notes will mature at the rate of $250,000 on July 31 in each of the years 1960 through 1973, River's notes will mature at the rate of $5,000 on July 31 in each of the years 1959 through 1971, and $15,000 on July 31, 1972 and $20,000 on July 31, 1973.

Consolidated also proposes to borrow from banks a total of up to $20,000,000 during 1955, in order to finance the temporary cash requirements of subsidiaries in connection with the purchase of gas for underground storage. Consolidated's borrowings will be made, without collateral and without a commitment fee, at a 3 percent interest rate upon a promissory note or notes having a maturity of not more than 12 months from the date of the first borrowing with the right of prepayment at any time without penalty. In turn, Consolidated will loan the $20,000,000 to the subsidiaries and in amounts as follows: East Ohio, $4,000,000; Hope, $4,000,000; New York State, $11,500,000 and Peoples, $500,000. These loans to subsidiaries will be on short-term promissory notes having a maturity date on or before the time of maturity of Consolidated's first borrowing and will bear a 3 percent interest rate.

It is stated that copies of the applications by Hope, Peoples, East Ohio and River to the State Commissions in West Virginia, Pennsylvania and Ohio and the orders of those Commissions to be issued in respect of the proposed transactions are to be supplied by amendment.

The fees and expenses to be incurred by the subsidiaries in connection with the above transactions are estimated to be $5,000 for New York State Franchise Tax and $15,400 for Federal Issue Tax on capital stock. The fees and expenses to to incurred in connection with the issuance and sale of capital stock by Consolidated are estimated to be as follows:

S. E. C. filing fee	$2,363
New York Stock Exchange listing fee	1,900
Federal stock issue taxes	13,000

JOHN H. WARE, 3D

NOTICE OF FILING REGARDING ACQUISITION BY AFFILIATE OF PUBLIC UTILITY COMPANIES OF OUTSTANDING CAPITAL STOCK OF NON-AFFILIATED GAS UTILITY COMPANY

MAY 10, 1955.

Notice is hereby given that John H. Ware, 3d ("Ware") has filed an application with this Commission pursuant to the provisions of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act"). Applicant has designated sections 9 and 10 of the act as applicable to the filing.

All interested persons are referred to said application, which is on file in the offices of the Commission, for a statement of the transaction proposed therein, which is summarized as follows:

Ware is an affiliate of 14 gas utility companies organized and doing business in the State of Pennsylvania, which are subsidiaries of Penn Fuel Gas, Inc. ("Penn Fuel"), an exempt holding company all of whose common stock is owned by Ware, and of Salem Gas Company, a gas utility company which is not affiliated with Penn Fuel. Ware proposes to purchase for cash from four individuals all of the outstanding capital stock of Jersey Shore Gas & Heating Company ("Jersey Shore"), a Pennsylvania corporation and a gas utility company, consisting of 720 shares of common stock, par value $10 per share. The proposed price of $24,000 to be paid for the stock is represented as having been determined by arm's-length negotiation.

The filing states that Jersey Shore's service area is located approximately 11 miles west of the service area of Lock Haven Gas Company ("Lock Haven"), a subsidiary of Penn Fuel. It is represented that Lock Haven and Jersey Shore have made arrangements to obtain supplies of natural gas from a common source, which will be delivered through an existing transmission line of Trans-Penn Transit Company, a non-affiliated pipe line company; that connections will be constructed by Lock Haven and Jersey Shore with such line; and that, as a result of such connections, Lock Haven and Jersey Shore will be physically connected.

The filing also states that if Ware acquires the common stock of Jersey Shore it is anticipated that Penn Fuel will furnish management and related services to the company on the same basis (approximately at cost) that such services are presently rendered by Penn Fuel to its subsidiaries.

It is represented that no State commission and no Federal regulatory agency, other than this Commission, has any jurisdiction over the proposed transaction.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than May 24, 1955, at 5:30 p. m., e. d. s. t., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on this matter, stating the nature of his interest, the reason for such request, and the issues of fact or law, if any, raised by said application which he proposes to controvert, or he may request to be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington 25, D. C. At any time after such date said application, as filed or as it may hereafter be amended, may be granted pursuant to Rule U-23 of the rules promulgated under the act, or the transaction proposed therein may be exempted pursuant to Rules U-20 (a) and U-100 thereunder.

By the Commission.

WISCONSIN SOUTHERN GAS CO., INC.

NOTICE OF FILING REGARDING ISSUANCE BY REGISTERED HOLDING COMPANY OF SHARES OF COMMON STOCK AS DIVIDEND

MAY 10, 1955.

Notice is hereby given that Wisconsin Southern Gas Company, Inc. ("Wisconsin"), a registered holding company, has filed a declaration with this Commission pursuant to the provisions of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act"). Declarant has designated sections 6 and 7 of the act as applicable to said filing.

All interested persons are referred to said declaration, which is on file in the offices of the Commission, for a statement of the transaction proposed therein which is summarized as follows:

Wisconsin proposes to issue to its stockholders on or about June 1, 1955, as a dividend, 7,570 shares of authorized but unissued common stock, par value $10 per share, at the rate of one share for each ten shares held. The stock dividend will be issued in full shares only and transferable scrip certificates will be issued to stockholders entitled to receive fractional shares. Wisconsin states that it will assist stockholders to transfer or purchase and sell scrip representing fractional shares and that it will redeem, after July 1, 1955, at the rate of $11.30 per share, any scrip presented representing rights to less than one share of stock if arrangements cannot be made forthwith to transfer or sell such rights for not less than $11.30 per share.

Wisconsin states that the stock dividend is being issued for the purpose of capitalizing earned surplus of the company as a preliminary step to the merger of Wisconsin and its only subsidiary, Wisconsin Southern Gas Company, a public utility company.

Wisconsin proposes, upon the issuance of the stock dividend, to charge its Earned Surplus with the amount of $85,540, being at the rate of $11.30 per share, and to credit $75,700, the aggregate par value of the shares to be issued, to Common Capital Stock and to credit $9,840, or $1.30 per share of said stock dividend, to Capital Surplus. Wisconsin represents that the book value of its common stock is approximately $11.36 per share; and that there is no active market for the stock.

The filing states that no State commission and no Federal regulatory agency, other than this Commission, has any jurisdiction over the proposed transaction.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than May 24, 1955, at 5:30 p. m., e. d. s. t., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on this matter, stating the nature of his interest, the reason for such request, and the issues of fact or law, if any, raised by the declaration which he proposes to controvert, or he may request to be notified if a hearing should be ordered thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington 25, D. C. At any time after such date said declaration, as filed or as it may hereafter be amended, may be granted pursuant to Rule U-23 of the rules promulgated under the act, or the transaction proposed therein may be exempted as provided in Rules U-20 (a) and U-100 thereof.

By the Commission.

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION

[49 CFR Ch. I]

REVISED RULES OF PROCEDURE BEFORE THE COMMISSION

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

EDITORIAL NOTE: The following is a proposed revision of the rules of practice and procedure now contained in 49 CFR Part 1 and related parts. The proposed revision does not follow the numbering system required for the Code of Federal Regulations. It also contains organizational material. In final form, organizational material will be separately stated, and the procedural material numbered in accordance with the Code of Federal Regulations style.

Ex Parte No. 195—Revised Rules of Procedure Before the Commission

At a General Session of the Interstate Commerce Commission held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 2d day of May A. D. 1955.

In the matter of considering suggested revised Rules of Procedure submitted by the Chairman of the Committee on Rules of Practice, Association of Interstate Commerce Commission Practitioners, on January 6, 1955.

By notice entered on August 6, 1952, in Ex Parte No. 55, Proposed Revision of the Rules of Practice, the Commission invited suggestions from all concerned therewith on revisions of its General Rules of Practice adopted July 1, 1942, as amended. [49 CFR Part 1, § 1.1 to § 1.102, inclusive.] In response, a large number of suggestions were received from individual members of the Commission, members of the Commission's staff, practitioners before the Commission including the Chairman of the Committee on Rules of Practice of the Association of Interstate Commerce Commission Practitioners, and other individuals. The responses dealt with all phases of the present rules.

In the notice referred to above, it was stated that if the changes emerging as a result of the suggested revisions were of such importance as to merit it, they would be made the subject of a proposed report to which exceptions might be filed and argument requested.

All of the proposals, except one, were of such a nature that in our considered judgment they may be disposed of within the framework of the present General Rules of Practice without the necessity of extensive public proceedings.

This issue is divided into two parts, Part II of which contains a notice of proposed rule making of the Interstate Commerce Commission relating to revised rules of procedure before the Commission. Other documents of the Interstate Commerce Commission are published in Part I of this issue.

The exception referred to in the preceding paragraph is a proposal submitted on January 6, 1955, to the Commission by the Chairman of the Committee on Rules of Practice, Association of Interstate Commerce Commission Practitioners, and embraces not only a complete revision of the Rules of Practice but certain changes in the Commission's organization and assignment of work. The text of the proposal is set forth in appendix A hereto. The changes contemplated in this proposal are of such a nature and magnitude as to warrant a separate proceeding for their consideration.

It is, therefore, ordered, That pursuant to section 4 (a) of the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 237, 5 U. S. C. 1003) notice is hereby given of the proposed cancellation of the Commission's General Rules of Practice, adopted July 31, 1942, as amended (49 CFR Part 1, § 1.1 to § 1.102, inclusive), and the proposed adoption of revised rules of procedure submitted by the Chairman of the Committee on Rules of Practice, Association of Interstate Commerce Commission Practitioners, on January 6, 1955 [Authority: Secs. 12, 17, 24 Stat. 383, as amended, 385, as amended, 49 Stat. 546, as amended, 548, as amended, sec. 201, 54 Stat. 933, sec. 1, 56 Stat. 285; 49 U. S. C. 12, 17, 304, 305, 904, 1003] including the proposed modifications in the Commission's organization and assignment of work [Authority: 24 Stat. 385, 25 Stat. 861, 40 Stat. 270, 41 Stat. 492, 493, 47 Stat. 1368, 54 Stat. 913; 49 U. S. C. 17].

It is further ordered, That any interested party may file, on or before September 6, 1955, with this Commission, written statements containing data, views, or arguments concerning the proposed revised rules.

It is further ordered, That no oral hearing be held with respect to the proposed rules, but that, if deemed necessary or advisable, the matter may be

RULE 74—BASIC OBLIGATIONS OF HEARING OFFICERS

All Hearing Officers who are members, officers or employees of The Agency must conform, as nearly as may be, to the standards of ethical conduct required of the judges of the courts of the United States, and particularly to the Canons of Administrative Ethics set out in This Rule and Rules 75, 76 and 77, which are based upon the Canons of Judicial Ethics of the American Bar Association, modified insofar as the nature of the Hearing Office requires. This Rule deals with Canons of Administrative Ethics relating to the essential nature of such office.

74.1 Relations of Hearing Officers. The assumption of the Hearing Office casts upon the incumbent duties in respect of his personal conduct which concern his relations to the Nation and its inhabitants, the Parties before him, Practitioners, and witnesses.

(Canon 1 of the Canons of Judicial Ethics)

74.2 The Public Interest. The Agency exists to administer and enforce The Act and to promote justly the national transportation policy in the public interest. Its administration should be speedy and careful. The Hearing Officer should at all times be alert in his Rulings in the conduct of Proceedings so far as he can to promote such administration and to obtain the objectives of These Rules. He should ever bear in mind that The Agency exists for the benefit of the public and the Parties entitled to bring matters before it and not for the promotion of the interests of either the Hearing Officer of The Agency.

(Canon 2 of Canons of Judicial Ethics)

74.3 Constitutional Obligation. The Agency is the creature of The Act and of the Congress which gave it life and it may not question the validity of any provision of The Act. However, it is the duty of a Hearing Officer to support the Federal Constitution and to that end obey and follow the decisions of the Supreme Court and The Agency with respect to the validity and interpretation of The Act. In the absence of such decisions he should interpret the provisions of The Act to the fullest extent possible to observe and apply the fundamental limitations and guarantees of the Constitution.

(Canon 3 of the Canons of Judicial Ethics)

74.4 Independence. A Hearing Officer should not act in any Proceeding where his own interests or those of a near relative is involved or where there are any other circumstances which would justify the impression that he would not act conscientiously, justly, impartially or fearlessly. He should not suffer his conduct to justify the impression that any person can improperly influence him or unduly enjoy his favor or that he is affected by the kinship, rank, position or influence of any other person. Members of a Division should follow the controlling precedents of the Commission en banc until the same are reversed or modified. All other Hearing Officers should follow the controlling precedents of the Divisions of the Commission as well as of the Commission en banc. Otherwise a Hearing Officer should not be swayed by the demands of any person whatsoever regardless of rank in The Agency or in the Government or by public clamor or considerations of personal popularity or notoriety or by apprehension of unjust criticism or personal consequences to himself.

(Canons 13, 14 and 29 of the Canons of Judicial Ethics)

74.5 Idiosyncrasies. Administration of The Act should not be moulded by the individual idiosyncrasies of the Hearing Officer. He should adopt the usual and expected method and not seek to be extreme or peculiar in his judgment or spectacular or sensational in the conduct of Hearings.

(Canon 21 of the Canons of Judicial Ethics)

RULE 75—PERSONAL CONDUCT OF HEARING OFFICER

All Hearing Officers should conform to the following Canons of Administrative Ethics relating to their personal conduct:

75.1 Avoidance of Impropriety. A Hearing Officer's official conduct should be free from impropriety and the appearance of impropriety; he should avoid infractions of law; and his personal behavior not only in the performance of his official duties, but also in his everyday life should be beyond reproach.

(Canon 4 of the Canons of Judicial Ethics)

75.2 Essential Conduct. A Hearing Officer should be temperate, attentive, patient, impartial, and since he is to administer The Act and apply it to the facts, he should be studious of the principles of the law and diligent in endeavoring to ascertain the facts.

(Canon 5 of the Canons of Judicial Ethics)

75.3 Inconsistent Obligations, Investments or Relations. A Hearing Officer should not accept inconsistent duties; nor incur obligations, pecuniary or otherwise, which will in any way interfere or appear to interfere with the expeditious and proper discharge of his official functions and duties. He should abstain from making or maintaining personal investments in enterprises which are apt to be involved or affected by Proceedings before The Agency. So far as reasonably possible, he should refrain from all relations which would normally tend to arouse the suspicion that such relations would warp or bias his judgment or prevent his impartial attitude of mind in the discharge of his duties. He should not utilize information coming to him in an official capacity or from Parties or Practitioners for purposes of speculation.

(Canons 24 and 26 of Canons of Judicial Ethics)

75.4 Business Promotions. A Hearing Officer should avoid giving ground to any reasonable suspicion that he is utilizing the power or prestige of his office to persuade or coerce others to patronize or contribute to private business ventures or to charitable enterprises. He should not enter any private business, pursue any course of conduct or engage in any activity or business relationship which in the normal course of events reasonably to be expected might bring his personal interest into conflict with the impartial performance of his official duties.

(Canon 25 of the Canons of Judicial Ethics)

75.5 Candidacy for Office. A candidate for appointment to or promotion in a Hearing Officer position should not make or suffer others to make for him promises of conduct in office which appeal to cupidity or prejudice of persons who might influence the appointing or promoting powers. He should not announce in advance of Hearing his opinion with respect to disputed issues of law or fact while a candidate nor do anything else which would create the impression that if chosen or promoted he will administer his office with bias, partiality, partisanship or improper discrimination nor should he call upon or ask Parties or Practitioners to support his candidacy or to recommend his appointment or promotion.

(Canon 30 of the Canons of Judicial Ethics)

75.6 Private Practice. A Hearing Officer will not be permitted to practice before The Agency or any other Hearing Officer thereof with or without compensation and should refrain from accepting any professional employment while in office except that he may properly act as arbitrator or lecture or instruct in law or in matters arising under The Act or write upon such subjects and accept compensation therefor, if such course does not interfere with the due performance of his official duties.

(Canon 31 of the Canons of Judicial Ethics)

75.7 Gifts and Favors. A Hearing Officer should not accept presents or favors from Parties, Practitioners or others whose interests are likely to be submitted to him for judgment.

(Canon 34 of the Canons of Judicial Ethics)

75.8 Social Relations. It is not necessary to the proper performance of his official duties that a Hearing Officer should live in retirement or seclusion or continue to mingle in social intercourse. He should, however, in pending or prospective Proceedings before him be particularly careful to avoid such action as may reasonably tend to awaken the suspicion that his social or business relations or friendships constitute an element in influencing his official conduct.

(Canon 33 of the Canons of Judicial Ethics)

RULE 76—CONDUCT IN DISCHARGE OF OFFICIAL DUTIES

In discharging their official duties, the Hearing Officers should conform to the following Canons of Administrative Ethics.

76.1 Industry and Promptness. A Hearing Officer must apply himself assiduously to the prompt and expeditious discharge of his official duties, recognizing that the time of Parties, witnesses and Practitioners is of value and that the lack of such qualities on his part will hinder and impede the discharge of the duties of The Agency.

(Canons 6 and 7 of the Canons of Judicial Ethics)

76.2 Consideration, Courtesy and Civility. A Hearing Officer must be considerate of and courteous to Parties, witnesses and Practitioners and other members, officers or employees of The Agency.

(Canons 9 and 10 of the Canons of Judicial Ethics)

76.3 Unprofessional Conduct of Practitioners. The Hearing Officer should courteously but firmly correct unprofessional conduct of Practitioners brought to his attention and where such conduct so justifies should send the matter at once to the General Counsel for the latter's investigation and recommendation, if any, to Division One. Where a Practitioner during a Hearing or Pre-Hearing or other Conference shall refuse to obey the proper directions of the Hearing Officer or refrain; after courteous warning, from disorderly contemptuous or contumacious conduct at such Hearing or Conference, the Hearing Officer, if he deems the cause sufficient, shall exclude such Practitioner from further participation in such Proceeding as provided in Rule 97.5. In exercising this authority, the Hearing Officer shall avoid engaging in a personal controversy with the Practitioner so far as it is reasonably possible for him so to do.

(Canon 11 of the Canons of Judicial Ethics)

76.4 Interference with Hearing. The Agency is more than a tribunal for the settlement of controversies between private parties. Its primary obligation is to administer The Act in the public interest. If in any Proceeding the pertinent facts are not fully presented by the Parties it is the duty of the Hearing Officer to see that they are so developed. He should also intervene to promote expedition and prevent unnecessary waste of time or to bring out facts affecting the interests of the public or of others than the Parties. On the other hand, the Hearing Officer should not undertake the role of a Practitioner nor prevent a Practitioner from reasonably presenting his case in his own way. He should be studious to avoid controversies with Practitioners, Parties or witnesses, and should not be tempted to the unnecessary display of learning or a premature decision.

(Canon 15 of the Canons of Judicial Ethics)

76.5 Ex Parte Communications. A Hearing Officer should not permit private interviews, arguments or communications where all interests to be affected thereby are not present, and should refuse to accept any written communication from a Practitioner or Party intended or calculated to influence his actions unless he finds that such communication has been made known fully to the Practitioners of the Adversary Parties. In passing upon requests for postponement, adjournment or for extension of time within which to File Procedural Instruments the Hearing Officer, without being arbitrary, should endeavor to hold Practitioners to a proper appreciation of their public duties, always having in mind that a principal objective of These Rules is to obtain expeditious disposition of Proceedings.

(Canons 16, 17 and 18 of the Canons of Judicial Ethics)

76.6 Reports and Decisions. Decisions and reports of a Hearing Officer should be written in clear, concise, and idiomatic English and shall have the content and be in the form required by Rule 282.1. In making his Decision the Hearing Officer should bear in mind his obligations under Rule 74.3 and that ours is a Government of law and not of men and that he violates his duty as a minister of justice if he seeks to do what he may personally consider substantial justice in a particular Proceeding disregarding the law as he knows it to be binding upon him. He should administer his office with a due regard to the integrity of the system of the law itself, remembering that he is not a depositary of arbitrary power but an administrator of well defined duties. He has exceptional opportunity to observe provisions of the statute and of These Rules to ascertain whether they tend to impede the just disposition of controversies and he should from time to time advise the Legislative and Rules Committee of defects in procedure arising from his observation and experience.

(Canons 19, 20 and 23 of the Canons of Judicial Ethics)

76.7 Review. The Hearing Officer should scrupulously see to it that the Record clearly and fairly presents all of the Proof and contentions of all Parties with respect not only to the ultimate Decision but also with respect to all Directions and Rulings given or made by him so that every Party may secure the full benefit of the right of Review accorded by law and These Rules.

(Canon 22 of the Canons of Judicial Ethics)

76.8 Conduct of Hearings and Conferences. Hearings and Conferences should be conducted with fitting dignity and decorum so as to reflect the seriousness and importance of the Proceedings.

(Canons 35 and 36 of the Canons of Judicial Ethics)

76.9 Improper Publicity. A Hearing Officer should not directly or indirectly volunteer a statement to the press with respect to any pending or anticipated Proceeding. Upon an unsolicited inquiry by a representative of the press a Hearing Officer, but not anonymously, may make a statement with respect to the nature of the Proceeding, the issues involved and the procedure which will be followed in its determination. Such statement should be fair, unbiased, and, if circumstances permit, should be submitted to the Practitioners in the Proceeding prior to the time it is given to the press.

(Canon 35 of the Canons of Judicial Ethics)

RULE 79—CONSULTATION

In Adversary Proceedings, no Hearing Officer (except members of the Commission) shall consult or discuss with any person, Counsel, Witness or Party any issue of law or fact in such Proceeding, except:

(1) At a Conference called upon full notice and opportunity for all Parties to participate, or

(2) Upon the Record at an Oral Hearing, or

(3) With other members of the Board of Employees or Joint Board and with Examiners and officers of the Bureau of Hearings.

The written examination which applicant under said Rule 90.3 is required to take is designed to test his knowledge of These Rules of Practice, of the Interstate Commerce Act, and the judicial and administrative precedents interpreting the same and also with respect to the specialized, expert technical knowledge and skill which the applicant claims to possess. These examinations will be held not oftener than twice in each year in the office of The Agency in Washington and at the regional offices of The Agency in those regions where persons desiring to take the examination reside. Information with respect to the time and place of these examinations may be obtained from the Secretary of The Agency.

91.4 Admission. If upon consideration of the papers Filed by the applicant, the statements submitted by his sponsors or by others, and upon his answers upon the examination, the Commission (Division One) is satisfied that the applicant possesses the qualifications required for admission to practice in the class for which the application is Filed it will enter an order of admission. Otherwise, it will deny the application and so notify the applicant by registered mail with the reasons therefor. Within 20 days after Service of such notice but not thereafter an applicant whose application has been rejected may controvert any of the reasons assigned therefor, except failure to pass the required examination satisfactorily, and submit in support of such controversion verified statements of himself and of others and authenticated documentary evidence. Upon receipt of such controversion Division One will reconsider the application and affirm or reverse its former action. No Appeal from the action of Division One will be entertained.

(ICC Rule 10)

91.5 Renewal of Application. An applicant whose application for admission to practice has been denied may not earlier than one year after the date of such denial File a renewal of such application, setting forth any steps which applicant has taken to remove or cure the causes assigned in the notice denying the former application. Such renewal application will be handled and processed in the same manner as the original application and if the application be one to practice under Rule 90.3 and it appears that applicant has taken appropriate steps to acquire the knowledge in which he was formerly deficient, he will be permitted to take a new examination. Not more than two such renewal applications will be entertained.

RULE 92—PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT—RELATIONS WITH AGENCY

All Practitioners must conform to the standards of conduct required by the Canons of the Code of Ethics of the Association of Interstate Commerce Commission Practitioners. The following of those Canons deal with the conduct to which Practitioners must conform in their relations with The Agency.

(I. C. C. 71 (b))

92.1 Canon 2—Attitude Toward the Commission. It is the duty of the Practitioner to maintain toward the Commission a respectful attitude, not for the sake of the temporary incumbent of the office, but for the maintenance of the importance of the functions he administers. In many respects the Commission functions as a court, and Practitioners should regard themselves as officers of that court and strive to uphold its honor and dignity. The Commission, not being wholly free to defend itself, is peculiarly entitled to receive the support of the Practitioners against unjust criticism and clamor. Whenever there is proper ground for serious complaint of a member or employee of the Commission it is the right and duty of the Practitioner to submit his grievances to the proper authorities. In such cases, but not otherwise, such charges should be encouraged and the person making them should be protected.

92.2 Canon 3—Punctuality and Expedition. It is the duty of the Practitioner not only to his client, but also to the Commission and to the public, to be punctual in attendance, and to be concise and direct in the trial and disposition of causes.

92.3 Canon 4—Attempts to Exert Political Influence. It is unethical for a Practitioner to attempt to sway the judgment of the Commission by propaganda, or by enlisting the influence or intercession of members of the Congress or other public officers, or by threats of political or personal reprisal.

92.4 Canon 5—Attempts to Exert Personal Influence. Marked attention and unusual hospitality on the part of a Practitioner to a Commissioner, examiner, or other representative of the Commission, uncalled for and unwarranted by the personal relations of the parties, subject both to misconstruction of motive and should be avoided. A self-respecting independence in the discharge of duty, without denial or diminution of the courtesy and respect due the official station is the only proper foundation for cordial personal and official relations between Commission and Practitioners.

92.5 Canon 6—Selection of Commissioners. The nomination of Commissioners is a duty of the President, and confirmation, of the Senate. It is the duty of the Practitioners in so far as they attempt to advise the appointing or confirming officers, to endeavor to prevent any consideration from out-weighing fitness in the selection.

92.6 Canon 7—Practitioner's Duty in its Last Analysis. No client, corporate or individual, however powerful, no cause, civil or political however important, is entitled to receive, and no Practitioner should render, any service or advice involving disloyalty to the law or disrespect of its official ministers, or corruption of any person or persons exercising a public office or employment or private trust, or deception or betrayal of the public. In rendering any such improper service or advice the Practitioner invites and merits stern and just condemnation. Correspondingly, he advances the honor of his calling and the best interests of his client when he renders service or gives advice tending to impress upon the client and his undertaking exact compliance with the strictest principles of moral law. He must also observe and advise his client to observe the statute law, although until a statute shall have been construed and interpreted by competent adjudication, he is free and is entitled to advise as to its validity and as to what he conscientiously believes to be its just meaning and extent. But above all he will find his highest honor in a deserved reputation for fidelity to private trust and to public duty, as an honest man and as a patriotic and loyal citizen.

92.7 Canon 8—Private Communications. In the disposition of contested proceedings brought under the Interstate Commerce Act the Commission exercises quasi-legislative powers, but it is nevertheless acting in a quasi-judicial capacity. It is required to administer the Act and to consider at all times the public interest beyond the mere interest of the particular litigants before it. To the extent that it acts in a quasi-judicial capacity, it is grossly improper for litigants, directly or through any counsel or representative, to communicate privately with a commissioner, examiner or other representative of the Commission about a pending cause, or to argue privately the merits thereof in the absence of their adversaries or without notice to them. Practitioners at all times should scrupulously refrain in their communications to and discussions with the Commission and its staff from going beyond ex parte representations that are clearly proper in view of the administrative work of the Commission.

92.8 Canon 37—Discovery of Imposition and Deception. When a Practitioner discovers that some fraud or deception has been practiced, which has unjustly imposed upon the Commission or a party, he should endeavor to rectify it; first by advising his client to forego any advantage thus unjustly gained and, if his client refuses, by promptly informing the injured person or his Practitioner, so that appropriate steps may be taken.

92.9 Canon 38—Upholding the Honor of the Calling. Practitioners should expose without fear or favor before the proper tribunals corrupt or dishonest conduct and should accept without hesitation employment against a Practitioner who has wronged his client. The Practitioner upon the trial of a cause in which perjury has been committed owes it to the Commission and to the public to bring the matter to the knowledge of the prosecuting authorities. The Practitioner should aid in guarding the bar of the Commission against admission thereto of candidates unfit or unqualified because deficient in either moral character or education. A Practitioner should propose no person for admission to practice before the Commission unless from personal knowledge or upon reasonable inquiry he sincerely believes and is able to vouch that such person possesses the qualifications prescribed in the Commission's rules of practice. He should strive at all times to uphold the honor and maintain the dignity of his calling and to improve not only the law but the administration of justice.

RULE 93—RELATIONS WITH CLIENT

The standards of conduct to which a Practitioner must conform in his relationship with his client are prescribed in the following Canons of Ethics of the Association of Interstate Commerce Commission Practitioners.

93.0 Canon 40—Retirement from Public Employment. A Practitioner, having once held public office or having been in the public employ, should not after his retirement, accept employment as an advocate or adviser in the same proceeding or as to the same, or substantially the same facts, as were involved in any specific question which he investigated or passed upon in a judicial or quasi-judicial capacity while in such office or employ, whether the same or different parties are concerned.

93.1 Canon 9—Adverse Influence and Conflicting Interests. It is the duty of a Practitioner at the time of retainer to disclose to the client all the circumstances of his relations to the parties, and any interest in or connection with the controversy, which might influence the client in the selection of the person to represent or assist him.

It is unethical to represent conflicting interests, except by express consent of all concerned given after a full disclosure of the facts. Within the meaning of this canon a Practitioner represents conflicting interests when, in behalf of one client, it is his duty to contend for that which duty to another client requires him to oppose.

The obligation to represent the client with undivided fidelity and not to divulge his secrets or confidences forbids also the subsequent acceptance of retainers or employment from others in matters adversely affecting any interest of the client with respect to which confidence has been reposed.

93.2 Canon 10—Joint Association of Practitioners and Conflicts of Opinion. A client's proffer of the assistance of additional Practitioner should not be regarded as evidence of want of confidence, but the matter should be left to the determination of the client. A Practitioner should decline association as colleague if it is objectionable to the Practitioner first retained, but if the client should relieve the Practitioner first retained, another may come into the case.

When Practitioners jointly associated in a cause cannot agree as to any matter vital to the interest of the client, the conflict of opinion should be frankly stated to him for his final determination. His decision should be accepted by them unless the nature of the difference makes it impracticable for the Practitioner whose judgment has been overruled to cooperate effectively. In this event it is his duty to ask the client to relieve him.

Efforts, direct or indirect, in any way to encroach upon the business of another Practitioner are unworthy of those who should be brethren, but, nevertheless, it is the right of any Practitioner, without fear or favor, to give proper advice to those seeking relief against an unfaithful or neglectful Practitioner, generally after communication with the Practitioner of whom the complaint is made.

93.3 Canon 11—Withdrawal from Employment. The right of a Practitioner to withdraw from employment, once assumed, arises only from good cause. Even the desire or consent of the client is not always sufficient. The Practitioner representing him should not throw up the unfinished task to the detriment of his client except for reasons of honor or self-respect. If the client insists upon an unjust or immoral course in the conduct of his case, or if he persists over the Practitioner's remonstrance in presenting frivolous defenses, or if he deliberately disregards an agreement or obligation as to fees or expenses, the Practitioner may be warranted in withdrawing on due notice to the client, allowing him time to employ another. So also when a Practitioner discovers that his client has no case and the client is determined to continue it; or even if he finds himself incapable of conducting the case effectively. Sundry other instances may arise in which withdrawal is to be justified. Upon withdrawing from a case after a retainer has been paid, he should refund such part of the retainer as has not been clearly earned.

93.4 Canon 12—Advising Upon Merits of Client's Cause. A Practitioner should endeavor to obtain full knowledge of his client's cause before advising thereon, and he is bound to give a candid opinion of the merits and probable result of pending or contemplated litigation. He should beware of bold and confident assurance to clients, especially where employment may depend upon such assurance. Whenever the controversy will admit of fair adjustment, the client should be advised to avoid or to end the litigation.

93.5 Canon 13—Negotiations with Opposing Party. A Practitioner should not in any way communicate upon the subject of controversy with a party represented by another Practitioner except upon express agreement with the Practitioner representing such party; much less should he undertake to negotiate or compromise the matter with him, but should deal only with the Practitioner who represents the other party. It is incumbent upon the Practitioner most particularly to avoid everything that may tend to mislead a party not represented by a Practitioner, and he should not undertake to advise him as to the law.

93.6 Canon 22—Dealing with Trust Property. Money of the client or other trust property coming into the possession of the Practitioner should be reported promptly, and, except with the client's knowledge and consent, should not be commingled with the Practitioner's private property or be used by him.

93.7 Canon 23—How Far a Practitioner May Go in Supporting a Client's Cause. Nothing will operate more certainly to create or foster popular prejudice against Practitioners as a class, and deprive them of that full measure of public esteem and confidence which belongs to the proper discharge of their duties than does the false claim, often set up by the unscrupulous in defense of questionable transactions, that it is the duty of the Practitioner to do whatever may enable him to succeed in winning his client's cause.

The Practitioner owes "entire devotion to the interest of the client, warm zeal in the maintenance and defense of his rights, and the exertion of his utmost learning and ability," to the end that nothing be taken or be withheld from him, save by the rules of law, legally applied. No fear of the disfavor of the Commission or public unpopularity should restrain him from full discharge of his duty. The client is entitled to the benefit of any and every remedy and defense that is authorized by the law of the land, and he may expect his counsel to assert every such remedy or defense. But it is to be steadfastly borne in mind that this great trust is to be performed within and not without the bounds of the law. Admission to the privilege of appearing before the Commission as representing another does not permit, much less does it demand of him for any client, violation of law or any manner of fraud or chicane. He must obey his own conscience and not that of his client.

93.8 Canon 24—Restraining Clients from Improprieties. A Practitioner should use his best efforts to restrain and to prevent his clients from doing those things which he himself ought not to do, particularly with reference to their conduct towards the Commission, other Practitioners, witnesses and suitors. If a client persists in such wrong-doing the Practitioner should terminate their relations.

93.9 Canon 41—Confidences of a Client. The duty to preserve his client's confidences in the course of his employment outlasts the Practitioner's employment, and extends as well to his employees. None of them should accept employment which involves the disclosure or use of these confidences, either for the private advantage of the Practitioner or his employees or to the disadvantage of the client, without knowledge and consent of the client even though there are other available sources of such information. A Practitioner should not continue employment when he discovers that this obligation prevents the performance of his full duty to his former or to his new client.

If a Practitioner is falsely accused by his client, he is not precluded from disclosing the truth in respect to the false accusation. The announced intention of a client to commit a crime is not included within the confidences which a Practitioner is bound to respect. He may properly make such disclosures as to prevent the act or protect those against whom it is threatened.

RULE 94—PRACTITIONERS' FEES

The standards of professional conduct to which the Practitioner must conform in receiving compensation for services rendered as a Practitioner are set out in the following Canons of Ethics of the Association of Interstate Commerce Commission Practitioners.

94.1 Canon 14—Fixing the Amount of the Fee. In fixing fees, Practitioners should avoid charges which overestimate their advice and services, as well as those which undervalue them. A client's ability to pay cannot justify a charge in excess of the value of the service, although his poverty may require a less charge, or even none at all.

94.2 Canon 15—Compensation, Commission and Rebates. A Practitioner should accept no compensation, commissions, rebates, or other advantages from parties to the proceeding other than his client without the knowledge and consent of his client after full disclosure.

94.3 Canon 16—Contingent Fees. Contingent fees should be such only as are sanctioned by law. In no case, except a charity case, should they be entirely contingent upon success.

94.4 Canon 17—Division of Fees. No division of fees for services is proper, except with a member of the bar or with another Practitioner, based upon a division of service or responsibility. It is unethical for a Practitioner to retain laymen to solicit his employment in pending or prospective cases, and reward them by a division of fees, and such a practice cannot be too severely condemned.

94.5 Canon 18—Suing Clients for Fees. Controversies with clients concerning compensation are to be avoided in so far as compatible with self-respect and with the right to receive reasonable recompense for services; and lawsuits against clients should be resorted to only to prevent injustice, imposition or fraud.

94.6 Canon 19—Acquiring Interest in Litigation. The Practitioner shall not purchase or otherwise acquire any pecuniary interest in the subject matter of the litigation which he is conducting.

94.7 Canon 20—Expenses. A Practitioner may not properly agree with a client that the Practitioner shall pay or bear the expenses of litigation. He may in good faith advance expenses as a matter of convenience but subject to reimbursement by the client.

RULE 95—CONDUCT OF LITIGATION

The standards of professional conduct to which the Practitioner must conform in his conduct of litigation is governed by the following Canons of Ethics of the Association of Interstate Commerce Commission Practitioners:

95.1 Canon 21—Witnesses. A Practitioner shall not undertake that the compensation of a witness shall be contingent upon the success of the cause in which he is called. If the ascertainment of truth requires that a Practitioner should seek information from one connected with or reputed to be biased in favor of an adverse party, he is not thereby deterred from seeking to ascertain the truth from such person in the interest of his client.

95.2 Canon 25—Ill-Feeling and Personalities Between Advocates. Clients, not their representatives, are the litigants. Whatever may be the ill-feeling existing between clients, it should not be allowed to influence Practitioners in their conduct and demeanor toward each other or towards suitors in the case. All personalities between Practitioners should be scrupulously avoided. In the trial of a cause it is indecent to allude to the personal history or the personal peculiarities and idiosyncracies of Practitioners on the other side. Personal colloquies between Practitioners which cause delay and promote unseemly wrangling should also be carefully avoided. Their statements should be addressed to the Commission.

95.3 Canon 26—Treatment of Witnesses and Litigants. A Practitioner should always treat adverse witnesses and suitors with fairness and due consideration, and he should never minister to the malevolence or prejudice of a client in the trial or conduct of a cause. The client cannot be made the keeper of the Practitioner's conscience in such matters. He has no right to demand that the Practitioner representing him shall abuse the opposing party or indulge in offensive personalities. Improper speech is not excusable on the ground that it is what the client would say if speaking in his own behalf.

95.4 Canon 28—Discussion of Pending Litigation in Public Press. Attempts to influence the action and attitude of the members and examiners of the Commission through propaganda, or through colored or distorted articles, in the public press, are more apt to react against than in favor of the parties resorting to such measures. On the other hand, it is not against the public interest or unfair to the Commission that the facts of pending litigation shall be made known to the public through the press in a fair and unbiased manner and in dispassionate terms. Practitioners should themselves avoid, and should counsel their clients against, giving to the public press any press notices or statements of a nature intended to inflame the public mind, to stir up possible hostility toward the Commission, or to influence the Commission's course and judgment as to pending or anticipated litigation. When the circumstances of a particular case appear to justify a statement to the public through the press, it is unethical to make it anonymously.

95.5 Canon 29—Candor and Fairness. The conduct of Practitioners before the Commission and with other Practitioners should be characterized by candor and fairness. The non-technical character and liberality of the Commission's practice call for scrupulous observance of the principles of fair dealing and just consideration for the rights of others.

It is not candid or fair for a Practitioner knowingly to misstate or misquote the contents of a paper, the testimony of a witness, the language or the argument of an opposing Practitioner, or the language or effect of a decision or a text book; or, with knowledge of its invalidity to cite as authority a decision which has been overruled or otherwise impaired as a precedent or a statute which has been repealed; or in argument to assert as a fact that which has not been proved, or to mislead his opponent by concealing or withholding positions in his opening argument upon which his side then intends to rely.

It is dishonorable to deal other than candidly with the facts in taking the statements of witnesses, in drawing affidavits and other documents, and in the presentation of causes.

A Practitioner should not offer evidence, which he knows the Commission should reject, in order to get the same before the Commission by argument for its admissibility, or arguments upon any point not properly calling for determination. He should not introduce into an argument remarks or statements intended to influence the by-standers.

These and all kindred practices are unethical and unworthy of a Practitioner.

95.6 Canon 30—Right of Practitioner to Control the Incidents of the Trial. As to incidental matters pending the trial, not affecting the merits of the cause or working substantial prejudice to the rights of the client, such as forcing the opposing Practitioner to trial when he is under affliction or bereavement, forcing the trial on a particular day to the injury of the opposing Practitioner when no harm will result from trial at a different time, agreeing to extensions of time and the like, the Practitioner and not the client, must be allowed to judge. In such matters no client has a right to demand that his Practitioner shall be illiberal or do anything therein repugnant to the Practitioner's sense of honor and propriety.

95.7 Canon 31—Taking Technical Advantage of Opposing Practitioner; Agreements with Him. A Practitioner should not ignore known customs or practice of the Commission, even when the law permits, without giving timely notice to the opposing Practitioner. In so far as possible, important agreements affecting the rights of clients should be reduced to writing; but it is dishonorable to avoid performance of an agreement fairly made because it is not reduced to writing.

95.8 Canon 35—Justifiable and Unjustifiable Litigation. The Practitioner must decline to conduct a cause or to make a defense when convinced that it is intended merely to harass or to injure the opposing party, or to work oppression or wrong. But otherwise it is his right, and having accepted retainer, it becomes his duty, to insist upon the judgment of the Commission as to the merits of his client's claim. His appearance should be deemed equivalent to an assertion upon his honor that in his opinion his client's case is one proper for determination.

95.9 Canon 36—Responsibility for Litigation. No Practitioner is obliged to act either as adviser or advocate for every person who may seek to become his client. He has the right to decline employment. Every Practitioner upon his own responsibility must decide what employment he will accept, what causes he will bring before the Commission for complaints, or contest for defendants or respondents. The responsibility for advising as to questionable transactions, for bringing questionable proceedings, for urging questionable defenses, is his alone. He cannot escape it by urging as excuses that he is only following his client's instructions, or that he is under a stated retainer or in the regular employment of his client.

RULE 96—PROMOTION OF LITIGATION OR EMPLOYMENT

The Practitioner must conform in his professional conduct to the following Canons of Ethics of the Association of Interstate Commerce Commission Practitioners which are designed to eliminate the promotion of litigation or of professional employment directly or indirectly by Practitioners.

96.1 Canon 32—Advertising, Direct or Indirect. The most worthy and effective advertisement possible is the establishment of a well-merited reputation for capacity and fidelity to trust. This cannot be forced, but must be the outcome of character and conduct. The publication or circulation of ordinary simple business cards, being a matter of personal taste or local custom, and sometimes of convenience, is not improper. But solicitation of employment by circulars or advertisements, or by personal communications or interviews, not warranted by personal relations, is unethical. It is equally unethical to procure business by indirection through touters of any kind. Indirect advertisement for employment by furnishing or inspiring newspaper comments concerning causes in which the Practitioner has been or is engaged, or concerning the manner of their conduct, the magnitude of the interests involved, the importance of the Practitioner's positions, and all other like self-laudation, lower the tone of the calling and are intolerable.

96.2 Canon 33—Professional Card. The simple professional card mentioned in Canon 32 may with propriety contain only a statement of the Practitioner's name (and those of his associates), occupation, address, telephone number, and special branch or branches of practice. Such cards may be inserted in reputable lists and may give authorized references, or name clients with their permission.

96.3 Canon 34—Stirring Up Litigation, Directly or Through Agents. It is unethical for a Practitioner to volunteer advice that a proceeding be brought before the Commission, except in rare cases where ties of blood, relationship or trust make it his duty to do so. Stirring up strife and litigation is not only unethical but it is indictable at common law. It is disreputable for a Practitioner to hunt up defects or other causes of action and disclose them in order to be employed to bring complaint, or to breed litigation by seeking out those having claims for damages or any other grounds of action in order to secure them as clients, or to employ agents or runners for like purposes, or to pay or reward, directly or indirectly, those who bring or influence the bringing of such cases to his office to seek his services. No complaint should be brought before the Commission by a Practitioner except with the distinct knowledge and specific consent of the client in the particular case. A duty to the public and to the Commission devolves upon every Practitioner having knowledge of such practices upon the part of any Practitioner, immediately to inform thereof to the end that the offender may be disciplined or disbarred.

96.4 Canon 39—Intermediaries. The services of a Practitioner should not be controlled or exploited by any lay agency, personal or corporate, which intervenes between client and Practitioner. His responsibility and qualifications are individual. He should avoid all relations which direct the performance of his duties in the interest of such intermediaries. His relation to the client should be personal, and the responsibility should be direct to the client.

He may accept employment from any organization, such as an association, club or trade organization, authorized by law to be a party to proceedings before the Commission, to render services in such proceedings in any matter in which the organization, as an entity, is interested. This employment should only include the rendering of such services to the members of the organization in respect to their individual affairs as are consistent with the free and untrammeled performance of his duties to the Commission.

Nothing in this canon shall be construed as conflicting with canon 17 (Rule 94.4).

96.5 Canon 42—Partnerships—Names. Partnerships among Practitioners for the practice of their calling are very common and are not to be condemned. The rules of the Commission provide that corporations or firms will not be recognized. Practitioners before the Commission should therefore appear individually and not as members of partnerships. In the formation of partnerships care should be taken not to violate any law locally applicable; care should also be taken to avoid any misleading name or representation which would create a false impression as to the position or privileges of a member not locally admitted, or who is not duly authorized to practice, and as such amenable to discipline. No person should be held out as a Practitioner or member who is not so admitted. No Practitioner who is not admitted to practice in the courts should be held out in a way which will give the impression that he is so admitted. No false or assumed or trade name should be used to disguise the Practitioner or his partnership. The continued use of the name of a deceased or former partner is or may be permissible by local custom, but care should be taken that no imposition or deception is practiced through this use. If a member of the firm becomes a Commissioner, or an Examiner or other employee of the Commission his name should not be retained in the firm name, as such retention may give color to the impression that an improper relation or influence is continued or possessed by the firm.

This canon does not inhibit the association of a Practitioner with a mercantile, manufacturing, or other commercial institution, in the capacity of its representative or adviser.

RULE 97—DISCIPLINE OF PRACTITIONERS

The Agency will censure, suspend, disbar or revoke the right of any Practitioner to Appear before it as follows:

(I. C. C. Rule 13, F. C. C. 1.714; F. P. C. 1.4 (b); F. T. C. VII; S. E. C. II (e))

97.1 Grounds for Disbarment. The following shall be grounds for disbarment:

(a) Intentional concealment of fraudulent representations in his application for admission to practice;

(b) Lack of the requisite qualifications to represent others in Proceedings before the Commission;

(c) Practice of fraud, misrepresentation or chicanery in his dealings with the Commission, its officers or employees, his clients or with other Practitioners or Parties;

(d) Intentionally making a false statement or representation in any Procedural Instrument;

(e) Repetition of an offense for which he has theretofore been censured or suspended by the Commission.

(f) Disbarment by any court.

97.2 Grounds for Censure or Suspension. The following shall be grounds for the censure or suspension of a Practitioner:

(a) Intentional deviation from any of the Canons of Ethics set forth in Rules 92 to 96, inclusive;

(b) Contemptuous or contumacious conduct at any Hearing or at any Prehearing or other Conference.

97.3 Order to Show Cause. Whenever the Commission finds, either of its own initiative or upon motion, of any Practitioner that a Practitioner may be guilty of an offense warranting disbarment, censure or discipline, it will issue and Serve upon such Practitioner an Order to Show Cause why he should not be disbarred, censured or suspended, which Order shall set forth tentatively the charges upon which such action may be taken. Within the time fixed in such Order the Practitioner may respond thereto under oath, setting forth his answer or defense, if any, to such charges. If such response raises any issue of Material Fact, the Commission will set the matter down for Hearing before Division One.

97.4 Final Order. At or following the Hearing prescribed in sub-rule 97.3, if one be held, otherwise upon the Order to Show Cause and the Response thereto, if any, Division One will enter an Order of disbarment, censure, or suspension as may be appropriate if it finds that grounds therefor exist. Otherwise, it will enter an Order dismissing the charges and discontinuing the Proceeding.

97.5 Exclusion from Proceeding. In the event a Practitioner during a Hearing, or Pre-hearing or other Conference shall refuse to obey the proper directions of the Hearing Officer or shall otherwise be guilty of disorderly, contemptuous or contumacious conduct at such Hearing or Conference the Hearing Officer, for good reasons stated in the Record, may exclude such Practitioner from further participation in such Proceeding and Direct that the matter be submitted to Division One for further action. Such Practitioner may Appeal in writing or by telegram to the Chairman of Division One, which Appeal shall set forth the reasons given by the Hearing Officer upon the Record and such Practitioner's Response thereto. The Chairman of Division One will immediately review the action of the Hearing Officer and affirm, reverse or modify the same. Pending action upon such Appeal, unless the Hearing Officer otherwise directs, the Practitioner shall be excluded from the Hearing or Conference room.

(F. P. C. 1.4 (2); F. T. C. XIV; S. E. C. II (f))

97.6 Reinstatement. A Practitioner who has been suspended or disbarred as provided in this Rule, at any time may File with the Commission and Serve upon the Association of Interstate Commerce Commission Practitioners a verified application setting forth in detail any change in conditions which warrant his reinstatement as a Practitioner. The said Association or any Practitioner within 60 days thereafter, may File and Serve upon such Practitioner a Protest against the granting of the application with the specific grounds therefor, which Protest shall be verified by one or more Practitioners in good standing who shall state in such verification the source of their knowledge of the facts stated therein.

The applicant, within 30 days thereafter, may File a verified Reply to such Protest. Division One thereafter will grant or deny the application upon such Pleadings, unless it finds that there exists an issue of Material Fact, the determination of which would warrant the granting or denial of the application in which case it shall set the application for Hearing and proceed as provided in sub-rules 97.3 and 97.4 hereof.

RULE 99—REGISTER OF PRACTITIONERS

A register is maintained by The Agency in which there is entered the name and address of all individuals entitled to practice before it, the date upon which they were admitted and the type of practice to which they were admitted. 225.4 Hostile Witnesses. Whenever a Witness is Hostile, unwilling or evasive, or is an Adverse Party, or his Privy, the Party calling him may interrogate by Leading Questions and contradict and impeach him in all respects as if he had been called by the Adverse Party.

(C. R. 43 (b); FTC XV)

225.5 Refreshing Memory. A Witness, while under examination, may refresh his memory by referring to a Writing whether or not made by himself, where (1) he is thereby enabled actually to recollect the Facts so that he can then testify in reality from memory, or (2) after referring to the Writing he does not recollect the Facts but does remember that he made or saw it when the Facts were fresh in his mind, and that it then stated the Facts correctly, (3) the memorandum is as to items, dates, names, amounts, places, statistics, calculations and similar details which he knows are correctly and accurately stated therein, (4) after referring to the writing he neither recollects the Facts nor remembers having seen it before and yet from seeing his handwriting therein or signature thereto he is able to testify to its genuineness, (5) the Witness is an expert and the Writing is a professional treatise.

(Stephens Article 136 Note 2; ALI 504)

225.6 Inspection. Before a Witness is permitted to testify from a memorandum under Sub-Rule 225.4, it must be shown to the Adverse Party, if he requires it, who at that time may cross examine with respect to the time and circumstances under which it was made, but not upon the statements therein contained. If demanded by the Adverse Party, the memorandum shall be offered in Evidence.

(Stephens Article 137)

RULE 226—CROSS EXAMINATION

Parties shall have the right to conduct such non-repetitious cross examination of Witnesses introduced by Adversary Parties as may be required for a full and true disclosure of the Facts subject to:

226.1 Limitations. Cross examination will be confined to specific Material Facts to which the Witness testified on direct examination or to matters covered in Sub-Rule 226.2 unless upon motion and for good cause, the Hearing Officer permits questions as to other Material Facts, in which latter case the cross examiner with respect to these Facts makes the Witness his own.

(Stephens Article 128, American Note 1)

226.2 Collateral Matters. A Witness, upon cross examination, may be asked questions irrevelant or Collateral to the issues which are designed to test his bias, accuracy, veracity, credibility or which tend to degrade or disgrace him. Where such questions do not relate to Material Facts, the Witness or Counsel who tendered him, may claim the privilege of declining to answer them and such claim may be considered in weighing his credibility. The Hearing Officer has the discretion with or without objection to limit the scope, range and extent of such questions, but in no event will a Witness be subjected to insult, abuse, bulldozing, bullying, threats or other intimidation.

(Stephens Article 129)

226.3 Number of Cross Examiners. Except where the interests or positions of the Parties on the same side are Adversary, all questions must be put through a single cross examiner, selected by such Parties if they can agree, otherwise by the Hearing Officer. The Hearing Officer has discretion to depart from this Sub-Rule in any case in which, and to the extent, he finds that the interests of any Party or the Public so requires.

RULE 227—IMPEACHMENT

Except in the case of a Hostile Witness (Sub-Rule 225.4), a Party cannot impeach his own Witness, but he may prove the truth by other Witnesses. A Party may impeach the Testimony of a Witness for an Adversary Party under the following conditions:

227.1 Prior Inconsistent Oral Statement. Where, under cross examination, the Witness upon being asked, has not distinctly and unequivocally admitted to having made a statement at a time and place and under circumstances specifically designated relative to a Material Fact inconsistent with his present Testimony, Proof may be introduced that he did, in fact, make such a statement.

(Stephens Article 131, American Note 1)

227.2 Prior Inconsistent Written Statement. Where a Witness under cross examination is shown a Writing purporting to contain a statement relative to a Material Fact inconsistent with his present Testimony, which he does not distinctly and unequivocally admit to having made, Proof may be introduced that he did make it. If, under such circumstances, he admits having made the statement, it may be read into the Record and the Witness may give such explanation thereof as he desires either at that time or upon redirect examination.

(Stephens Article 132, Note 1)

227.3 Direct Impeachment. The credit of any Witness for an Adverse Party may be impeached by Testimony of disinterested persons of their own knowledge that the general reputation of the Witness for truth and veracity is bad and that based upon such reputation, they believe him to be unworthy of credit upon his oath. Such Witnesses may not give specific reasons for their belief upon direct examination, but if required to do so, as they may be, on cross examination, may not be contradicted with respect thereto.

(Stephens Article 33, American Note 2)

RULE 228—RIGHTS OF WITNESSES

Any person compelled to testify or voluntarily testifying in a Proceeding, may be accompanied, represented and advised by Counsel and may obtain upon payment of the lawfully prescribed fees therefor a copy of the transcript of his Testimony and of all Documentary Evidence which he was compelled to produce.

It shall state concisely, clearly and without repetition Facts or Opinions of the Witness dealing directly with a Material Fact respecting which Testimony is Competent and shall not contain statements of position, Conclusions, Arguments or improper, scandalous, impertinent or provocative language or accusations.

232.5 Opinions. If the Witness expresses an Opinion as to a Material Fact, he shall briefly, concisely and without argument give the grounds upon which he bases such Opinion.

The Practitioner, if any, of the Party submitting the Verified Statement must certify whether the Verified Statement was made or verified by the Witness in his presence.

233.1 By Whom Taken. An original and two copies of such cross interrogatories with each question separate and consecutively numbered, at the option of sender may be mailed under seal to the Deponent or to any person having an office in the metropolitan area of Deponent's residence or place of business, who is authorized to administer oaths, and who is not a Party or Privy to any Party, to or interested in the event of the Proceeding;

Should he refuse or fail to do so within ten days, his Verified Statement will not be received in Evidence;

233.3 Subpoena. Except where the cross interrogatories are sent directly to the Deponent, the Party making same shall obtain from The Agency and forward with the cross interrogatories a Subpoena requiring the attendance of the Deponent before the Officer to whom sent at time and place named therein, which shall be served and returned as provided in Rule 227;

233.4 Answers Before an Officer. Where the cross interrogatories are forwarded to an Officer authorized to administer oaths as provided in Sub-Rule 233.1, the Officer taking the same after duly swearing the Deponent, shall read to him seriatim, one cross interrogatory at a time and cause the same and the answer thereto to be recorded in triplicate before the succeeding interrogatory is asked. No one except the Deponent, the Officer and the Court Reporter or stenographer recording and transcribing it shall be present during the interrogation.

(CAB 20 (f); SEC VIII (g); ICC 59 (b))

233.5 Attestation and Return. The Officer before whom cross interrogatories are verified (Sub-Rule 233.2) or answered (Sub-Rule 233.4) shall (1) certify under his official signature and seal that the Deponent was duly sworn by him, that the cross interrogatories and answers are a true record of the Deponent's Testimony, that no one except Deponent, the Officer and the stenographer were present during the taking, and that neither he nor the stenographer, to his knowledge, is a Party, Privy to a Party, or interested in the event of the Proceedings, and (2) promptly send by registered mail the original copy of the Deposition and Exhibits with his Attestation to the Secretary of The Agency, one copy to the Counsel who submitted the cross interrogatories and another copy to the Deponent;

234.1 Scope. Unless otherwise ordered as provided in Sub-Rule 234.4, the Deponent may be examined regarding any matter not Privileged, which is relevant to the subject matter involved in the Proceeding, whether it relates to the claim or defense of the examining Party or of any other Party including the existence, description, nature, custody, condition, and location of any books, documents or other tangible things and the identity and location of persons having knowledge of Relevant Facts. It is not ground for objection that the Testimony will be inadmissible if it appears reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of Admissible Evidence.

The notice shall state the time and place for taking the Deposition, the name and address of each person to be examined, if known, and if the name is not known, a general description sufficient to identify him or the particular class or group to which he belongs. On motion of a Party upon whom the notice is served, the Hearing Officer may for cause shown, enlarge or shorten the time. If the Parties so Stipulate in writing, Depositions may be taken before any person, at any time or place, upon any notice, and in any manner and when so taken may be used as other Depositions;

234.4 Protection of Parties and Deponents. After notice is served for taking a Deposition by oral examination, upon motion reasonably made by any Party or by the person to be examined and upon notice and for good cause shown, The Agency may make an order that the Deposition shall not be taken, or that it may be taken only at some designated place other than that stated in the notice, or that it may be taken only on written interrogatories, or that certain matters shall not be inquired into, or that the scope of the examination shall be limited to certain matters, or that the examination shall be held with no one present except the Parties to the action and their officers or Counsel, or that after being sealed, the Deposition shall be opened only by order of The Agency, or that business secrets or secret processes, developments, or research need not be disclosed, or that the Parties shall simultaneously file specified documents or information enclosed in sealed envelopes to be opened as directed by The Agency; or The Agency may make any other order which justice requires to protect the Party or Witness from annoyance, embarrassment, or oppression. the examination to cease forthwith from taking the Deposition, or may limit the scope and manner of the taking of the Deposition as above provided. If the order made terminates the examination, it shall be resumed thereafter only upon the order of The Agency. Upon demand of the objecting Party or Deponent, the taking of the Deposition shall be suspended for the time necessary to make a Motion for an order. He shall then securely seal the Deposition in an envelope indorsed with the title of the Proceeding and marked "Deposition of (here insert name of Witness)" and shall promptly send it by registered mail to the Secretary of The Agency for filing. The Party taking the Deposition shall give prompt notice of its filing to all other Parties. Upon payment of reasonable charges therefor, the officer shall furnish a copy of the Deposition to any Party or to the Deponent.

234.8 Use and Effect. Subject to rulings by the Hearing Officer upon objections a Deposition taken and filed as provided in this Rule and its Sub-Rules shall be received but will not become a part of the Record in the Proceeding until received as provided in Article 26. A Party does not make a Party, or the Privy of a Party, or any hostile Witness his Witness by taking his Deposition. Any Party may rebut any Relevant Evidence contained in a Deposition whether introduced by him or any other Party.

259.4 Corroboration After Challenge. Where such original Evidence is so challenged, the Party offering the same, may introduce Evidence confined to Facts which tend to corroborate such Evidence or to establish the credibility thereof insofar as the same is so specifically challenged.

259.5 Number of Witnesses. Where the Hearing Officer finds that the existence or non-existence of a Fact in Issue may be inferred from specific Relevant, but collateral Facts identical or similar in nature to one another, he, with or without motion, shall limit the number of Witnesses as to such collateral Facts to such a number as will be sufficient, if believed, to warrant or rebut the drawing of such an inference, unless the Parties Stipulate that one Witness shall be produced and examined in support and one in rebuttal of such Fact in Issue and that each Party has available other Witnesses whose Testimony on both direct and cross-examination would be substantially to the same effect as that of the single Witness introduced by him.

ARTICLE 26—RECEPTION OF EVIDENCE

RULE 260—OFFER OF EVIDENCE

An offer of Evidence may be made by a Party at the time and in the manner provided in Articles 20, 22 and 23, by either (1) interrogation of a Witness at an Oral Hearing upon direct, cross, redirect or recross examination; (2) Filing and Service of the Verified Statement of a Witness; (3) Filing and Service of a Deposition of a Witness, or (4) Filing and Service of Documentary Evidence which is not required under these Rules to be verified by a Witness. Evidence introduced by a Hearing Officer by interrogation of Witnesses or by directing the Filing and Service of Documentary Evidence will be received without formal offer.

(F. P. C. 1.20 (j); M. C. 201.124)

260.1 Depositions. Where all of the questions and answers of a Witness upon Deposition are offered, the offer may be made by designating the name and address of the Witness, the time and place where, and the Officer before whom taken. In all other cases, the offer must be made by Filing and Service of each question and answer, numbered as in the original document, and the number and title of any Exhibits thereto. In such latter case any other Party within five days thereafter, if no Oral Hearing is held, otherwise at such Oral Hearing may either (1) offer the entire Deposition, or (2) by Filing and Service of specified questions and answers or Exhibits identified as above provided.

* The general rule that facts, and not conclusions, should be stated, is a wise and salutary one, and cannot be too strictly followed. It tends to prevent fraud and perjury, and is one of the strongest safeguards of personal liberty and private rights. Whenever it is doubtful whether a case falls under the rule, or under one of its exceptions, the wise course is to place it under the rule.

(I. C. C. 67; F. C. C. 1.825, 1.873, 1.826; F. P. C. 1.24 (h); M. C. 201.134)

RULE 261—OBJECTIONS

Objections to the receipt in Evidence of Testimony or Documentary or Autoptic Evidence, shall be made at the time and manner as specified in the Sub-Rules hereof and unless so made, will be considered as waived unless the Hearing Officer or The Agency of his or its own motion, rejects the Evidence as inadmissible under these Rules.

(I. C. C. 87; C. R. 46; C. A. B. 20 (c) (d); F. C. C. 8.25 (b); F. T. C. XVIII; S. E. C. VIII (c))

261.1 Form. The ground of an objection shall be specific with citation of the Rule hereof under which it is claimed that the Evidence is inadmissible without argument or citation of other authority and unless so made, will be disregarded.

(C. A. B. 20 (c) (d); S. E. C. VIII (c))

261.2 Reply. The Party offering the Evidence may, and if called upon by the Hearing Officer, shall without argument, or debate, state the ground and cite the Rule hereof under which it is claimed that the Evidence is Admissible. If the objection be made at an Oral Hearing, such reply shall be immediately made on the Record following the objection, otherwise, it shall be made in writing within five (5) days after the objection or motion is Filed and Served as provided herein.

261.3 Verified Statements. Objections by an Adversary Party to Evidence contained in a Verified Statement shall specify the particular numbered question or paragraph to which it relates or the particular sentence, or clause thereof if it does not relate to the entire paragraph. Such objection shall be made at the time such Adversary Party is required to produce his Proof in answer or Rebuttal of such Verified Statement. The interrogation of the Witness by cross interrogatories or by Deposition will not waive the right to object to statements in such Verified Statements but if such objection is sustained, both the Evidence in the Verified Statement and in the cross-interrogatories or the answers thereto or cross questions and answers thereto in Depositions respecting such Evidence, shall be excluded.

261.4 Depositions. All objections to the taking of a Deposition or to the notice thereof or to the qualifications of the officer taking the same or to the manner of taking it or to the conduct of any Party at the taking or to errors of any kind which might be obviated, removed or cured, if promptly presented, or to a question or an answer are waived unless seasonable objection thereto is made at the time such error occurs. Such objections will be noted by the officer upon the Deposition. Objections to questions or answers in cross interrogatories may be made by the Adversary Party, either at the time the same are taken, in which case they shall be noted on the record by the officer taking the Deposition, or at the time such Adversary Party is required to produce Proof under the Rules hereof in answer or Rebuttal of the Evidence contained therein.

(I. C. C. 61; F. C. C. 1.825 (a) (b) (c); C. R. 32)

261.5 Oral Testimony. Objection to a question or answer given by a Witness at an Oral Hearing, shall be made at the time such question is asked, if the objection be to the question or at the time such answer is given if the objection be to the answer.

261.6 Documentary or Autoptic Evidence. Where Documentary or Autoptic Evidence is offered at an Oral Hearing, objection thereto may be made after the Adversary Party has had the opportunity of inspection and cross examination and at such time as the Hearing Officer shall call for objections thereto. Objections to Documentary or Autoptic Evidence offered in connection with Verified Statements, answers to cross interrogatories or Depositions, shall be made at the time that objections are required to be made to statements or questions and answers contained therein under the Sub-Rules of this Rule.

261.7 Motion to Strike. Any Party may move to strike as inadmissible any Evidence on any ground upon which an objection to the Evidence might have been seasonably made if the Hearing Officer finds either (1) that the ground of inadmissibility of the Evidence was offered or received, or (2) that for any other reason the movant in the exercise of due diligence was unable to make or was prevented from making seasonable objection thereto. In any event, such motion will be entertained only if promptly made with service of notice after the discovery of the claimed ground of inadmissibility.

261.8 Continuing Objections. Unless otherwise directed by the Hearing Officer an objection to a question which has been overruled will be deemed to be made to all succeeding questions of the same or different Witnesses and to have been overruled and such objection shall not be repeated.

RULE 262—RULINGS

The Hearing Officer will promptly rule upon both all objections to, or Motions to Strike Evidence at the time the same are made. Where such objection or motion is not made or required to be made at an Oral Hearing under these Rules, such ruling will be made within two (2) days and notice of such ruling given to all Parties. Such ruling shall cite the applicable Rule or Rules hereof upon the authority of which it is made. No interlocutory appeal from the Ruling of the Hearing Officer will be permitted. The Agency if proper Exception be taken thereto (Rule 265), will consider the objection upon petition for review.

(C. A. B. 24 (d); F. P. C. 1.26 (b), 1.28 (a), 2.20; F. T. C. XVIII; M. C. 201.126; S. E. C. X (h))

Such Offer at an Oral Hearing shall be made immediately following the announcement of the Ruling of the Hearing Officer. In other cases it shall be made in writing, Filed and Served within five days after the Ruling of the Hearing Officer has been served as provided in Rule 262.

264.1 Single Pleading. If the Party takes Exception to more than one such Ruling, all shall be included in the same Pleading.

264.2 Specification. Such Exception shall refer specifically to the particular place in or Document of the Record in which such Ruling appears including, in the case of continuing objections, questions of like import permitted to be answered.

264.3 Citation. Such Exception shall not be argumentative but may contain, without comment, citation to authority deemed to support the Exception.

264.4 Replies. Reply to Exceptions will be permitted if and only if the Hearing Officer of his own motion shall be so direct, and if so permitted, shall be confined to a citation of authority deemed to support the Ruling, but without argument.

264.5 Disposition of Exceptions. The Hearing Officer's denial of the Exceptions within reasons thereof, will be made in the Initial Decision. If the Exception in whole or in part be sustained by the Hearing Officer, his action thereon will be taken pursuant to Rule 265.

264.6 Waiver. Failure of a Party to file an Exception to a Ruling of the Hearing Officer respecting the Admissibility of Evidence, will constitute a waiver of all objections to such Ruling.

RULE 265—REOPENING RECORD

After the Close of the Production of Proof but before the Initial Decision (Rules 204 and 205) the Hearing Officer, with or without motion, may reopen the Record to permit the Production of further Proof in such manner and at such times and places and limited to such Facts or matters, as he shall fix under the following conditions:

282.2 Service. A true copy of every Decision shall be addressed to each Counsel of record and to each Party without Counsel of record and deposited in the United States mail. In addition, if the Decision imposes a Sanction, a true copy thereof either (a) will be delivered personally to each Person subjected to such Sanction, or his agent duly appointed and authorized to receive such Service or (b) will be sent by registered United States mail, with receipt demanded, to each said Person, or said agent. If the Decision establishes, amends, or rescinds a Rule, amendment, or rescission will be published in the Daily Federal Register.

282.3 Review Upon Agency Initiative. The Agency upon its own initiative, may provide, by an order Filed and Served at any time before the effective date of an Initial Decision, that such Decision shall not become final and that it shall be further reviewed, considered and determined by The Agency.

(F. C. C. 8.53 (b), (c); I. C. C. 97 (a))

RULE 283—APPEALS

Any Party to the Proceeding may Appeal from an Initial Decision or recommended Initial Decision of the Hearing Officer by Filing and Serving: (a) Written notice of such Appeal within 10 days after Service of such Initial Decision (which period will not be enlarged except to prevent manifest injustice or unjust hardship); and (b) Exceptions to said Initial Decision within 20 days after the Filing and Service thereof.

(I. C. C. 96 (a); C. A. B. 302.30; F. C. C. 1.853 (a), (b); F. P. C. 1.31 (a); M. C. 201.97, 201.241)

283.1 Exceptions—Style and Arrangement. Exceptions shall be written in clear, concise, non-legalistic nonrepetitious statements of fact or of conclusions, without argument. They shall be arranged in the same order and given the same numbers as the paragraphs of the Initial Decision to which they respectively relate.

283.2 Exceptions—Content. Exceptions must: (a) specify the particular provision in the Decision to which exception is taken; (b) point out with particularity the alleged error therein, and (c) submit a revised or correct provision, with appropriate citation to the record or of authority.

283.3 Exceptions—Supporting Argument. The Exceptions may be accompanied by a written argument, the parts thereof being arranged and numbered to correspond with the Exceptions. The argument and Exceptions shall be bound in a single document and shall not exceed 40 pages in length.

283.4 Failure to File Exceptions. Failure within the time provided to File a specific Exception to a statement, finding, conclusion, or provision in a Rule or Order of a Decision waives all objections to same. Leave to File Exceptions out of time will be granted only upon a showing of good cause and substantial doubt as to the correctness of the Initial Decision.

283.5 Replies—Multiple. If Exceptions are Filed by more than one Adversary Party, only one Reply may be Filed, which may be in Answer to any or all of the Exceptions. Where the Parties have been alligned (Rule 195), only a single Reply upon behalf of all Parties alligned on a single Side will be permitted.

283.6 Replies—Content. A Reply shall directly, clearly, non-repetitiously and non-argumentively deny, qualify, explain, condition, or avoid each Exception, in order, and with the same paragraph number. If made to Exceptions Filed by two or more Parties, the Exceptions of the several Appellants shall be grouped according to subject matter and a single Reply made. 283.8 Replication. An Appellant, within 10 days after the time for the Filing and Service of Replies to his Exceptions may File a single Replication to all of said Exceptions of not more than 10 pages in length and limited to controverting: (a) New matter contained in the Reply and not treated in Appellant's Exceptions, and (b) Exceptions of all Cross-Appellants when Cross Appeals are joined with one or more Replies.

283.9 Effect of Appeal. The timely Filing of Exceptions to an Initial Decision will operate to stay the provisions of a Rule or Order to which specific Exception is taken. Filing of Exceptions out of time upon leave as provided in Rule 283.4 will not affect the finality of the Decision or stay or postpone the effective date of the Order unless The Agency in its discretion otherwise orders.

RULE 284—DECISION UPON APPEAL

The Agency, upon the Exceptions, Replies, Replications and oral argument, if any, the recommendation of the Hearing or other Officer, as provided in the sub-rules hereof, together with such parts of the record as may be necessary to resolve the issues presented by the Appeal, will affirm, modify, or reverse the Initial or recommended Initial Decision of the Hearing Officer as to it seems best.

No exceptions, reply, or comment may be filed by the Parties to such recommendation, except as otherwise directed by The Agency.

(F. C. C. Act 409 (c); F. C. C. 1.851 (d); F. P. C. 1.30 (f); M. C. 201.99)

(I. C. C. 110 (a); F. C. A. Sec. 405; C. A. B. 302.37; F. C. C. 1.892, 1.894; F. P. C. 1.30 (e))

286.1 Final Decision Only. Petitions will not be entertained for Reconsideration of, or to review, correct, or set aside, intermediate, interlocutory, or temporary orders or directions of The Agency or to review, correct or set aside the Directions of, or an Initial Decision by, a Hearing Officer, except where such Initial Decision has become the Final Decision of The Agency.

286.2 To Reopen Record. A Petition to reopen the Record after submission or Decision to permit the reception or introduction of further evidence must describe such evidence and the witnesses or documents by which it will be adduced with particularity, must show that the same is noncumulative and is material to a controlling issue in the Proceeding, and also must show good cause for such evidence not having been previously adduced.

(I. C. C. 101 (b))

286.3 Correction of Erroneous Decision. A Petition to reverse, vacate, suspend, or modify a Final Decision upon the ground that the same was erroneously made must (1) show that the Decision directly affects substantially all of the Carriers of the particular type or kind involved who operate in one or more of the Rate Territories or that it involves issues which are of general transportation importance; (2) specify the statement of fact, premise, conclusion, principle, reason or precedent claimed to be erroneous; (3) specify the error therein, and (4) state the true or correct fact, premise, principle, reason, or precedent. If the whole or any part of the Decision is claimed to be unlawful or beyond the power or jurisdiction of The Agency to make, the Petition shall specify with particularity the statutory provisions relied upon to establish such claim. If the Petition is grounded upon the fact that the issues involved are of general transportation importance, it must bear the written certificate to that effect of at least one member of The Agency.

(I. C. C. 101 (d); C. A. B. 302.57; F. C. C. 1.893 (a), (b); F. P. C. 1.34 (b); M. C. 201.231)

286.4 Successive Petitions. A successive Petition for Reconsideration by the same Party or by a Party having substantially the same interest as a prior Petitioner will not be entertained unless leave therefor be first obtained. Such leave will be granted only if (a) the errors alleged or the new evidence sought to be introduced were not known and in the exercise of reasonable diligence could not have been known to the Petitioner at the time the original Petition was Filed, or (b) manifest injustice and irreparable injury will result unless the Petition be granted.

286.5 Argument. Petitions for Reconsideration shall be written in clear, concise and non-legalistic language and restricted to non-repetitious statements of fact or of conclusions, without argument. They may be accompanied by a written argument in support thereof, the introductory paragraph of which shall succinctly state the nature of the relief sought and the basic grounds therefor. The Petition including supporting argument shall not exceed 50 pages.

286.6 Findings of Fact. A Petition for Reconsideration or correction of a finding of Fact in the Initial Decision which has been affirmed by The Agency upon Appeal will not be entertained.

286.7 Stay of Order. A Petition for Reconsideration of a Decision of a Division will postpone the effective date thereof pending the further Order of The Agency, but a Petition for Reconsideration of a Decision made by The Agency sitting en banc will not operate to stay or postpone the effective date thereof without further Order of The Agency.

(I. C. A. Sec. 17 (8); M. C. 201.232)

286.8 Replies. Except as otherwise directed by The Agency, Replies to a Petition for Reconsideration will not be entertained unless and until The Agency shall have entered an Order directing that the Decision be reconsidered.

(M. C. 201.234; F. C. C. 1.895)

RULE 287—RECONSIDERATION

Within 60 days after the Filing of a Petition for Reconsideration The Agency en banc will enter an order either denying or granting the Petition. Such an order is not subject to a petition for Reconsideration. If such order grants Reconsideration it will state precisely the questions or Issues to be reconsidered and fix a time, not less than 20 days, within which Replies to the Petition for Reconsideration in so far as they relate to such specified questions or issues may be Filed and Served by Parties Adversary to the petitioner.

287.1 Further Evidence. An order granting Reconsideration may direct that the record be opened for the taking or receipt of new or additional evidence either by verified statement, oral testimony or receipt of authenticated documentary evidence, but in any case Adversary Parties, upon demand, will be given the opportunity to cross examine the witnesses tendering the same and to produce rebutting evidence.

287.2 Oral Argument. An order granting Reconsideration may direct that the Proceeding be set down for oral argument before The Agency en banc at a time and place fixed therein.

287.3 Rehearing. An order granting Reconsideration may direct that the Proceeding be reopened for further hearing either generally or upon specified issues or questions, but, in either case, the evidence adduced at such further hearing will not be subject to an intermediate decision but will be considered along with the other evidence of record in the determination of the Final Decision upon Reconsideration.

287.4 Decision Upon Reconsideration. The Agency, en banc in its Decision upon Reconsideration, will affirm, modify, vacate or reverse the decision under Reconsideration and such Decision shall not be subject to a Petition for Reconsideration.

RULE 288—RELIEF FROM FINAL DECISION

At any time The Agency, upon petition or upon its own initiative for good cause may reopen, alter, modify, set aside, vacate, annul or supplement a Final Decision subject to the following sub rules:

288.1 Clerical Mistakes. The Agency, without notice, will correct clerical mistakes or typographical errors.

288.2 Accident, Mistake or Fraud. The Agency will set aside a Decision which appears to it to have been made as the result of accident, mistake or fraud and will reopen the Proceeding for further hearing and decision.

288.3 Void Decisions. Upon notice The Agency will vacate, set aside and annul any Decision or any part thereof which appears to it to be void as a matter of law.

288.4 Changed Conditions. The Agency may reopen a Proceeding in which there has been a Final Decision to determine whether or not conditions which led to or warranted such order have changed so that the same is manifestly unjust or is contrary to the public interest.

288.5 Supplementation. The Agency may from time to time enter such Order or Orders supplementing a Final Decision as justice shall require.

RULE 289—COMPLIANCE WITH DECISION

When in consequence of Proceedings under The Act any Party by Order directed, required, authorized or granted the right or License to do or to desist from doing anything such Party must notify The Agency on or before the date upon which such Order or requirement must be complied with, whether or not compliance has been made therewith and the manner in which such compliance has been made.

Otherwise, it will dismiss the Petition and discontinue the Proceeding. No Petition for Reconsideration of this Order will be entertained.

RULE 291—SUITS FOR JUDICIAL REVIEW

The Administrative Procedure Act (5 USC 1010 (a)) provided that except where The Agency action "is by law committed to agency discretion, any person suffering legal wrong because of any agency action, or adversely affected or aggrieved by such action within the meaning of any relevant statute shall be entitled to judicial review thereof."

291.1 Form of Action. The Judicial Code (28 USC 1336) provides that "except as otherwise provided by act of Congress, the district courts shall have jurisdiction of any civil action to enforce, enjoin, set aside, annul or suspend in whole or in part any order of the Interstate Commerce Commission". The Administrative Procedure Act (5 USC 1009 (b)) provides that in the absence or inadequacy of any special statutory review proceeding "the form of proceeding for judicial review shall be * * * any applicable form of legal action (including action for declaratory judgment or writs of prohibitory or mandatory injunction or habeas corpus) in any court of competent jurisdiction". Said section further provides that "agency action shall be subject to judicial review in civil or criminal proceedings for judicial enforcement except to the extent that prior adequate and exclusive opportunity for such review is provided by law".

291.2 Venue. The Judicial Code (28 USC 1398) provides "except as otherwise provided by law, any civil action to enforce, suspend or set aside in whole or in part an order of the Interstate Commerce Commission shall be brought only in the judicial district wherein is the residence or principal office of any of the parties bringing such action".

291.3 Process. The Judicial Code (28 USC 2321) provides "* * * in actions to enforce, suspend, enjoin, annul, or set aside in whole or in part any order of the Interstate Commerce Commission other than for the payment of money or the collection of fines, penalties, and forfeitures * * * the orders, writs and process of the district court may run, be served and be returnable anywhere in the United States * * *"

291.4 United States As Party. The Judicial Code (28 USC 2322) provides that all actions to enforce, suspend, enjoin, annul or set aside in whole or in part an order of the Interstate Commerce Commission other than for the payment of money or the collection of fines, penalties, and forfeitures shall be brought by or against the United States.

291.5 Intervenors. The Judicial Code (28 USC 2323) provides that "the Interstate Commerce Commission and any party or parties in interest to the proceeding before the Commission in which an order or requirement is made may appear (in an action to enforce, suspend, enjoin, annul or set aside an order of the Interstate Commerce Commission other than for the payment of money or the collection of fines, penalties and forfeitures) as parties of their own motion and as of right, and be represented by their counsel, in any action involving the validity of such order or requirement or any part thereof, and the interest of said party." Said section further provides "communities, associations, corporations, firms and individuals interested in the controversy or question before the Commission * * * may intervene in said action at any time after commencement thereof."

RULE 292—REVIEWABLE ACTS

The Administrative Procedure Act (5 USC 1009 (c)) provides that "every agency action made reviewable by statute and every final agency action for which there is no other adequate remedy in any court shall be subject to judicial review. Any preliminary, procedural, or intermediate agency action or ruling not directly reviewable shall be subject to review upon the review of the final agency action. Except as otherwise expressly required by statute, agency action otherwise final shall be final for the purposes of this subsection whether or not there has been presented or determined any application for a declaratory order, for any form of reconsideration, or (unless the agency otherwise requires by rule and provides that the action meanwhile shall be inoperative) for an appeal to superior agency authority."

RULE 293—SCOPE OF JUDICIAL REVIEW

The Administrative Procedure Act (5 USC 1009 (e)) provides "So far as necessary to decision and where presented the reviewing court shall decide all relevant questions of law, interpret constitutional and statutory provisions, and determine the meaning or applicability of the terms of any agency action. It shall (A) compel agency action unlawfully withheld or unreasonably delayed; and (B) hold unlawful and set aside agency action, findings, and conclusions found to be (1) arbitrary, capricious, an abuse of discretion, or otherwise not in accordance with law; (2) contrary to constitutional right, power, privilege, or immunity; (3) in excess of statutory jurisdiction, authority, or limitations, or short of statutory right; (4) without observance of procedure required by law; (5) unsupported by substantial evidence in any case subject to the requirements of sections 7 and 8 (of the Administrative Procedure Act) or otherwise reviewed on the record of an agency hearing provided by statute; or (6) unwarranted by the facts to the extent that the facts are subject to trial de novo by the reviewing court. In making the foregoing determinations the court shall review the whole record or such portions thereof as may be cited by any party, and due account shall be taken of the rule of prejudicial error."

RULE 294—STAY BY COMMISSION PENDING REVIEW

The Agency upon the written or telegraphic request of a Plaintiff in any suit to judicially review any order, at least 5 days notice of which shall have been given all Adversary Parties in the Proceeding before the Commission will postpone the effect of such order pending such review where it finds that justice so requires. Within 3 days after Service of notice of such request any Adversary Party may file written representations as to why the effective date of the order should not be postponed.

RULE 295—STAY OF ORDER BY COURT

The Administrative Procedure Act (5 USC 1009 (d)) provides "Upon such conditions as may be required and to the extent necessary to prevent irreparable injury, every reviewing court (including every court to which a case may be taken on appeal from or upon application for certiorari or other writ to a reviewing court) is authorized to issue all necessary and appropriate process to postpone the effective date of any agency action or to preserve status or rights pending conclusion of the review proceedings."

295.1 Interlocutory Injunction. The Judicial Code (28 USC 2324) provides "the pendency of an action to enjoin, set aside or suspend any order of the Interstate Commerce Commission shall not of itself stay or suspend the operation of the order but the court may restrain or suspend in whole or in part the operation of the order pending the final hearing and determination of the action."

RULE 296—THREE-JUDGE COURT

The Judicial Code (28 USC 2325) provides "an interlocutory or permanent injunction restraining the enforcement, operation or execution in whole or in part of any order of the Interstate Commerce Commission shall not be granted unless the application therefor is heard and determined by a district court of three judges under section 2284 of this title" which section provides for the constitution and composition of such court.

RULE 297—DIRECT APPEAL TO THE SUPREME COURT

The Judicial Code (28 USC 1253) provides that "except as otherwise provided by law any party may appeal to the Supreme Court from an order granting or denying, after notice and hearing, an interlocutory or permanent injunction in any civil action, suit or proceeding required by any act of Congress to be heard and determined by a district court of three judges".

§ 472.651 Administration and general principle of program—(a) Administration. The program will be carried out by CSS under the general supervision and direction of the Executive Vice President of CCC. In the field, the program will be administered through the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (hereinafter referred to as ASC) State and County Offices. ASC State and county offices do not have authority to modify any of the provisions of this subpart or any of the amendments or supplements thereto. Neither are they authorized to waive any such provisions unless the power to waive is expressly included in the pertinent provision.

(b) General principle of program. The general principle of this pulled wool program is that if a producer's lambs or yearlings are sold, with the wool on them, to a slaughterer for slaughter, the producer shall receive a payment in relationship to the payment he would receive under the 1955 Incentive Payment Program for Shorn Wool (§§ 472.600 to 472.620) if he were to shear the animals and sell the wool (see § 472.652). § 472.652 Rate of payment. The National Wool Act of 1954 provides in section 703 that the support price for pulled wool shall be established at such a level, in relationship to the support price for shorn wool, as the Secretary determines will maintain normal marketing practices for pulled wool. The support price for shorn wool has been determined to be 62 cents per pound, grease basis (§ 472.601). Payments on shorn wool will be made on a percentage basis, by applying, to the net sales proceeds received by the producer, a percentage which is based on the difference between the national average price received by producers during the 1955 marketing year and the incentive price of 62 cents (§ 472.605). Payments under the pulled wool program will be made for wool on lambs and yearlings in accordance with this subpart and will be at a flat rate per hundredweight of live animals. The payments will be based on the average weight of wool per hundredweight of animals (5 pounds) multiplied by 80 percent of the difference between the national average price received by producers for shorn wool and the 1955 incentive price of 62 cents per pound of shorn wool. Announcement of this method of determining the rate of payment on lambs and yearlings was made by the Department of Agriculture on January 7, 1955. The exact rate of payment will be determined after the end of the 1955 marketing year. For definition of "lambs," "yearlings," "producer," and "1955 marketing year," see § 472.673.

§ 472.653 Marketing situations in which producers or slaughterers are entitled to payment. Generally, the aim of various provisions of this subpart is to provide a method whereby the certification that the lambs and yearlings were purchased for slaughter can, through normal trade channels and as expeditiously as possible, be made available to the producer for his use in applying for payment. Procedure is established enabling the producer to apply for a payment in the various situations in which he markets his lambs and yearlings, and also enabling a slaughterer in his capacity as a producer under certain circumstances to do so, those situations being as follows: (a) A producer may sell his lambs or yearlings directly to a slaughterer (defined in § 472.673) for slaughter; (b) a producer may sell his lambs or yearlings, through a commission firm registered under the Packers and Stockyards Act, to a slaughterer for slaughter; (c) a producer may sell his lambs or yearlings to a dealer registered under the Packers and Stockyards Act, the dealer thereafter selling them to a slaughterer for slaughter; (d) a producer may sell his lambs or yearlings to or through another person, such other person selling the animals to a slaughterer for slaughter; (e) there may be two or more registered commission firms or dealers participating in the marketing process between the producer and the slaughterer; and (f) a slaughterer may slaughter lambs or yearlings, after feeding them for at least 30 days.

§ 472.654 Eligibility for payments on lambs and yearlings. Before payments under this program can be approved pursuant to an application covering any lot or lots of lambs or yearlings, the following requirements must be satisfied:

(a) Fed or pastured in United States. The animals must have been fed or pastured in the continental United States, its territories, or possessions.

(b) Thirty days' ownership. If a producer is to qualify for a payment he must have owned the animals for 30 days or more at any time prior to the sale for slaughter, and if a slaughterer is to qualify for a payment (§ 472.654 (f) (5)) he must have owned the animals for 30 days or more prior to slaughter.

(c) Full wool pelts. The animals must never have been sheared or, if sheared, must have had a growth of at least 1½ inches of wool at the time of sale to the slaughterer for slaughter or, in the case of an application by a slaughterer, at the time of slaughter. Animals described in the preceding sentence will be referred to in this subpart as having full wool pelts (§ 472.673).

(d) Purchased for slaughter. The slaughterer must have purchased the animals for slaughter.

(e) Sold or slaughtered in 1955 marketing year. The animals must have been sold within the 1955 marketing year for slaughter (as defined in § 472.673), or, in the case of an application by a slaughterer, must have been slaughtered within that marketing year.

(f) Various marketing situations. In addition to the general eligibility requirements hereinbefore enumerated, the following provisions contain special requirements applicable in various marketing situations:

(1) Sale by producer directly to slaughterer. In case the producer sells the lambs and yearlings directly to a slaughterer for slaughter, the slaughterer (i) must, either himself or through a properly authorized agent, certify that the lambs or yearlings were never shorn or that they were shorn at some time prior to his purchase; (ii) must not make application for payment with respect to the slaughter of these animals pursuant to this subpart or for an incentive payment with respect to the sale of wool shorn from these animals under the 1955 Incentive Payment Program for Shorn Wool; (iii) must not issue a certification in accordance with § 472.671 (b) to any person other than the producer, which may be a basis for application for payment under this subpart. To indicate compliance with these and other provisions of the program, the slaughterer shall furnish to the producer a certification in accordance with § 472.671 (b). As to the contents of the sales document (defined in § 472.673) issued by the slaughterer, see § 472.659 (a).

(2) Sale through registered commission firm or to registered dealer—(i) Sale by one owner. In case the producer or other owner sells the animals through a commission firm, registered under the Packers and Stockyards Act, to a slaughterer for slaughter, or the producer or other owner sells the animals to a dealer who is so registered, and the dealer sells them to a slaughterer for slaughter, the commission firm or the dealer, as the case may be, (a) must obtain from the slaughterer a letter of authorization, as prescribed in § 472.671 (d), which will authorize the issuance of certifications in behalf of the slaughterer as to the matters stated in that letter; and (b) must issue a certification, as prescribed in § 472.671 (c), pursuant to that letter of authorization. As to the contents of the sales document issued by the commission, firm or dealer to the producer, see § 472.659 (b). If more than one such commission firm or dealer are involved in the marketing of the animals, the commission firm or dealer who did not sell directly to the slaughterer will issue a certification on the basis of a certification by another commission firm or dealer, as prescribed in § 472.671 (c) (2) (iv).

(ii) Sale by two or more owners. In case two or more producers or other owners sell their lambs or yearlings to a dealer, registered under the Packers and Stockyards Act, and the dealer sells the animals to one or more slaughterers, and thereafter issues certifications to those previous owners, the total number of head covered by the certifications to all the owners shall not exceed the total number of head sold to the slaughterer or slaughterers. Each certification to such an owner shall state the number of head of animals which he sold and specify a slaughterer or slaughterers as purchasers of these animals. For instance, if a dealer purchased 300 animals from owner A, 200 from owner B, and 100 from owner C, commingled these animals, and sold 50 to slaughterer X, 75 to slaughterer Y, and 475 to slaughterer Z, he may indicate in his certification to owner A that A's 300 animals were all sold to slaughterer Z; or that 50 were sold to slaughterer X, 75 to slaughterer Y, and 175 to slaughterer Z; or he may apportion the sale of the 300 animals to the slaughterers in any other way. If two or more registered commission firms or dealers are involved in the marketing of the animals, the commission firm or dealer who did not sell directly to the slaughterer will issue a certification on the basis of a certification by another commission firm or dealer, as prescribed in § 472.671 (c) (2) (iv).

(3) Sale by producer to or through other person. In case the producer sells the animals to or through a person other than those specified in subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph, and such person sells them in behalf of the producer or on his own behalf to a slaughterer for slaughter, such person must obtain from the slaughterer a certification in accordance with § 472.671 (b). The contents of the sales documents issued by the slaughterer to such other person shall be as in the case of a direct sale by a producer to a slaughterer, see § 472.659 (a).

(4) Sale by slaughterer after issuing certification. If, after a certification has been issued by or on behalf of a slaughterer, he sells the animals covered by such certification instead of slaughtering them, he shall reimburse CCC for any payment which CCC may make to a producer on the basis of such certification. In addition, the slaughterer shall notify the purchaser, by a statement on the bill of sale or other writing, (i) that the purchaser will not be entitled to a payment on the sale of such animals or on the sale of the wool shorn from such animals, unless such sale or shearing occurs at least 12 months after the date of the sale by the slaughterer to such purchaser, and (ii) that the purchaser shall in turn similarly notify his purchaser, and the latter and each subsequent purchaser in succession shall notify his purchaser, to the same effect. Any such notification shall contain the name of the slaughterer and the date on which he sold the animals. If the purchaser from the slaughterer or a subsequent purchaser applied for and obtained a payment contrary to such notification, CCC may recover the payment from the slaughterer or from the purchaser or from both. If a notification required by this paragraph was not made CCC may recover the payment from the slaughterer or from the person who failed to give the proper notification or from both.

(5) Slaughterer. If the application is made by a slaughterer who fed the animals prior to slaughter, the applicant (i) must not have issued to any person a certification described in § 472.671 (b) and must make certain that no commisson firm or dealer issues a certification in his behalf as described in § 472.671 (c); and (ii) must have no knowledge, information, or belief that any person has been given a certification as described in § 472.671 (b) or (c). As to supporting these applications by scale tickets, see § 472.659 (e).

§ 472.655 Sales involving more than one commission firm, dealer, or other person. Irrespective of how many commission firms, dealers, or other persons participate in the marketing process between the producer and the slaughterer, the producer may apply for a payment by submitting a properly executed application (§ 472.658) and proper sales documents, including certifications (§ 472.659), which have been properly transferred to him (§§ 472.660, 472.661) where such transfer is appropriate.

§ 472.656 Sales in good faith. Payments provided for under this program shall be made on the basis of sales executed in good faith, and no payment shall be made on that part of any sale which has been cancelled or on the basis of sales at weights increased in bad faith for the purpose of obtaining higher payments under this program. Application for payment on the basis of a sale in bad faith may also subject the parties involved to civil and criminal liability.

§ 472.657 Computation of payment. In order to determine the amount of the payment due to an applicant, the rate of payment, computed pursuant to § 472.652, will be applied to the liveweight of the lambs and yearlings sold for slaughter (as defined in § 472.673), or slaughtered (§ 472.654 (f) (5)), during the 1955 marketing year.

§ 472.658 Application for payment—(a) Filing. The application for payment shall be filed by the person entitled thereto with the ASC county office serving the area where the headquarters of the applicant's farm, ranch, or feed lot, as the case may be, is located. Applications by producers located in the territories or possessions shall be filed with the Washington State ASC office, Spokane, Washington. All applications should be filed as soon as possible after the sale for slaughter or, in accordance with § 472.654 (f) (5), after slaughter, and must not be filed later than 30 days after the close of the 1955 marketing year, that is, not later than April 30, 1956. The ASC county committee may waive this 30-day limitation on applications filed before July 31, 1956, if delayed filing is due to causes beyond the control of the applicant or other good causes.

(b) Form. The application for payment shall be made on CCC Wool Form 47, "Application for Payment—Lambs and Yearlings (Pulled Wool)." Copies of this form will be available in the ASC county offices. The application will be filed in the original only. It shall be supported by the original sales document, including certifications, as set forth in paragraphs (a) through (c) of § 472.659 or, in the case of application by a slaughterer, by the substitute document as set forth in paragraph (e) of § 472.659, and such other evidence as may show compliance with the program. If the original sales document has been lost or destroyed, the applicant may submit a copy certified by the person who issued the original, and such certified copy shall be treated like an original for the purposes mentioned in this paragraph. If the applicant does not wish the original sales document to remain with the ASC county office, he may submit photostats or similarly reproduced or carbon copies of the original documents. However, he must show the original documents to the ASC county office where the statements on the copies will be confirmed by comparison with the originals. The original sales documents will be appropriately stamped or marked to indicate that they had been used in support of an application for payment under this program and will be returned to the applicant. He will be required to retain them in accordance with § 472.666. If it is the practice of the person or firm that prepares the sales document to furnish a carbon copy to the seller, the producer may submit that carbon copy in support of his application, provided the carbon copy bears an original signature of the person or firm that prepared the original sales document.

§ 472.659 Contents of sales documents—(a) Sales by producer directly to slaughterer. If the application is filed by a producer who sold his lambs or yearlings directly to a slaughterer, the sales document shall be prepared by the slaughterer and shall contain the following information and certification: (1) Name and address of seller; (2) date of sale; (3) number of lambs and yearlings sold for slaughter; (4) liveweight of lambs and yearlings sold for slaughter; (5) certification by the slaughterer in accordance with § 472.671 (b); and (6) name and address of the slaughterer with his signature, or that of his agent.

(b) Sales by producer to slaughterer through registered commission firm or sales by producer to registered dealer. (1) If the application is filed by a producer who sold his lambs or yearlings, through a commission firm registered under the Packers and Stockyards Act, to a slaughterer for slaughter, or by a producer who sold his lambs or yearlings to a dealer registered under that act, the dealer selling them to a slaughterer for slaughter, the sales document shall be prepared by the commission firm or the dealer, as the case may be, and shall contain the following information and certification: (i) Name and address of the seller; (ii) date of sale by the producer; (iii) number of lambs and yearlings sold by the producer; (iv) liveweight of lambs and yearlings sold by the producer; (v) name and address of slaughterer, if known when the sales document is issued; and (vi) a certification as set forth in § 472.671 (c) (2) (i), (ii), or (iii). When any provision in this subpart refers to a commission firm or dealer registered under the Packers and Stockyards Act, such provision shall apply only to those of his transactions which take place at a posted stockyard and therefore are subject to that act, and shall not apply to other transactions.

(2) If the application is filed by the producer who sold his lambs and yearlings, and they were ultimately sold to a slaughterer for slaughter, but more than one commission firm or dealer, registered under the Packers and Stockyards Act, participated in the marketing of these lambs and yearlings between the producer and the slaughterer, the sales document to be filed by the producer with his application shall be prepared by the commission firm through which, or by the dealer to whom, the producer sold his lambs and yearlings. The sales document shall contain the information and a certification as stated under subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, except that the certification shall be as prescribed in § 472.671 (c) (2) (iv).

(3) In lieu of preparing sales documents as prescribed in this paragraph, the commission firm or dealer may obtain sales documents from the slaughterer prepared in accordance with paragraph (a) of this section and furnish those documents to the producer (§ 472.660).

(c) Sales to or through other person. If a producer sold his lambs or yearlings to or through a person other than those specified in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, and such person sold them in behalf of the producer or on his own behalf to a slaughterer for slaughter, and wishes to transfer the sales document obtained from the slaughterer to the producer, in order to enable such producer to obtain a payment (§ 472.654 (f) (3)), the sales document shall be prepared by the slaughterer and shall contain information in accordance with paragraph (a) of this section.

(d) When sales documents show that lambs and yearlings have been shorn. The producer will be entitled to payment only if the lambs or yearlings sold by him had full wool pelts when they were purchased by the slaughterer for slaughter (§ 472.654 (c)), and he must certify to these facts in support of his application. If the slaughterer, commission firm, or dealer indicates in the certification pursuant to § 472.671 (b) or (c), that the lambs or yearlings had been shorn at some time prior to the purchase by the slaughterer, the producer may certify as above stated only if he has obtained reliable information in writing showing that these animals were not shorn after he sold them. The producer need not submit this evidence in support of his application but shall retain the evidence in accordance with § 472.666.

(e) Substitute for sales document in case of slaughterer. If the application is made by a slaughterer who fed the animals for 30 days or more prior to slaughter (§ 472.654 (f) (5)), it shall be supported by a scale ticket instead of being supported by a sales document. The scale ticket shall indicate that it covers lambs and yearlings that moved to slaughter and must show the information normally appearing on scale tickets issued by stockyards (that is, date, number of head and classification, weight, scale ticket number, if any, place of weighing, and name of weigher).

(f) Sale 12 months after slaughterer sold animals covered by his certification. If a producer or slaughterer, upon purchasing the animals, received a notification in accordance with § 472.654 (f) (4) and the 12 months' requirement referred to therein has been complied with, he shall submit such notification with his application for payment.

§ 472.660 Transfer of sales document to producer. If any person, not registered under the Packers and Stockyards Act, sold lambs or yearlings directly to a slaughterer for slaughter; or so sold them through a commission firm registered under the Packers and Stockyards Act; or sold them to a registered dealer, the latter selling them to a slaughterer for slaughter; and such person desires to transfer to a qualified producer who previously owned these animals the appropriate sales document (as defined in § 472.673), in order to enable the producer to apply for a payment under this subpart, such person shall place the following statement on the sales document, sign and date such statement: "This sales document is being furnished to (name and address of producer) for the purpose of enabling him to make application to CCC for payment on lambs and yearlings under the National Wool Act of 1954." By signing this statement, such person shall be deemed to waive and disclaim any right to a payment under this program. The sales document so transferred shall contain the information listed in § 472.659, except that the information required therein to be listed with reference to a producer shall be given with reference to such person, and payment under this program will be made on the liveweight sold by such person. If a commission firm or dealer registered under the Packers and Stockyards Act wishes to use the procedure described in this section, he may do so.

§ 472.661 Transfer of sales document to two or more producers—(a) Form. If any person who is not registered under the Packers and Stockyards Act, or is so registered and by a transaction which does not take place at a posted stockyard and therefore is not subject to that act, acquires lambs or yearlings either as buyer or as seller's agent for sale, and thereafter as owner of the animals or as the seller's agent, as the case may be, (1) sells them directly to a slaughterer for slaughter or (2) sells them, by a transaction taking place at a posted stockyard and therefore subject to the Packers and Stockyards Act, either through a commission firm to a slaughterer for slaughter or to a dealer, the latter selling them to a slaughterer for slaughter; and such person desires to transfer to two or more producers who previously owned these animals the appropriate evidence of sale for slaughter (as defined in § 472.673), in order to enable the producers to apply for a payment under this subpart, such person may do so as follows: He shall prepare CCC Wool Form 48, "Certification for a Prior Owner to Collect Payment on Lambs and Yearlings Sold for Slaughter," listing those previous producer-owners, with a copy for each of them. In preparing this form, the seller shall indicate as to the animals covered thereby that all either had never been shorn or had been shorn, but shall not indicate on the same form that some animals had and some had not been shorn. When evidence of sale for slaughter is transferred to previous producer-owners through the use of CCC Wool Form 48, the total number of head and liveweight of animals as to which evidence of sale for slaughter is transferred shall be equal to the number of head and liveweight of animals sold for slaughter as indicated on the sales document.

(b) Distribution of form. The original of the completed CCC Wool Form 48, supported by the original sales document or by a carbon copy with an original signature thereon, as provided in § 472.658 (b), shall be filed with the ASC county office serving the county in which is located the farm or ranch headquarters of the first listed producer-owner. A copy of the completed form shall be furnished to each previous producer-owner listed in the form. When the completed form is distributed as set forth in this paragraph, the ASC county office will accept a copy of it, in lieu of a sales document, in support of an application filed by any previous producer-owner listed in the form.

§ 472.662 Signature of applicant. No payment will be made unless an application for payment is signed. The ASC county office will determine with respect to each person who signs an application for payment, or other document on the basis of which payment is made, in a representative or fiduciary capacity as agent, attorney-in-fact, officer, executor, etc., whether he was properly authorized to sign in such capacity.

§ 472.663 Payment. After the ASC county office has reviewed the application and documents attached thereto and approved it for payment in whole or in part and after the appropriate rate of payment has been announced by the Department of Agriculture, the ASC county office will make payment by sight draft to the order of the applicant. Payment of $3.00 or less to an applicant will not be made. If the ASC county office determines that for any reason the application for payment should be rejected in whole or in part, including the reason that it was not filed within the 30-day period in accordance with § 472.658 (a), the ASC county office shall notify the applicant by mail that his application has been rejected for a specified reason and shall retain a copy of such notice.

§ 472.664 Deductions for promotion. If the Department of Agriculture has approved deductions for an advertising and sales promotion program in accordance with section 708 of the National Wool Act of 1954, the rate of such deductions will be announced and deductions will be made by the ASC county office.

§ 472.665 Appeals—(a) To ASC State Committee. Within 15 days from the date of mailing of a notice that application has been rejected in whole or in part (see § 472.663), the applicant may appeal in writing to the ASC State Committee, stating the number of head and liveweight of the animals covered by the application, and such pertinent facts as he may deem proper, indicating in what respect the action of the ASC county office was erroneous. If the appeal is from the failure of the ASC county office to waive the 30-day limitation, the applicant shall also state the reason for his delay in filing the application.

(b) To Washington office. If the ASC State committee sustains the decision of the ASC county office, it shall notify the applicant by mail that his appeal has been denied and shall retain a copy of the notice. Within 15 days from the date of mailing such notice, the applicant may appeal in writing to the Director, Livestock and Dairy Division, Commodity Stabilization Service, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C. On this appeal, a determination by the Director as to a question of fact shall be deemed final and conclusive, unless it is found by a court of competent jurisdiction to have been fraudulent, arbitrary, capricious, or so grossly erroneous as necessarily to imply bad faith or is not supported by substantial evidence.

§ 472.666 Records and inspection thereof. The applicant as well as the slaughterer, the commission firm or dealer registered under the Packers and Stockyards Act, or any other person who makes a certification or furnishes evidence to an applicant for the purpose of enabling him to receive a payment under this program, shall maintain books, records, and accounts which will cover the marketing and slaughtering of lambs and yearlings on which an application for payment may be based, until April 1, 1959, and CCC shall at all times during regular business hours have access to the premises of the applicant and of the person who makes such a certification or furnishes evidence, in order to inspect, examine, and make copies of their books, records, accounts, and other written data.

§ 472.667 Death, incompetency or other disability of the applicant. (a) In case of death, incompetency, or disappearance of an applicant entitled to payment, application for any payment hereunder may be made by any person who would be entitled to payment under the regulations contained in ACP–122, as amended, 7 CFR Part 1108, "Payments of Amounts Due Persons Who Have Died, Disappeared, or Have Been Declared Incompetent", except as follows: References in 7 CFR 1108.1 to section 8 of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act, as amended, and to statutes authorizing parity payments, shall be deemed to refer to payments authorized pursuant to the National Wool Act of 1954. The reference in the last sentence of 7 CFR 1108.2 to the Agricultural Conservation Program Service shall be deemed to refer to Commodity Credit Corporation. The number and heading of Standard Form 1055 in the last sentence of 7 CFR 1108.7 shall be deemed to read, "Standard Form No. 1055—Revised, Claim Against the United States for Amounts Due in the Case of a Deceased Creditor."

(b) In case of infancy, bankruptcy, dissolution, or other disability, payments will be made to a representative only in accordance with specific instructions issued by CCC.

§ 472.668 Set-off. (a) If the applicant for payment is indebted to CCC or any other agency within the United States Department of Agriculture on any accrued obligation, or is indebted to any other agency of the United States and such indebtedness is listed on the county debt register, the ASC county office will set off such indebtedness against the payment due to the applicant. Such setoff shall not deprive the applicant of the right to contest the justness of the indebtedness involved, either by administrative appeal or by legal action.

(b) If the payment due to the applicant has been assigned by him, the ASC county office will approve the assignment subject to setting off such debts as exist at the time of approval by the ASC county office.

§ 472.669 Assignments. The producer may assign all payments which may be determined to be due him under this program for the 1955 marketing year by filing with the ASC county office the original and two copies of CCC Wool Form 49, "Assignment of Payment under National Wool Act of 1954," duly executed by both parties. Such assignment shall be null and void unless it is freely made and (a) is executed by the producer in the presence of at least two attesting witnesses, neither of whom shall be an employee or agent of, or by consanguinity or marriage related to, the assignee; or (b) is acknowledged by the producer before a notary public, member of the ASC county committee, the ASC county office manager, or a designated employee of such committee. This assignment may only be given as security for cash advanced or to be advanced by a financing agency on sheep or lambs. The producer shall not execute more than one assignment covering payments due him under this program for payments on lambs and yearlings. CCC will pay the assignee pursuant to an accepted assignment unless the ASC county office is furnished evidence of a mutual cancellation of the assignment by both parties thereto.

§ 472.670 Instructions and interpretations. CCC shall have the right to clarify any provision of this regulation by the issuance of instructions or interpretations.

§ 472.671 Forms of certification and letter of authorization—(a) General. The forms of certification set forth in this section shall be used to provide producers with evidence that their lambs or yearlings have been sold to a slaughterer for slaughter, and also as a basis for other certifications in accordance with the requirements of this subpart. A certification must be signed.

(b) Certification by slaughterer or his agent—(1) General. The forms set forth in this paragraph shall be used by slaughterers (§ 472.654 (f) (1) and (3)) or their agents. The slaughterer or his agent may use the form set forth in subparagraph (2) (i) or (ii) of this paragraph, that is, Certification Form 1 or 2, in his discretion. If he uses Certification Form 1, he shall insert in the blank spaces provided therefor (in ink, indelible pencil, or typewriter) figures showing the number of head and the weight of the animals which were never shorn and of the animals which were shorn at some time before purchase. If he uses Certification Form 2, he shall attach (in ink, indelible pencil, or by typewriter) the symbols stated in that certification to the appropriate items on the sales document in accordance with the meanings of the symbols as stated in the certification. The certification shall be inserted in the sales document by rubber stamp or otherwise, but shall not be attached thereto. If Certification Form 1 is to be used and it is not practicable to insert it in a sales document, an acceptable complete sales document, including the certification, may be prepared by including in Certification Form 1 the name of the seller and date of sale, and such other items of information as the slaughterer may wish to include.

(2) Forms—(i) Certification Form 1.

The undersigned, a commercial slaughterer or his authorized agent, hereby certifies with reference to the lambs or yearlings as set forth in the sales document of which this certification is a part, that he purchased such animals for slaughter; that ____ head thereof weighing ____ pounds were never shorn, and ____ head thereof weighing ____ pounds were shorn at some time prior to the purchase; that he has complied, to the best of his knowledge, information and belief, with all the requirements of the 1955 Payment Program for Lambs and Yearlings (Pulled Wool); and that he will continue to comply therewith.

(Date)

(ii) Certification Form 2.

The undersigned, a commercial slaughterer or his authorized agent, hereby certifies with reference to the lambs or yearlings as set forth in the sales document of which this certification is a part, that the following symbols on the sales document indicate as follows:

"sh–sl"—lambs and yearlings were purchased for slaughter and were shorn at some time prior to the purchase,

"un–sl"—lambs and yearlings were purchased for slaughter and were never shorn,

"other"—animals were purchased for feeding or other purposes; that he has complied, to the best of his knowledge, information, and belief, with all the requirements of the 1955 Payment Program for Lambs and Yearlings (Pulled Wool); and that he will continue to comply therewith.

(3) Effect. By issuing the certifications hereinbefore described under subparagraph (2) of this paragraph that a commercial slaughterer or his authorized agent has complied and will continue to comply with all the requirements of the 1955 Payment Program for Lambs and Yearlings (Pulled Wool), such slaughterer or agent certifies that he has not made and will not make application for payment with respect to the slaughter of the animals purchased for slaughter pursuant to the 1955 Payment Program for Lambs and Yearlings (Pulled Wool) or for an incentive payment with respect to the sale of the wool shorn from these animals under the 1955 Incentive Payment Program for Shorn Wool; that he has not issued and will not issue either form of certification to any person, other than the seller of the animals for slaughter, which might be used as a basis for an application for a payment under this pulled wool program; that if he should sell the animals instead of slaughtering them, § 472.654 (f) (4) would apply to him; and that he does not know of any facts which would bar a qualified producer, applying for payment on the animals covered by the slaughterer's certification, from receiving such payment.

(c) Certification by commission firm or dealer registered under the Packers and Stockyards Act—(1) General. This paragraph contains four certification forms. Three are set forth in subparagraph (2) (i), (ii) and (iii) of this paragraph, are headed Certification Forms 3, 4, and 5, respectively, and are based on an authorization issued by the slaughterer in accordance with paragraph (d) of this section; and one is set forth in subparagraph (2) (iv) of this paragraph, is headed Certification Form 6, and is based on a certification issued by a registered commission firm or dealer. Certification Forms 3 and 4 are to be used by commission firms or dealers when they know the name of the slaughterer at the time they issue the sales documents to the producer or other prior owner. Such form shall be stamped on the sales document issued by the commission firm or dealer to the producer, or otherwise made a part of such sales document, and shall not be attached to such sales document; except that, if the use of a stamp or otherwise making the certification a part of the sales document is impracticable, the commission firm or dealer may use Certification Form 5. The provisions about filling out the blank spaces and the meaning of symbols, stated in paragraph (b) (1) of this section also apply here. Certification Form 5, set forth in subparagraph (2) (iii) of this paragraph, shall be used by a commission firm or dealer who has the authorization from a commercial slaughterer and learns the name of the slaughterer after such commission firm or dealer has issued a sales document to the producer or other prior owner, or when the use of a stamp or otherwise making the certification a part of the sales document is impractical, as previously stated. Certification Form 5 shall also be used in those cases where the commission firm or dealer issues its certification, based on the slaughterer's authorization, to another commission firm or dealer. Certification Form 6, set forth in subparagraph (2) (iv) of this paragraph, shall be used by a commission firm or dealer who does not have an authorization from the slaughterer and issues a certification to the producer or other prior owner, or issues a certification to another commission firm or dealer as a basis for the latter's certification. When Certification Form 5 or 6 is issued to a person other than a commission firm or dealer registered under the Packers and Stockyards Act, the last sentence in such form may be omitted. Certification Forms 5 and 6 may be attached to the sales documents.

(2) Forms—(i) Certification Form 3.

With respect to such animals he further certifies that ____ head thereof weighing ____ pounds were never shorn, and ____ head thereof weighing ____ pounds were shorn at some time prior to the purchase by the slaughterer. The undersigned does not know of any facts which would bar a qualified producer, applying for payment on the animals covered by this certification, from receiving such payment.

(d) Slaughterer's letter of authorization to registered commission firm or dealer. The form of letter of authorization set forth in this paragraph shall be used by a slaughterer who authorizes a registered commission firm or dealer to certify to the slaughterer's compliance with the provisions of this subpart. The form is as follows:

(Date)

To: ---
(Name of Commission Firm or Dealer)

You are authorized to issue on our behalf the certifications as to whether the lambs or yearlings, we purchased (will purchase) from you at ------ during the period ------ to ------, were purchased for slaughter and whether they were shorn or unshorn, in order to enable producers to obtain payments under the 1955 Payment Program for Lambs and Yearlings (Pulled Wool).

You are authorized to issue the certifications on the basis of the information shown on the scale ticket for each transaction as agreed to by our buyer and your salesman when completing the transaction. Our buyer will advise whether the scale ticket should show that the purchase is for slaughter or for other purposes, and whether the lambs and yearlings are to be classified as shorn or unshorn. Your issuing the certifications referred to shall have the same effect as if we were to issue the certifications ourselves.

You may also certify on our behalf with respect to those same lambs and yearlings that we have not made and will not make application for payment with respect to the slaughter of these animals pursuant to the 1955 Payment Program on Lambs and Yearlings (Pulled Wool) or for an incentive payment with respect to the sale of any wool shorn from these animals under the 1955 Incentive Payment Program for Shorn Wool; that, if after buying these animals we should sell them rather than slaughter, we would reimburse CCC for any payment which CCC might make to a producer on the basis of our certification and, in addition, we would notify the purchaser that neither he nor subsequent purchasers would be entitled to a payment under the shorn or pulled wool program within 12 months after our sale to such purchaser, and that if any such payment should be made by CCC we would reimburse CCC in accordance with the provision of § 472.654 (f) (4) of the pulled wool program; that we have not issued Certification Form 1 or 2, as set forth in § 472.671 (b) of such program, with reference to animals as to which you will issue a certification pursuant to this authorization; and that, when you issue Certification Form 3, 4, or 5, as set forth in § 472.671 (c) (2) (i), (ii), or (iii) on the basis of this letter, we do not know of any facts which would bar a qualified producer, applying for payment on the animals covered by your certification, from receiving such payment. This letter also authorizes other commission firms or dealers registered under the Packers and Stockyards Act to issue, on the basis of your certification, Certification Form 6 as set forth in § 472.671 (c) (2) (iv) of said program, with reference to lambs and yearlings covered by this letter.

(e) Different forms. The requirements of this section as to specific forms in support of an application for payment may be waived as to transactions which took place between April 1 and June 30, 1955, both dates inclusive. Applications on the basis of such transactions, which are documented by forms differing from those contained in this section, may be promptly filed with the ASC county offices which will notify the applicant whether such forms contain acceptable evidence of a valid claim or whether additional evidence will be required.

§ 472.672 Other forms. CCC Wool Form 27, "Application for Payment—Lambs and Yearlings (Pulled Wool);" CCC Wool Form 48, "Certification for a Prior Owner to Collect Payments on Lambs and Yearlings Sold for Slaughter;" CCC Wool Form 49, "Assignment of Payment under National Wool Act of 1954" and other numbered forms issued by the United States Department of Agriculture for use in connection with this program may be obtained from the ASC county offices. These forms may be reproduced, provided they retain the same language, format, and size, except that the printer's identification shall not be reproduced.

§ 472.673 Definitions. As used in this subpart, the terms enumerated in this section have the following meaning:

(a) "Financing agency" means any bank, trust company, or Federal lending agency. It also includes any other financing institution which customarily makes loans or advances to finance production of sheep, lambs, or wool.

(b) "Full wool pelts" means pelts of lambs and yearlings that have never been shorn or, if shorn, that have a growth of wool of 1½ inches or longer at the time of sale to a slaughterer for slaughter or, in cases under § 472.654 (f) (5), at the time of slaughter.

(c) "Lamb" means a young ovine animal, the first pair of permanent teeth of which has not developed to the extent of being in full wear.

(d) "Liveweight," for the purposes of this program, is the weight of lambs and yearlings which a producer sells and as to which he submits proof, as a part of his application for payment, that they were sold by himself or another person to a slaughterer for slaughter; except that in §§ 472.660 and 472.661 it shall mean the liveweight sold by the person who desires to transfer the sales document in accordance with those sections.

(e) "Producer" under this program includes not only a breeder, but also a feeder or pasturer, of lambs and yearlings. A producer may be an individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, or any organized unincorporated group of persons, and includes a State and any subdivision thereof.

(h) "Sale for slaughter," "sold for slaughter," or "selling for slaughter" refers to a sale by a producer of lambs and yearlings as to which he submits proof, as a part of his application, that they were sold by himself or another person to a slaughterer for slaughter; except that these terms, when used in connection with sales described in §§ 472.660 and 472.661, shall refer to the sale by the person who transfers his sales document to one or more prior producer-owners pursuant to those sections.

(i) "Sales document" means the account of sale, bill of sale, invoice, and any other document evidencing the sale by the producer on which he bases his application for payment, except that in §§ 472.660 and 472.661 it shall mean the document by which the person desiring to transfer it to one or more prior producer-owners, sold the animals.

(j) "Slaughterer" means a commercial slaughterer, that is, a person who slaughters for sale as distinguished from a person who slaughters for home consumption.

(k) "Yearling" means a young ovine animal with not more than one pair of permanent teeth in full wear.

§ 472.674 Violation of program. Whoever issues a false certification or otherwise acts in violation of the provisions of this program, shall become liable to CCC for any payment which CCC may have made in reliance on such certification or as a result of such other action in violation of the program, apart from any other civil or criminal liability he may incur by such action.

NOTE: The reporting and record-keeping requirements contained herein have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

TITLE 7—AGRICULTURE

PART 728—WHEAT

Sec.
728.601 Basis and purpose.
728.602 National marketing quota for wheat for the 1956–57 marketing year.
728.603 1956 National acreage allotment for wheat.

AUTHORITY: §§ 728.601 to 728.603 issued under sec. 375, 52 Stat. 66, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 1375. Interpret or apply secs. 301, 333, 335, 52 Stat. 38, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 1301, 1333, 1335.

§ 728.601 Basis and purpose. (a) The regulations contained in §§ 728.601 to 728.603 are issued to proclaim the national marketing quota for wheat for the marketing year beginning July 1, 1956, and the 1956 national acreage allotment for wheat.

(b) Section 335 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, provides that whenever in any calendar year the Secretary of Agriculture determines (1) that the total supply of wheat for the marketing year beginning in such calendar year will exceed the normal supply for such marketing year by more than 20 per centum, or (2) that the total supply of wheat for the marketing year ending in such calendar year is not less than the normal supply for such marketing year and that the average farm price for wheat for three consecutive months of such marketing year did not exceed 66 per centum of parity, the Secretary shall, not later than May 15 of such calendar year, proclaim such fact and a national marketing quota shall be in effect with respect to the marketing of wheat during the marketing year beginning July 1 of the next succeeding calendar year.

(c) Section 333 of the Act, as amended, provides that the national acreage allotment for any crop of wheat shall be that acreage which the Secretary determines will, on the basis of the national average yield of wheat, produce an amount thereof adequate, together with the estimated carry-over at the beginning of the marketing year for such crop and imports, to make available a supply for such marketing year equal to a normal year's domestic consumption and exports plus 30 per centum thereof, but such national acreage allotment cannot be less than 55 million acres.

(d) The findings and determinations by the Secretary contained in §§ 728.602 and 728.603 have been made on the basis of the latest available statistics of the Federal Government, and after due consideration of data, views, and recommendations received from wheat producers and others as provided in the notice (20 F. R. 655) given in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1003).

(e) Since the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, requires the holding of a referendum of wheat producers who will be subject to the marketing quotas proclaimed on the 1956 crop not later than July 24, 1955, to determine whether such producers favor such marketing quotas and requires, insofar as practicable, the mailing of notices of farm acreage allotments to farm operators prior to the date of the referendum, it is hereby found that the proclamations contained herein shall become effective upon filing with the Director, Federal Register Division.

§ 728.602 National marketing quota for wheat for the 1956–57 marketing year. The total supply of wheat for the 1955–56 marketing year is determined to be 1,863 million bushels. The normal supply of wheat for such marketing year is determined to be 1,122 million bushels. This total supply exceeds the normal supply by more than 20 per centum. Therefore, a national marketing quota shall be in effect with respect to the marketing of wheat during the 1956–57 marketing year.

§ 728.603 1956 National acreage allotment for wheat. The estimated carry-over of wheat for the marketing year beginning July 1, 1956, is 950 million bushels. A normal year's domestic consumption and exports of wheat plus 30 per centum thereof are 1,241 million bushels. Imports of wheat during the marketing year beginning July 1, 1956, are estimated to be 3 million bushels. The national average yield of wheat is 15.5 bushels per acre. The national acreage allotment computed for the 1956 crop is 18,580,645 acres. Since this amount is less than the minimum provided for by law, the national acreage allotment for the 1956 crop of wheat shall be 55 million acres.

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 13th day of May, 1955.

Secretary.

Chapter IX—Agricultural Marketing Service (Marketing Agreements and Orders), Department of Agriculture

[Avocado Order 6]

PART 969—AVOCADOS GROWN IN SOUTH FLORIDA

MATURITY REGULATION

§ 969.306 Avocado Order 6—(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement and Order No. 69 (7 CFR Part 969; 19 F. R. 3439) regulating the handling of avocados grown in South Florida, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and upon the basis of the recommendations of the Avocado Administrative Committee, established under the aforesaid marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of handling of avocados, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) in that, as hereinafter set forth, the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient; a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective not later than May 18, 1955. A reasonable determination as to the time of maturity of avocados must await the development of the crop thereof, and adequate information thereon was not available to the Avocado Administrative Committee until May 3, 1955; determinations as to the time of maturity of the varieties of avocados covered by this section were made at the meeting of said committee on May 3, 1955, after consideration of all available information relative to the time of bloom and growing conditions for such avocados, at which time the recommendations and supporting information for maturity regulation was submitted to the Department; such meeting was held to consider recommendation for such regulation after giving due notice thereof, and interested parties were afforded an opportunity to submit their views at this meeting; the provisions of this section are identical with the aforesaid recommendations of the committee and information concerning such provisions have been disseminated among the handlers of avocados; and compliance with the provisions of this section will not require of handlers any preparation therefor which cannot be completed by the effective time hereof.

(b) Order. (1) No handler shall handle any of the following varieties of the West Indian type of avocados prior to 12:01 a. m., e. s. t., June 13, 1955, namely: Fuchs, Pollocks, Simmonds, Hardee and Nadir.

(2) Insofar as varieties of the West Indian type of avocados not specified in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph are concerned, no handler shall handle any of such varieties except in accordance with the following terms and conditions:

(i) No such avocados shall be handled prior to 12:01 a. m., e. s. t., June 1, 1955;

(Sec. 6, 38 Stat. 721; 15 U. S. C. 46. Interprets or applies sec. 5, 38 Stat. 719, as amended; 15 U. S. C. 45) [Cease and desist order, New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange, Inc., et al., New York, N. Y., Docket 6235, April 1, 1955.]

In the Matter of New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange, Inc., New York Coffee and Sugar Clearing Association, Inc., and Gustavo Lobo, Jr., President, Leon Israel, Jr., Vice President, William F. Prescott, Treasurer, as Officers, Members of the Board of Managers, and as Members of New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange, Inc., G. W. Knauth, as Secretary of New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange, Inc.; Jack R. Aron, Louis Blumberg, Alfred Boedtker, Adrian C. Israel, Chandler A. Mackey, Phillips R. Nelson, S. A. Schonbrunn, and Gustav Wedell, Individually as Members and Also as Representatives of Other Members of New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange, Inc.

This proceeding was heard by William L. Pack, hearing examiner, upon the complaint of the Commission which charged respondents with violation of the Federal Trade Commission Act through the use of contracts which unduly restricted and restrained trade on the respondent Exchange in coffee for future delivery, and upon a stipulation entered into by respondent Exchange, its four officers who were named as respondents, and respondent New York Coffee and Sugar Clearing Association, Inc., and counsel supporting the complaint.

Said stipulation provided, among other things, that respondents admitted all of the jurisdictional allegations in the complaint; that the filing of an answer to the complaint was waived, and that the complaint and stipulation should constitute the entire record in the proceeding; that the inclusion of findings of fact and conclusions of law in the decision disposing of the matter was waived, together with any further procedural steps before the hearing examiner and the Commission to which respondents might be entitled under the Federal Trade Commission Act or the rules of practice of the Commission; and that the order to be set forth might be entered in disposition of the proceeding.

Said stipulation further provided that such order should have the same force and effect as if made after a full hearing, presentation of evidence, and findings and conclusions thereon, respondents specifically waiving any and all right, power, and privilege to challenge or contest the validity of such order; that the order might be altered, modified, or set aside in the manner provided by the Federal Trade Commission Act for other orders of the Commission; and that the signing of the stipulation was for settlement purposes only and did not constitute an admission by any respondent that he or it had violated the law as alleged in the complaint.

Thereafter said hearing examiner made his initial decision in which he set forth the aforesaid matters; that he had considered such stipulation and the order therein contained and that the latter provided a proper basis for settlement and conclusion of the proceeding; and that, inasmuch as the order related to the forms of contract or contracts offered for trading on the respondent Exchange, the public interest was adequately safeguarded by an order against the respondents named in the cease and desist order contained in the stipulation and the dismissal of the complaint was appropriate as to the respondents named as individuals or as members of the Exchange or as representative of other members of the Exchange; accepted said stipulation and made the same a part of the record; made certain jurisdictional findings with respect to the respondents there named and found that the Commission had jurisdiction of the subject matter of the proceeding and of said respondents, and that the proceeding was in the interest of the public; and issued his order, including order to cease and desist, as to said respondents and order of dismissal as to certain respondents as individuals, etc., as therein set out.

No appeal having been filed from said initial decision of said hearing examiner, as provided for in Rule XXII of the Commission's rules of practice, nor any other action taken as thereby provided to prevent said initial decision becoming the decision of the Commission thirty days from service thereof upon the parties, said initial decision, including said order, accordingly, under the provisions of said Rule XXII, became the decision of the Commission on April 1, 1955.

Said order is as follows:

It is ordered, That respondents, New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange, Inc., a corporation, its successors, assigns, officers, directors, employees, agents and representatives; New York Coffee and Sugar Clearing Association, Inc., a corporation, its successors, assigns, officers, directors, employees, agents, and representatives; Gustavo Lobo, Jr., as President and member of the Board of Managers of respondent Exchange, his successors in each of said offices, Leon Israel, Jr., as Vice President and member of the Board of Managers of respondent Exchange, his successors in each of said offices; William F. Prescott, as Treasurer and member of the Board of Managers of respondent Exchange for the year 1954, and his successors in each of said offices; G. W. Knauth, as Secretary of respondent Exchange for the year 1954, and his successors in such office, directly or indirectly, jointly or severally, or through any corporate or other means or device, in connection with the operation of a coffee futures market, and in connection with the formation, adoption, entering into, trading in or the fulfillment of contracts for the purchase or sale of coffee in any form for future delivery in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, do forthwith cease and desist from entering into, continuing, cooperating in or carrying out any agreement, understanding or planned common course of action, whether express or implied, between any two or more of said respondents, or between any one or more of said respondents and others not parties hereto, to do or perform any of the following acts or practices:

1. Restricting or limiting trading in coffee for future delivery exclusively to the contracts open for trading on the respondent Exchange as of the date of August 1, 1954;

2. Restricting or limiting trading on respondent Exchange in coffee for future delivery to any contract or contracts which have the effect of excluding as deliverable thereunder Arabica coffee, other than grades or types which are not suitable for futures trading because of inferior quality, insufficient supply, or lack of uniformity, from any country which, during the initial three of the four preceding calendar years, exported to the United States a yearly average of 750,000 or more bags (adjusted to a weight of 132.276 pounds per bag) of Arabica coffee.

Provided, however, That it shall be a defense to any charge that respondents have violated this order by the use in any contract or contracts of premiums or discounts, if respondents show (1) that such premiums and discounts, when adopted, were realistically related to values in the spot market, and (2) that such premiums and discounts were re-examined and readjusted not less frequently than every six months to relate realistically to values in the spot market and that all such readjusted discounts and premiums were incorporated in the contract or contracts thereupon opened for trading for new delivery months.

Provided, further, however, In the event of any modification or change, or discontinuance of, any futures contract open for trading on the respondent Exchange, nothing in this order shall be interpreted as prohibiting in any way the continued trading in any such futures contract only until the end of any delivery month for which an open interest has already been taken on such Exchange at the time of any such modification, change or discontinuance.

It is further ordered, That the complaint herein be, and it is herewith, dismissed as to Gustavo Lobo, Jr., Leon Israel, Jr., William F. Prescott, G. W. Knauth, Jack R. Aron, Louis Blumberg, Alfred Boedtker, Adrian C. Israel, Chandler A. Mackey, Phillips R. Nelson, S. A. Schonbrunn and Gustav Wedell, as individuals, as members of the respondent Exchange and as representatives of other members of respondent Exchange but not as to Gustavo Lobo, Jr., Leon Israel, Jr., William F. Prescott and G. W. Knauth as officials of the respondent Exchange.

By "Decision of the Commission and Order to File Report of Compliance", Docket 6235, April 1, 1955, which announced and decreed fruition of said initial decision, report of compliance was required as follows:

It is ordered, That the respondents, New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange, Inc., New York Coffee and Sugar Clearing Association, Inc., and Gustavo Lobo, Jr., Leon Israel, Jr., William F. Prescott, and G. W. Knauth as officials of the respondent New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange, Inc., shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon them of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing setting forth in detail the manner and form in which they have complied with the order to cease and desist.

Issued: April 1, 1955.

By the Commission.

(Sec. 6, 38 Stat. 721; 15 U. S. C. 46. Interpret or apply sec. 5, 38 Stat. 719, as amended; 15 U. S. C. 45) [Cease and desist order, Recipe Foods, Inc., et al., Baltimore, Md., Docket 6286, April 1, 1955.]

In the Matter of Recipe Foods, Inc., a Corporation, Theodore Marks, and Isadore S. Rosen, Individually and as Officers of Said Corporation

This proceeding was heard by Everett F. Haycraft, hearing examiner, upon the complaint of the Commission which charged respondents with the use of unfair methods of competition and unfair and deceptive acts and practices in commerce in violation of the provisions of the Federal Trade Commission Act, and upon a stipulation, which was signed by the parties, providing for the entry of a consent order disposing of all the issues in the proceeding and was submitted to said hearing examiner for his consideration in accordance with Rule V of the Commission's rules of practice.

Respondents, pursuant to said stipulation, admitted all the jurisdictional allegations set forth in the complaint and agreed that the record therein might be taken as if the Commission had made findings of jurisdictional facts in accordance with such allegations, and said stipulation further provided that all parties expressly waived the filing of answer, hearing before a hearing examiner or the Commission, the making of findings of fact or conclusions of law by the hearing examiner or the Commission, the filing of exceptions and oral argument before the Commission and all further and other procedure before the hearing examiner and the Commission to which respondents might be entitled under the Federal Trade Commission Act or the rules of practice of the Commission.

Respondents also agreed that the order to cease and desist issued in accordance with said stipulation should have the same force and effect as if made after a full hearing, presentation of evidence and findings and conclusions thereon and specifically waived any and all right, power, or privilege to challenge or contest the validity of the order entered, and it was further stipulated and agreed that said stipulation, together with the complaint, should constitute the entire record in the matter and that the complaint in the matter might be used in construing the terms of the said order to cease and desist, as thereinafter set forth, which might be altered, modified, or set aside in the manner provided by the statute for the orders of the Commission, and that the signing of said stipulation was for settlement purposes only and did not constitute an admission by respondents that they had violated the law as alleged in the complaint.

Thereafter the proceeding having come on for final consideration by said hearing examiner on said Stipulation for Consent Order and the parties having expressly waived the filing of an answer, said hearing examiner made his initial decision in which he set forth the aforesaid matters; and his conclusion that said stipulation provided for an appropriate disposition of the proceeding and his acceptance of said stipulation, which was ordered filed as a part of the record in the matter; and in which he made certain jurisdictional findings with respect to the respondents involved and found that the Commission had jurisdiction over the subject matter of the proceeding and of said respondents; that the complaint stated a cause of action against said respondents under the Federal Trade Commission Act; and that the proceeding was in the interest of the public; and in which he issued his order to cease and desist.

No appeal having been filed from said initial decision of said hearing examiner, as provided for in Rule XXII of the Commission's rules of practice, nor any other action taken as thereby provided to prevent said initial decision becoming the decision of the Commission thirty days from service thereof upon the parties, said initial decision, including said order, accordingly, under the provisions of said Rule XXII, became the decision of the Commission on April 1, 1955.

[1] New.

Said order to cease and desist is as follows:

It is ordered, That respondents Recipe Foods, Inc., a corporation, Theodore Marks, an individual and president, and Isadore S. Rosen, an individual and vice president of corporate respondent Recipe Foods, Inc., and any officers, representatives, agents and employees of corporate respondent, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the offering for sale, sale and distribution of beverage syrup in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, do forthwith cease and desist from doing, directly or indirectly, any of the following acts or practices or using any of the following methods:

1. Buying or exchanging or offering to buy or exchange the stocks of competitive beverage syrup stocked and handled by any wholesale grocers or retail chain store organizations either for cash or credit against purchases of beverage syrup from respondents.

2. Guaranteeing or offering to guarantee to wholesale grocers or retail chain store organizations that if respondents' beverage syrup is stocked and handled exclusively in place of competitors' products, such wholesale grocers' or retail chain store organizations' profits during the year respondents' products are stocked exclusively will be equal to or will be more than or will double or will triple the total profits on all competitive beverage syrups stocked and sold in the previous year.

3. Selling or offering to sell beverage syrups which were purchased by respondents from any of its customers and which were manufactured by competitors of respondents at prices below the cost of such products to the respondents or at prices lower than the prices charged by respondents' competitors for the same products.

By "Decision of the Commission and Order to File Report of Compliance", Docket 6286, April 1, 1955, which announced and decreed fruition of said initial decision, report of compliance was required as follows:

It is ordered, That the respondents herein shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon them of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing setting forth in detail the manner and form in which they have complied with the order to cease and desist.

Issued: April 1, 1955.

§ 197.25 Payment and rates of special tax. Each person who uses distilled spirits in the manufacture or production of medicines, medicinal preparations, food products, flavors, or flavoring extracts which are unfit for beverage purposes, in order to be eligible to claim the drawback on the distilled spirits so used, must pay special tax at the rate of $25 per annum for total annual withdrawals not exceeding 25 proof gallons of distilled spirits; $50 per annum for total annual withdrawals not exceeding 50 proof gallons; or $100 per annum for total annual withdrawals of more than 50 proof gallons. Where a claim is filed in the first quarter of a year, covering distilled spirits used during the last quarter of the preceding year, and special tax has not been paid for the preceding year, special tax for such preceding year must be paid in the appropriate amount prior to or at the time of filing the claim. Special tax, based upon estimated withdrawals, may be paid in advance of actual withdrawals. Adjustments of the special tax where improperly paid will be made in accordance with §§ 197.55 and 197.56. The manufacturer is not required to pay the special tax if he does not claim drawback on the distilled spirits used by him.

§ 197.26 Special tax for each place. A separate special tax must be paid for each place at which distilled spirits are used in the manufacture or production of nonbeverage products if a claim is filed for drawback of tax on distilled spirits so used at each such place.

§ 197.27 Date special tax due. The special tax must be paid prior to the filing of the first claim for drawback during any fiscal year commencing July 1 and ending with June 30 following. Notwithstanding the month of the fiscal year in which the claim is filed, the full annual special tax of $25, $50, or $100, as the case may be, must be paid.

§ 197.28 Filing of return and payment of special tax. Persons intending to file claims for drawback shall file returns on Form 11, with remittances, with the district director of internal revenue for the district in which the place of manufacture is located.

EXECUTION OF FORM 11

§ 197.29 General. Special-tax returns, Form 11, may be procured from any district director or collection officer and shall disclose, in the spaces provided, the following:

(a) The true name of the taxpayer, which may be followed by the words "trading as" and any trade name under which the business is conducted.

(b) The exact location of the place of business, as by name and number of building or street, and where these do not exist, by some particularization in addition to the post office address.

(c) The kind of business carried on.

(d) Except in the case of a corporation, the true names of all persons having a proprietary interest in the business. While it is not necessary that the names of all persons having a proprietory interest in the business appear on the special-tax stamp, the names must be disclosed on the return, Form 11.

§ 197.30 Signature. The return of an individual proprietor shall be signed by the proprietor; the return of a partnership shall be signed by a member of the firm; and the return of a corporation shall be signed by an officer thereof. In each case, the person signing the return shall designate his capacity, as "individual owner," "member of firm," or, in the case of corporation, the title of the officer. Receivers, trustees, assignees, executors, administrators, and other legal representatives who continue the business of a bankrupt, insolvent, deceased person, etc., will indicate the fiduciary capacity in which they act. Returns executed by persons as agents will not be accepted unless they file with the district director a power of attorney authorizing them so to act.

§ 197.31 Verification of returns. A return on Form 11 must be verified by a written declaration that it is made under the penalties of perjury.

SUBPART D—SPECIAL-TAX STAMPS

§ 197.40 Issuance of stamps. Upon receipt of a return on Form 11, properly executed, together with proper remittance, the district director of internal revenue will issue a special-tax stamp designated "Manufacturer of Nonbeverage Products." District directors and collection officers may not issue the special-tax stamp before the tax is fully paid. Such special-tax stamp may not be sold or otherwise transferred to another person.

§ 197.41 Posting of stamps. A special-tax payer shall conspicuously display his special-tax stamp in the place of business for which the special tax was paid. If such stamp is lost or accidentally destroyed, the taxpayer should immediately notify the district director of internal revenue from whom the stamp was purchased, who will issue to the taxpayer a "Certificate in Lieu of Lost or Destroyed Special Tax Stamp," which must be kept in the same manner as the stamp.

§ 197.42 Corrections of errors on stamps. On receipt of a special-tax stamp, the taxpayer will examine it to insure that the name and address are correctly stated thereon. If an error has been made, the stamp should be returned to the district director of internal revenue, with a statement showing the nature of the error and setting forth the proper name or address. The district director of internal revenue, on receipt of such stamp and statement, will compare the data with that on Form 11, and if an error on the part of the district director of internal revenue has been made, he will make the necessary correction and return the stamp to the taxpayer. If the Form 11 agrees with the data on the stamp, the district director of internal revenue will require the taxpayer to file a new Form 11, designated "Amended Return," disclosing the proper name and address, and, on receipt of the amended Form 11, will amend his Record 10 accordingly, attach the amended Form 11 to the original Form 11, make the proper correction on the stamp, and return it to the taxpayer.

CHANGE IN LOCATION

§ 197.43 General. A special-tax payer who, during the fiscal year for which special tax was paid, removes his place of manufacture to a place other than that specified in his special-tax stamp, must register the change with the district director of internal revenue from whom the special-tax stamp was purchased, within 90 days after he moves into the new premises, by executing a new return on Form 11, designated as "Amended Return," setting forth the time when and the place to which such removal was made, and shall surrender the special-tax stamp to the district director of internal revenue for indorsement of the change in location.

§ 197.44 Removal in same internal revenue district. When a special-tax payer removes his place of manufacture to another address within the same internal revenue district, the district director will enter on his Record 10 the new address and the date of removal into the new premises, and will note the change on the face of the special-tax stamp, stating clearly thereon the new location, and will return the special-tax stamp to the taxpayer.

§ 197.45 Removal to another internal revenue district. When a taxpayer removes his place of manufacture to a location within an internal revenue district other than that in which the special-tax stamp was issued, the district director who issued the special-tax stamp will enter on his Record 10 the new address and date of removal into the new premises, stating clearly the new location where the business is to be carried on, and will transmit the stamp to the district director of the district to which the taxpayer removed. The district director of that district will make entry on his Record 10, as in the case of a new registrant, and note the taxpayer's new address and the district director's name, title, and district, and the date of removal on the special-tax stamp, which will be returned to the taxpayer.

§ 197.46 Failure of registration. A person who removes his place of manufacture and fails to register such removal with the district director, as required by § 197.43, must pay a new special tax for the new location if a claim for drawback is filed by him during the fiscal year for which the original special tax was paid.

§ 197.47 Certificates in lieu of lost stamps. The provisions of §§ 197.43–197.46 shall apply to certificates issued in lieu of lost or destroyed special-tax stamps.

CHANGE IN CONTROL

§ 197.48 General. Certain persons other than the special-tax payer may, without paying additional special tax, be eligible to the same privileges granted by law to the taxpayer during the remainder of the fiscal year for which the special tax was paid. To secure such right, such person or persons must file with the district director from whom the special-tax stamp was purchased, within 90 days after the date on which the successor or successors assume control, a return on Form 11, showing the basis of the succession.

§ 197.49 Persons eligible. Under the conditions indicated in § 197.48, persons such as those listed below have the right of succession:

Death: The widow or child or executor, administrator, or other legal representative of the taxpayer.

Husband and wife: A husband or wife succeeding to the business of his or her spouse (living).

Insolvency: A receiver or trustee in bankruptcy, or an assignee for benefit of creditors.

Withdrawal from firm: The partner or partners remaining after death or withdrawal of a member.

§ 197.50 Failure of registration. A person so succeeding, who fails to register such succession with the district director, as required by § 197.48, must pay a new special tax if a claim for drawback is filed by him during the fiscal year for which the original special tax was paid.

§ 197.51 Certificates in lieu of lost stamps. The provisions of §§ 197.48–197.50 shall apply to certificates issued in lieu of lost or destroyed special-tax stamps.

CHANGE IN NAME OR STYLE

§ 197.52 General. A special-tax payer does not incur liability to additional special tax by reason of a mere change in the trade name or style under which such business is conducted, nor by reason of a change in management which involves no change in the proprietorship of the business.

§ 197.53 Change in capital stock. Additional special tax is not required by reason of a change of name or increase in the capital stock of a corporation if the laws of the State of incorporation provide for such changes without creating a new corporation.

§ 197.54 Sale of stock. No additional special tax is required by reason of the sale or transfer of all or a controlling interest in the capital stock of a corporation.

ADJUSTMENT OF SPECIAL TAX RATE

§ 197.55 Change to higher rate. A manufacturer of nonbeverage products who pays a special tax of $25 per annum and has filed or intends to file a claim or claims for drawback covering distilled spirits in excess of 25 proof gallons used during the year for which the special tax was paid, must pay special tax of $50 or $100, as the case may be, and obtain a stamp therefor. The manufacturer may thereupon submit the special-tax stamp of $25 to the district director of internal revenue to whom the special tax was paid with a claim on Form 843 for redemption. Similar procedure will govern in the case of a manufacturer of nonbeverage products who pays special tax of $50 and has filed or intends to file claim for drawback covering distilled spirits used in excess of 50 proof gallons.

(68A Stat. 830; 26 U. S. C. 6805)

§ 197.56 Change to lower rate. A manufacturer of nonbeverage products who pays special tax of $100 or $50 per annum, as the case may be, and, during the year for which the special tax was paid, files claim or claims for drawback covering the use of not more than 50 or 25 proof gallons of distilled spirits, as the case may be, may file a claim on Form 843 for redemption of the stamp in the amount of the difference between the special tax paid and the special tax due. The special-tax stamp shall be attached to the claim.

(68A Stat. 830; 26 U. S. C. 6805)

§ 197.57 Redemption of stamp. Redemption of the special tax stamp may be made if it is established that the taxpayer did not file a claim for drawback for the period covered by the special tax stamp. Where claim for drawback was filed, redemption of the special tax stamp may be made if it is established that no drawback was allowed or paid for the period covered by the stamp.

REDEMPTION OF SPECIAL TAX STAMP

§ 197.58 General. Claim for redemption of a special tax stamp shall be filed on Form 843 (original only) with the district director of internal revenue to whom the special tax was paid. The claim must set forth in detail and state each ground upon which it is made, and facts sufficient to apprise the assistant regional commissioner of the exact basis thereof. The special tax stamp shall be attached to the claim.

(68A Stat. 830; 26 U. S. C. 6805)

§ 197.59 Period for redemption of special tax stamp. No claim for redemption of the special tax stamp shall be allowed unless presented within three years next after the payment of such tax.

(68A Stat. 830; 26 U. S. C. 6805)

SUBPART E—BONDS AND CONSENTS OF SURETIES

§ 197.65 General. Every person required to file a bond or consent of surety under the provisions of this part shall prepare and execute it on the prescribed form, in triplicate, in accordance with the provisions in this part and the instructions printed on the form, and shall submit it to the assistant regional commissioner. The bonds required by the provisions in this part shall be given with corporate surety or collateral security. The surety may not have any interest, either direct or indirect, in the business of the principal on the bond.

§ 197.66 Corporate surety. Bonds may be given with corporate surety authorized by the Secretary of the Treasury to become surety on Federal bonds, subject to the limitations prescribed by the Secretary in Treasury Department Form 356, Commissioner of Accounts, Surety Bonds Branch, and subject to such amendatory circulars as may be issued from time to time. A bond executed by two or more corporate sureties shall be the joint and several liability of the principal and the sureties: Provided, That each corporate surety may limit its liability in terms upon the face of the bond in a definite, specified amount, which amount shall not exceed the limitations prescribed for such corporate surety by the Secretary, as set forth in Treasury Department Form 356. When the sureties so limit their liability, the aggregate of such limited liabilities must equal the required penal sum of the bond.

§ 197.67 Powers of attorney. Powers of attorney and other evidence of appointment of agents and officers to execute bonds on behalf of corporate sureties are required to be filed with, and passed upon by, the Commissioner of Accounts, Surety Bonds Branch, Treasury Department. Such powers and other evidence of appointment need not be filed with, or submitted to, assistant regional commissioners. Powers of attorney or other evidence of appointment of agents and officers to execute bonds on behalf of the principal, must be filed on Form 1534, in triplicate, with the assistant regional commissioner with whom the bond is filed.

§ 197.68 Deposit of collateral. Except as provided in this section, bonds or notes of the United States, or other obligations which are unconditionally guaranteed as to both interest and principal by the United States, may be pledged and deposited by principals as collateral security in lieu of corporate sureties. Assistant regional commissioners, on receiving such bonds or notes, or other obligations, pledged and deposited by principals as collateral security in lieu of surety, shall deposit such securities as required by Department Circular No. 154, revised (31 CFR Part 225). United States Savings, Defense Savings, and War Savings Bonds issued under the authority of section 22 of the Second Liberty Bond Act, as amended, and other bonds and notes of the United States, which are nontransferable or the hypothecation of which will not be recognized by the Treasury Department, may not be pledged and deposited as security in lieu of corporate sureties.

(61 Stat. 646; 6 U. S. C. 15)

§ 197.69 Consents of surety. Consents of surety to a change in the terms of a bond must be executed on Form 1533, in as many copies as are required of the bond which they affect, by the principal and all sureties with the same formality and proof of authority to execute as are required for the execution of bonds. Form 1533 will be used by obligors on collateral bonds as well as those on surety bonds. The Form 1533 must properly identify the bond affected thereby and state specifically and precisely what is covered by the extended terms thereof. The consent of the corporate surety may be executed by an agent or attorney in fact duly authorized so to do by power of attorney filed by the surety with the appropriate assistant regional commissioner, or the consent may be executed by the home office officials of such corporate surety.

§ 197.70 Approval required. No person using distilled spirits in the manufacture of nonbeverage products may file monthly claim for drawback under the provisions of this part until bond on Form 1730 has been approved by the assistant regional commissioner.

§ 197.71 Authority to approve. Assistant regional commissioners are authorized to approve all bonds and consents of surety required by this part.

§ 197.72 Additional or strengthening bonds. In all cases where the penal sum of a bond on file and in effect is not sufficient, computed as prescribed by this part, the principal may give an additional or strengthening bond in a sufficient penal sum, provided the surety thereon is the same as on the bond already on file and in effect; otherwise a new bond covering the entire liability will be required. Such additional or strengthening bonds, being filed to increase the bond liability of the principal and the surety, shall not be construed in any sense to be substitute bonds, and the assistant regional commissioner will refuse to approve an additional or strengthening bond where any notation is made thereon which may be construed as a release of any former bond or as limiting the amount of either bond to less than its full penal sum. Additional or strengthening bonds must show the current date of execution and the effective date in the blank spaces provided therefor. Such bonds must have marked thereon, by the obligors at the time of execution, "Additional Bond," or "Strengthening Bond," as the case may be.

§ 197.73 New or superseding bonds. The principal on any bond filed pursuant to this part may, at any time, substitute a new bond therefor. Executors, administrators, assignees, receivers, trustees, or other persons acting in a fiduciary capacity, continuing or liquidating the business of the principal, must execute and file a new bond or obtain the consent of the surety or sureties on the existing bond or bonds. When, in the opinion of the assistant regional commissioner, the interests of the Government demand it or in any case where the security of the bond becomes impaired in whole or in part for any reason whatever, the principal will be required to give a new bond. A new bond shall be required immediately in case of the insolvency of the surety. Where a bond is found to be not acceptable or for any reason becomes invalid or of no effect, the principal shall be required to file immediately a new and satisfactory bond. Superseding bonds must show the current date of execution and the date they are to be effective, and each such bond shall have marked thereon, by the obligors at the time of execution, "Superseding Bond." Where a new bond is submitted by the principal to supersede a bond or bonds then in effect, and such superseding bond has been approved, the superseded bond shall be released as to transactions occurring wholly subsequent to the effective date of the superseding bond and notice of termination of the superseded bond may be issued as provided in § 197.78.

§ 197.74 Account with drawback bond. The assistant regional commissioner will keep an account with each bond governing the allowance of drawback on a monthly basis. The principal will be charged with the amount of drawback allowed on each monthly claim. Credit will be given on the account with the bond in the amount equal to the drawback found by audit and investigation to be allowable, under the provisions of this part.

TERMINATION OF BONDS

§ 197.75 General. Continuing bonds on Form 1730 will be terminated by the assistant regional commissioner as to liability on drawback allowed after a specified future date (a) pursuant to a notice by the surety as provided in § 197.76, (b) following approval of a superseding bond, as provided in § 197.73, or (c) following notification by the principal of his intent to discontinue the filing of claims on a monthly basis: Provided, That the bond will not be terminated until all outstanding liability thereunder has been discharged. Upon termination, the assistant regional commissioner will mark the bond "canceled" followed by the date of cancellation, and will issue a notice of termination, Form 1490, or a notice of release, Form 1491, as provided in § 197.79.

§ 197.76 Application of surety for release from bond. A surety on any bond required by this part may at any time, in writing, notify the assistant regional commissioner in whose office the bond is on file, and the principal, that he desires to be relieved of liability under the bond at a date not less than 60 days after the date of the notification. One copy of the notice must be delivered to the principal and two copies shall be delivered to the assistant regional commissioner. If the notice is given by an agent of the surety it must be accompanied by a power of attorney authorizing the agent to give such notice, or by a verified statement that such power of attorney is on file with the Treasury Department. The surety must also file with the assistant regional commissioner an acknowledgment or other proof of service of such notice on the principal.

§ 197.77 Extent of release of surety from liability under bond. If the notice required by § 197.76 is not withdrawn thereafter in writing, the rights of the principal as supported by the said bond shall be terminated on the date named in the notice, and the surety will be relieved from liability for drawback allowed subsequent to the date named. Liability for drawback allowed prior to the date named in the surety's notice will continue until the claims for such drawback have been properly verified by the assistant regional commissioner according to law and this part. Where the principal files a valid superseding bond, the surety on the bond superseded will be relieved from liability for drawback allowed wholly subsequent to the effective date of the superseding bond.

§ 197.78 Action by assistant regional commissioner. When an application by the surety for release from bond is filed with the assistant regional commissioner, or when a superseding bond has been approved, or when the principal has discontinued filing claims on a monthly basis, the assistant regional commissioner will make a complete examination of records to determine whether there is any liability then due and payable, or chargeable, outstanding against the bond. If it is found that liabilities chargeable against the bond have not been paid or credited or otherwise settled, no further action will be taken until all such liabilities have been settled. If the assistant regional commissioner finds that the bond may be properly terminated, he will issue notice of termination in accordance with the provisions of § 197.79.

§ 197.79 Notice of termination. Upon determining that the bond on Form 1730 may be terminated, the assistant regional commissioner will execute a notice of termination, Form 1490, where a superseding bond has been approved, or a notice of release, Form 1491, where the principal has discontinued filing monthly claims, or where the surety has made application for release from bond as provided in § 197.76. The notice of termination or the notice of release shall be prepared in quadruplicate where there is but one surety, and in quintuplicate where there are two sureties. The assistant regional commissioner will forward the original of the notice to the Director, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division, together with a copy of the surety's application, if any, furnish one copy to each obligor, and retain one copy of the notice and the surety's application, if any, on file with the bond to which it relates.

§ 197.80 Release of collateral. The release of collateral pledged and deposited to support bonds required by this part will be in accordance with the provisions of Department Circular No. 154, revised (31 CFR Part 225), subject to the conditions governing issuance of notices on Forms 1490 and 1491 of the termination of such bonds. When the assistant regional commissioner determines that there is no outstanding liability against the bond, and has satisfied himself that the interests of the Government will not be jeopardized, the security may be released and returned to the principal.

SUBPART F—FORMULAS AND SAMPLES

§ 197.95 Products requiring formulas. Manufacturers intending to file drawback claims are required to file quantitative formulas for all preparations except those covered by § 197.96. Such formulas should be sent direct to the Director, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division, Washington 25, D. C., on Form 1678, in quadruplicate, before or at the time of manufacture of the products. Upon receipt by the Director, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division, the formulas will be examined and if found to be medicines, medicinal preparations, food products, flavors, or flavoring extracts which are unfit for beverage purposes they will be approved. If the formulas do not meet the requirements of the law for drawback products, they will be disapproved. No drawback will be allowed on distilled spirits used in a disapproved product, unless such product is later used in the manufacture of an approved nonbeverage product. The formulas should be serially numbered, commencing with number one and continuing thereafter in numerical sequence. Amended or revised formulas will be considered as new formulas and serially numbered accordingly. One copy of each formula will be retained by the Director, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division, one copy returned to the manufacturer, and the original and one copy will be sent to the assistant regional commissioner for filing. The formulas returned to manufacturers shall be filed in serial order by the manufacturer and made available for examination by internal revenue officers in the investigation of drawback claims. The copies sent to assistant regional commissioners shall likewise be filed in serial order, available for examination by drawback audit clerks and laboratory chemists. In the case of food products, such as preserved fruits, cakes, buns, soups, etc., it will be sufficient if the formulas therefor show the quantity of proof gallons of distilled spirits used in the production of a given quantity of finished product.

§ 197.96 Products not requiring formulas. Quantitative formulas need not be submitted if the products are medicinal preparations, tinctures, or fluid extracts produced under formulas prescribed by the United States Pharmacopoeia, The National Formulary, or the Homeopathic Pharmacopoeia of the United States, and such products are identified in the supporting data by name and followed by the letters "U. S. P.," "N. F.," or "H. P. U. S.," as the case may be.

§ 197.97 Statement of process. The assistant regional commissioner, at his discretion, may at any time require any person claiming drawback under the regulations in this part to file a statement of process in addition to that required by Form 1678 and such other data as he may deem necessary for consideration of such person's claim for drawback. When such additional data are required, the statement of process should be submitted with copies of the commercial labels used on the finished products.

§ 197.98 Samples. The Director, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division, or assistant regional commissioner, at his discretion, may also at any time require any person claiming drawback under the regulations in this part to submit a sample of each nonbeverage product for examination. Where the applicant proposes to use a mixture of oil or other ingredients, the composition of which is unknown to him, a 1-ounce sample should be submitted with the sample of finished product when so required by the Director, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division, or assistant regional commissioner, as the case may be.

SUBPART G—CLAIMS FOR DRAWBACK

§ 197.105 Drawback. Drawback at the rate specified by law on each proof gallon of distilled spirits used in the manufacture of medicines, medicinal preparations, food products, flavors, or flavoring extracts which are unfit for beverage purposes will be allowed to any person who has become eligible for such drawback and upon the filing of a claim therefor as provided in this subpart.

§ 197.106 Claims. The claim for drawback shall be filed on Form 843 (original only) with the assistant regional commissioner, for the region in which the place of manufacture is located, and shall pertain only to distilled spirits used in the manufacture or production of nonbeverage products during any one quarter of the year, and only one claim may be filed for each quarter: Provided, That where the manufacturer has notified the assistant regional commissioner, in writing, of his intention to file claims on a monthly basis, in lieu of a quarterly basis, and has filed a bond in compliance with the provisions of § 197.107, claims may be filed monthly in lieu of quarterly: Provided further, That any such election for the filing of monthly claims may be revoked upon filing of notice thereof, in writing, with the assistant regional commissioner.

§ 197.107 Bond, Form 1730. Every person desiring to file claims for drawback on a monthly basis shall, upon filing his notice of such intention as provided in § 197.106, execute a bond on Form 1730, in triplicate, in conformity with the provisions of Subpart E of this part, and file the same with the assistant regional commissioner. The penal sum of the bond must be sufficient to cover the amount of drawback which will, during any quarterly period, constitute a charge against the bond: Provided, That the penal sum of any bond shall not exceed $200,000 nor be less than $1,000. The bond shall be a continuing one, and the liability thereof subject to increase as successive monthly claims are allowed thereunder and to decrease as the verifications of such monthly claims are made. When the limit of liability under a bond given in less than the maximum penal sum has been reached, no further drawback on monthly claims will be allowed unless prior charges against the bond have been decreased, or a new, or additional, bond in sufficient penal sum is furnished.

§ 197.108 Date of filing claim. Quarterly claims for drawback must be filed with the assistant regional commissioner within the three months next succeeding the quarter in which the distilled spirits covered by the claim were used in the manufacture of nonbeverage products. Monthly claims for drawback may be filed at any time after the end of the month in which the distilled spirits covered by the claim were used in the manufacture of nonbeverage products, but must be filed not later than the close of the third month succeeding the quarter in which such spirits were used.

§ 197.109 Information to be shown by the claim. The claim must set forth the following:

(a) That the special tax has been paid.

(b) That the tax on the distilled spirits on which drawback is claimed has been paid and that such spirits were produced in a domestic registered distillery or an industrial alcohol plant.

(c) That the distilled spirits on which the drawback is claimed were used in the manufacture or production of nonbeverage products.

(d) That the nonbeverage products were manufactured in compliance with (1) quantitative formulas filed with the Director, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division, on Form 1678 prior to or at the time of manufacture, or (2) formulas prescribed by the United States Pharmacopoeia, the National Formulary, or the Homeopathic Pharmacopoeia of the United States.

(e) That the data submitted in support of the claim are correct.

SUPPORTING DATA

§ 197.110 General. Each claim will be accompanied by statements of supporting data as provided by §§ 197.111–197.119.

§ 197.112 Distilled spirits received in tank cars or tank trucks. Each claim covering distilled spirits received in tank cars or tank trucks will be accompanied by a statement showing: the date of receipt; the name and address of the vendor, whether taxpayment was evidenced by a certificate of taxpayment, Form 1595, or a wholesale liquor dealer's stamp; the serial number of the certificate of taxpayment (Form 1595), or the wholesale liquor dealer's stamp; the date of issuance of the certificate or wholesale liquor dealer's stamp; the name of the producer; and the kind, quantity, and proof of the spirits. (When a tank car or tank truck is emptied, the certificate of taxpayment, Form 1595, or the wholesale liquor dealer's stamp, as the case may be, affixed thereto shall be scalped by cutting out all of that portion of the certificate or stamp within the borders and the cut-out portion of the certificate or stamp shall be immediately forwarded to the assistant regional commissioner. If the tank car or tank truck is received without the certificate or stamp attached thereto, the vendee shall note such fact on the bill of lading, if any, or on Form 1440 or 1520, as the case may be, and immediately notify the assistant regional commissioner who will cause such inquiry to be made respecting the shipment and receipt of the conveyance as he may deem appropriate.)

§ 197.113 Distilled spirits received in containers. Each claim covering distilled spirits received in containers, such as barrels, drums, cans, or cases, bearing internal revenue stamps will be accompanied by a statement showing: the date of receipt; the name and address of the vendor; the serial number of the stamp affixed to the container; the date of issuance appearing on the stamp; the serial number, if any, of the container; the name of the producer; and the kind, quantity, and proof of the spirits. (When the package is emptied, the stamp shall be scalped and attached to the next claim filed for drawback on the spirits which were in such package.)

§ 197.115 Use of distilled spirits. Each claim covering the use of distilled spirits in the manufacture of nonbeverage products will be accompanied by a statement showing the name, description, and formula number, if any, of each nonbeverage product in the manufacture of which distilled spirits were used, the alcoholic content by volume of each such product, the number of proof gallons and kind of distilled spirits used in manufacture thereof, and the quantity produced.

§ 197.116 Distilled spirits account. Each claim will be accompanied by a statement showing in proof gallons the quantity of all distilled spirits on hand at the beginning of the period, quantity in process beginning of the period, quantity received during the period, quantity used during the period in the manufacture of nonbeverage products subject to drawback, quantity used in the manufacture of intermediate products, quantity otherwise used not subject to drawback, quantity in process at the end of the period, and the quantity remaining on hand at the end of the period. Distilled spirits in process will include distilled spirits represented in unfinished nonbeverage products, mixtures, menstruums, etc. Any discrepancy between the amount of distilled spirits on hand at the end of the period as disclosed by actual inventory and the amount shown by the manufacturer's records must be reported in the summary with an explanation of the cause thereof.

§ 197.117 Account of distilled spirits recovered in the manufacture of products eligible for drawback. Each claim will be accompanied by a summary statement showing in proof gallons the quantity of all recovered distilled spirits on hand at the beginning of the period, quantity in process beginning of the period, quantity recovered during the period, quantity used not subject to drawback, quantity in process at the end of the period, and the quantity remaining on hand at the end of the period. Distilled spirits recovered from dregs or marc of percolation or extraction of products eligible for drawback may be reused in the manufacture of medicines or flavoring extracts of the kind in which originally used, e. g., distilled spirits recovered from dregs or marc of percolation or extraction in the manufacture of one medicine may be reused in the manufacture of another medicine, but distilled spirits recovered from dregs or marc of percolation or extraction in the manufacture of medicine may not be reused in the manufacture of flavoring extracts. Such recovered distilled spirits are not eligible for drawback and may be reused only in the manufacture of nonbeverage products. This may not be used in the manufacture of intermediate products.

§ 197.118 Account of distilled spirits recovered in the manufacture of intermediate products. Each claim will be accompanied by a summary statement showing in proof gallons the quantity of all recovered distilled spirits on hand at the beginning of the period, quantity in process beginning of the period, quantity recovered during the period, quantity used during the period in the manufacture of nonbeverage products subject to drawback, quantity otherwise used, and the quantity remaining on hand at the end of the period. Any discrepancy between the amount of recovered distilled spirits on hand at the end of the period as disclosed by actual inventory and the amount shown by the manufacturer's records must be reported in the summary with an explanation of the cause thereof. Any distilled spirits recovered from the dregs or marc of percolation, or extraction, of intermediate products as defined in § 197.16 are eligible for drawback of tax only when used in the manufacture of a nonbeverage product.

§ 197.119 Account of intermediate products. Each claim will be accompanied by a statement showing the quantity in wine gallons of each intermediate product and the quantity of distilled spirits (proof gallons) used therein on hand at the beginning of the period, produced during the period, and on hand at the end of the period, and showing the quantity in wine gallons of each intermediate product and the quantity of the distilled spirits contained therein (proof gallons) used during the period in eligible products, used during the period in other intermediate products, and otherwise disposed of during the period. Any discrepancy between the amount of intermediate products on hand at the end of the period as disclosed by actual inventory and the amount shown by the manufacturer's records must be reported in the statement with an explanation of the cause thereof. Only the distilled spirits remaining in an intermediate product at the time of its use in the manufacture of an approved nonbeverage product, are eligible for drawback.

ACTION ON CLAIMS

§ 197.120 Action on quarterly claims. The assistant regional commissioner will date-stamp the claim and, after recording, will examine the claim for the purpose of determining whether it is properly executed and that all supporting data have been submitted and will conduct such inquiries and investigations as may be necessary to verify that drawback is allowable on the distilled spirits covered by the claim. After completion of such verification he will allow or disallow the claim in accordance with his findings and existing law and regulations.

§ 197.121 Action on monthly claims. The assistant regional commissioner will date-stamp the claim and, after recording, will examine the claim for the purpose of determining whether it is properly executed and that all required supporting data have been submitted. Where a bond in the maximum penal sum or, if less than such maximum, in a sufficient penal sum, is on file, the assistant regional commissioner will verify that the amount of drawback claimed is correctly calculated, based on the quantity of distilled spirits stated to have been used by the manufacturer, and, without investigation, allow or disallow the claim (including the final claim for any quarter) in accordance with existing law and regulations. Where the bond on file is not in a sufficient penal sum, action on the claim will be withheld pending completion of an investigation subsequent to the end of the quarterly period. When the final claim for a quarter is received, the assistant regional commissioner will conduct such investigation as may be necessary to verify, as to each claim filed for the quarter, that the drawback allowed, or claimed where bond was insufficient, was proper: Provided, That where the total charges outstanding against the manufacturer's bond are less than the penal sum of such bond, the assistant regional commissioner may, at his discretion, conduct such investigation at less frequent intervals. Upon completion of verification the assistant regional commissioner will credit the manufacturer's bond in an amount equal to the drawback on the spirits found to have been lawfully used.

The assistant regional commissioner may at any time require the keeping of such records upon at least 5 days' notice to the taxpayer.

§ 197.132 Form of record. No particular form of record is prescibed, but the data required to be shown shall be readily ascertainable from the records kept by the manufacturer. § 19.0 General appellate jurisdiction. All questions on claims involving benefits under the laws administered by the Veterans Administration are subject to review on appeal to the Administrator of Veterans Affairs, decisions in such cases to be made by the Board of Veterans Appeals. Jurisdiction to render final decisions on questions so reviewed on appeal is vested in the Board of Veterans Appeals, in accordance with Part II, Veterans Regulation 2 (a) (38 U. S. C., ch. 12A).

§ 19.1 Subject matter of appeals. More specifically, the Board's appellate jurisdiction covers questions of entitlement to compensation for service-connected disabilities; pension for disability without regard to service-connection; death compensation and pension; vocational rehabilitation, including need therefor; education; insurance benefits, including maturity of contracts, waiver of premiums, and legal beneficiary; payment or reimbursement for unauthorized medical expenses; burial allowances; disability suffered as the result of examination, treatment or hospitalization or vocational training; emergency officers retirement benefits; basic eligibility to loans and unemployment compensation; adjusted compensation; waiver or recovery of overpayments; forfeiture of rights; and all related mixed questions of fact and law, such as character and type of service, attorney fees, marital relations, dependency, validity of claims, apportionment, reduction and increase in compensation or pension benefits, and similar questions.

§ 19.2 Time within which appeals must be filed. Applications for review on appeal to the Administrator of Veterans Affairs shall be filed within 1 year from the date of mailing notification of the result of initial review or determination, except in simultaneously contested claims where one is allowed and one rejected, in which event the time allowed for filing an application for review on appeal shall be 60 days from date of mailing notice of the original action to the claimant to whom the action is adverse.

§ 19.3 Right to a hearing. A claimant who has executed a formal appeal to the Administrator and whose appeal has been certified by the office of original jurisdiction shall be entitled to appear without expense to the Government at a formal hearing before a section of the Board of Veterans Appeals or, at his discretion, in a regional or district office before designated personnel acting as a hearing agency for the Board of Veterans Appeals, with such witnesses and representative as he may designate.

§ 19.6 Jurisdiction to correct errors. The Board of Veterans Appeals has authority to correct errors in any question in issue. If the Board finds a clear and unmistakable error on any question not in issue, such error will be brought to the attention of the proper organizational element by a memorandum from the chairman of the Board. The failure so to do may not be taken as a certification or decision by the Board that error does not exist.

§ 19.7 Administrative appeals; employees authorized to file appeals. Pursuant to the authority contained in paragraph VI, Part II, Veterans Regulation 2 (a) (38 U. S. C. ch. 12A), a Deputy Administrator, the Chief Medical Director, an Assistant Deputy Administrator,

QUINHAGAK (KWINHAGAK)

At the mouth of the Kuskokwim River, near latitude 60°, longitude 162°: Aggregating (not to exceed) 40 acres.

2. Executive Order No. 5289 of March 4, 1930, reserving certain public lands in Alaska pending survey and segregation for educational purposes, is hereby revoked so far as it affects the lands in the following-described area:

BUCKLAND

Near latitude 66° 5', longitude 161° 5' U. S. Survey No. 2018: Aggregating 26.68 acres.

The land at Buckland is located a short distance up the Buckland River off Eschscholtz Bay in Kotzebue Sound. It is in an isolated area typical of the Seward Peninsula tundra country and has little attraction for settlement in the foreseeable future. Many thousands of acres of open, unappropriated, public lands surround this parcel.

The land at Quinbagak (Kwinbagak) is situated on the Kanektok River near the mouth of the Kuskokwim where it enters Kuskokwim Bay on the Bering Sea. At the present time this area is sparsely settled with little attraction for settlement in the foreseeable future. It, also, is surrounded by vast area of open, unappropriated, public domain.

For a period of 91 days, commencing at 10:00 a. m. on the 35th day after the date of this order the public lands affected by this order shall, subject to valid existing rights, including the rights, if any, of the Natives of Alaska, and the provisions of existing withdrawals, be subject only to settlement under the homestead laws or the Alaska Home Site Act of May 26, 1934 (48 Stat. 809; 43 U. S. C. 461), or the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938 (52 Stat. 609; 43 U. S. C. 682a), as amended, by qualified veterans of World War II and the Korean Conflict and other qualified persons entitled to preference under the act of September 27, 1944 (58 Stat. 747; 43 U. S. C. 279–284), as amended, subject to the requirements of applicable laws.

Commencing at 10:00 a. m. on the 126th day after the date of this order, any lands remaining unappropriated shall become subject to settlement, petition, location, selection or other appropriation by the public generally as may be authorized by the public land laws.

Settlement claims under the homestead laws shall be governed by the regulations contained in Parts 65 and 66, inclusive, of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations, and such claims under the Alaska Home Site Act of May 26, 1934, and the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938, as amended shall be governed by the regulations contained in §§ 64.6 to 64.10, inclusive, of that title.

Inquiries concerning the lands shall be addressed to the Manager, Land Office, Bureau of Land Management, Fairbanks, Alaska.

TOLERANCES AND EXEMPTIONS FROM TOLERANCES FOR PESTICIDE CHEMICALS IN OR ON RAW AGRICULTURAL COMMODITIES

NOTICE OF FILING OF PETITION FOR ESTABLISHMENT OF TOLERANCES FOR RESIDUES OF CHLOROBENZILATE (ETHYL 4,4'-DICHLOROBENZILATE)

Pursuant to the provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (sec. 408 (d (1), 68 Stat. 512; 21 U. S. C. 348 (d) (1)), the following notice is issued:

A petition has been filed by Geigy Chemical Corporation, 89 Barclay Street, New York, New York, for the establishment of a tolerance of 8 parts per million for residues of the acaricide Chlorobenzilate (ethyl 4,4'-dichlorobenzilate) in or on apples, cantaloups, lemons, oranges, and pears.

An analytical method proposed in the petition for determining residues of Chlorobenzilate on apples, pears, and cantaloups, in the absence of residues of DDT, is based on the Schechter-Haller Method for DDT, in Industrial and Engineering Chemistry, Volume 17, page 704 (1945), with certain modifications. Essentially, it involves nitration of the compound and the subsequent interaction of the nitrated product with sodium methylate to produce a red color which is measured spectrophotometrically at 538 mμ.

An analytical method proposed in the petition for determining residues of Chlorobenzilate on apples, pears, and cantaloups in the presence of residues of DDT involves saponification of the Chlorobenzilate with alcoholic KOH, thereby converting the compound to the corresponding potassium salt of dichlorobenzilic acid, while at the same time the DDT is converted to its dehydrochlorinated derivative. The latter is removed by extraction with petroleum ether. The potassium salt, upon acidification, is converted to dichlorobenzilic acid and extracted with ethyl ether. The acid is then determined chlorometrically using the Schechter-Haller procedure and measuring spectrophotometric absorption of the colored complex at 538 mμ.

An analytical method proposed in the petition for determining residues of Chlorobenzilate on citrus fruit is published in Agricultural and Food Chemistry, Volume 2, pages 1080–1083 (1954).

CIVIL AERONAUTICS BOARD

[14 CFR Parts 4b, 40, 41, 42]

[Draft Release 55-13]

TRIAL OPERATION OF TRANSPORT CATEGORY AIRPLANES IN CARGO SERVICE AT INCREASED ZERO FUEL AND LANDING WEIGHTS

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

Pursuant to authority delegated by the Civil Aeronautics Board to the Bureau of Safety Regulation, notice is hereby given that the Bureau will propose to the Board the adoption of a Special Civil Air Regulation as hereinafter set forth.

Interested persons may participate in the making of the proposed rules by submitting such written data, views, or arguments as they may desire. Communications should be submitted in duplicate to the Civil Aeronautics Board, attention Bureau of Safety Regulation, Washington 25, D. C. In order to insure their consideration by the Board before taking further action on the proposed rules, communications must be received by June 13, 1955. Copies of such communications will be available after June 15, 1955, for examination by interested persons at the Docket Section of the Board, Room 5412, Department of Commerce Building, Washington, D. C.

On July 21, 1954, the Board issued Order No. S–630 granting the request of The Flying Tiger Line, Inc., for a waiver of certain structural provisions of Part 4b of the Civil Air Regulations. On November 19, 1954, and on January 24, 1955, the Board issued similar Orders Nos. S–653 and S–663, to Slick Airways, Inc., and American Airlines, Inc., respectively. These three orders permit, for a trial period ending June 30, 1955, the operation of DC–6A airplanes in cargo service at weights in excess of those permitted in passenger service. The weights involved are the zero fuel weight (maximum weight of the airplane with no disposable fuel and oil) and the structural landing weight. The use of the higher weights was made contingent upon certain findings by the Administrator and upon certain conditions of operation and inspection.

In issuing the first waiver the Board considered that the results of the trial operations authorized on a limited scale thereby could serve to ascertain the validity of the evaluation used in justifying such trial operations and could contribute further information on whether the operating stress levels imposed on the airplane's structure are within safe limits for continued operations. The Board also envisaged that successful experience with such trial operations could eventually lead to the establishment of a sound basis for differentiating between standards for passenger and cargo air carrier operations.

It is believed that a more extensive background of operating experience will be necessary to assure that the conditions in the waivers do in fact provide a sound basis for establishing future standards for airplanes in cargo operations at increased weights. In view of the variation in design and strength characteristics of the different types of transport category airplanes, it would be desirable if the experience gained were to include trial operations with several of the different types of airplanes to ascertain that these variations will not result in unsafe conditions. Experience to date with the one type of airplane operating under the conditions of the waivers has resulted in no indication of structural distress which would reflect adversely on these conditions. This experience is regarded as providing sufficient justification for permitting other types of transport category airplanes to engage in trial operations. In this regard, the Bureau has been advised by the manufacturers of their belief that most of the existing transport category airplanes meet satisfactorily the terms of the structural waiver in respect to strength, sudden fatigue failure, etc.

In order to facilitate the accumulation of the necessary operating experience, it is believed appropriate to extend the terms of the existing waivers so as to permit any number of any type of transport category airplane to be operated at increased weights in cargo service for a period of two years. During this period the Bureau expects interested persons to submit their evaluation of the trial operations and recommendations resulting therefrom with respect to future regulatory action.

It is envisioned that most of the airplanes taking advantage of this regulation will continue to be used in cargo service. However, if any of the airplanes operated under the provisions of this regulation are to be made eligible at any later time for passenger service, the provisions of this regulation require accomplishment of a special inspection and an evaluation of the fatigue limitations.

In view of the foregoing, notice is hereby given that it is proposed to recommend to the Board the adoption of a Special Civil Air Regulation to read as follows:

Notwithstanding the applicable structural provisions of the Civil Air Regulations, subject to the extent and to the conditions set forth in this special regulation, any air carrier may operate transport category airplanes which were certificated under the provisions of Part 4a or 4b in cargo service only, subject to the conditions hereinafter set forth:

(1) The air carrier shall submit an application to the Administrator indicating its desire to operate its airplanes under the provisions of this special regulation, and indicating which airplanes would be involved.

(2) The air carrier shall furnish a statement from each manufacturer for each type of airplane involved indicating in each case that the airplane manufacturer approves the operation of such type of airplane under the provisions of this regulation and that the airplane manufacturer will establish the inspection procedure prescribed in paragraph (4) of this Special Civil Air Regulation and will supervise such inspection as is found necessary.

(3) The zero fuel weight (maximum weight of the airplane with no disposable fuel and oil) and the structural landing weight may be increased beyond the maxima approved in full compliance with the applicable Civil Air Regulations: Provided, That the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics finds that the increase in either such weight is not likely to reduce seriously the structural strength, that the probability of sudden fatigue failure is not noticeably increased, and that the flutter, deformation, and vibration characteristics do not fall below those required by the Civil Air Regulations: And provided further, That any increase in the zero fuel weight approved shall not exceed 5 percent and that the increase in the structural landing weight shall not exceed the amount, in pounds, of the increase in the zero fuel weight.

(4) Airplanes for which the increased weights become effective shall be subject to inspections in addition to those normally performed, such inspections to be established by the manufacturer of the type airplane concerned, subject to the approval of the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics and to be supervised as found necessary by that manufacturer, to safeguard against possible structural distress resulting from the higher operating stress levels. Results of such inspections shall be reported to the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics at such times as he shall establish.

(5) Airplanes for which the increased weights become effective shall be operated in accordance with the transport category performance operating limitations prescribed in Part 40, 41, or 42 of the Civil Air Regulations, whichever is applicable.

(6) The air carrier shall keep and make available, upon request, to the Civil Aeronautics Board, the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics, or the manufacturer of the type airplane concerned, records of all flights conducted with airplanes for which the increased weights become effective, such records to include the actual take-off, zero fuel, and landing weights.

(7) The Airplane Flight Manual of each airplane operating under the provisions of this special regulation shall be appropriately revised so as to include the necessary operating limitations and operating information.

(8) An airplane which has been operated at increased weights under the provisions of this regulation shall not be used for the carriage of passengers, except under the following conditions:

(a) Special inspections established by the manufacturer and approved by the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics shall have been accomplished.

(b) The effects of the operations at increased weights on structural fatigue shall have been evaluated by the airplane manufacturer and taken into account in any fatigue limitations established for the airplane.

This regulation will terminate on June 30, 1957, unless sooner superseded or rescinded.

This regulation is proposed under the authority of Title VI of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended, and may be changed in the light of comment received in response to this notice of proposed rule making.

§ 421.1037 Availability of price support—(a) Method of support. Price support will be made available through farm-storage and warehouse-storage loans and through purchase agreements.

(b) Area. Farm-storage and warehouse-storage loans and purchase agreements will be available wherever wheat is grown in the continental United States, except that farm-storage loans will not be available in areas where the State committee determines that wheat cannot be safely stored on the farm.

(c) Where to apply. Application for price support should be made at the office of the county committee which keeps the farm-program records for the farm.

(d) When to apply. Loans and purchase agreements will be available from the time of harvest through January 31, 1956, and the applicable documents must be signed by the producer and delivered to the county committee not later than such date. Applicable documents include the Producer's Note and Loan Agreement for warehouse-storage loans, the Producer's Note and Supplemental Loan Agreement and the Commodity Chattel Mortgage for farm-storage loans, and the Purchase Agreement for purchase agreements.

(e) Eligible producer. An eligible producer shall be an individual, partnership, association, corporation, estate, trust, or other business enterprise, or legal entity, and wherever applicable, a State, political subdivision of a State, or any agency thereof, producing wheat in 1955 as landowner, landlord, tenant, or sharecropper: Provided, That a producer shall not be an eligible producer unless he is in compliance with the regulations pertaining to farm acreage allotments for the 1955 crop as determined in accordance with 1955 CCC Wheat Bulletin A, and any amendments thereto.

§ 421.1038 Eligible wheat. At the time the wheat is placed under loan or delivered under a purchase agreement, it must meet the following requirements:

(a) The wheat must have been produced in the continental United States in 1955 by an eligible producer.

(b) (1) The beneficial interest in the wheat must be in the eligible producer tendering the wheat for loan or for delivery under a purchase agreement, and must always have been in him, or must have been in him and a former producer whom he succeeded before the wheat was harvested.

(2) To meet the requirements of succession to a former producer, the rights, responsibilities and interest of the former producer with respect to the farming unit on which the wheat was produced shall have been substantially assumed by the person claiming succession. Mere purchase of the crop prior to harvest, without acquisition of any additional interest in the farming unit, shall not constitute succession. The county committee shall determine whether the requirements with respect to succession have been met.

(c) Such wheat must be: (1) Wheat of any class grading No. 3 or better; or (2) wheat of any class grading No. 4 or 5 on the factor of "test weight" and/or because of containing "Durum" and/or "Red Durum" but otherwise grading No. 3 or better; (3) wheat of the class Mixed wheat, consisting of mixtures of grades of eligible wheat as stated in subparagraph (1) or (2) of this paragraph provided such mixtures are the natural products of the field.

(d) Wheat containing more than 2 rodent pellets per pint, or comparable amounts of other filth, or containing 2 percent or more by weight of kernels visibly damaged by weevils or other insects, shall not be eligible.

(e) Wheat grading Tough, Weevily, Ergoty or Treated shall not be eligible, except that wheat represented by warehouse receipts grading "Tough" will be eligible if the warehouseman certifies on the supplemental certificate or on a statement attached to the warehouse receipt that "Wheat grading Tough has been processed at the request of the eligible producer, and delivery will be made of the same country-run quality, quantity, grade and protein (if any), not tough, and no lien for processing will be claimed by the warehouseman from Commodity Credit Corporation or any subsequent holder of said warehouse receipt."

(f) Except as provided in paragraph (e) of this section, wheat of the class hard red spring, durum, or red durum, shall not contain more than 14½ percent moisture, and wheat of any other class shall not contain more than 14 percent moisture.

(g) If offered as security for a farm-storage loan, the wheat must have been stored in the granary at least 30 days prior to its inspection for measurement, sampling, and sealing, unless otherwise approved by the State committee.

§ 421.1039 Warehouse receipts. Warehouse receipts, representing wheat in approved warehouse storage to be placed under loan or delivered under a purchase agreement, must meet the following requirements of this section:

(a) Warehouse receipts must be issued in the name of the producer, must be properly endorsed in blank so as to vest title in the holder, and must be receipts issued by a warehouse approved by CCC under the Uniform Grain Storage Agreement which indicate that the wheat is insured, or must be receipts issued on warehouses operated by Eastern common carriers under tariffs approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission for which custodian agreements are in effect.

(b) (1) Each warehouse receipt or the warehouseman's supplemental certificate (in duplicate) properly identified with the warehouse receipt must show: (i) Gross weight or bushels, (ii) class and subclass, (iii) grade (including special grades), (iv) test weight, (v) dockage, (vi) protein content (where determined by protein analysis or station average), and (vii) any other grading factor(s) when such factor(s), and not test weight, determine the grade. Also, the warehouse receipt or the warehouseman's supplemental certificate must show whether the wheat arrived by rail, truck, or barge. In the case of wheat delivered by rail or barge, the grading factors, classes and subclasses, protein content (where determined by protein analysis) on the warehouse receipt must agree with the inbound inspection and protein certificates for the car or barge if such certificates are issued.

(2) If the warehouseman has processed the wheat as provided in § 421.1038 (e), the supplemental certificate must show the numerical grade and the grading factors changed because of the wheat being processed. Where the grade and grading factors shown on the supplemental certificate do not agree with the warehouse receipt, the factors shown on the supplemental certificate shall take precedence.

(c) In the case of wheat delivered by rail or barge, the protein content, as determined by a recognized protein testing laboratory, must be shown on each warehouse receipt (or supplemental certificate acompanying the warehouse receipt) representing wheat of the classes of hard red spring and hard red winter and the varieties of Baart and Bluestem of the subclass hard white wheat, except that protein content need not be shown for the subclasses hard winter and yellow hard winter produced in States or areas tributary to markets where a showing of protein content is not customarily required.

(d) A separate warehouse receipt must be submitted for each grade and subclass of wheat.

(e) The warehouse receipt may be subject to liens for warehouse charges only to the extent indicated in § 421.1044.

(f) Warehouse receipts representing wheat which has been shipped by rail or water from a country shipping point to a designated terminal point, or shipped by rail or water from a country shipping point to a storage point and stored in transit to a designated terminal point, must be accompanied by registered freight bills, or by a certificate containing similar information in a form prescribed by the CSS commodity office which shall be signed by the warehouseman and which may be part of the supplemental certificate.

§ 421.1040 Determination of quantity. (a) The quantity of wheat placed under farm-storage loan may be determined either by weight or by measurement. The quantity of wheat placed under a warehouse-storage loan or delivered under a farm-storage loan or under a purchase agreement shall be determined by weight.

(b) When the quantity is determined by weight, a bushel shall be 60 pounds of wheat free of dockage. In determining the quantity of sacked wheat by weight, a deduction of ¾ of a pound for each sack shall be made.

(c) When the quantity of wheat is determined by measurement, a bushel shall be 1.25 cubic feet of wheat testing 60 pounds per bushel. The quantity determined shall be the following percentages of the quantity determined for 60-pound wheat:

For wheat testing:	Percent
65 pounds or over	108
64 pounds or over, but less than 65 pounds	107
63 pounds or over, but less than 64 pounds	105
62 pounds or over, but less than 63 pounds	103
61 pounds or over, but less than 62 pounds	102
60 pounds or over, but less than 61 pounds	100
59 pounds or over, but less than 60 pounds	98
58 pounds or over, but less than 59 pounds	97
57 pounds or over, but less than 58 pounds	95
56 pounds or over, but less than 57 pounds	93
55 pounds or over, but less than 56 pounds	92
54 pounds or over, but less than 55 pounds	90
53 pounds or over, but less than 54 pounds	88
52 pounds or over, but less than 53 pounds	87
51 pounds or over, but less than 52 pounds	85
50 pounds or over, but less than 51 pounds	83

(d) The percentage of dockage shall be determined and the weight of such dockage shall be deducted from the gross weight of the wheat in determining the net quantity available for loan or purchase.

§ 421.1041 Determination of quality. (a) The class, subclass, grade, grading factors, and all other quality factors shall be determined in accordance with the methods set forth in the Official Grain Standards of the United States for Wheat, whether or not such determinations are made on the basis of an official inspection, Provided, That determinations with respect to sanitation requirements specified in § 421.1038 (d) shall be made in accordance with instructions issued by CCC and available for examination in the county office.

(b) In the States of California, Idaho, New Mexico, Nevada, Oregon, Utah, Washington, and the counties in Montana where it is a normal practice to determine smut on a percentage basis, the quantity of smut shall be stated in terms of half percent, whole percent, or whole and half percent, and the quantity of smut so determined in pounds shall be deducted from the weight of the wheat after deduction of dockage. Elsewhere the smut condition of the wheat shall be determined on a degree basis. Where applicable, the words "Light Smutty" or "Smutty" shall be added to, and made a part of, the grade determination.

(c) The garlicky condition of the wheat shall be made a part of the grade designation by addition of the words "Light Garlicky" or the word "Garlicky."

§ 421.1042 Maturity of loans. Loans mature on demand but not later than February 29, 1956, in the States of Alabama, Arkansas, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, New Jersey, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia, and West Virginia, and not later than March 31, 1956 in all other States. The maturity date for a loan shall be the maturity date for the State where the wheat is stored.

§ 421.1043 Determination of support rates. Basic support rates for wheat will be set forth in 1955 C. C. C. Grain Price Support Bulletin 1, Supplement 2, Wheat. Support rates will be established for wheat stored in approved warehouse storage at designated terminal markets, and for wheat stored in approved country warehouses and in approved farm storage. The support rate for the quality of wheat placed under a loan or delivered under a purchase agreement shall be the applicable basic support rate adjusted in accordance with the provisions of this section and 1955 C. C. C. Grain Price Support Bulletin 1, Supplement 2, Wheat.

(a) Support rates at designated terminal markets. (1) (i) Wheat eligible for loan or purchase at the support rate established for designated terminal markets must have been shipped on a domestic interstate freight rate basis. On any wheat shipped at other than the domestic interstate freight rate, the support rate at the designated terminal market shall be reduced by the difference between the rate of the freight paid (plus tax) and the domestic interstate freight rate (plus tax).

(ii) The support rates established for designated terminal markets apply to wheat which has been shipped by rail or water from a country shipping point to one of the designated terminal markets as evidenced by paid freight bills duly registered for transit privileges: Provided, That in the event the amount of paid-in freight is insufficient to guarantee the minimum proportional domestic interstate freight rate from the terminal market, there shall be deducted from the applicable terminal support rate the difference between the amount of freight actually paid in and the amount required to be paid in to guarantee outbound movement at the minimum proportional domestic interstate freight rate.

(2) (i) When shipped by rail or water and stored at any designated terminal market, except the terminal markets listed in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph, wheat for which neither registered freight bills nor registered freight certificates are presented to guarantee outbound movement at the minimum proportional domestic interstate freight rate, shall have a support rate equal to the terminal rate minus 8 cents per bushel.

(ii) For wheat received by truck and stored at any designated terminal market, except the terminal markets listed in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph, the support rate shall be determined by making a deduction from the terminal rate as follows:

Terminal located in:	Amount of deduction (cents per bushel)
Area I: Arizona, California, Idaho, Nevada, Oregon, Utah, Washington	12½
Area II: Minnesota, Montana, North Dakota, South Dakota (also Superior, Wis.)	12½
Area III: Colorado, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska, Wyoming, Wisconsin (except Superior)	13
Area IV: Arkansas, Connecticut, Delaware, Indiana, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Texas, Vermont, Virginia, West Virginia	14
Area V: Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee	14

(3) (i) Wheat shipped by rail or water and stored at any of the following terminal markets and for which neither registered freight bills nor registered freight certificates are presented to guarantee outbound movement at the minimum proportional domestic interstate freight rate, shall have a support rate equal to the applicable terminal rate:

Los Angeles, San Francisco, Stockton, and Oakland, Calif.
New Orleans, La.
Baltimore, Md.
Duluth, Minn.
Portland and Astoria, Oreg.
Albany and New York, N. Y.
Philadelphia, Pa.
Galveston, Houston, and Corpus Christi, Tex.
Norfolk, Va.
Seattle, Longview, Tacoma and Vancouver, Wash.
Superior, Wis.

(ii) For wheat received by truck and stored at any of the terminal markets listed in subdivision (i) of this subparagraph, the support rate shall be determined by making a deduction from the terminal rate as follows:

Terminal:	Amount of deduction (cents per bushel)
Los Angeles, San Francisco, Stockton, and Oakland, Calif.; Duluth, Minn.; Portland and Astoria, Oreg.; Seattle, Longview, Tacoma, and Vancouver, Wash.; Superior, Wis.	4½
New Orleans, La.; Baltimore, Md.; Philadelphia, Pa.; Galveston, Houston, and Corpus Christi, Tex.; Norfolk, Va.; Albany and New York, N. Y.	6

(b) Support rates for wheat in approved warehouse storage at other than designated terminal markets. (1) Except for the States designated in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, the support rate for wheat stored in approved warehouses (other than those situated in the designated terminal markets) which is shipped by rail or water shall be determined by deducting from the appropriate designated terminal market rate an amount equal to the transit balance, if any (plus tax) of the through-freight rate from point of origin for such wheat to such terminal market: Provided, That on any wheat shipped at other than the domestic interstate freight rate, the support rate shall be further reduced by the difference between the rate of the freight paid (plus tax) and the domestic interstate freight rate (plus tax) from the point of origin of such wheat to the point of storage: And provided further, That in the case of wheat stored at any railroad transit point, taking a penalty by reason of out-of-line movement, or for any other reason, to the appropriate designated market, there shall be added to such transit balance an amount equal to any out-of-line costs or other costs incurred in storing wheat in such position.

(2) In the States of Delaware, Kentucky, Maryland, New Jersey, North Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia, and West Virginia, the CSS commodity office shall upon request of the county committee, determine the support rate for wheat stored in approved warehouses (except those situated at designated terminal markets) which was shipped by rail in the movement of natural market direction as approved by CCC, by adding to the county rate for the county from which the wheat was shipped an amount per bushel equal to the receiving and loading-out charges computed in accordance with the applicable rates of the Uniform Grain Storage Agreement for the 1955 crop an amount equal to the transit value of the freight paid (plus tax) from points of origin to markets designated by CCC. The warehouse receipts must be accompanied by the original paid freight bills or a certificate signed by the warehouseman as set forth in § 421.1039 (f). If the wheat is stored in approved warehouses located at transit points, taking a penalty by reason of backhaul, or out-of-line of normal market movements, such penalty or other costs by reason of such movement, as determined by CCC shall be deducted from the support rates as determined in this paragraph.

(c) Discounts and premiums. The basic support rates shall be adjusted by all applicable premiums and discounts listed in 1955 CCC Grain Price Support Bulletin 1, Supplement 2, Wheat.

§ 421.1044 Warehouse charges. (a) Warehouse receipts and the wheat represented thereby stored in approved warehouses operating under the Uniform Grain Storage Agreement may be subject to liens for warehouse handling and storage charges not to exceed the Uniform Grain Storage Agreement rates from the date the grain is deposited in the warehouse for storage. Where the date of deposit (the date of the warehouse receipt if the date of deposit is not shown) on warehouse receipts representing wheat stored in warehouses operating under the Uniform Grain Storage Agreement is on or before February 29 or March 31, 1956, the applicable date to be determined in accordance with § 421.1042, there shall be deducted in computing the amount of the loan or purchase price the storage charges per bushel as shown in the following table unless written evidence has been submitted with the warehouse receipt that all warehouse charges, except receiving and loading out charges, have been prepaid through February 29 or March 31, 1956, the applicable date to be determined in accordance with § 421.1042:

Amount of deduction (cents per bushel)	Area I [1] Date of deposit (all dates inclusive)	Area II [2] Date of deposit (all dates inclusive)	Area III [3] Date of deposit (all dates inclusive)	Area IV [4] For States having maturity dates not later than Mar. 31, 1956; date of deposit (all dates inclusive)	Area IV [4] For States having maturity dates not later than Feb. 29, 1956; date of deposit (all dates inclusive)	Area V [5] Date of deposit (all dates inclusive)

[1] Area I Includes: Arizona, California, Idaho, Nevada, Oregon, Utah, Washington.
[2] Area II Includes: Minnesota, Montana, North Dakota, South Dakota (also Superior, Wisconsin).
[3] Area III Includes: Colorado, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska, Wyoming, Wisconsin (except Superior).
[5] Area V Includes: Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee.

(b) Warehouse receipts and the wheat represented thereby stored in approved warehouses operated by Eastern common carriers may be subject to liens for warehouse elevation (receiving and delivering) and storage charges from the date of deposit at rates approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission. There shall be deducted in computing the amount of the loan or purchase price the amount of the approved tariff rates for storage (not including elevation), which will accumulate from the date of deposit through February 29, or March 31, 1956, whichever date is applicable to the point of storage as determined in accordance with § 421.1042, unless written evidence has been submitted with the warehouse receipt that the storage charge has been prepaid. The county committee shall request the CSS commodity office to determine the amount of such charges. Where the producer presents evidence showing that elevation charges have been prepaid, the amount of the storage charges to be deducted shall be reduced by the amount of the elevation charges prepaid by the producer.

§ 421.1045 Settlement—(a) Settlement value. (1) In the case of eligible wheat delivered to CCC from farm-storage under the loan program, settlement shall be made at the applicable support rate determined in accordance with § 421.1018 (e). The support rate shall be for the grade and quality of the total quantity of wheat eligible for delivery. If, upon delivery, the wheat under farm-storage loan is of a grade and/or quality for which no support rate has been established, the settlement value shall be computed at the support rate established for the grade and/or quality of the wheat placed under loan, less the difference, if any, at the time of delivery, between the market price for the grade and/or quality placed under loan and the market price of the wheat delivered, as determined by CCC: Provided, however, That if such wheat is sold by CCC in order to determine its market price, the settlement value shall not be less than such sales price and: Provided further, That if upon delivery, the wheat is of a quality which does not meet sanitation requirements of § 421.1038 (d), the wheat shall be sold to the highest bidder for feed, or for industrial uses other than food and beverages, and the basic settlement value, per bushel, shall be the same as the sales price.

(2) In the case of eligible wheat delivered to CCC under purchase agreement, settlement shall be made at the applicable support rate determined in accordance with § 421.1018 (e).

(b) Storage deduction for early delivery. Whenever farm-stored wheat under loan or purchase agreement is delivered to CCC prior to the loan maturity date for the State, a deduction for storage shall be made in accordance with the schedule of deductions for warehouse charges (§ 421.1044), except that no such deduction shall be made if such early delivery is made because the loan is called solely for the convenience of CCC, or if it is determined by CCC at the time of delivery that the wheat will be sold rather than stored, or if CCC requires early delivery on an area basis.

(c) Refund of prepaid handling charges. In case a warehouseman charges the producer for the receiving or the receiving and loading out charges on wheat under loan or purchase agreement stored in a warehouse under the Uniform Grain Storage Agreement, the producer shall, upon delivery of the wheat to CCC, be reimbursed or given credit by the county office for such prepaid charges in an amount not to exceed the charges authorized under the Uniform Grain Storage Agreement, provided the producer furnishes to the county committee written evidence signed by the warehouseman that such charges have been paid.

(d) Track loading payment. A track-loading payment of 3 cents per bushel shall be made to the producer on wheat delivered to CCC on track at a country point.

Issued this 12th day of May 1955.

Acting Executive Vice President, Commodity Credit Corporation.

(b) Yields based on reliable records. Where reliable records of the actual average yield in pounds per acre for all of the 5 calendar years immediately preceding the calendar year for which the yield is determined are presented by the farmer or are available to the county committee, the normal yield per acre of rice for the farm shall be determined to be the average of such yields.

(c) Appraised yields. If for any year of such 5-year period records of the actual average yield are not available, or there was no actual yield, the normal yield in pounds per acre of rice for the farm shall be appraised by the county committee, taking into consideration the yields in years for which data are available, the State average yield when available, if considered representative of the normal yield for the farm, the yields on farms in the same locality which are similar with respect to type of soil, availability of irrigation water, and farming practices associated with the production of rice, and abnormal weather conditions. State average yields in pounds per acre are as follows: Arkansas 2,175, California 3,075, Louisiana 2,052, Mississippi 2,432, Texas 2,480.

IDENTIFICATION AND MEASUREMENT OF FARMS

§ 730.654 Identification of farms. Each farm as operated for the 1955 crop of rice shall be identified by a farm serial number, assigned by the county committee, which shall not be changed, and all records pertaining to marketing quotas for the 1955 crop of rice shall be identified by the farm serial number.

§ 730.655 Measurement of farms. The county committee shall provide for the measurement of all farms in the county having a 1955 rice acreage allotment and any other farms in the county on which the committee has reasons to believe there is rice which could be available for harvest in 1955, regardless of its intended use, for the purpose of ascertaining with respect to each of such farms the acreage of rice and whether such acreage is in excess of the farm rice acreage allotment for 1955. A farm will be considered as being located in the county in which is located the county ASC office from which the 1955 rice farm acreage allotment notice was sent to the operator and shall be retained in such status until the next crop year. Measurement shall be made under the general supervision of the county committee in accordance with the following provisions:

(a) Reporter. The measurement on the farm shall be made by an employee of the county committee who has been designated as a reporter and determined to be qualified to carry out the duties of a reporter by the county office manager. A reporter may be assisted in measurement of a farm by another reporter, community, county or State committeeman, State committee representative, any employee of the county ASC office when authorized by the county office manager, or by any employee of the Department when authorized by the Deputy Administrator for Production Adjustment, Commodity Stabilization Service. The reporter may request the operator or producer, or his representative, to designate all fields on the farm being utilized for growing rice and otherwise to assist in measuring the farm. If requested, the operator or producer, or his representative, shall so designate all fields being utilized for growing rice and may otherwise assist in measuring the farm. The reporter may utilize any such assistance from the operator or producer, or his representative.

(b) Assignment. The county office manager shall have the responsibility for assigning in writing the farms in the county to be measured by a reporter. Upon request of any interested producer the reporter shall obtain certification from the county office manager that the reporter is the county office representative appointed to determine the rice acreage on such producer's farm.

(c) Farm visit. A reporter shall visit each farm assigned to him for measurement and enter thereon if such entry will facilitate measurement. Upon request he will exhibit to the farm operator, producer, or owner, his assignment to measure the farm.

(d) Methods of measurement. Measurement may be made by identification of fields or parts of fields by use of a map, aerial photograph, or by means of a steel or metallic tape or chain, or rod and chain, or by use of a measuring wheel when authorized by the Deputy Administrator, for Production Adjustment, Commodity Stabilization Service, or by a combination of one or more of the foregoing methods. The measurement will be entered by the reporter on the Form CSS–578 and filed in the county ASC office. Computations of acreages shall be made by an employee in the county ASC office from the data so obtained and the use of a planimeter or rotometer in connection therewith is authorized.

(e) Measurement of rice acreage. (1) Upon his first visit to the farm for purposes of measurement the reporter assigned thereto shall measure all fields on the farm growing rice.

(2) All farms measured under the provisions of subparagraph (1) of this paragraph which from such measurement are found to have acreage on which rice is growing in excess of the 1955 farm rice acreage allotment shall be revisited by the reporter for the purpose of a second measurement after the period for adjusting excess acreage prior to harvest has expired. On this visit all acreage devoted to rice and which has not been adjusted prior to harvest so as not to qualify as rice acreage in accordance with these regulations shall be measured. In making such measurements, measurement data acquired on the first visit may be utilized.

(f) Water company measurements. Notwithstanding other provisions of this § 730.655, acreage measurements made by employees of water or irrigation companies to determine water charges may be used in lieu of or in connection with measurements by a reporter, subject to the following conditions: (1) The State and county committees determine that such measurements are accurate and meet the standards for measurements set out in the regulations in this subpart and applicable instructions for internal management issued by the Assistant Administrator for Production Adjustment, Commodity Stabilization Service; (2) a visual inspection is made by a representative of the State or county committee in order to ascertain that all rice acreage on the farm has been included; (3) a spot check of at least 10 per centum of the farms so measured is made; and (4) the water or irrigation company does not share in the 1955 rice crop on the farm.

(g) Prior measurements. Measurements made prior to the effective date of this section and in accordance with procedures then in effect may be utilized where pertinent for the purpose of ascertaining with respect to any farm the 1955 rice acreage and the rice acreage in excess of the 1955 farm rice acreage allotment.

§ 730.656 Reports and records of farm measurements. A record shall be kept in the ASC county office of the measurements made on all farms. There shall be filed with the ASC State office a written report setting forth for each farm for which a farm marketing excess is determined (a) the farm serial number, (b) the name of the operator, (c) name of each producer, (d) the total acreage in cultivation, (e) the farm acreage allotment, (f) the rice acreage, and (g) the farm marketing excess in pounds.

FARM MARKETING QUOTA AND FARM MARKETING EXCESS

§ 730.657 Marketing quotas in effect. Marketing quotas for the 1955 crop of rice shall be applicable in the continental United States. Such quotas shall be applicable to any rice of that crop notwithstanding that it may be available for market prior to the beginning of the marketing year or subsequent to the end of the marketing year.

§ 730.658 Farm marketing quota. The farm marketing quota for any farm for the 1955 crop of rice shall be that number of pounds of rice produced less the amount of the farm marketing excess for the farm.

§ 730.659 Farm marketing excess. The farm marketing excess for the 1955 crop of rice for any farm shall be the normal production of the rice acreage on the farm in excess of the farm acreage allotment therefor. The farm marketing excess for any crop shall not be larger than the amount by which the actual production of such crop of rice on the farm exceeds the normal production of the farm rice acreage allotment if the producer establishes such actual production to the satisfaction of the Secretary.

§ 730.660 Notice of farm marketing excess. Written notice of the farm marketing excess for a farm shall be mailed to the operator of each farm for which a farm marketing excess is determined. Notice so given shall constitute notice to each producer having an interest in the 1955 rice crop produced or to be produced on the farm. A copy of such notice shall also be mailed on the same day to each other rice producer on the farm. Each notice shall contain a brief statement of the procedure whereby application for a review of the farm marketing quota, farm marketing excess, or any determination made in connection therewith may be had in accordance with section 363 of the act. A record of each notice containing the date of mailing the notice to the operator of the farm shall be kept among the permanent records in the ASC county office and upon request a copy thereof shall be furnished without charge to any person who as operator, landlord, tenant, or sharecropper is interested in the rice produced in 1955 on the farm for which the notice is given. Each notice shall be on a form MQ–93—Rice (1955) prescribed by the Director and shall contain the information necessary in each case to inform the producer as to the basis for the determinations set forth in the notice and the effect thereof.

§ 730.661 Farm marketing excess adjustment — (a) Adjustment in the amount of the farm marketing excess. Any producer having an interest in the rice produced in 1955 on any farm for which there is a farm marketing excess may (1) within 60 days after the harvesting of rice is normally substantially completed in the county in which the farm is situated apply to the county office for a downward adjustment in the amount of the farm marketing excess on the basis of the amount of rice produced in 1955 on the farm, or (2) apply to the county office at any time prior to the institution of court proceedings to collect the penalty for a determination that there was no farm marketing excess for the farm because the actual production on the farm was not in excess of the normal production of the acreage allotment. The date on which the harvesting of rice is normally substantially completed in the county shall be determined by the State committee taking into consideration recommendations which the county committee may make and, unless application for an adjustment in the farm marketing excess is made prior to the expiration of 60 calendar days next succeeding that date, or unless prior to the institution of court proceedings to collect the penalty with respect to the farm it is determined that there was no farm marketing excess for the farm, the farm marketing excess for any farm in the county as determined on the basis of the normal production of the excess rice acreage for the farm shall be final as to the producers on the farm. The State committee shall notify the Director of the Grain Division of the date established for each county. The county office shall keep a record of each application so made and the date thereof. The county committee shall establish a time and a place at which each application will be considered and shall notify the applicant of the time and place of the hearing. Insofar as practicable, applications shall be considered in the order in which made.

(b) Procedure in connection with an application for an adjustment in the farm marketing excess. The county committee shall consider each application on the basis of facts known by or made available to it and on the basis of such evidence as may be presented to it by the applicant. The actual production of any farm shall be determined in view of the relevant facts, including the past production on the farm; the actual yields during the same year of other farms in the community; the actual and normal yields of other farms in the community which are similar with regard to farming practices followed, type of soil, and productivity; the harvesting, processing, and sales of the commodity produced on the farm; farming practices followed on the farm; and weather and other factors affecting the production of rice on the farm and in the locality in which the farm is situated. In the consideration of any application for an adjustment in the farm marketing excess, the producer shall have the burden of proof. The evidence presented by the applicant may be in the form of written statements or other documentary evidence or of oral testimony in a hearing before the county committee during its consideration of the application. In order to expedite the consideration of applications, the county committee shall receive, in advance of the time fixed for consideration of the application, any written statement or documentary evidence offered by or on behalf of the applicant, and the application may be disposed of upon the basis of such statement or evidence, together with other information bearing on or establishing the facts which is available to the county committee, unless the applicant appears before the county committee at the time fixed for considering the application and requests a hearing for the purpose of offering documentary evidence or oral testimony in support of the application. Every such hearing shall be open to the public. The county committee shall make its determination in connection with each application not later than five calendar days next succeeding the day on which the consideration of the application was concluded. The determination of the county committee shall be in writing and shall contain (1) a concise statement of the grounds upon which the applicant sought an adjustment in the amount of the farm marketing excess, (2) a concise statement of the findings of the county committee upon the questions of fact, and (3) the determination of the county committee as to the farm marketing quota and the farm marketing excess. A notice showing the result of the determination made as aforesaid shall be mailed to the operator of the farm and also to the applicant if he is not such operator.

§ 730.662 Publication of the farm acreage allotments, marketing quotas, and marketing excess. A record of the farm acreage allotments, farm marketing quotas, and farm marketing excesses established for farms in the county shall be made and kept freely available for public inspection in the ASC county office.

§ 730.633 Marketing quotas not transferable. A farm marketing quota established for a farm may not be assigned or otherwise transferred in whole or in part to any other farm.

§ 730.664 Successors in interest. Any person who succeeds to the interest of a producer in a farm or in a rice crop produced on a farm for which a farm marketing quota and farm marketing excess were established shall, to the same extent as his predecessor, be entitled to all the rights and privileges incident to such marketing quota and marketing excess and be subject to the restrictions on the marketing of rice.

§ 730.665 Review of quotas—(a) Right to review by review committee. Any producer who is dissatisfied with the farm acreage allotment, normal yield, farm marketing quota, farm marketing excess, or other determination for his farm in connection with marketing quotas may, within 15 calendar days after the notice thereof was mailed to him (except as provided in § 730.661), apply in writing for a review by a review committee of such acreage allotment, normal yield, farm marketing quota, farm marketing excess or other determination in connection therewith: Provided, That if a review hearing has been held and determination made by a review committee with respect to the acreage allotment, normal yield, farm marketing quota, farm marketing excess, or other determination in connection therewith, no application by a producer for further review by a review committee with respect to such determination may be filed. Unless application for review is made within such period, the acreage allotment, normal yield, farm marketing quota, farm marketing excess, or other determination, as the case may be, shall be final as to the producers on the farm. Application for review and the review committee proceedings shall be in accordance with the review regulations (Form MQ–51) as issued by the Secretary (Part 711 of this chapter).

(b) Court review. If the producer is dissatisfied with the determination of the review committee, he may, within 15 days after notice of such determination is mailed to him by registered mail, institute proceedings against the review committee to have the determination of the review committee reviewed by a court in accordance with section 365 of the act.

MARKETING CARDS AND MARKETING CERTIFICATES

§ 730.666 Issuance of marketing cards—(a) Producers eligible to receive marketing cards. The operator and all other producers on a farm shall be eligible to receive a marketing card (MQ–76—Rice (1955)) if (1) no farm marketing excess is determined for the farm, (2) an amount equal to the penalty on the farm marketing excess has been received from the producer or any buyer as provided in § 730.678 or § 730.679, (3) the farm marketing excess is stored, as provided in § 730.683, or (4) the amount of the farm marketing excess has been delivered to the Secretary, as provided in § 730.684. Each marketing card shall be serially numbered and shall show the names of the State and county code number thereof and the serial number of the farm, the signature of the county office manager or his designee, the name and address of the producer to whom issued, and the countersignature of the producer to whom the card is issued, or his duly authorized agent, or a statement by the county office manager or his designee giving an explanation of the reason for which the countersignature cannot be made. The producers on a farm shall be ineligible to receive marketing cards if determination of the 1955 rice acreage is prevented by any producer on the farm.

(b) Multiple farm producers eligible to receive marketing cards. Any producer who is a rice producer on more than one farm in a county shall not be eligible to receive a marketing card for any such farm in the county until, in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section, he is eligible to receive a marketing card for each of such farms. However, only one rice marketing card need be issued to a producer who has an interest in the rice crop on more than one farm in the county, provided (1) the farm serial numbers of all such farms are entered on the marketing card, (2) the producer is eligible to receive a marketing card on each farm in the county in which he has an interest in the rice crop, and (3) the producer's liability has not been reduced to a proportionate share on any such farm. The other producers on a farm for which the multiple farm producer would otherwise be eligible to receive a marketing card shall receive marketing cards with respect to the farm notwithstanding the ineligibility of the multiple farm producer. Where a producer is engaged in the production of rice in more than one county (in the same State or in two or more States), the regulations outlined in this section for issuing marketing cards for multiple farms in a county may be followed with respect to all such farms, wherever situated, if the county committees of the respective counties, or the State committee determines that the procedure would be necessary to enforce the provisions of the act. The State committee may require any multiple farm producer to file with it a list of all farms on which he is engaged in the production of rice, together with any other information deemed necessary to enforce the act.

(c) Use of marketing cards. The serial number of the farm or farms for which a marketing card is issued shall be entered on the marketing card. A marketing card shall not be used to identify rice produced on any farm the serial number of which is not entered on the certificate.

§ 730.668 Lost, destroyed, or stolen marketing cards or marketing certificates—(a) Report of loss, destruction, or theft. In case a marketing card or marketing certificate delivered to a producer is lost, destroyed, or stolen, any person having knowledge thereof shall, insofar as he is able immediately notify the ASC county office of the following: (1) The name of the operator of the farm for which such marketing card or marketing certificate was issued; (2) the name of the producer to whom the marketing card or marketing certificate was issued, if someone other than the operator; (3) the serial number of the marketing card or marketing certificate; and (4) whether in his knowledge or judgment it was lost, destroyed, or stolen and by whom.

(b) Investigation and findings of county committee. The county committee shall make or cause to be made a thorough investigation of the circumstances of such loss, destruction, or theft. If the county committee finds, on the basis of its investigation, that such marketing card or marketing certificate was in fact lost, destroyed, or stolen, it shall cause to be canceled such marketing card or marketing certificate and instruct the county office manager to give notice to the producer to whom the marketing card or marketing certificate was issued that it is void and of no effect. The notice to that effect shall be in writing, addressed to the producer at his last-known address, and deposited in the United States mails. If the county committee also finds that there has been no collusion in connection therewith on the part of the producer to or for whom the marketing card or marketing certificate was issued, it shall cause to be issued to or for him a marketing card or marketing certificate to replace the lost, destroyed or stolen marketing card or marketing certificate. Each marketing card or marketing certificate issued under this section shall bear across its face in bold letters the word "Duplicate". In case a marketing card or marketing certificate is canceled, as provided in this section, the county office manager or his designee shall immediately notify the buyers, mill operators, or warehousemen who serve the county, or in the immediate vicinity, that the marketing card or marketing certificate is canceled and of the issuance of any duplicate. Any person coming into possession of a canceled marketing card or marketing certificate shall immediately return it to the ASC county office from which it was issued.

§ 730.669 Cancellation of marketing cards and marketing certificates issued in error. Any marketing card or marketing certificate erroneously issued shall, immediately upon discovery of the error, be canceled by the county office manager. The producer to whom such marketing card or marketing certificate was issued shall be notified in the manner prescribed in § 730.668 (b) that the marketing card or marketing certificate is void and of no effect and that it shall be returned to the ASC county office. Upon the return of such marketing card or marketing certificate, the county office manager shall cause to be endorsed thereon the notation "Canceled." In the event that such marketing card or marketing certificate is not returned immediately, the county office manager shall immediately notify the mill operators, warehousemen, and buyers who serve the county, or in the immediate vicinity, that the marketing card or marketing certificate is canceled. A copy of each notice provided for in this section, containing a notation thereon of the date of mailing, shall be kept among the records of the ASC county office.

IDENTIFICATION OF RICE

§ 730.670 Time and manner of identification. Each producer of rice and each intermediate buyer shall, at the time he markets any rice, identify the rice to the buyer or transferee, in the manner hereinafter provided as being subject to or not subject to the penalty and the lien for the penalty.

§ 730.671 Identification by marketing card. A marketing card (MQ–76—Rice (1955)) shall, when presented to the buyer by the producer to whom it was issued, be evidence to the buyer that the rice for which the marketing card was issued may be purchased without the payment of any penalty by him and that such rice is not subject to the lien for penalty.

§ 730.672 Identification by marketing certificate. A marketing certificate (MQ–94—Rice) properly executed by the county office manager or his designee and the producer to whom it is issued, shall, when delivered to the buyer by the producer be evidence that the amount of rice shown thereon may be purchased without the payment of any penalty by him and that such rice is not subject to the lien for penalty.

§ 730.673 Identification by intermediate buyer's record and report. The original and copy of an intermediate buyer's record and report (MQ–95—Rice (1955)), properly executed by the first intermediate buyer and the producer of the rice and any subsequent buyer in the manner outlined in §§ 730.687 (d) and 730.688, shall be evidence to any buyer that the rice covered thereby is not subject to the lien for penalty and may be purchased by him without payment of any penalty in the event either (a) the MQ–95—Rice (1955) shows the serial number of the marketing card or marketing certificate by which the rice was identified and the signatures of the producer and intermediate buyer, or (b) the original MQ–95—Rice (1955) bears the endorsement "Penalty satisfied" and the signature and title of the treasurer of a county committee and the date thereof.

§ 730.674 Rice identified as subject to the penalty and lien for the penalty. All rice marketed by a producer or by an intermediate buyer which is not identified in the manner prescribed in § 730.671, § 730.672 or § 730.673 shall be taken by the buyer thereof as rice subject to penalty and the lien for the penalty and the buyer of such rice shall pay the penalty thereon at the rate prescribed in § 730.675.

PENALTY

§ 730.675 Rate of penalty. The rate of penalty shall be 50 percent of the parity price per pound of rice as of June 15, 1955.

§ 730.676 Lien for penalty. The entire amount of rice produced in 1955 on any farm for which a farm marketing excess is determined shall be subject to a lien in favor of the United States for the amount of the penalty until the producers on the farm, in accordance with § 730.683, § 730.684, § 730.678, or § 730.679, store the farm marketing excess or deliver it to the Secretary or until the amount of the penalty is paid.

§ 730.677 Interest on unremitted penalty. The person liable for the payment or collection of the penalty shall be liable also for interest on the amount of penalty which is not remitted in accordance with § 730.678 (b) or § 730.679 (c), as the case may be, at the rate of 6 percent per annum from the final date for remitting the penalty until the date such penalty is remitted. The computation of interest on any penalty due shall be made beginning with the day following the final date for remitting the penalty.

§ 730.678 Payment of penalties by producers—(a) Producers liable for payment of penalties. Each producer having an interest in the rice produced in 1955 on any farm for which a farm marketing excess is determined shall be liable to pay the amount of the penalty on the farm marketing excess as provided in this section. The amount of the penalty which any producer shall pay shall nevertheless be reduced by the amount of the penalty which is paid by another producer or a buyer of rice produced on the farm.

(b) Time when penalties become due. The amount of the penalty on the farm marketing excess for any farm shall be remitted not later than 60 calendar days after the date on which the harvesting of rice is normally substantially completed in the county in which the farm is situated, as determined by the State committee in accordance with § 730.661 (a): Provided, however, That the penalty on that amount of the farm marketing excess delivered to the Secretary pursuant to § 730.684 shall not be remitted: And provided further, That the penalty on that amount of the farm marketing excess which is stored pursuant to § 730.683 shall not be remitted until the time, and to the extent, of any depletion in the amount of rice so stored not authorized as provided in § 730.683 (g).

(c) Apportionment of the penalty. The county committee may, upon application of any producer made prior to the expiration of the time allowed for the remittance of the penalty on the farm marketing excess, determine his proportionate share of the penalty on the farm marketing excess if, pursuant to the application, the producer establishes the facts that he is unable to arrange with the other producers on the farm for the payment of the penalty on the entire farm marketing excess or for the disposition of the farm marketing excess in accordance with § 730.683 or § 730.684, that his share of the rice crop produced on the farm is marketed or disposed of by him separately, and that he exercises no control over the marketing or disposition of the shares of the other producers in the rice crop. The producer's proportionate share of the penalty on the farm marketing excess shall be that proportion of the entire penalty on the farm marketing excess which his share in the rice produced in 1955 on the farm bears to the total amount of rice produced in 1955 on the farm. When the producer pays his proportionate share of the penalty, or, in accordance with § 730.683 or § 730.684, stores or delivers to the Secretary the number of pounds required to postpone or avoid the payment of the penalty on his proportionate share, he shall not be liable for the remainder of the penalty on the farm marketing excess and he shall be entitled to receive marketing certificates, issued in accordance with § 730.667, to be used by him only in the marketing of his proportionate share of the rice crop produced in 1955 on the farm.

§ 730.679 Payment of penalties by buyer—(a) Buyers liable for payment of penalties. Each person within the United States who buys from the producer any rice subject to the lien for the penalty shall be liable for and shall pay the penalty thereon. Rice shall be taken as subject to the lien for the penalty unless the producer presents to the buyer a marketing card (MQ–76—Rice (1955)) or a marketing certificate (MQ–94—Rice) as prescribed in §§ 730.671 and 730.672.

(b) Payment of penalties on account of the lien for the penalty. Each person within the United States who buys rice which is subject to the lien for the penalty shall pay the amount of the penalty on each pound thereof in satisfaction of the lien thereon. Rice purchased from any intermediate buyer shall be taken as subject to the lien for the penalty unless, at the time of sale, the intermediate buyer delivers to the purchaser the original and a copy of an intermediate buyer's record and report, MQ–95—Rice (1955), properly executed by the producer of the rice and the first intermediate buyer, which show (1) the serial number of marketing card or marketing certificate by which the rice covered thereby was identified when marketed, or (2) on the reverse side the statement "Penalty satisfied" and the signature and title of the treasurer of a county committee and the date thereof.

(c) Time when penalties become due. The penalty to be paid by any buyer pursuant to paragraph (a) or (b) of this section shall be due at the time the rice is purchased and shall be remitted not later than 15 calendar days thereafter.

(d) Manner of deducting penalties and issuance of receipts. The buyer may deduct from the price paid for any rice an amount equivalent to the amount of the penalty to be paid by the buyer pursuant to paragraph (a) or (b) of this section. Any buyer who deducts an amount equivalent to the penalty shall issue to the person from whom the rice was purchased a receipt for the amount so deducted which shall be, in the case of rice purchased from the producer by an intermediate buyer, on MQ–95—Rice (1955), and, in all other cases, on MQ–81—Rice (1955).

§ 730.680 Remittance of penalties to the treasurer of the county committee. The treasurer of any county committee, for and on behalf of the Secretary, shall receive the penalty. The penalty shall be remitted only in legal tender, or by check, draft, or money order drawn payable to the order of the Treasurer of the United States. All checks, drafts, and money orders tendered in payment of the penalty shall be received by the treasurer of the county committee subject to collection and payment at par. If the penalty is remitted by an intermediate buyer, the treasurer of the county committee shall show that the penalty is paid by entering on the reverse side of the original and first copy of the intermediate buyer's record and report, MQ–95—Rice (1955), the statement "Penalty satisfied" and his signature and title and the date thereof.

§ 730.681 Deposit of funds. All funds received by the treasurer of the county committee in connection with penalties for rice shall be scheduled and transmitted by him on the day received or not later than the next succeeding business day, to the State committee, which shall cause such funds to be deposited to the credit of a special deposit account with the Treasurer of the United States in the name of the Chief Disbursing Officer of the Treasury Department (referred to in this subpart as "special deposit account") to be held in escrow. In the event the funds so received are in the form of cash, the treasurer of the county committee shall deposit such funds in the ASC county association bank account and issue a check in the amount thereof, payable to the order of the Treasurer of the United States. The treasurer of the county committee shall make and keep a record of each amount received by him, showing the name of the person who remitted the funds, the identification of the farm or farms in connection with which the funds were received, and the name of the person who marketed the rice in connection with which the funds were remitted.

§ 730.682 Refunds of money in excess of the penalty—(a) Determination of refunds. The county committee and the treasurer of the county committee upon their own motion or upon the request of any interested person shall review the amount of money received in connection with the penalty for any farm to determine for each producer the amount thereof, if any, which is in excess of the security required for stored excess rice or the penalty due. Any excess amount shall be refunded. Any refund shall be made only to persons who bore the burden of the payment and who have not been reimbursed therefor. The excess amount shall first be applied, insofar as the sum will permit, so as to make refunds to eligible persons other than producers and the remainder, if any, shall be applied so as to make refunds to the eligible producers. The amount to be refunded to each producer shall be either (1) the amount determined by apportioning the excess amount among the producers on the farm in the proportion that each contributed toward the payment, avoidance, or security of the penalty on the farm marketing excess or (2) the amount which is in excess of the security required for stored excess rice and the penalty due on that portion of the farm marketing excess for which the producer is separately liable. No refund shall be made to any buyer or transferee of any amount which he collected from the producer or another, deducted from the price or consideration paid for the rice or for which he was liable.

(b) Certification of refunds. The county office manager or the treasurer of the county committee shall notify the State committee of the amount which the county committee and its treasurer determine may be refunded to each person with respect to the farm, and the State committee shall cause to be certified to the Chief Disbursing Officer of the Treasury Department for payment such amounts as are approved by it. No refund of money shall be certified under this section unless the money has been remitted to the treasurer of the county committee and transmitted by him to the State committee.

§ 730.683 Stored farm marketing excess—(a) Amount of rice to be stored. The number of pounds of rice in connection with any farm which may be stored in order to postpone the payment of the penalty or with a view to avoiding such penalty shall be that portion of the farm marketing excess which has not been delivered to the Secretary. The amount of the farm marketing excess for the purpose of storage shall be the amount of the farm marketing excess as determined, at the time of storage, under § 730.659 or § 730.661, whichever is applicable.

(b) Storage of excess rice. Stored excess rice shall be kept in a place adapted to the storage of rice. The rice so stored shall be subject to the condition that it may be inspected at any time by officers or employees of the United States Department of Agriculture or members, officers, or employees of the State or county committees.

(c) Deposit of warehouse receipts in escrow. The storage of rice in a warehouse in order to postpone the payment of the penalty or with a view to avoiding such penalty shall be effective when a warehouse receipt covering the amount of rice so stored is deposited with the treasurer of the county committee to be held in escrow. The warehouse receipt shall be a negotiable receipt or a nonnegotiable receipt as to which the warehouseman is notified in writing by the owner of such receipt and the treasurer of the county committee that it is being so deposited in escrow and that delivery of the rice covered thereby is to be made under the terms of its deposit in escrow while such receipt remains so deposited. Any warehouse receipt so deposited shall be accepted only upon the condition that the producers by or for whom the rice is stored shall be and shall remain liable for all charges incident to the storage of the rice and that the county committee and the United States in no way be responsible for or pay any such charges. Whenever the penalty with respect to rice covered by warehouse receipt is paid or satisfied from any cause, the warehouse receipt shall be returned to the person who deposited it.

(d) Bond of indemnity. The storage of excess rice in order to postpone the payment of the penalty or with a view to avoiding such penalty shall also be effective when a good and sufficient bond of indemnity on a form prescribed for this purpose is executed and filed with the treasurer of the county committee in an amount not less than the amount of the penalty on that portion of the farm marketing excess so stored. Each bond given pursuant to this paragraph shall be executed as principal by the producer storing the rice and either (1) as sureties by two persons who are not producers on the farm each owning real property with an unencumbered value of double the principal sum of the bond, or (2) as surety by a corporate surety authorized to do business in the State in which the farm is situated and listed by the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States as an acceptable surety on bonds in favor of the United States. Each bond of indemnity shall be subject to the conditions that the penalty on the amount of rice stored shall be paid at the time, and to the extent, of any depletion of the amount stored which is not authorized under paragraph (g) of this section and that if at any time any producer on the farm prevents the inspection of any rice so stored the penalty on the entire amount stored shall be paid forthwith. Whenever the penalties secured by the bond of indemnity are paid or reduced from any cause, the treasurer of the county committee shall furnish the principal and the sureties with a written statement to that effect. A bond shall not otherwise be canceled or released. The bond of indemnity provided for in this paragraph may be waived by the county committee, with the approval of the State committee, if the excess rice was produced by a State or State institution or other agency of a State or Federal Agency: Provided, That as a condition of the waiver of the bond of indemnity the head of the State institution or other State agency or Federal agency shall agree in writing to comply with all other provisions of the regulations in §§ 730.650 to 730.697 with respect to the stored farm marketing excess.

(e) Deposit of funds in escrow. The storage of rice in order to postpone the payment of the penalty or with a view to avoiding such penalty shall also be effective when an amount of money not less than the penalty on that portion of the farm marketing excess so stored is deposited with the Treasurer of the United States to be held in escrow to secure the payment of such penalty. Such funds shall be received subject to collection and payment at par. Funds in escrow shall be subject to the condition that the penalty on the amount of rice stored shall be paid at the time, and to the extent, of any depletion of the amount stored which is not authorized under paragraph (g) of this section and that if at any time any producer on the farm prevents inspection of any rice so stored the penalty on the entire amount stored shall be paid forthwith.

(f) Time of storage. Storage of rice in connection with any farm in order to postpone the payment of the penalty or with a view to avoiding such penalty shall not be effective unless the provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b), and (c), (d), or (e) of this section are complied with prior to the expiration of the period allowed, in accordance with § 730.678 (b), for the remittance of the penalty with respect to the farm marketing excess for the farm.

(g) Depletion of stored excess rice. The penalty on the amount of excess rice stored shall be paid by the producers on the farm at the time and to the extent of any depletion in the amount of rice stored except as provided in paragraphs (h) and (i) of this section and except to the extent of the following: (1) The amount by which the stored excess rice exceeds the farm marketing excess for the farm as determined in accordance with § 730.659 or § 730.661, (2) the amount by which the stored excess rice exceeds the amount of the farm marketing excess as determined by a review committee or as a result of a court review of the review committee, and (3) the amount of any rice destroyed by fire, weather conditions, theft, or any other cause beyond the control of the producer, provided the producer shows beyond a reasonable doubt that the depletion resulted from such cause and not from his negligence nor from any affirmative act done or caused to be done by him.

(h) Underplanting the farm acreage allotment or a subsequent crop. Whenever the rice acreage on any farm for the 1956 or subsequent crop of rice is less than the farm acreage allotment therefor, the producers on the farm who stored excess rice in accordance with the foregoing provisions of this section shall, upon application made by them to the county committee, be entitled to remove from storage without penalty any rice so stored by them, whether produced in a prior year on the farm or another farm, to the extent of the normal production of the number of acres by which the acreage planted to rice is less than the farm acreage allotment. The amount of rice which would otherwise be authorized to be removed from storage in connection with the farm under this paragraph shall be reduced to the extent that stored excess rice from any other crop is authorized to be removed from storage in connection with the farm. The amount of rice authorized to be removed from storage shall be apportioned among the several producers on the farm who have stored excess rice to the extent of their need therefor in accordance with their shares in the acreage which was or could have been planted to rice or in accordance with their agreement as to the apportionment to be made. A producer shall not be entitled to remove rice from storage under this paragraph in connection with any farm unless, at the time the determination is made under this paragraph, the rice is stored and owned by the producer and, at the end of the rice seeding season for the crop for the area in which the farm is situated, the producer is entitled to share in the rice crop which was or could have been planted on the farm. The acreage planted to rice for the purpose of this paragraph shall be the rice acreage on the farm.

(i) Producing a subsequent crop which is less than the normal production of the farm acreage allotment. Whenever in 1956 or any subsequent year the rice acreage does not exceed the farm acreage allotment and the actual production of rice on the farm is less than the normal production of the farm acreage allotment therefor, the producers on the farm who stored excess rice in accordance with the foregoing provisions of this section shall, upon application made by them to the ASC county office, be entitled to remove from storage, without penalty, any rice so stored by them, whether produced in the prior year on the farm or another farm, to the extent of the amount by which the normal production of the farm acreage allotment, less the normal production of the underplanted acreage for the farm which was or could have been determined under paragraph (h) of this section, exceeds the amount of rice produced on the farm in that year. The amount of rice which would otherwise be authorized to be removed from storage in connection with the farm under this paragraph shall be reduced to the extent that stored excess rice from any other crop is authorized to be removed from storage in connection with the farm. The amount of rice which is authorized to be removed from storage shall be apportioned among the several producers on the farm who have stored excess rice to the extent of their need therefor in accordance with their proportionate shares in the rice crop planted on the farm or in accordance with their agreement as to the apportionment to be made. The determination of the amount of rice produced on the farm shall be made in accordance with the marketing quota regulations applicable to the crop. A producer shall not be entitled to remove rice from storage under this paragraph for any farm unless, at the time the determination is made under this paragraph, the rice is stored and owned by the producer and, at the time of harvest, the producer is entitled to a share in the rice crop planted on the farm.

§ 730.684 Delivery of the farm marketing excess to the Secretary—(a) Amount of the rice to be delivered. The amount of rice delivered to the Secretary in order to avoid the payment of the penalty in connection with any farm shall not exceed the amount of the farm marketing excess as determined, at the time of delivery, in accordance with § 730.659 or § 730.661, whichever is applicable.

(b) Conditions and methods of delivery. For and on behalf of the Secretary, the treasurer of the county committee for the county in which the farm for which the marketing excess is determined is situated shall accept the delivery of any rice tendered to avoid the payment of the penalty. The delivery of the rice for this purpose shall be effective only when the producers having an interest in the rice to be so delivered convey to the Secretary all right, title, and interest in and to the rice by executing a form provided for this purpose, and (1) deliver the rice to a warehouse and tender to the treasurer of the county committee the warehouse receipts for the amount of the rice, or (2) where the producer shows to the satisfaction of the county office manager that it is impracticable to deliver the rice to a warehouse and receive a warehouse receipt therefor, deliver the rice at a point within the county or nearby and within such time or times as may be designated by the county office manager. None of the rice so delivered shall be returned to the producer. Insofar as practicable, the rice so delivered shall be delivered to the Commodity Credit Corporation of the United States Department of Agriculture, and any rice which it is impracticable to deliver to such Corporation shall be distributed to such one or more of the following classes of agencies or organizations as the State committee selects, which delivery the Secretary hereby determines will divert it from the normal channels of trade and commerce: Any Federal relief organization, the American Red Cross, State or county or municipal relief organization, Federal or State wildlife refuge project, or any voluntary relief organization registered with the Advisory Committee on Voluntary Foreign Aid of the Foreign Operations Administration for shipment for relief overseas.

(c) Time of delivery. Excess rice may be delivered to the Secretary at any time within 60 calendar days after the date on which the harvesting of rice is normally substantially completed in the county as determined by the State committee in accordance with § 730.661 (a). Excess rice may be delivered to the Secretary after such 60-day period only if the excess rice was stored in accordance with the provisions of § 730.683 (a) through (f), and the rice has not gone out of condition through any fault of the producer.

§ 730.685 Refund of penalty erroneously, illegally, or wrongfully collected. Whenever, pursuant to a claim filed with the Secretary within two calendar years after payment to him of the penalty collected from any person, pursuant to the act, the Secretary finds that the penalty was erroneously, illegally, or wrongfully collected, and the claimant bore the burden of such penalty, he shall certify to the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States for payment to the claimant, in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States, such amount as the claimant is entitled to receive as a refund of all or a portion of the penalty. Any claim filed pursuant to this section shall be made in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Secretary.

§ 730.686 Report of violations and court proceedings to collect penalty. It shall be the duty of the county office manager to report in writing to the State Administrative Officer each case of failure or refusal to pay the penalty or to remit the same as provided in §§ 730.678 through 730.680. It shall be the duty of the State Administrative Officer to report each such case in writing to the Office of the General Counsel of the United States Department of Agriculture with a view to the institution of proceedings by the United States Attorney for the appropriate district under the direction of the Attorney General of the United States, to collect the penalties, as provided in section 376 of the act.

RECORDS AND REPORTS

§ 730.687 Records to be kept and reports to be made by warehousemen, mill operators, or processors, and buyers other than intermediate buyers—(a) Necessity for records and reports. Each warehouseman, mill operator, or processor, and each buyer other than an intermediate buyer, who buys, acquires, or receives rice from the producer or intermediate buyer thereof shall, in conformity with section 373 (a) of the act, keep the records and make the reports prescribed by this section, which the Secretary hereby finds to be necessary to enable him to carry out with respect to rice the provisions of the act.

(b) Nature and availability of records. Each warehouseman, mill operator, or processor, and each buyer other than an intermediate buyer, shall keep, as a part of or in addition to the records maintained by him in the conduct of his business, a record which shall show with respect to the rice purchased, acquired, or received by him from the producers or the intermediate buyers thereof the following information: (1) The name and address of the producer of the rice, (2) the date of the transaction, (3) the amount of the rice, (4) the serial number of the marketing card (MQ–76—Rice (1955)), or marketing certificate (MQ–94—Rice), or intermediate buyer's record and report (MQ–95—Rice (1955)) by which the rice was identified, or the report and penalty receipt (MQ–81—Rice (1955)), and (5) the amount of any lien for the penalty or of any penalty incurred in connection with the rice purchased, acquired, or received by him. The record so made shall be kept available for examination by the county office manager or any authorized representative of the State administrative officer or of the Director, Compliance and Investigation Division, Commodity Stabilization Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture, for two calendar years beyond the calendar year in which the marketing year ends. The records shall be examined only for the purpose of ascertaining the correctness of any report made or record kept pursuant to the regulations in this subpart, or of obtaining the information required to be furnished in any report pursuant to the regulations in this subpart but not so furnished. The county office manager shall furnish, without cost, blank copies of MQ–97—Rice which may be used for the purpose of keeping the record required under this section.

(c) Records and reports in connection with rice subject to penalty or the lien for the penalty. Each warehouseman, mill operator, or processor, and each buyer other than an intermediate buyer, who purchases any rice from the producer or intermediate buyer thereof which is not identified at the time the rice is purchased in the manner provided in §§ 730.671, 730.672, and 730.673, shall, with respect to each such transaction, execute the report and penalty receipt on MQ–81—Rice (1955) and report to the treasurer of the county committee the following information: (1) The name and address of the producer or intermediate buyer from whom the rice was purchased or acquired, (2) the date of the transaction, (3) the amount of the rice, and (4) the amount of the penalty incurred in connection with the transaction, and whether an amount equivalent to the penalty was deducted from the price or consideration paid for the rice. Each record and report on MQ–81—Rice (1955) shall be executed in triplicate. The person who executes MQ–81—Rice (1955) shall retain one copy, give the original to the producer or intermediate buyer, as the case may be, which shall be the receipt to him for the amount of the penalty in connection with rice and mail or deliver the remaining copy to the treasurer of the county committee. It shall be presumed that rice was not identified by MQ–76—Rice (1955) as provided in § 730.671, or MQ–94—Rice as provided in § 730.672, or MQ–95—Rice (1955) as provided in § 730.673, if the serial number of the marketing card or marketing certificate or intermediate buyer's record and report does not appear on the records required to be kept pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section.

(d) Records and reports in connection with rice identified by intermediate buyer's records and reports. Whenever rice is identified by the intermediate buyer's record and report (MQ–95—Rice (1955)), executed in accordance with § 730.688 the warehouseman, mill operator, or processor, or the buyer other than an intermediate buyer, who purchases or acquires the rice covered thereby shall retain the first copy as a record of the transaction and forward the original to the treasurer of the county committee as a report on the transaction in every case where he purchases or acquires all or the remainder of the rice covered by the record and report. In all other cases, where the warehouseman, mill operator, or processor, or the buyer other than an intermediate buyer, purchases or acquires only a portion of the rice covered by the intermediate buyer's record and report, he shall make a record and report of the transaction by endorsing on the reverse side of both the original and first copy his name and signature, the amount of rice purchased or acquired, and the date of the transaction and return the forms so endorsed to the intermediate buyer to be delivered to the person who finally purchases or acquires the remainder of the rice.

(e) Records in connection with rice identified by marketing certificates. Whenever rice is identified by a marketing certificate (MQ–94—Rice), the warehouseman, mill operator, or processor, or the buyer other than an intermediate buyer, who purchases the rice so identified shall retain the marketing certificate as a record of the transaction.

(f) Time and place of submitting reports. Each report required by this section shall be submitted, not later than 15 calendar days next succeeding the day on which the rice was marketed to a warehouseman, mill operator, or processor, or a buyer other than an intermediate buyer, to the treasurer of the county committee for the county in which the rice was produced.

§ 730.688 Records to be kept and reports to be made by intermediate buyers—(a) Necessity for records and reports. Each intermediate buyer shall, in conformity with section 373 (a) of the act, keep the records and make the reports prescribed by this section, which the Secretary hereby finds to be necessary to enable him to carry out, with respect to rice, the provisions of the act.

(b) Form of record and report in connection with rice purchased or acquired from producers. Each intermediate buyer who purchases or acquires any rice from the producer thereof shall, with respect to each such transaction, keep a record and make a report on the intermediate buyer's record and report (MQ–95—Rice (1955)) of the following information: (1) The name and address of the producer from whom the rice was purchased or acquired, (2) the names of the county and State in which the rice was produced, (3) the date of the transaction, (4) the number of pounds of rice, and (5) the serial number of the marketing card or marketing certificate by which the producer identified the rice at the time it was marketed, or if the rice is not so identified, the amount of the penalty, and whether an amount equivalent to the penalty was collected or deducted from the price or consideration paid for the rice. The record and report shall be executed in quadruplicate and, after the entries described above are made, the intermediate buyer and producer shall certify to the correctness of the entries by signing the MQ–95—Rice (1955). One copy of the MQ–95—Rice (1955) so executed shall be retained by the producer as a record of the transaction and as a receipt for the amount equivalent to the penalty, if any, which was deducted from the price or consideration paid for the rice. One copy of MQ–95—Rice (1955) so executed shall be retained by the intermediate buyer as his record in connection with the transaction. Whenever rice is identified by a marketing certificate (MQ–94—Rice), the intermediate buyer shall attach the original of the marketing certificate to the first copy of MQ–95—Rice (1955) to be delivered to the warehouseman, mill operator, or processor, or buyer other than an intermediate buyer, who finally acquires the rice covered by MQ–95—Rice (1955) and marketing certificate (MQ–94—Rice). Whenever the intermediate buyer markets or delivers a portion of the rice covered by a single MQ–95—Rice (1955) to another and retains a portion of the rice, the intermediate buyer shall obtain from the person to whom the portion of the rice is marketed or delivered an endorsement on the reverse side of both the original and first copy of MQ–95—Rice (1955) showing the name and signature of the person, the number of pounds of rice marketed or delivered to him, and the date of the transaction.

(c) Manner of making reports. The intermediate buyer shall deliver the original and copy of the intermediate buyer's record and report MQ–95—Rice (1955) to the warehouseman, mill operator, or processor, or the buyer other than an intermediate buyer, to whom all of the remainder of the rice covered thereby is marketed. When rice is marketed or delivered by one intermediate buyer to another intermediate buyer, the original and first copy of MQ–95—Rice (1955) shall be transmitted by one intermediate buyer to another and the last intermediate buyer shall deliver them to the warehouseman, mill operator, or processor, or buyer other than an intermediate buyer. If all or the remainder of the rice is not marketed or delivered to a warehouseman, mill operator, or processor, or buyer other than in intermediate buyer, the last intermediate buyer shall within 15 days mail or deliver the original and first copy of the intermediate buyer's record and report to the treasurer of the county committee.

(d) Reports to the treasurer of the county committee. Each intermediate buyer shall, within 15 days after all Forms MQ–95—Rice (1955) contained in a book have been executed or on February 29, 1956, whichever is the earlier, mail or deliver to the treasurer of the county committee from whom the book was obtained the executed copies and unexecuted sets of Form MQ–95—Rice (1955) which were retained by him.

§ 730.689 Buyer's special reports. In the event that the county committee or State committee has reason to believe that any buyer has failed or refused to comply with this subpart, the buyer shall within 15 days after a written request therefor made by the county committee or State committee and deposited in the United States mails, registered and addressed to him at his last known address, make a report, verified as true and correct by affidavit, on MQ–97—Rice to such committee with respect to all rice purchased or acquired by him during the period of time as specified in the request. The report shall include the following information for each lot of rice purchased or acquired from the persons specified or during the period specified: (a) The name and address of the producer of the rice, (b) the date of the transaction, (c) the amount of the rice, (d) the serial number of the marketing card (MQ–76—Rice (1955)), marketing certificate (MQ–94—Rice), or intermediate buyer's record and report (MQ–95—Rice (1955)), or the report and penalty receipt (MQ–81—Rice (1955)), and (e) the amount of the lien for the penalty or the amount of penalty incurred in connection with the rice purchased or acquired.

§730.690 Penalty for failure or refusal to keep records and make reports. Any person required to keep the records or make the reports specified in § 730.687, § 730.688 or § 730.689 and who fails to keep any such record or make any such report or who makes any false report or keeps any false record shall, as provided in section 373 (a) of the act, be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction thereof, shall be subject to a fine of not more than $500 for each such offense.

§ 730.691 Records to be kept and reports to be made by producers. Each producer with respect to the 1955 rice crop shall keep the records and make the reports prescribed by this section, which the Secretary hereby finds to be necessary to enable him to carry out with respect to rice the provisions of the act. Upon written request of the county committee any producer shall, within 15 days from the date the request was mailed to him, file with the treasurer of the county committee for the county in which the farm is situated a farm operator's report on MQ–98—Rice (1955) showing for the farm the following information: (a) The total number of pounds of rice produced thereon in 1955, (b) the name and address of each buyer or transferee of any rice, (c) the amount of rice marketed to each buyer, (d) the amount equivalent to the penalty which was deducted from the price or consideration for the rice, (e) the amount of unmarketed rice of the 1955 crop on hand, and (f) rice acreage for 1955.

§ 730.692 Data to be kept confidential. Except as otherwise provided in this subpart, all data reported to or acquired by the Secretary pursuant to and in the manner provided in this subpart shall be kept confidential by all officers and employees of the United States Department of Agriculture, members of county committees, other local committees, and State committees, county agents, and officers and employees of such committees or county agent's offices, and shall not be disclosed to anyone not having an interest in or responsibility for any rice, farm, or transaction covered by the particular data, such as records, reports, forms, or other information, and only such data so reported or acquired as the Secretary deems relevant shall be disclosed by them to anyone not having such an interest or not being employed in the administration of the act and then only in a suit or administrative hearing under Title III of the act.

§ 730.693 Enforcement. It shall be the duty of the county office manager to report in writing to the State Administrative Officer forthwith each case of failure or refusal to make any report or keep any record as required by §§ 730.687 through 730.691 and to so report each case of making any false report of record. It shall be the duty of the State Administrative Officer to report each such case in writing, in quintuplicate, to the Office of the General Counsel of the United States Department of Agriculture, with a view to the institution of proceedings by the United States Attorney for the appropriate district, under the direction of the Attorney General of the United States, to enforce the provisions of the act.

SPECIAL PROVISIONS AND EXEMPTIONS

§ 730.694 Farms on which the only acreage of rice is non-irrigated rice not in excess of 3 acres—(a) Conditions of exception. The farm marketing quota of rice for the 1955 crop shall not be applicable to any non-irrigated (dryland) farm on which the rice acreage for the 1955 crop is not in excess of 3 acres.

(b) Issuing marketing cards. The county office manager or his designee shall, for each farm to which the provisions of this section are applicable, issue marketing cards and marketing certificates to the producers on the farm in the manner and subject to the conditions specified in §§ 730.666 to 730.669, inclusive.

§ 730.695 Experimental rice farms—(a) Conditions of exemption. The penalty shall not apply to the marketing of any rice of the 1955 crop grown for experimental purposes only on land owned or leased by any publicly owned agricultural experiment station, and is produced at public expense by employees of the experiment station, or to rice produced for experimental purposes only by farmers pursuant to an agreement with a publicly owned experiment station whereby the experiment station bears the costs and risks incident to the production of the rice and the proceeds from the crop inure to the benefit of the experiment station: Provided, That such agreement is approved by the State committee prior to the issuance of a marketing card for the farm.

(b) Issuing marketing cards. The county office manager shall, upon the written application of a responsible executive officer of any publicly-owned agricultural experiment station to which the exemption referred to in paragraph (a) of this section is applicable, issue a marketing card for the experiment station in the manner and subject to the conditions specified in §§ 730.666 to 730.669, inclusive.

§ 730.696 Wildlife refuge farms. The penalty shall not apply to the rice produced on any farm operated by any Federal or State wildlife refuge farm which is produced solely for wildlife feed and for seed for the production of wildlife feed on such wildlife refuge farm. No marketing card or marketing certificate shall be issued to any producer on any such farm except under the provisions of §§ 730.666, 730.667, and 730.694, but the exemption from penalty shall be granted by the county office manager upon the written application of the operator or responsible executive officer on any such farm stating that the rice produced will be used solely for wildlife feed and for seed for the production of wildlife feed on such wildlife refuge farm.

§ 730.697 Redelegation of authority. Any authority delegated to the State committee by §§ 730.650 to 730.697 may be redelegated by the State committee.

Issued this 12th day of May 1955.

PART 922—VALENCIA ORANGES GROWN IN ARIZONA AND DESIGNATED PART OF CALIFORNIA

DETERMINATION RELATIVE TO EXPENSES AND FIXING OF RATE OF ASSESSMENT FOR 1954–55 FISCAL YEAR

Notice was published in the April 28, 1955, daily issue of FEDERAL REGISTER (20 F. R. 2870) that consideration was being given to the proposals regarding the expenses and the fixing of the rate of assessment for the 1954–55 fiscal year under Order No. 22 (19 F. R. 1741), regulating the handling of Valencia oranges grown in Arizona and designated part of California, effective March 31, 1954, under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.). After consideration of all relevant matters presented, including the proposals set forth in such notice which were submitted by the Valencia Orange Administrative Committee (established pursuant to said order), it is hereby found and determined that:

§ 922.202 Expenses and rate of assessment for the 1954–55 fiscal year—(a) Expenses. The expenses necessary to be incurred by the Valencia Orange Administrative Committee, established pursuant to the provisions of the order regulating handling (§§ 922.0 to 922.90), to enable such committee to perform its functions, in accordance with the provisions thereof, during the 1954–55 fiscal year (November 1, 1954, through October 31, 1955), will amount to $138,238.40.

(b) Rate of assessment. The rate of assessment, which each handler who first handles oranges shall pay as his pro rata share of the aforesaid expenses in accordance with the applicable provisions of said order is hereby fixed at one and one-tenth cents ($0.011) per box of oranges handled by such handler as the first handler thereof during the 1954–55 fiscal year.

It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to postpone the effective time hereof until 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) in that (1) shipments of oranges from Arizona and designated part of California are now being made; (2) the rate of assessment is applicable to all oranges handled during the 1954–55 fiscal year; (3) the provisions hereof do not impose any obligation on a handler until such handler handles oranges; and (4) it is essential that the specification of the assessment rate be issued immediately so that the aforesaid assessments may be collected and thereby enable the Valencia Orange Administrative Committee to perform its duties and functions in accordance with said order.

As used in this section, "handle," "handler," "oranges," "fiscal year," and "box" shall have the same meaning as is given to each such term in said order.

TITLE 47—TELECOMMUNICATION

Chapter I—Federal Communications Commission

[Docket No. 10798; FCC 55-547]

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

In the matter of amendment of Part 2 of the Commission's rules to establish a program for the certification of equipment acceptable for licensing; Docket No. 10798.

1. On January 7, 1955, the Commission released a Report and Order in the above-entitled matter, adopting rules for type acceptance and type approval of equipment, to become effective February 15, 1955. On February 11, 1955, the Commission released a Memorandum Opinion and Order in this matter which postponed the effective date of these rules until May 16, 1955, as requested in petitions filed by several parties. The purpose of the postponement was to provide additional time for the interested parties to develop and propose improvements in certain features of these rules, as was set forth in the foregoing Memorandum Opinion and Order.

2. The Commission now has under consideration a petition filed by the Radio-Electronics-Television Manufacturers Association (RETMA) requesting certain amendments in the rules for type acceptance of equipment. It appears that the amendments requested were developed by a committee of representatives of manufacturers and users of radio equipment, as contemplated in the Commission's Memorandum Opinion and Order of February 11, 1955. Members of the Commission's staff were present as observers at two of the committee meetings and participated in the discussions.

3. The amendments requested in the instant petition would provide the following changes in the type acceptance procedure:

(a) A definition of "type".

(b) A provision that the Commission act on type acceptance applications within 30 days of receipt.

(c) Certain changes in the requirements for technical data on equipment.

(d) Modification of the requirements concerning "permissive changes" in equipment.

(e) Certain changes of an editorial nature.

The need for a definition of "type" appears to have been established by the petitioner as basic to the proper application of the rules governing type acceptance. The definition proposed in the petition appears consistent with the intent of the rules and is being adopted herein. Changes in the technical data on equipment, as proposed by the petitioner, would provide for bandwidth and spurious emission measurements on non-broadcast equipment with 2500 cycle modulation only, and provide for specification of voltages and currents in the final amplifier tubes only. It appears that these changes will reduce the amount of data to be submitted without eliminating any information necessary to insure that the equipment complies with the Commission's rules; consequently, these and minor additional changes in the technical data requirements are being adopted. The requirements concerning permissive changes in type accepted equipment as proposed in the petition are more general than those previously adopted; they provide for notification to the Commission only of changes which bring the performance of the equipment outside the manufacturer's rated limits, as originally filed. These proposed provisions, together with the definition of "type", appear adequate for maintaining current the Commission files on equipment for purposes of identification, while at the same time assuring that the performance of type accepted equipment will remain within the requirements specified in the Commission's rules, and they are therefore being adopted.

4. The changes requested appear, in general, to be in the public interest and to constitute improvements in the type acceptance rules which would reduce the time and expense involved in preparing type acceptance applications and expedite Commission action thereon. In one particular, however, wherein the petitioner proposes notification to the applicant of Commission action by means of a public notice, it appears that it would be simpler and more expeditious if such notice to the applicant were by means of post card. Accordingly, with this exception the amendments requested by the petitioner are being adopted substantially as requested. In addition certain minor changes of an editorial nature are being adopted herein.

5. In addition to the amendments specified by the petitioner, the petition also requests a temporary waiver of the requirements of § 2.523 (b) (4) (iv) (b) for field intensity measurements of radiated spurious emissions. The petitioner proposes to develop by September 1, 1955, a standard measurement technique for field intensity measurement of spurious radiation, based on a correlation test program involving measurements of a given transmitter by several manufacturers and by the Commission's laboratory. The Commission agrees that further development of measurement techniques in this area is needed and that the proposed test program offers promise of providing a generally acceptable measurement technique within a relatively short time. Accordingly, § 2.523 (b) (4) (iv) (b) is being amended so as to become effective November 15, 1955. The provisions of § 2.523 (b) (4) (iv) (a) requiring radio frequency voltage measurements of spurious emission at the antenna terminals of the equipment are not affected by this change.

6. The amendments under consideration herein are principally procedural or clarifying in nature and, insofar as they effect substantive changes, they are within the scope of the Notice of Proposed Rule Making in the instant docket and the comments previously filed by interested parties. Accordingly, pursuant to section 4 (a) of the Administrative Procedure Act, further notice of proposed rule making is not required prior to adoption of these amendments. Moreover, since the effect of these amendments insofar as they are not procedural or editorial in nature is to clarify or relax existing requirements, publication of these changes 30 days in advance of the effective date thereof is not required under section 4 (c) of the Administrative Procedure Act. In view of the foregoing considerations and pursuant to the authority contained in sections 4 (i), 301 and 303 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended: It is ordered, That, effective May 16, 1955, the Commission's rules, Part 2, are amended as set forth below.

(Sec. 4, 48 Stat. 1066, as amended; 47 U. S. C. 154. Interprets or applies secs. 301, 303, 48 Stat. 1081, 1082; 47 U. S. C. 301, 303)

Adopted: May 11, 1955.

Released: May 12, 1955.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION,
[SEAL] MARY JANE MORRIS,
Secretary.

1. Amend § 2.520 by adding thereto the following new paragraphs:

(c) In the event there is no Commission action on an application for type acceptance within thirty (30) days after the application is filed, or within 30 days after the applicant has submitted additional data at the request of the Commission, the equipment will be deemed approved in accordance with the Commission's type acceptance procedure. The term Commission action as used in this section means either issuance of a public notice, a listing of the accepted equipment on the equipment list or sending a letter or post card to the applicant.

(d) Notice to applicant of type acceptance will be by post card and public notice will be given by listing the accepted equipment on the Commission's equipment list. Notice that an application has been found unacceptable for type acceptance will be by letter to the applicant.

2. Amend § 2.522 (e) to read as follows:

(e) Any person affected by a refusal to grant type acceptance may file a petition for reconsideration within 30 days after written notice of such refusal has been issued, as provided in section 0.202 of the Commission's rules.

3. Amend § 2.523 (b) (3) to read as follows:

(3) Description of equipment: The description of equipment should include the type of emission, frequency range, power rating as defined in the applicable part of the rules, voltages applied to and currents into the several elements of the final amplifier tube or tubes for normal operation, function of each tube, circuit diagrams, instruction books when available, tune-up procedure, a description of the oscillator circuit and any devices installed for the purpose of frequency stabilization. When circuits or devices are employed for limiting modulation or suppression of spurious radiation a description of these should be included. The description should be sufficiently complete to develop all factors that may affect a determination as to whether the equipment will comply with the technical standards of the applicable rule parts.

4. Amend § 2.523 (b) (4) (i) to read as follows:

(i) Radio frequency power output at the RF output terminals when the transmitter is adjusted in accordance with the tune-up procedure to give the values of current and voltage on the circuit elements specified in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph. Give details of the radio frequency load attached to the output terminals when this test is made.

5. Amend § 2.523 (b) (4) (iii) to read as follows:

(iii) Bandwidth Occupied: The band of frequencies comprising 99 percent of the total radiated power extended to include any discrete frequency on which the power is at least 0.25 percent of the total radiated power; measured under the following conditions as applicable:

(a) Telegraph transmitters for manual operation—when keyed at 16 dots per second.

(b) Other keyed transmitters—when keyed at the maximum machine speed.

(c) Voice modulated transmitters equipped with a device to prevent overmodulation when modulated by an input signal 16 db greater than that required to produce 50 percent modulation: test at 2500 cycles.

(d) Voice modulated transmitter without a device to prevent overmodulation when modulated by an input signal large enough to produce at least 85 percent modulation: Test at 2500 cycles.

(e) Standard broadcast transmitters—when modulated with a frequency of 7500 cycles at 85 percent modulation. FM broadcast transmitters, including TV aural transmitters, when modulated with a frequency of 15 kc at 85 percent modulation.

(f) Transmitters designed for other types of modulation—when modulated by an appropriate signal of sufficient amplitude to be representative of the type of service in which used. A description of the input signal used should be supplied.

6. Amend § 2.523 (b) (4) (iv) to read as follows:

(iv) Spurious emissions from the transmitting equipment for the following conditions:

(a) Radio frequency voltage measurements at the antenna terminals. The radio frequency voltages generated within the equipment and appearing on a spurious frequency shall be checked at the equipment output terminals when properly loaded with a suitable artificial antenna. Curves or equivalent data shall show the magnitude of each harmonic and other spurious emission that can be detected when the equipment is operated with a carrier modulated under the conditions specified above for determining the band width occupied. The amplitude of spurious emissions which are more than 20 db below the permissible value need not be shown.

(b) Field intensity measurements of spurious radiations. On and after November 15, 1955, a report of field intensity measurements made to detect spurious emissions that may be radiated shall be made for the following equipments:

(1) Those in which the spurious emissions are required to be 60 db or more below the carrier level.

(2) All equipment operating on frequencies higher than 25 Mc.

(3) Hand carried transmitters, or others, where the antenna is an integral part of and attached directly to the transmitter.

(4) Other types of equipment as required, when in the opinion of the Commission, there is need for such measurement.

In all of the foregoing measurements, the spectrum should be investigated from the lowest radio frequency generated in the equipment up to at least the tenth harmonic of the carrier frequency or to the highest frequency possible in the present state of the art of measuring techniques. Particular attention should be paid to harmonics and subharmonics of the carrier frequency as well as to those freqencies removed from the carrier by multiples of the oscillator frequency. Radiation at the frequencies of multiplier stages should also be checked. The amplitude of spurious emissions which are more than 20 db below the permissible value need not be reported.

7. Amend § 2.523 (b) (5) (i) to read as follows:

(i) The Commission will accept data in full accordance with established standards and measurement procedures as published by engineering societies and associations such as the Institute of Radio Engineers, American Institute of Electrical Engineers, the Radio-Electronics-Television Manufacturers Association and the American Standards Association. Specific reference should be made to the standards used. In lieu of such standards, the applicant will submit a description of each measurement procedure together with a listing of the actual test equipment used. The Commission will accept measurements made by a qualified engineer where the procedures employed are based upon sound engineering principles.

8. Amend § 2.540 to read as follows:

§ 2.540 Identification and changes in equipment. (a) Equipment of the same type is defined for the purposes of type acceptance as being equipment which is electrically and mechanically interchangeable. In addition, transmitters of the same type will have the same basic tube line up, frequency multiplication, basic oscillator circuit, basic modulator circuit, and maximum rated power input.

(b) Each type of equipment for which type approval, type acceptance, or filing for application reference purposes is requested shall be identified by a type number assigned by the manufacturer of the equipment. The type number shall consist of a series of not more than a total of seventeen digits, letters, punctuation marks and spaces. The type number shall be shown on a name plate affixed in a conspicuous place to such equipment. All equipment used pursuant to type approval or type acceptance shall have affixed to it such indication of type approval or type acceptance as may be required in the service rules governing such equipment.

(c) No change whatsoever may be made in the design of type approved equipment without prior authorization from the Commission. When a change is requested, the Commission may authorize the change or require that the modified equipment be identified with a new number and be resubmitted for type approval tests.

(d) Permissive changes may be made in type accepted equipment without prior Commission approval. There are two classifications of permissive changes, neither of which may involve change of type as defined in paragraph (a) of this section. The first classification includes those modifications in type accepted equipment which do not change the equipment characteristics beyond the rated limits established by the manufacturer and accepted by the Commission when obtaining type acceptance. There is no requirement that the Commission be notified of such changes. The second classification of permissive changes includes those which bring the performance of the equipment outside the manufacturers' rated limits as originally filed but not below the minimum requirements of the applicable rules. The Commission shall be supplied with complete information and results of tests regarding this class of permissive changes, in accordance with § 2.520 (b), prior to the operation of the modified equipment under an authorization of the Commission.

(e) Changes in type accepted equipment, except permissive changes as set forth in paragraph (d) of this section, shall not be made except under prior authorization of the Commission. When such a change is requested the Commission may authorize the change or require that the modified equipment be identified with a new type number and that additional information be submitted for further consideration as to type acceptance.

(f) If the assignment of a different type number is required as a result of equipment modification, a new name plate bearing the new type number shall be affixed to the modified equipment.

(g) Users shall not modify their own equipment except as provided in paragraph (c) or (d) of this section, as applicable.

9. Amend § 2.541 to read as follows:

§ 2.541 Radio equipment lists. Lists of type approved and type accepted equipment are expected to be published monthly by the Commission when there are changes to be entered. Public notice of type acceptance and type approval will be by publication in the equipment list, a copy of which will be furnished each manufacturer of listed equipment. Epuipment which was listed prior to May 16, 1955, will be continued on the list unless it is removed by Commission action in accordance with the provisions of § 2.522. Copies of the Radio Equipment Lists are available for inspection at the Commission's Offices in Washington, D. C., and at each of its field offices. The Radio Equipment List is published in three parts:

Part A, Television Broadcast Equipment.
Part B, Aural Broadcast Equipment.
Part C, Other than Broadcast Equipment.

[Rules Amdt. 3-42]

PART 3—RADIO BROADCAST SERVICES

TELEVISION BROADCAST STATIONS; TABLE OF ASSIGNMENTS

In the matter of amendment of § 3.606, Table of assignments, rules governing Television Broadcast Stations; Docket No. 11218.

1. The Commission has before it for consideration its notice of proposed rule making (FCC 54-1384) issued on November 4, 1954, and the notice of further proposed rule making (FCC 54-1544) issued on December 14, 1954. By these Notices the Commission announced that mutually exclusive proposals had been filed by Laurel Television Company to assign Channel 7 to Laurel, Mississippi; by Mississippi Broadcasting Company to assign Channel 7 to Pachuta, Mississippi; and by WGCM Television Corporation to assign Channel 9 to Gulfport, Mississippi, by substituting Channel 7 for Channel 9 at Hattiesburg, Mississippi. A counter-proposal was also filed seeking to assign Channel 9 to Bogalusa, Louisiana, by switching Channel 7 for Channel 9 in Hattiesburg.

2. Comments have been filed by Laurel Television Company, Mississippi Broadcasting Company, WGCM Television Corporation, and jointly by Messrs. Curt Siegelin and Bascom D. Talley, Jr.

3. This proceeding involves various proposals to assign a VHF channel to several communities in southern Mississippi and Louisiana. There is a large irregular-shaped area in the southern portion of Mississippi where Channel 7 may be assigned in accordance with the Commission's rules without making any other changes in the Table of Assignments. Laurel Television Company requests that Channel 7 be assigned to Laurel, a community of 25,038 persons located in this area about 25 miles northeast of Hattiesburg. Mississippi Broadcasting Company requests, on the other hand, that this assignment be made instead to Pachuta, a community of 273 persons located in this area approximately midway between Laurel and Meridian, Mississippi. If Channel 7 is substituted for Channel 9 in Hattiesburg, Channel 9 may be assigned within an area in southern Mississippi and Louisiana. WGCM Television Corporation requests that Channel 9 be assigned to Gulfport by making the substitution of Channel 7 for Channel 9 in Hattiesburg. Gulfport, located about 15 miles from Biloxi on the Gulf of Mexico, has a population of 22,659 persons. Finally, it has been proposed by Messrs. Siegelin and Talley in the proceeding that Channel 9 be assigned to Bogalusa, Louisiana, instead of Gulfport by making the switch of frequencies in Hattiesburg. Bogalusa has a population of 17,798 persons. Since Channel 7 cannot be assigned to Hattiesburg if it is also employed in either Laurel or Pachuta, the four proposals are all mutually exclusive.

4. UHF Channel 33 is assigned to Laurel, and there are no applications for this frequency. UHF Channel 56 is assigned to Gulfport, and no applications have been filed for this frequency. No assignments have been made to Pachuta. Two UHF channels, Channels 69 and 79, have been assigned to Bogalusa. There are no applications for either of these frequencies.

5. In addition to the immediate cities for which the assignments are requested, it would also be helpful to consider the assignments in nearby communities. Meridian, located about 25 miles from Pachuta, has a population of 41,893 persons and has three channels assigned, VHF Channel 11 and UHF Channels 30 and 36, with Channel 36 reserved for education. Station WTOK-TV operates on Channel 11. Petitioner Mississippi Broadcasting Company, which now seeks to assign Channel 7 to Pachuta, is authorized to operate UHF Station WCCC-TV on Channel 30 in Meridian, but this station is presently off the air. Hattiesburg, a city of 29,474 persons, located some 25 miles from Laurel, has two channels assigned, VHF Channel 9 and UHF Channel 17. A construction permit for a station on Channel 9 was recently granted to Lion Television Company. There are no applications for Channel 17. Biloxi has a population of 37,425 persons. Three channels are assigned, VHF Channel 13 and UHF Channels 44 and 50, with Channel 44 reserved for education. Two applications for Channel 13 are in hearing, and an Initial Decison was issued on July 7, 1954. There are no applications for either of the UHF channels.

6. In support of its request for the assignment of Channel 7 to Laurel, Laurel Television Company submits that Laurel is the largest community in the area to which Channel 7 may be assigned; that it is furthest removed from communities which have operating or proposed television stations; and that a station in Laurel would provide a first VHF television service to a greater area and population than would a station in either Pachuta or Gulfport. Laurel Television contends that although Pachuta obtains Grade A service from Meridian and Gulfport will receive Grade A service from Biloxi, Laurel will obtain only Grade B service from a station at Hattiesburg. With respect to the UHF, Laurel Television points out that there are no operating UHF stations in the area and submits that it does not appear likely that any UHF stations will be established. It is stated that 30 percent of the homes in Laurel and the surrounding area are equipped with VHF receivers.

7. In support of its request to assign Channel 7 to Pachuta, Mississippi Broadcasting Company notes that it is the permittee of UHF Station WCOC–TV on Channel 30 at Meridian; that the station ceased operation because of economic difficulties; that it will apply for a station on Channel 7 in Pachuta if this frequency is assigned to that community; and that providing a competitive VHF service to the station on Channel 11 in Meridian would eliminate the intermixture of VHF and UHF stations in the area while Channel 7 in Laurel would create a new intermixture situation. Mississippi Broadcasting asserts that Pachuta is located in the center of a prosperous agricultural and industrial region in Mississippi and would thus be an ideal location for a station designed to serve the needs of the public residing within the area.[1] It is urged that a station at Pachuta would serve a greater area and population than would a station at Laurel; however, Mississippi Broadcasting Company does not set forth the basis upon which these allegations are made.

8. In support of its request to assign Channel 9 to Gulfport by substituting Channel 7 for Channel 9 at Hattiesburg, WGCM Television Corporation urges that Harrison County, in which Gulfport is situated, has a greater population than Jones County, in which Laurel is located; that a station on Channel 9 at Gulfport would provide a competitive VHF service to Biloxi; and that Gulfport is a more important community than either Laurel or Pachuta.

9. In their joint comment, Messrs. Siegelin and Talley offer a counterproposal suggesting that Channel 9 should be assigned to Bogalusa, Louisiana, rather than to Gulfport. They urge that Bogalusa is the third largest community in Louisiana now without a VHF assignment; that it is situated in a prosperous industrial and agricultural area; and that a VHF station in Bogalusa would serve a greater area and population than would this assignment in Gulfport. However, Channel 9 cannot be assigned to Bogalusa in conformance with the Commission's minimum separation requirements since the distance between the reference point in New Orleans, where adjacent Channel 8 is assigned, and Bogalusa is less than the required 60-mile minimum specified by the rules.

10. The Commission is presented with four requests to assign a first VHF channel to four communities—Laurel, Pachuta, and Gulfport, all in Mississippi, and Bogalusa, Louisiana. The four requests are mutually exclusive; only one may be granted in light of the relatively short distances between the cities involved. Channel 7 cannot be assigned for use in both Laurel and Pachuta simultaneously; and, similarly, Channel 9 cannot be assigned to both Gulfport and Bogalusa. Furthermore, in order to assign Channel 9 to either Gulfport or Bogalusa, it would be necessary to substitute Channel 7 in Hattiesburg; and this cannot be done if Channel 7 is employed in Laurel or Pachuta. The Commission believes that the public interest, convenience and necessity would be served by assigning a VHF channel in this area, thereby making possible an additional television service to the people in the area. We must therefore determine which of the conflicting proposals is to be preferred.

11. As noted above, Channel 9 cannot be assigned to Bogalusa in conformity with our Rules in the light of the short adjacent-channel spacing to Channel 8 in New Orleans. This proposal must therefore be rejected. This leaves for consideration three conflicting proposals for the assignment of a first VHF channel to three communities in Mississippi—Laurel, Pachuta, and Gulfport. Upon our careful consideration of all of the comments and evidence submitted in this proceeding, we have concluded that the public interest would be best served by assigning Channel 7 to the Laurel-Pachuta area. We believe that the assignment of Channel 7 in this area is to be preferred to the assignment of the frequency to Gulfport. In the first place, the population of Laurel alone is greater than that of Gulfport; and we find no merit in the contentions of WGCM that Gulfport should be preferred because of the greater population of the county in which it is situated. Further, Gulfport is only 15 miles from Biloxi where VHF Channel 13 is assigned and should receive Grade A service from a station in that city. Both Laurel and Pachuta, on the other hand, are at least 25 miles from the nearest community to which a VHF channel is assigned. The assignment of Channel 7 in the Laurel-Pachuta area would make possible the establishment of a VHF facility in an area in Mississippi presently without such a facility, and we believe that the assignment in this area would effectuate a more efficient use of the spectrum. A station on Channel 7 in either Laurel or Pachuta would provide Grade A service to the other community. We believe that rather than determining at this time in which community the frequency should be employed, we should assign Channel 7 to both Laurel and Pachuta jointly, making the frequency available upon application for use in either community. In assigning Channel 7 to Laurel-Pachuta, we wish to emphasize that the frequency is not assigned for any particular prospective applicant. If competing applications for the frequency are filed, they will be considered in an adjudicatory proceeding to consider the comparative merits of the applicants.

12. The present assignment of Channel 33 in Laurel will remain assigned to that community. The asignment of Channel 7 to Laurel-Pachuta requires a change in the offset carrier requirement of Channel 7 in Munford, Alabama, from 7 even to 7 minus.

13. Authority for the adoption of the amendment herein is contained in sections 4 (i), 301, 303 (c), (d), (f), and (r), and 307 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

14. In light of the foregoing: It is ordered, That effective June 15, 1955, the Table of Assignments contained in § 3.606 of the Commission's rules and regulations is amended, in so far as the communities named below are concerned, as follows:

a. The assignment to the community of Munford, Alabama, is changed from *7 to *7–.

b. Add to the Table of Assignments under the State of Mississippi the following separate new listing in addition to the present assignment of Channel 33 to Laurel:

Laurel-Pachuta	7

[1] In its comments, Mississippi Broadcasting Company made reference to the qualifications of its own principals and to the qualifications of Laurel Television Company to own and operate a television station. However, the Commission does not, in assigning television channels, make assignments for any particular applicants; the assignments are made for all parties who wish to apply. The qualifications of any prospective applicants for the frequencies, therefore, are not a proper or relevant consideration in a rule-making proceeding to assign a channel to a particular community. The matter of qualification of applicants should be considered in adjudicatory proceedings involving applications rather than rule-making proceedings such as this.

TABLE OF ASSIGNMENTS; TELEVISION BROADCAST STATIONS

ORDER EXTENDING TIME FOR FILING COMMENTS

1. On December 1, 1954, the Jacksonville Journal Company, Jacksonville, Florida, filed a petition requesting that the Table of Television Channel Assignments be amended by adding the assignment of Channel 10 to Bunnell, Florida. On January 23, 1955, the Suncoast Cities Broadcasting Corporation, St. Petersburg, Florida, filed a conflicting petition requesting that Channel 10 be assigned to New Port Richey, Florida. On April 14, 1955, the Commission issued a notice of proposed rule making with respect to these two conflicting proposals requesting the comments of interested parties on or before May 13, 1955, with replies to such comments ten days thereafter.

2. On May 11, 1955, the Jacksonville Journal Company filed a petition requesting aditional time to file comments in the proceeding. The Jacksonville Journal Company states that it is investigating means for satisfying the requests of each of the parties in the proceeding for a VHF channel in the communities indicated and that these studies can be completed if a two-week extension of time is allowed for the filing of comments. It is stated that Suncoast Cities Broadcasting Corporation has consented to the requested extension of time. Accordingly, it is requested that the time for filing comments in the proceeding be extended to May 27, 1955, and the time for replies to such comments to June 6, 1955.

3. The Commission is of the view that the public interest, convenience and necessity would be served by extending the time for the filing of comments by interested parties in this proceeding.

4. In view of the foregoing: It is ordered, That the time for filing comments in the above-entitled proceeding is extended from May 13, 1955, to May 27, 1955, with replies thereto due ten days thereafter.

Adopted: May 12, 1955.

Released: May 13, 1955.

PROHIBITIONS OF IMPORTED COMMODITIES; AVOCADOS

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

Notice is hereby given that the Department is giving consideration to the issuance of maturity requirements, effective at 12:01 a. m., e. s. t., June 1, 1955, regulating the importation of avocados into the United States, and to requiring inspection and certification of each such import by the Federal or Federal-State Inspection Service pursuant to the provisions of § 1060.153 of the General Regulations (7 CFR Part 1060; 19 F. R. 7707, 8012) applicable to the importation of certain listed commodities (including avocados).

The requirements under consideration are to impose the same restrictions on imports of avocados that are imposed on the handlers of Florida avocados as set forth in the maturity regulation which is being made effective pursuant to the marketing agreement and Order No. 69 (7 CFR Part 969; 19 F. R. 3439) regulating the handling of avocados grown in South Florida. The regulatory provisions of such regulation are contained in paragraph (b) thereof and are as follows:

(b) Order. (1) No handler shall handle any of the following varieties of the West Indian type of avocados prior to 12:01 a. m., e. s. t., June 13, 1955, namely: Fuchs, Pollocks, Simmonds, Hardee, and Nadir.

(2) Insofar as varieties of the West Indian type of avocados not specified in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph are concerned, no handler shall handle any of such varieties except in accordance with the following terms and conditions:

(i) No such avocados shall be handled prior to 12:01 a. m., e. s. t., June 1, 1955;

(ii) To be eligible for handling during the period beginning at 12:01 a. m., e. s. t., June 1, 1955, and ending at 12:01 a. m., e. s. t., July 4, 1955, the individual fruit in each lot must weigh at least 16 ounces: Provided, That not to exceed 10 percent, by count, of the individual fruit in each lot may weigh less than 16 ounces but not less than 14 ounces, and not to exceed double such tolerance percentage shall be permitted for an individual container in a lot if the entire lot is within the tolerance;

(iii) To be eligible for handling during the period beginning at 12:01 a. m., e. s. t., July 4, 1955, and ending at 12:01 a. m., e. s. t., August 1, 1955, the individual fruit in each lot must weigh at least 14 ounces: Provided, That not to exceed 10 percent, by count, of the individual fruit in each lot may weigh less than 14 ounces but not less than 12 ounces, and not to exceed double such tolerance percentage shall be permitted for an individual container in a lot if the entire lot is within the tolerance; and

(iv) To be eligible for handling on or after 12:01 a. m., e. s. t., August 1, 1955, the individual fruit in each lot must weigh at least 12 ounces: Provided, That not to exceed 10 percent, by count, of the individual fruit in each lot may weigh less than 12 ounces but not less than 10 ounces, and not to exceed double such tolerance percentage shall be permitted for an individual container in a lot if the entire lot is within the tolerance.

(3) Insofar as any and all avocados not included in subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph are concerned, no handler shall handle any such avocados except in accordance with the following terms and conditions:

(i) No such avocados shall be handled prior to 12:01 a. m., e. s. t., September 5, 1955;

(ii) To be eligible for handling during the period beginning at 12:01 a. m., e. s. t., September 5, 1955, and ending at 12:01 a. m., e. s. t., October 3, 1955, the individual fruit in each lot must weigh at least 14 ounces: Provided, That not to exceed 10 percent, by count, of the individual fruit in each lot may weigh less than 14 ounces but not less than 12 ounces, and not to exceed double such tolerance percentage shall be permitted for an individual container in a lot if the entire lot is within the tolerance; and

(iii) To be eligible for handling on or after 12:01 a. m., e. s. t., October 3, 1955, the individual fruit in each lot must weigh at least 12 ounces: Provided, That not to exceed 10 percent, by count, of the individual fruit in each lot may weigh less than 12 ounces but not less than 10 ounces, and not to exceed double such tolerance percentage shall be permitted for an individual container in a lot if the entire lot is within the tolerance.

(4) Notwithstanding the provisions of subparagraphs (2) and (3) of this paragraph, any handler may, on and after the applicable beginning date specified in subdivision (i) of each of such subparagraphs, handle any lot of avocados without regard to the minimum weight requirements specified when (i) the exterior seed coat of the individual fruit is of a brown color characteristic of a mature avocado, or (ii) such avocados, when mature, normally change color to any shade of red or purple and any portion of the skin of the individual fruit has changed to the color normal for that fruit when mature.

All persons who desire to submit written data, views, or arguments for consideration in connection with the proposals set forth in the preceding paragraph should do so by forwarding the same to the Director, Fruit and Vegetable Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, United States Department of Agriculture, Room 2077, South Building, Washington 25, D. C., not later than the fifth day after the publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Interested parties are particularly invited to submit, within the time specified, factual data concerning any differences in the characteristics of the avocados that are exported to the United States from other countries as compared to the Florida produced avocados, including information with respect to variations in the time of maturity of such avocados and the minimum sizes of mature fruit.

Dated: May 13, 1955.

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION

[49 CFR Part 1]

[No. MC-C-1811]

SPECIAL RULES GOVERNING NOTICE OF FILING OF APPLICATIONS BY MOTOR CARRIERS OF PASSENGERS AND PROPERTY UNDER SECTIONS 206, 209, AND 211 OF THE INTERSTATE COMMERCE ACT AND CERTAIN OTHER PROCEDURAL MATTERS WITH RESPECT THERETO

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE-MAKING

Pursuant to section 4 (a) of the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 237, 5 U. S. C. 1003) notice is hereby given of the proposed establishment under sections 17 (3), 205 (e), 206, 209, and 211 of the following special rules, supplementing and amending the Commission's general rules of practice, and amending the special rules governing notice of the filing by motor carriers of passengers and property of applications under sections 206, 209, and 211 of the Interstate Commerce Act and certain other procedural matters with respect thereto. The proposed special rules are as follows:

RULE 1. Scope of special rules. These special rules govern the filing and handling of applications for certificates, permits, and licenses respecting the transportation of passengers and property under sections 206, 209, and 211 of the Interstate Commerce Act. Amendments to applications which broaden the scope of proposed operations will not be allowed if tendered after notice of the filing of an application has been published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

RULE 2. Notice to interested persons. Notice to interested parties of the filing of such applications and the time and place of oral hearing or pre-hearing conference or the fact that an applicant has requested handling without oral hearing shall be given by the publication of a summary of the authority sought in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Such summaries will be prepared by the Commission. No other notice by applicants to interested persons of the filing of the applications is required, except that applicants are not relieved from the obligation to file copies of applications with Governors, State Boards, and District Directors of the Commission's Bureau of Motor Carriers, as required by the instructions which are a part of the prescribed form of application.

RULE 3. Protests to applications assigned for hearing. Anyone opposed to an application assigned for oral hearing or pre-hearing conference need not file a formal protest, but may become a party protestant at the oral hearing or pre-hearing conference. As soon as anyone interested determines that he will oppose an application at a hearing, he should inform the applicant or his counsel to that effect.

RULE 4. Handling of applications without oral hearing. (a) An applicant who believes his application is susceptible of handling without oral hearing may request such handling when the application is filed. If such a request is made, the applicant should submit with his application verified statements of fact to which the witnesses would testify at an oral hearing if one were held.

(b) Protests to the granting of an application in which handling without oral hearing is sought shall be filed with the Commission within 30 days after the date notice of the filing of the application is published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

(c) Failure seasonably to file a protest in an application in which handling without oral hearing is sought will be construed as a waiver of opposition and participation in the proceeding unless an oral hearing is held.

(d) In addition to other requirements of Rule 40 of the general rules of practice, protests to applications in which handling without oral hearing is sought shall include a request for a public hearing, if one is desired, and shall specify with particularity the facts, matters, and things relied upon, but shall not include issues or allegations phrased generally. Protests containing general allegations may be rejected.

(e) Any request for an oral hearing shall be supported by an explanation as to why the evidence to be presented cannot reasonably be submitted in the form of affidavits. The Commission will determine whether or not assignment of the application for oral hearing is necessary or desirable.

RULE 5. Requests for notice of changes in time or place of hearing. Any interested person desiring to receive notice of any change in the time or place of any hearing or prehearing conference, shall notify the Commission by letter or telegram within 10 days from the date the notice of the filing of the application is published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

No oral hearing on the proposed rules is contemplated, but anyone wishing to make representations in favor of or against the proposed rules may do so by the submission of written data, views, or arguments. An original and fourteen copies of such data, views, or arguments shall be filed with the Commission at its office in Washington, D. C., on or before June 30, 1955.

Notice to the general public shall be given by depositing a copy hereof in the Office of the Secretary of the Commission for public inspection and by filing a copy with the Director, Division of the Federal Register.

By the Commission.

[SEAL] HAROLD D. MCCOY,
Secretary.

WHEAT

NOTICE OF REFERENDUM FOR MARKETING QUOTAS, 1956-57

The Secretary of Agriculture has duly proclaimed, pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, a national marketing quota for wheat for the marketing year beginning July 1, 1956. A referendum of farmers whose farms are located in the 1956 commercial wheat producing area and who will be engaged in the production of the 1956 crop of wheat will be held pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, and applicable regulations to determine whether such farmers are in favor of or opposed to such wheat marketing quota.

Registration. The operator of each farm located in the 1956 commercial wheat producing area on which the wheat acreage for 1956 will be more than 15 acres should inform a member of the county or community committee of the names and addresses of all producers who will share in the proceeds of such crop in order that their names may be listed on the register of eligible voters. The eligibility to vote of any person may be challenged if his name is not recorded on the registration list.

Eligibility to vote. 1. Each farmer who is engaged in the production of wheat for harvest in 1956 on a farm located in the 1956 commercial wheat producing area who intends to harvest in any manner in excess of 15 acres of wheat for grain on the farm, and who is entitled to share in the proceeds of the 1956 wheat crop as owner, landlord (other than a landlord of a standing rent, cash rent or fixed rent tenant), tenant, or sharecropper shall be eligible to vote.

2. No wheat farmer (whether an individual, partnership, corporation, association, or other legal entity) shall be entitled to more than one vote in the referendum, even though he may be engaged in the production of wheat for harvest in 1956 on two or more farms in two or more communities, counties, or States.

3. Where a group of several persons, such as husband, wife, and children, will be participating in the production of wheat for harvest in 1956 under a single lease or cropping agreement, only the person or persons who signed or entered into the lease or cropping agreement shall be eligible to vote.

4. In the event two or more persons are producing wheat for harvest in 1956, not as members of a partnership but as joint tenants, tenants in common, or owners of community property, each such person shall be entitled to one vote.

5. No person shall be eligible to vote in any community other than the community in which he now resides except as follows:

(a) Any person who resides in a community other than the community in which he will be engaged in the production of wheat for 1956 may, if he will not vote in the community in which he resides, vote at the polling place for the community in which he will be engaged in the production of wheat for 1956.

(b) Any person who is eligible to vote in a community in which there is no polling place shall be eligible to vote at the polling place designated for such community.

(c) Any person who on the day of the referendum will not be present in the county in which he is eligible to vote may obtain one ballot form, prior to or on the date of the referendum, from the most conveniently located county committee office and may cast his ballot by signing his name thereto and mailing it (in a sealed envelope, postage paid, marked "absentee ballot") so that the ballot reaches the office of the county committee for the county in which he is eligible to vote not later than the hour for closing the polls on the date of the referendum, which shall not be earlier than 5 o'clock, p. m., local standard time.

6. There shall be not voting by mail (except as provided in paragraph 5 (c) above), by proxy or by agent, but a duly authorized officer of a corporation, firm, association, or other legal entity or a duly authorized member of a partnership may cast its vote.

Time and place for balloting. The wheat marketing quota referendum will be held on July 22, 1955. The place of voting and the hours which the polls will be open for voting in each community will be announced by the county ASC committee.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 13th day of May 1955.

Federal Maritime Board

[Docket No. 777]

TRUCK LOADING AND UNLOADING OF WATERBORNE CARGO AT NEW YORK

INVESTIGATION OF RATES AND PRACTICES OF PARTIES TO AGREEMENT

Notice is hereby given that at a session of the Federal Maritime Board held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 6th day of May 1955, the Board entered the following order:

It appearing that the parties named in Appendix A below have entered into an agreement known as the Truck Loading and Unloading of Waterborne Cargo Agreement in their capacity as terminal operators in the Port of Greater New York and vicinity which agreement has been approved by the Federal Maritime Board, as F. M. B. Agreement No. 8005, pursuant to section 15 of the Shipping Act, 1916, as amended (46 U. S. C. 814); and

It further appearing that pursuant to said Agreement No. 8005 the parties issued on April 25, 1955, their Tariff No. 1 to become effective May 1, 1955, under which they have jointly established rates, charges, rules and regulations with respect to services to truckers of loading or unloading, or assisting in loading or unloading of waterborne freight onto or from trucks at piers in the Port of Greater New York and vicinity; and

It further appearing that protests against the rates, charges, rules and regulations set forth in said Tariff No. 1 have been received from exporters, importers, and truckers, both individually and through their associations, alleging that the rates and charges specified therein are excessive and that the practices to be followed by the parties to this tariff are unjust and unreasonable and have been promulgated without adequate notice; and

It further appearing that the rates and charges specified in said Tariff No. 1 may be excessive and therefore detrimental to the commerce of the United States within the meaning of section 15 of said act (46 U. S. C. 814) and that the said tariff may have been promulgated without adequate notice which would constitute an unjust and unreasonable practice in violation of section 17 of said act (46 U. S. C. 816) (see Docket No. 555, Practices, etc., of San Francisco Bay Area Terminals, 2 U. S. M. C. 588) and that the practices resulting under said tariff may be unjust and unreasonable practices for or in connection with the receiving, handling or delivering of property within the meaning of said section 17 (46 U. S. C. 816) in that truckers, shippers and consignees or their representatives shall not place mechanical equipment on the dock without express permission of the terminal operator, and in that the services to be rendered in exchange for the stated charges are not defined with sufficient clarity to be readily understood, and further that duplicate and multiplicate charges may result;

It is ordered, That a proceeding of inquiry be instituted upon the Board's own motion, in the exercise of its powers and duties under sections 15, 17 and 22 of the Shipping Act, 1916, as amended (46 U. S. C. 814, 816 and 821) to determine (1) whether the rates, charges, rules and regulations set forth in Tariff No. 1 of the Truck Loading and Unloading Waterborne Freight Agreement (F. M. B. Agreement No. 8005) are detrimental to the commerce of the United States, (2) whether the said tariff has been promulgated without adequate notice, and (3) whether the practices resulting from the adoption of said tariff are unjust and unreasonable practices for or in connection with the receiving, handling or delivering of property;

It is further ordered, That all parties named in Appendix A be, and they are hereby, made respondents in this proceeding; and

It is further ordered, That this order be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER, and that a copy of such order be served upon each of said respondents; and

It is further ordered, That this proceeding be assigned for hearing before an examiner of the Hearing Examiner's Office at a date and place to be fixed by the Chief Examiner; and

It is further ordered, That a letter be addressed to Mr. W. L. Swain, Agent, Truck Loading and Unloading Waterborne Agreement (8005), 80 Broad Street, New York 4, N. Y., requesting the parties to hold the application of Tariff No. 1 in abeyance until completion of investigation and hearing in this matter.

Dated: May 12, 1955.

By the Board.

Acting Secretary.

3. To determine, in light of the evidence adduced pursuant to the foregoing issues, whether the subject proposed operation would serve the public interest, convenience and necessity.

COLUMBIA GAS SYSTEM, INC., ET AL.

ORDER AUTHORIZING OPEN-ACCOUNT ADVANCES BY PARENT COMPANY TO FOUR OF ITS SUBSIDIARIES

MAY 12, 1955.

In the matter of the Columbia Gas System, Inc., Central Kentucky Natural Gas Company, the Ohio Fuel Gas Company, the Manufacturers Light and Heat Company, Home Gas Company, et al.

The Columbia Gas System, Inc. ("Columbia"), a registered holding company, and certain of its wholly-owned subsidiaries, including Central Kentucky Natural Gas Company ("Central Kentucky"), the Ohio Fuel Gas Company ("Ohio"), the Manufacturers Light and Heat Company ("Manufacturers"), and Home Gas Company ("Home"), have filed a joint application-declaration and an amendment thereto pursuant to sections 6 (b), 9, 10, 12 (b), and 12 (f) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act") and Rules U-43 and U-45 thereunder, including therein, inter alia, the following proposed transactions:

Columbia proposes to advance from time to time on open account to its four subsidiaries mentioned herein funds aggregating not in excess of $25,000,000 for the purchase during 1955 of inventory gas for storage in their underground storage facilities, as follows:

Central Kentucky	$500,000
Ohio	16,000,000
Manufacturers	7,000,000
Home	1,500,000
Total	25,000,000

Said open-account advances will bear interest at the rate of 3 percent per annum and will be repayable in three equal installments on February 25, March 25, and April 25, 1956, from revenues to be derived from the sale of stored gas during the coming winter season.

It is stated that no approval of these advances is required from any regulatory commission other than this Commission, and the order to be entered herein is requested to become effective forthwith. Other transactions proposed in said application-declaration, involving certain other open-account advances and the issuance and sale of securities, require approvals from State commissions which have not yet been secured.

Due notice having been given of the filing of said application-declaration, and a hearing not having been requested of or ordered by the Commission; and the Commission finding that, with respect to the aforesaid advances to the subsidiaries mentioned herein, that the applicable provisions of the act and the rules promulgated thereunder are satisfied and that no adverse findings are necessary, and deeming it appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that the declaration as amended be permitted to become effective forthwith to the extent of such proposed advances:

It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of the act, that said declaration as amended with respect to such proposed advances be, and hereby is, permitted to become effective forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions of Rule U-24.

It is further ordered, That jurisdiction be, and hereby is, reserved with respect to the remaining transactions proposed in said joint application-declaration as amended.

COLUMBIA GAS SYSTEM, INC.

ORDER AUTHORIZING SHORT-TERM FINANCING BY BANK LOANS

MAY 12, 1955.

The Columbia Gas System, Inc. ("Columbia"), a registered holding company, has filed with this Commission a declaration and an amendment thereto pursuant to sections 6 and 7 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act") regarding the following proposed transaction:

Columbia proposes to borrow $50,000,000 in aggregate amount from nineteen commercial banks, half of such amount to be borrowed on or before June 30, 1955 and the balance on or before August 31, 1955. The loans will be evidenced by notes dated when issued and maturing April 30, 1956. Said notes will bear interest at the rate of 3 percent per annum and may be prepaid in whole or in part, without penalty, prior to the date of maturity on ten days' notice.

Columbia states that from the proceeds of said borrowings $15,000,000 will be advanced to its subsidiaries for construction and $35,000,000 for the purchase of storage gas for current inventory. These advances are the subject of a separate application-declaration, File No. 70-3369. It is estimated that during the current year the system will require additional funds up to an aggregate amount of $50,000,000, of which up to $25,000,000 will be for construction and $25,000,000 for the payment of presently outstanding bank loans, maturing August 31, 1955. Columbia has not developed definitive plans to provide the balance of the required funds. If the cash requirements remain substantially of the magnitude now estimated, Columbia expects to sell debentures in an amount which will depend upon market and other conditions. However, if the construction program and resulting cash requirements should be materially reduced, Columbia, instead of selling debentures this year, may postpone its long-term financing until 1956 and negotiate with the banks for new loans to complete this year's construction program and to repay the loans maturing August 31, 1955.

It is contemplated that $35,000,000 of the presently proposed bank loans, which is the amount proposed to be advanced during the year to the subsidiaries for the purchase of inventory gas, will be repaid on or before maturity with funds obtained from operations.

Due notice having been given of the filing of said declaration, and a hearing not having been requested of or ordered by the Commission; and the Commission finding that the applicable provisions of the act and the rules promulgated thereunder are satisfied and that no adverse findings are necessary, and deeming it appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that said declaration as amended be permitted to become effective forthwith:

It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of the act, that said declaration as amended be, and hereby is, permitted to become effective forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24.

By the Commission.

NORTHERN PENNSYLVANIA POWER CO. AND GENERAL PUBLIC UTILITIES CORP.

NOTICE OF FILING REGARDING CASH CAPITAL CONTRIBUTIONS FROM PARENT REGISTERED HOLDING COMPANY TO SUBSIDIARY PUBLIC UTILITY COMPANY AND ISSUANCE AND SALE BY SUBSIDIARY COMPANY OF UNSECURED PROMISSORY NOTE OR NOTES TO COMMERCIAL BANKS

MAY 12, 1955.

Notice is hereby given that General Public Utilities Corporation ("GPU"), a registered holding company, and its subsidiary Northern Pennsylvania Power Company ("North Penn"), a public utility company, have made a joint filing with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act") designating sections 6 (a), 7, and 12 (b) of the act and Rule U-45 thereunder as being applicable to the proposed transactions, which are summarized as follows:

GPU proposes to make cash capital contributions in an aggregate amount not to exceed $850,000 to North Penn, these capital contributions to be made by GPU from time to time but not later than December 31, 1955 as North Penn requires funds for construction purposes or to reimburse its treasury for expenditures made therefrom for construction purposes or to repay bank loans utilized for such purposes. Each contribution, upon receipt by North Penn, will be credited by North Penn to stated capital applicable to its common stock.

North Penn proposes to issue and sell to one or more commercial banks its unsecured promissory note or notes in the aggregate principal amount outstanding at any one time of not to exceed $2,000,000. This note or these notes may be issued from time to time but no note will be issued after December 31, 1955. Each note will mature by its terms not more than nine months after the date of issuance and will bear interest at the prime rate for commercial borrowings prevailing at the time each note is issued. The proceeds from this financing are to be used by North Penn to repay its unsecured short-term promissory note outstanding in the amount of $2,000,000 maturing September 29, 1955 and/or to pay for construction costs and/or to reimburse North Penn's treasury in part for expenditures therefrom for construction purposes and/or to repay other notes issued pursuant to this declaration.

There is pending before this Commission a proceeding concerned with a proposed merger of North Penn into Pennsylvania Electric Company, an associate company of North Penn (File No. 70-3050). GPU has stipulated and agreed that favorable disposition by this Commission of the proposed capital contribution by it to North Penn and the proposed note financing by North Penn will carry no implication favorable or unfavorable with respect to the disposition of the merger proceedings. The instant filing states that North Penn has been deferring the issuance of long-term debt to provide for its construction program pending disposition of the merger proceeding.

The filing contains estimates that GPU's expenses including legal fees will not exceed $750, and that North Penn's expenses including legal fees will not exceed $300.

It is represented in the filing that no State commission or Federal commission other than the Securities and Exchange Commission has jurisdiction in respect of the proposed transactions.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than May 26, 1955, at 5:30 p. m., e. d. s. t., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on this joint declaration, stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request, and the issues of fact or law, if any, raised by said joint declaration which he desires to controvert, or may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington 25, D. C. At any time after said date said joint declaration, as filed or as amended, may be permitted to become effective as provided in Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act, or the Commission may take such other action as may be appropriate.

MAY 12, 1955.

The Commission by orders of February 20, and July 15, 1953, issued pursuant to section 11 (e) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act") approved a plan, as modified, filed by Electric Bond and Share Company ("Bond and Share"), a registered holding company. The plan, among other things, requires Bond and Share, by July 16, 1955 (two years after the effective date of the plan) to dispose of sufficient of its holdings of common stock of United Gas Corporation ("United Gas") to reduce its holdings of such stock to less than 5 percent. Bond and Share now holds 1,275,040 shares (9.89 percent of United Gas common stock. As a step in the consummation of said plan, Bond and Share has filed, pursuant to Rule U-44 (c) promulgated under the act, a notice of intention to sell, through a rights offering to its common stockholders, and without an underwriting, 525,036 shares of the common stock of United Gas.

Notice is hereby given that Bond and Share has filed an application for approval of its acquisition for stabilization purposes of not to exceed 52,500 additional shares of United Gas common stock in connection with said proposed sale of 525,036 shares of common stock of United Gas. Bond and Share has designated sections 9 (a) (1) and 10 and Rule U-44 (b) (1) as applicable to the proposed stabilization transactions described below.

Bond and Share proposes, through stabilization transactions, to purchase on the New York Stock Exchange, at a price (exclusive of commissions) not in excess of the last preceding sale price thereof, not to exceed 52,500 shares of United Gas common stock, and to purchase and sell on the American Stock Exchange rights to purchase such stock. Such purchases and sales may commence on the day on which "when issued" trading in the rights to purchase such stock commences on the American Stock Exchange. No purchases or sales are to be made subsequent to the expiration of the period within which such rights may be exercised. Any shares of United Gas acquired by Bond and Share through such stabilization transactions will subsequently be disposed of as part of the shares required to be disposed of by the plan.

The only fees and expenses to be incurred and paid in connection with the proposed stabilization transactions are stated to be regular brokerage commissions and the fees and expenses of counsel for services in connection with such transactions, including the preparation and prosecution of the instant application.

Bond and Share requests that an order, to become effective upon its issuance, be entered not later than June 6, 1955, granting the application.

Notice is hereby further given that any interested person may not later than May 26, 1955, request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held in respect of the proposed stabilization transactions, stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such hearing, and the issues of fact or law raised by said application which he desires to controvert, or he may request that he be notified should the Commission order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington 25, D. C. At any time after said date said application, as filed or as amended, may be granted as provided in Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act, or the Commission may take such other action as it deems appropriate.

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, pursuant to section 22 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act, as amended (7 U. S. C. 624), I issued Proclamation No. 3019 on June 8, 1953 (67 Stat. C 46), limiting to 1,709,000 pounds (aggregate quantity) the imports of peanuts, whether shelled, not shelled, blanched, salted, prepared, or preserved (including roasted peanuts, but not including peanut butter) which may be entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption in any 12-month period beginning July 1 in any year, which proclamation was amended by Proclamation No. 3025 of June 30, 1953 (67 Stat. C 54); and

WHEREAS on February 18, 1955, the United States Tariff Commission submitted to me a report of its findings and recommendation made in connection with a supplemental investigation conducted by the Commission with respect to peanuts, on the basis of which supplemental investigation and report I issued Proclamation No. 3084 on March 9, 1955 (20 F. R. 1549), modifying the said Proclamation No. 3019, as amended, so as to permit the entry, or withdrawal from warehouse, for consumption, during the remainder of the 12-month period ending June 30, 1955, of an additional quantity of not more than 51,000,000 pounds (aggregate quantity) of certain peanuts, subject to a fee of 2 cents per pound but not more than 50 per centum ad valorem, which fee was in addition to any other duties imposed upon the importation of such peanuts; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to section 22 (d) of the Agricultural Adjustment Act, as amended, the United States Tariff Commission has made a second supplemental investigation to determine whether the deficit in the domestic supply of peanuts is such as to require an increase in the quantity of peanuts, whether shelled, not shelled, blanched, salted, prepared, or preserved, which may be permitted to be entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption during the quota year ending June 30, 1955, and during the quota year beginning July 1, 1955, to meet essential requirements of domestic peanut users, and, if so, what additional quantity or quantities of such peanuts may be permitted to be so entered or withdrawn without materially interfering with or rendering ineffective the peanut program of the Department of Agriculture; and

WHEREAS the United States Tariff Commission has submitted to me a report of its findings and recommendations in connection with the said second supplemental investigation; and

WHEREAS, on the basis of the said second supplemental investigation and report of the Tariff Commission, I find that the deficit in the domestic supply of peanuts is such as to require the admission of an additional quantity of peanuts, as hereinafter proclaimed, to meet the essential requirements of domestic peanut users until supplies become available from the 1955 domestic crop; and

WHEREAS I find and declare that the admission of such additional quantity of peanuts under the conditions and subject to the fee hereinafter proclaimed is necessary in order that the entry of such peanuts will not render or tend to render ineffective, or materially interfere with, the said program of the Department of Agriculture with respect to peanuts, or reduce substantially the amount of any product processed in the United States from peanuts with respect to which such program is being undertaken:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER, President of the United States of America, acting under and by virtue of the authority vested in me by the said section 22 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act, as amended, do hereby proclaim that the said Proclamation No. 3019, as amended and modified, is hereby further amended and modified so as—

(1) to extend the current quota year for peanuts through July 31, 1955;

(2) to permit an unlimited additional quantity of peanuts, shelled, blanched, salted, prepared, or preserved (including roasted peanuts, but not including peanuts not shelled or peanut butter), to be entered, or withdrawn from warehouse,

ASSIGNMENT OF INSURED MORTGAGES TO GOVERNMENT AS TRUSTEE FOR NOTEHOLDERS

Subpart G, Part 372, Chapter III, Title 6, Code of Federal Regulations (20 F. R. 1045) is hereby amended by adding a new section, providing for assignment of insured Farm Ownership mortgages to the Government as trustee for the noteholders, to read as follows:

§ 372.129 Assignment of insured mortgages to Government, as trustee, in trust for benefit of Transferees and any subsequent holders of secured notes—(a) General. Insured Farm Ownership mortgages, including mortgages held by the Government for the Insurance Fund or as Trustee of a State Rural Rehabilitation Corporation, upon land in States designated by the Administrator, will be assigned, at the request of the Farmers Home Administration, on forms approved by it, to the Government as Trustee in trust for the benefit of the transferees and any subsequent holders of the secured notes, by the holders of the mortgages when they transfer the notes to transferees who agree to the transaction. Holders of the notes may thereafter, upon giving notice to the Farmers Home Administration, sell them separately by endorsement and delivery without further assignment of the mortgages.

(b) Authority of Director, Finance Office. The authority vested in the Director, Finance Office (referred to in this section as Director), by § 372.123 shall include authority to execute documents and perform other appropriate actions in connection with assignments of mortgages in trust, including the execution of releases, subordinations, satisfactions, and any other account servicing or security servicing instruments.

Upon receipt of the form the Director will execute and date the acknowledgment section and will transmit to both seller and buyer a facsimile of the completed form listing any payments remitted to the seller between the date of the sale (or the statement of account, whichever is earlier) and the date of the acknowledgment of sale.

(e) Transfer of notes to Government upon payment in full. When a loan is paid in full, the holder upon request by the Director will transmit the note to the Director, who will in appropriate cases execute a mortgage satisfaction and have it delivered to the mortgagor or other party making payment, or recorded when required of the mortgagee by law.

Chapter VII—Commodity Stabilization Service (Farm Marketing Quotas and Acreage Allotments), Department of Agriculture

STATE ACREAGE ALLOTMENTS FOR 1956 CROP AND 1956–57 COMMERCIAL WHEAT-PRODUCING AREA

§ 728.604 Basis and purpose. (a) The regulations contained in §§ 728.604, 728.605, and 728.625 are issued (1) to apportion among the several States the national acreage allotment for the 1956 crop of wheat proclaimed on May 13, 1955 (20 F. R. 3426), in accordance with the provisions of section 334 (a) of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, which provides for the apportionment of the 1956 national acreage allotment for wheat (less a reserve of not to exceed one per centum thereof for apportionment to counties in addition to county allotments made under section 334 (b) of the act on the basis of the relative needs of counties for additional allotment because of new areas coming into the production of wheat during the preceding ten years) among the several States on the basis of the acreage seeded for the production of wheat during the ten calendar years 1945 to 1954 (plus, in applicable years, the acreage diverted from wheat under agricultural adjustment and conservation programs), with adjustments for abnormal weather conditions and for trends in acreage during such period; and (2) to designate the 1956–57 commercial wheat-producing area.

(b) In making the findings and determinations contained in § 728.605 the State wheat acreage estimates of the Agricultural Marketing Service of this Department were used, adjusted where necessary to reflect the acreages of wheat used for wheat mixtures in States approved for this practice, for green manure, cover crop, hay, and silage, in all States, and the acreage planted to Durum Wheat (Class II) under Public Law 290 in the States of Minnesota, Montana, North Dakota, and South Dakota in excess of farm acreage allotments, as indicated by statistics of the Commodity Stabilization Service of this Department. For States for which wheat acreage estimates are not compiled by the Agricultural Marketing Service, statistics of the Commodity Stabilization Service were used. It is hereby found and determined that the statistics of the Agricultural Marketing Service, as so adjusted and supplemented by Commodity Stabilization Service data, constitute the latest available and most reliable statistics of the Federal Government.

(c) Prior to the apportionment of the national acreage allotment for the 1956 crop of wheat among the several States, and designation of the 1956–57 commercial wheat-producing area, public notice of the proposed action was given (20 F. R. 655) in accordance with section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1003). The views and recommendations received from wheat growers and other interested persons have been duly considered within the limits permitted by the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended.

(d) Since a referendum of wheat producers who will be subject to the national marketing quota proclaimed on the 1956 crop of wheat must be held prior to July 25, 1955, to determine whether such producers favor or oppose such marketing quotas, and since the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, requires, insofar as practicable, the mailing of notices of farm acreage allotments to farm operators in sufficient time to be received prior to the date of the referendum, and since farm acreage allotments cannot be established until the national acreage allotment has been apportioned among States and counties, and the commercial wheat-producing area has been designated, it is hereby determined that the regulations herein shall become effective upon filing with the Director, Division of the Federal Register.

§ 728.605 Apportionment of the national acreage allotment for the 1956 crop of wheat among the several States. The national acreage allotment proclaimed in § 728.603, less a reserve of one-tenth of one per centum thereof for additional allotments to counties, is hereby apportioned among the several States as follows:

PART 485—PREEXAMINATION OF ALIENS WITHIN THE CONTINENTAL UNITED STATES

Subpart A—Substantive Provisions

Sec.
485.1 Application.

Subpart B—Procedural and Other Non-Substantive Provisions

485.11 Disposition of case.

SUBPART A—SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 485.1 Application. Any alien, except a citizen of Canada, Mexico, or islands adjacent to the United States, who entered the United States prior to January 1, 1955, and has been continuously physically present in the United States since that date, may apply for preexamination on Form I–63 if he intends to apply to a consular officer of the United States in Canada for an immigrant visa and he believes that he will be admissible to the United States under all the provisions of the immigration laws if in possession of an immigrant visa; that he will be able to obtain the prompt issuance of an immigrant visa, and that he is a person of good moral character. Any alien who files Form I–63 shall be deemed to have thereby abandoned his nonimmigrant status in the United States. Form I–63 shall be submitted to the office of the Immigration and Naturalization Service having jurisdiction over the applicant's place of residence, and may be filed separately or in conjunction with a petition for nonquota or preference quota status under Part 204 or 205 of this chapter. If the applicant is under deportation proceedings, the application shall be made to the special inquiry officer during the hearing pursuant to § 242.54 (d) of this chapter. The applicant shall be notified of the decision, and, if the application is denied, of the reasons therefor and of his right to appeal under Part 6 or 7 of this chapter.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURAL AND OTHER NON-SUBSTANTIVE PROVISIONS

§ 485.11 Disposition of case. If preexamination has been authorized, the applicant shall not be preexamined until he has presented written assurance from the consular officer of the United States in Canada that a visa will be promptly available if upon personal examination he is found eligible for a visa, and a report from a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service setting forth findings of the applicant's mental and physical condition. Any applicant certified under paragraph (1), (2), (3), (4), or (5) of section 212 (a) of the act may appeal to a board of medical officers of the United States Public Health Service as provided in section 234 of the act and § 236.13 (c) of this chapter. Preexamination to determine the applicant's admissibility to the United States shall be conducted by an immigration officer. If it shall appear to the immigration officer that the applicant is not clearly and beyond a doubt admissible, the matter shall be referred to a special inquiry officer for disposition pursuant to section 236 of the Act and Part 236 of this chapter. If the applicant is found admissible, he shall be given a sealed letter addressed to the Canadian immigration officer at the port through which he will enter Canada, showing the purpose of the applicant's visit to Canada and guaranteeing that if admitted to Canada he will be readmitted to the United States. An applicant previously found admissible in preexamination proceedings, who, having proceeded to Canada, is found inadmissible at the time of seeking reentry into the United States, shall be paroled into the United States.

(Sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173; 8 U. S. C. 1103)

This order shall become effective on the date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Compliance with the provisions of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 238; 5 U. S. C. 1003) as to notice of proposed rule making and delayed effective date is unnecessary in this instance because the rules prescribed by the order, other than those that relate to matters of agency management or procedure, relieve restrictions and are clearly advantageous to persons affected thereby.

Dated: May 16, 1955.

J. M. SWING,
Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization.

Effective date. The foregoing amendment shall become effective upon issuance.

The amendment includes certain additional portions of Kinney, Maverick, Starr, Val Verde, and Zapata Counties within the area in Texas quarantined because of splenetic or tick fever. Hereafter, the restrictions pertaining to the interstate movement of certain animals and materials from or through such quarantined areas, contained in 9 CFR, and 1954 Supp., Part 72, apply to those portions of said counties.

The amendment also excludes certain portions of Cameron, Hidalgo, Starr, Webb, and Zapata Counties from the area in Texas quarantined because of that disease. Hereafter, the restrictions pertaining to the interstate movement of certain animals and materials from such quarantined areas, contained in 9 CFR, and 1954 Supp., Part 72, will not apply to those portions of said counties. However, the other restrictions on the interstate movement of certain animals and materials because of that disease, contained in said Part 72, will apply thereto.

The amendment imposes certain further restrictions necessary to prevent the spread of splenetic or tick fever, and relieves certain restrictions presently imposed. It must be made effective immediately to accomplish its purpose in the public interest and to be of maximum benefit to persons subject to the restrictions which are relieved. Accordingly, under section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1003), it is found upon good cause that notice and other public procedure with respect to the amendment are impracticable and contrary to the public interest, and good cause is found for making the amendment effective less than 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

R. 2881, 2973), which contains a notice with respect to the States in which swine are affected with vesicular exanthema, a contagious, infectious, and communicable disease, and which quarantines certain areas in such States because of said disease, is hereby further amended in the following respects:

1. Subparagraph (11) of paragraph (a), relating to San Mateo County in California, is amended to read:

(11) SW. ¼ Sec. 7, T. 3 S., R. 5 W., MDBM; SW. ¼ Sec. 11, T. 3 S., R. 6 N., MDBM; NE. ¼ Sec. 26, T. 3 S., R. 6 W., MDBM; and NW. ¼ Sec. 28, T. 4 S., R. 6 W., MDBM, in San Mateo County.

Hereafter, the restrictions pertaining to the interstate movement of swine, and carcasses, parts and offal of swine, from or through quarantined areas, contained in 9 CFR, 1954 Supp., Part 76, Subpart B, as amended, will not apply to such areas. However, the restrictions pertaining to such movement from nonquarantined areas, contained in said Subpart B, as amended, will apply thereto.

The amendment relieves certain restrictions presently imposed, and must be made effective immediately to be of maximum benefit to persons subject to the restrictions which are relieved. Accordingly, under section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. TITLE 32—NATIONAL DEFENSE

Chapter I—Office of the Secretary of Defense

Subchapter A—Armed Services Procurement Regulations

[Amdt. 3]

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

This subchapter is amended as follows:

PART 1—GENERAL PROVISIONS

SUBPART C—BASIC POLICIES

Delete § 1.307–1 and add new § 1.307–1, as follows:

§ 1.307 Responsible prospective contractor. • • •

§ 1.307–1 Pre-award survey. (a) A pre-award survey is a qualification check to determine that the prospective contractor is responsible. Such a survey need not cover all of the requirements of § 1.307 but may be limited to those requirements concerning which information readily available to the Contracting Officer is insufficient to support a determination. Preferably the survey should be made by technical and financial specialists in the appropriate fields, and may include an "on the spot" check of the facilities of the prospective contractor.

(b) If the Contracting Officer finds that readily available information is not sufficient to enable him to determine that the prospective contractor meets all of the applicable requirements of § 1.307, he shall request a pre-award survey. Where a procurement involves an extended production or delivery period, it may be necessary to request a pre-award survey with regard to § 1.307 (d), even though the contractor is known to be responsible in all other respects.

(c) Generally, a pre-award survey will not be necessary in determining that a prospective contractor is responsible when one or more of the following are applicable:

(i) The supplies required are off-the-shelf items to be obtained from a regular dealer or manufacturer.

(ii) The prospective supplier has proved his reliability and capability by satisfactory performance of an existing or recent similar contract or contracts.

(iii) The new purchase is an extension of a production or service currently being performed satisfactorily.

(iv) The purchase is to be made from a Federal Supply Schedule.

(d) Normally, where the dollar amount of a procurement is not sufficient to justify the cost of a pre-award survey, Contracting Officers will not request such a survey. However, where a Contracting Officer has reason to believe that a prospective Contractor may not be responsible, he may request a pre-award survey irrespective of the dollar amount of the procurement.

SUBPART F—DEBARRED, INELIGIBLE AND SUSPENDED BIDDERS

The headnote and contents of § 1.601–3 have been revised. Delete § 1.601–3 and insert in lieu thereof the following:

§ 1.601 Establishment and maintenance of a list of firms or individuals debarred or ineligible. • • •

§ 1.601–3 Protection of list. The list and all correspondence relating thereto shall be protected, in accordance with Departmental procedures, to prevent inspection of contents by non-Government personnel or by Government personnel who are not required to have access to such information.

PART 4—COORDINATED PROCUREMENT

SUBPART B—POLICIES AND GENERAL PRINCIPLES

Delete § 4.203–3 in its entirety, and add revised §4.203–3 in lieu thereof. A new § 4.203–6 has been added to this section, as follows:

§ 4.203 General principles governing implementation of procurement assignments • • •

§ 4.203–3 Small dollar value purchases. Requirements of small dollar value will be procured in accordance with the provisions of the approved implementing procedures covering the particular assignment. Such implementing procedures will normally provide a small dollar value limitation of $1,000 per line item; however, in special situations the limitation may vary depending upon the commodity area and may be expressed either in a higher or lower dollar value, by tonnage, less-than-carload lot quantities, or other units, as appropriate. Such implementing procedures will clearly state that requirements of a value or quantity less than the prescribed limitations will, wherever feasible, be procured by the Requiring Department. A MIPR for nonmilitary type items of a value or quantity less than the prescribed limitations will contain a notation that procurement by the Requiring Department was not considered to be feasible. A MIPR for a military type item need not contain such a notation. The Procuring Department will not return a MIPR submitted in accordance with the foregoing but will procure such items.

§ 4.203–6 Local purchase as normal means of supply. When local purchase of any nonmilitary type item has been authorized by a Requiring Department as the normal means of supply, such item may be obtained by that Department without regard to limitations prescribed in the procurement assignment implementing procedures. This authority will apply only while such item remains in "local purchase" status. For purposes of procurement and administrative planning, a Requiring Department will submit to the Procuring Department a list of the assigned items which have ben authorized for local purchase, identified by the commodity area in which such items are classified, and the dates on which such authorization for local purchase will be effective.

PART 7—CONTRACT CLAUSES

SUBPART A—CLAUSES FOR FIXED-PRICE SUPPLY CONTRACTS

Delete § 7.104–4 in its entirety. The contract clause set forth in this section will henceforth be deleted from contracts in view of the repeal of section 12 of the Neutrality Act of 1939 by Public Law 665, 83d Congress.

SUBPART B—CLAUSES FOR COST-REIMBURSEABLE TYPE SUPPLY CONTRACTS

Delete § 7.204–4 in its entirety. The contract clause set forth in this section will henceforth be deleted from contracts in view of the repeal of section 12 of the Neutrality Act of 1939 by Public Law 665, 83d Congress.

PART 12—LABOR

SUBPART H—NONDISCRIMINATION IN EMPLOYMENT

Sections 12.802 and 12.805–2, relating to applicability of requirements in connection with the non-discrimination in employment program, have been revised to conform with recent interpretations of the President's Committee on Government Contracts. Section 12.805–6 has also been revised to permit flexibility in the manner of processing complaints:

§ 12.802 Applicability. The nondiscrimination requirements are applicable to contracts and first-tier subcontracts as herein provided.

(a) Except as provided in this paragraph, the nondiscrimination clause, set forth in § 12.804, shall be included in all contracts involving the employment of labor.

(1) The clause shall not be included in—

(i) Contracts to be performed outside the continental United States where no recruitment of workers within the continental United States is involved;

(ii) Contracts to meet other special requirements or emergencies, if recommended by the Committee on Government Contracts (see § 12.803); and

(iii) Purchase orders on Standard Form 44.

(2) The last sentence of paragraph (a) and all of paragraph (b) of the clause shall be deleted from purchase orders for $5,000 or less which are not within the above exceptions.

(3) The Contracting Officer may delete the last sentence of paragraph (a) of the clause from contracts for $5,000 or less, other than purchase orders, when in his judgment administration of the posting requirement of the clause is impracticable. Examples of contracts where this deletion may be justified are contracts for off-the-shelf items and contracts requiring delivery of supplies or performance of services within 60 days from the date of the contract.

(b) Notwithstanding paragraph (b) of the nondiscrimination clause, by the terms of Executive Order 10557, a prime contractor is not required to insert any nondiscrimination clause in subcontracts of the kind described in paragraph (a) (1) (i) and (ii) of this section.

§ 12.805 Administration. • • •

§ 12.805–2 Posting of notices. In all instances, except where the nondiscrimination clause may have been modified as authorized by § 12.802, Contracting Officers shall provide to prime contractors copies of the notice entitled "Equal Economic Opportunity" (U. S. Government Printing Office: 1954 O–300378) which shall be obtained by Contracting Officers in accordance with Departmental procedures. Prime contractors shall be required to obtain from the Contracting Officer copies for first-tier subcontractors.

§ 12.805–6 Processing of complaints. Complaints may be submitted to the President's Committee on Government Contracts, the Secretary of Defense, or the Military Departments. Complaints submitted to the Military Department in accordance with § 12.805–4, and determined to involve a Government contract or subcontract, shall be processed in accordance with departmental procedures which will assure—

(a) Prompt investigation of statements and allegations contained in the complaint. Such investigations should include, where necessary, (1) a review of the pertinent personnel practice of the contractor or subcontractor concerned, (2) the circumstance under which the discriminatory action is alleged to have taken place, and (3) such other factors which may determine whether the contractor or subcontractor in the particular case complied with the provisions of the nondiscrimination clause set forth in the contract concerned.

(b) Resolution of complaints by conciliatory means whenever possible.

(c) The preparation and submission, through prescribed channels, of a report to the President's Committee on Government Contracts setting forth (1) a copy of the complaint together with a summary of the investigative action performed by the Department concerned, (2) corrective action taken or recommended by the Department where investigation discloses a need for such action, (3) recommendations or comments in connection with the complaints which investigation disclosed as unfounded, and (4) information that the Department considers should be brought to the attention of the President's Committee.

PART 13—GOVERNMENT PROPERTY

SUBPART A—GENERAL

Delete § 13.104 Effective date in its entirety. A new § 13.104, as follows, sets forth the respective responsibilities of prime and subcontractors where Government property is furnished or acquired by the prime contractor, but is in the custody or possession of a subcontractor. Certain relaxations of liability of the subcontractor are permissible with the approval of the Contracting Officer.

§ 13.104 Responsibility and liability for Government property.

§ 13.104–1 Responsibility of prime contractors for Government property. Except with respect to advertised fixed-price contracts, it is the basic policy of the Government not to hold the prime contractor responsible for loss of or damage to Government property caused by certain perils. This policy, as applied in facilities contracts, is set forth in § 13.411, and as implemented for use in other types of contracts, is contained in contract clauses set forth in Subpart E, of this part.

§ 13.104–2 Liability of subcontractors for Government property. The prime contractor shall be required to hold a subcontractor liable for loss or destruction of or damage to Government property in the possession or control of such subcontractor (the prime contractor, nevertheless, remaining responsible to the Government to maintain the records required by Appendix B or Appendix C of Part 30 of this subchapter: Provided, however, That—

(a) A prime contractor on a negotiated fixed-price basis may, with the prior approval of the Contracting Officer, include in any subcontracts thereunder provisions similar to those contained in § 13.502 (f) and designated for use in negotiated fixed-price contracts, with respect to Government property previously furnished to the prime contractor but in the possession or control of the subcontractor, and

(b) A prime contractor on a cost-reimbursement basis may, with the prior approval of the Contracting Officer, (1) include in any cost-reimbursement type subcontract thereunder provisions similar to those contained in § 13.503 (f), with respect to Government property in the possession or control of such subcontractor, and (2) include in any fixed-price subcontract thereunder provisions similar to those contained in § 13.502 (f) and designated for use in negotiated fixed-price contracts, with respect to Government property in the possession or control of such subcontractor: Provided, however, That whenever a fixed-price subcontract intervenes between the prime contractor and a subcontractor on a cost-reimbursement basis, the provisions so included shall be those referred to in (2) above.

Contracting Officers shall, prior to approving the inclusion in any subcontract of the provisions referred to in this section, satisfy themselves that the degree of protection and care to be afforded Government property in the possession or control of any such subcontractor is sufficient at all times to protect the interests of the Government.

SUBPART E—CONTRACT CLAUSES

1. Delete § 13.501 (a) and insert in lieu thereof the following:

§ 13.501 Applicability. (a) As used in this subpart, the term "fixed-price contract for supplies or services" shall mean any contract (1) entered into either by formal advertising or by negotiation, but excluding purchase orders for $5,000 or less, letter contracts, letters of intent, preliminary notices of award and amendments or modifications to contracts or purchase orders; (2) at a fixed-price (with or without provisions for price redetermination, escalation, or other form of price adjusement) as covered in §§ 3.402 to 3.404; inclusive; and (3) for supplies or services other than the construction, alteration, or repair of buildings, bridges, roads, or other kinds of real property.

• • • • • •

2. Several changes have been made to § 13.502 Government-furnished property clause for fixed-price contracts, as follows:

a. Delete paragraph (c) in its entirety, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

(c) Title to the Government-Furnished property shall remain in the Government. Title to Government-Furnished property shall not be affected by the incorporation or attachment thereof to any property not owned by the Government, nor shall such Government-Furnished property, or any part thereof, be or become a fixture or lose its identity as personalty by reason of affixation to any realty. The Contractor shall maintain adequate property control records of Government-Furnished property in accordance with the provisions of the "Manual for Control of Government Property in Possession of Contractors" (32 CFR, Part 30, App. B) as in effect on the date of this contract.

b. Delete the last paragraph in (f) (1), beginning with the words "The term 'contractor's managerial personnel'", and ending with the words "with the performance of this contract", and insert in lieu thereof, the following:

This clause shall not be construed as relieving a subcontractor from liability for loss or destruction of or damage to the Government-Furnished property while in its possession or control, except to the extent that the subcontract, with the prior approval of the Contracting Officer, may provide for the relief of the subcontractor from such liability. In the absence of such approval, the subcontract shall contain appropriate provisions requiring the return of all Government-Furnished property in as good condition as when received, except for reasonable wear and tear or for the utilization of the property in accordance with the provisions of the prime contract.

The term "Contractor's managerial personnel" as used herein means the Contractor's directors, officers and any of its managers, superintendents, or other equivalent representatives who have supervision or direction of (I) all or substantially all of the Contractor's business; (II) all or substantially all of the Contractor's operation at any one plant or separate location at which the contract is being performed; (III) a separate and complete major industrial operation in connection with the performance of this contract.

c. Delete (f) (vi) and insert in lieu thereof the following:

(vi) In the event the Contractor is reimbursed or compensated for any loss or destruction of or damage to the Government-Furnished property, caused by an excepted peril, it shall equitably reimburse the Government. The Contractor shall do nothing to prejudice the Government's rights to recover against third parties for any such loss, destruction or damage and, upon the request of the Contracting Officer, shall at the Government's expense, furnish to the Government all reasonable assistance and cooperation (including the prosecution of suit and the execution of instruments of assignment in favor of the Government) in obtaining recovery. In addition, where a subcontractor has not been relieved from liability for any loss or destruction of or damage to the Government-Furnished property, the Contractor shall enforce the liability of the subcontractor for such loss or destruction of or damage to the Government-Furnished property for the benefit of the Government.

3. Several changes have been made in § 13.503 Government property clause for cost-reimbursement type contracts, as follows:

a. Delete paragraph (c) in its entirety, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

(c) Title to the Government property shall not be affected by the incorporation or attachment thereof to any property not owned by the Government, nor shall such Government property, or any part thereof, be or become a fixture or lose its identity as personality by reason of affixation to any realty. The Contractor shall maintain adequate property control records of the Government property and shall identify the Government property as such in accordance with the provisions of the "Manual for Control of Government Property in Possession of Contractors" (32 CFR, Part 30, App. B) as in effect on the date of this contract, which is incorporated herein by reference.

b. Delete (f) (i), and insert in lieu thereof the following:

(f) (i) The Contractor shall not be liable for any loss of or damage to the Government property, or for expenses incidental to such loss or damage, except that the Contractor shall be responsible for any such loss or damage (including expenses incidental thereto) (A) which results from willful misconduct or lack of good faith on the part of any of the Contractor's directors or officers, or on the part of any of its managers, superintendents, or other equivalent representatives, who has supervision or direction of (I) all or substantially all of the Contractor's business, or (II) all or substantially all of the Contractor's operations at any one plant or separate location in which this contract is being performed, or (III) a separate and complete major industrial operation in connection with the performance of this contract; or (B) which results from a failure on the part of the Contractor, due to the willful misconduct or lack of good faith on the part of any of its directors, officers, or other representatives mentioned in subparagraph (A) above, (I) to maintain and administer, in accordance with sound industrial practice, the program for maintenance, repair, protection and preservation of Government property as required by paragraph (e) hereof, or (II) to take all reasonable steps to comply with any appropriate written directions of the Contracting Officer under paragraph (e) hereof; or (C) for which the Contractor is otherwise responsible under the express terms of clause(s) ---- of this contract, or of the clause or clauses designated in the Schedule; or (D) which results from a risk expressly required to be insured under this contract, but only to the extent of the insurance so required to be procured and maintained, or to the extent of insurance actually procured and maintained, whichever is greater; or (E) which results from a risk which is in fact covered by insurance or for which the Contractor is otherwise reimbursed, but only to the extent of such insurance or reimbursement; provided that, if more than one of the above exceptions shall be applicable in any case, the Contractor's liability under any one exception shall not be limited by any other exception. This clause shall not be construed as relieving a subcontractor from liability for loss or destruction of or damage to Government property in its possession or control, except to the extent that the subcontract, with the prior approval of the Contracting Officer, may provide for the relief of the subcontractor from such liability. In the absence of such approval, the subcontract shall contain appropriate provisions requiring the return of all Government property in as good condition as when received, except for reasonable wear and tear or for the utilization of the property in accordance with the provisions of the prime contract.

c. Delete (f) (iv), and insert in lieu thereof the following:

(iv) In the event the Contractor is indemnified, reimbursed, or otherwise compensated for any loss or destruction of or damage to the Government property, it shall use the proceeds to repair, renovate or replace the Government property involved, or shall credit such proceeds against the cost of the work covered by the contract, or shall otherwise reimburse the Government, as directed by the Contracting Officer. The Contractor shall do nothing to prejudice the Government's right to recover against third parties for any such loss, destruction or damage and, upon the request of the Contracting Officer, shall, at the Government's expense, furnish to the Government all reasonable assistance and cooperation (including the prosecution of suit and the execution of instruments of assignment in favor of the Government) in obtaining recovery. In addition, where the subcontractor has not been relieved from liability for any loss or destruction of or damage to Government property, the Contractor shall enforce the liability of the subcontractor for such loss or destruction of or damage to the Government property for the benefit of the Government.

(2) The equitable distribution of procurement contracts among the maximum number of competent suppliers.

• • • • • •

(8) The placement of contracts with a view to economies in the use of transportation facilities.

• • • • • •

(b) Procurements effected under Title II of the First War Powers Act, 1941, as amended, Executive Order 10210, February 2, 1951, and regulations issued thereunder will be governed by basic policies and procedures set forth in Subpart D, Part 606 of this subchapter.

3. Add §§ 590.302-4 and 590.307, and revise § 590.305 as follows:

§ 590.302-4 Firms performing contracts in labor surplus areas. In order to carry out the purpose and policy objectives of Industry Notifications under Defense Manpower Policy No. 4 (implemented by § 1.302-4 of this title), Contracting Officers will take the following action with respect to each industry: Provided, That in no case shall price differentials be paid for the purpose of carrying out these policy objectives.

(a) Textile industry; Notification No. 38. (1) The textile industry, for the purposes of Notification No. 38, is defined as set forth in the Standard Industrial Classification Manual, with the following modification: includes all of Major Group 22—Textile Mill Products, and Industry Nos. 2391 and 2392 (curtains and draperies, and house furnishings). Excludes Industry No. 2274 (linoleum, asphalted-felt-base, and other hard-surface floor coverings not elsewhere classified) and Industry No. 2298 (cordage and twine).

(2) Contracting Officers will endeavor to place contracts with those manufacturers whose weaving operations (in case of weaving or integrated mills) or whose spinning operations (in case of spinning mills) during the period of performance of such contracts will not be in excess of 80 hours a week (not including other supporting activities).

(3) The Office of Defense Mobilization has directed that there be no preference on an area basis. Preferences under set-asides established under Chapter I of this title will therefore be limited to firms which meet the aforementioned hours of work criterion wherever located.

(b) Shoe industry; Notification No. 39. The shoe and footwear industry is subject to the general application of Defense Manpower Policy No. 4 as implemented by § 1.302-4 of this title and related sections. The Office of Defense Mobilization has directed that there be no special treatment of the shoe industry, and any set-asides established shall be offered to qualified firms in labor surplus areas in accordance with Chapter I of this title.

(c) Apparel industry; Notification No. 53. (1) The apparel industry, for the purposes of Notification No. 53, is defined as set forth in the Standard Industrial Classification Manual and includes all of the Major Group 23 except Group No. 239.

(2) Whenever feasible, under the same invitation, bids should be requested for jackets or coats and trousers as separate items, in order that if so desired bidders may bid in combinations of units and, to the extent that requirements warrant, at least an equal amount of trousers should be included.

(3) The Quality Clause in its present form should be retained and carefully administered.

(4) Since the Office of Defense Mobilization has directed that there be no preference on an area basis, there shall be no set-aside of items in this industry.

(d) Shipbuilding industry; Notification No. 57. (1) For the purposes of Notification No. 57, the shipbuilding industry is defined as establishments primarily engaged in building all types of ships, barges, canal boats, and lighters of 5 gross tons and over, whether propelled by sail and motor power or towed by other craft. Establishments primarily engaged in fabricating structural assemblies or components for ships, or subcontractors engaged in ship painting, joinery, carpentry work, electrical wiring installation, etc., are not classified in this industry.

(2) In the placement of shipbuilding contracts, preference should be given, wherever practicable, to firms which can meet their contract obligations without any substantial use of overtime labor and without the construction of new facilities.

(3) Whenever practicable, proposals should be invited and contracts awarded on a small-lot basis rather than on a large-lot basis. Small-lot procurements, which permit small yards to bid and spread the work among a larger number of private yards, should be employed to the maximum practicable extent.

(e) Petroleum industry; Notification No. 58. The petroleum industry is exempted from the application of Defense Manpower Policy No. 4, as implemented by § 1.302-4 of this title and related sections. There shall accordingly be no set-aside of items in this industry.

§ 590.305 Specifications. Every item procured either by formal advertising or negotiation shall be described by referencing the applicable specification(s) or, by a description containing the necessary requirements when exempted under the provisions in paragraph (b) of this section. This section does not apply to purchases falling under the provision of § 3.210-2 (m) of this title. Regulations covering the preparation and promulgation of specifications are contained in SR 715-50-1 (Army special regulations governing specifications and standards).

(a) Mandatory use of Federal Military Specifications. Applicable coordinated Federal and Military Specifications and those Interim Federal and Limited Coordination Military Specifications issued by Army technical services are mandatory for use by all procuring activities of the Department of the Army.

(b) Exemptions. Federal and Military Specifications need not be used for the following: (1) Purchase incident to research and development, (2) purchase of items for test or evaluation, (3) purchase of laboratory test equipment for use by Government laboratories, (4) purchase of items for authorized resale except military clothing, (5) purchase of items in an amount not to exceed $1,000 (multiple small purchases of less than $1,000 of the same item shall not be made for the purpose of avoiding the intent of this exemption), (6) purchase of one-time procurement items, (7) purchase of items for which it is impracticable or uneconomical to prepare a specification (repetitive use of a purchase description containing the essential characteristics or a specification will be construed as improper use of this exemption).

(c) Purchase descriptions and "or equal." (1) Items exempted under the foregoing provisions may be described in Invitations for Bids or Request for Proposals by use of a purchase description, providing such description adequately specifies all of the essential requirements. When a product cannot be adequately described because of its technically involved construction or composition, the name of one or preferably more commercial products may be used for the description followed by the words "or equal," to permit free and open competition and not limit bidding to the particular make or makes specified. Such reference to commercial products shall not be restrictive to the product of one manufacturer, but shall be for the sole purpose of providing a common basis for competitive bidding.

(2) Heads of Procuring Activities will insure that necessary discretion is exercised in preparation of purchase descriptions, evaluation of bids, and award of contracts when such descriptions are used. Repeated use of a purchase description for any item other than one of minor significance indicates a need for a specification. In these instances, necessary action will be taken to provide for issuance of adequate Military or Federal Specifications as appropriate. Special precaution will be exercised to prevent the phrase "or equal" being used to procure proprietary products under the guise of competitive bidding procedures, to the exclusion of other similar products at least of equal quality and performance that meet the actual needs. Use of the phrase "or equal" is not intended as a device to substantiate a determination that no other product is equal in quality and performance to the product specifically listed in the Invitation for Bids or Request for Proposal. In instances where a proper determination has been made that one, and only one, supplier can furnish the required item or items, procurement should be accomplished by negotiation in accordance with Part 3 of this title and Part 592 of this subchapter. Rejection of a low bid offering products "as equal" to the product or products listed in an Invitation for Bids or Request for Proposals followed by "or equal," will be based on factual determination of "equality."

(d) Deviations and waivers. All deviations and waivers to Federal and Military Specifications will be subjected to competent review as prescribed by the Heads of Procuring Activities. Significant deviations and waivers will be reported to the Deputy Chief of Staff for Logistics, Department of the Army ATTN: Chief, Standards Branch at the time such deviations or waivers are made. To avoid the need for repeated deviations and waivers, immediate action will be taken in accordance with procedure established in each technical service to amend or revise specifications.

(e) Oversea purchases. Contracting Officers are authorized to deviate from this paragraph, subject to any instructions which may be issued by the Head of the Procuring Activity involved, for procurement effected outside the United States, its Territories, and possessions, to the extent of using where necessary, such specifications, standards, and purchase descriptions of foreign governments and foreign trade associations, which will be understood readily by foreign vendors, provided that adequate measures are taken to insure satisfactory and acceptable products, including standard and interchangeable items, where required. Reports of deviation from Federal and Military Specifications will not be required for oversea purchases.

(f) Supply of specifications to activities outside the Government. A liberal attitude shall be taken in complying with requests for specifications from prospective bidders and possible manufacturers of supplies, whether for the purpose of broadening the peacetime market or for establishing new sources of supply in case of emergency.

(g) Options permitted by specifications. Many specifications cover several grades or types or provide for optional requirements. When such specifications are used in conformity with paragraph (a) of this section, the Invitation for Bids or Requests for Proposals shall specifically state the grade, type, or option on which bids or quotations are to be based.

§ 590.307 Responsible prospective contractor. In determining responsibility, primary emphasis will be placed upon the prospective Contractor's technical and financial ability to perform the contract successfully. Where a Contractor is not responsible, even though it is anticipated that a future event would make him responsible, an award contingent upon such future event is prohibited. For example, it would be improper to award a supply contract conditioned on the Contractor obtaining adequate financing within 30 days from the date of the award.

(a) A preaward qualification check or survey will be made of the technical and financial capabilities of the prospective Contractor in order to provide the basis for evaluating responsibility. Qualification checks or surveys may be curtailed to the extent the prospective Contractor's qualifications are known to be satisfactory or when not required in the judgment of the Contracting Officer. The contract file of the Contracting Officer will contain a record of his determination of the responsibility of the Contractor in all cases over $1,000, with such supporting evidence as is secured by him through qualification checks or surveys. In the event the Contracting Officer determines that a preaward survey need not be made, a statement to that effect with supporting reasons for the waiver on all contracts over $1,000 will be made a part of the contract file.

(b) In evaluating the responsibility of prospective Contractors, consideration will be given to the following factors, as well as to any others which may be deemed appropriate.

(1) Whether the Contractor qualifies as a "source of supply," as defined in § 1.201–9 of this title and § 590.201–9.

(2) Financial ability to perform the contract, including the availability of necessary working capital and credit, as determined from the following and any other appropriate sources:

(i) Balance sheets and profit and loss statements.

(ii) Credit reports of commercial- and financial-reporting agencies.

(iii) Data available at the prospective Contractor's banks.

(iv) Information concerning other contractual commitments.

(3) Financial aid furnished or required to be furnished by the Government.

(4) Business and financial reputation and integrity of the prospective Contractor, and where its reputation and integrity are not established, of the principal executives of the prospective Contractor, as determined by checks of the following sources:

(i) The prospective contractor's banks.

(ii) Trade creditors.

(iii) Any other source, governmental or private, which has had substantial previous dealings with the prospective Contractor.

(5) Business and manufacturing experience, including length of time in present business, production efficiency, and technical ability.

(6) Types of supplies, equipment, components, material, and services currently being manufactured, performed, or developed.

(7) Similarity between items currently being produced and items required by the proposed contract.

(8) Total amount of business on hand (military and commercial) as effecting the ability of the prospective Contractor to meet deliveries required under the contract.

(9) Prospective Contractor's past record of performance of Government contracts.

(10) Adequacy and availability of facilities, materials, and personnel for performance of the specific contract involved, including, when applicable, consideration of:

(i) Plant space.

(ii) Manufacturing equipment.

(iii) Testing, inspection, and laboratory facilities.

(iv) Training facilities.

(v) Materials and components.

(vi) Trained labor.

(vii) Key production and engineering personnel.

(viii) Subcontractors.

(11) Furnishing of a performance bond.

4. Sections 590.354 and 590.355 are revised, and §§ 590.354–1, 590.354–2, 590.354–3, 590.354–4, 590.354–5, 590.355–1, 590.355–2, 590.355–3, 590.355–4, 590.357 and 590.358 are revoked, as follows:

§ 590.354 Manpower policy in placing procurement—(a) General policy. Purchasing officers will give careful consideration to the adequacy of the local labor supply in placing contracts and in planning delivery schedules. From an economic and security standpoint, and when feasible, it is preferable to place procurement at the sources of labor supply rather than move the labor supply.

(b) Procurements in Group I and Group II areas. To the extent practicable, procurement will be avoided in labor market areas where manpower is in short supply or in approximate balance. These areas are designated Group I and Group II by the Department of Labor.

(1) The importance of avoiding procurements in such areas may be seen in relation to the criteria for designating a labor shortage area. Under these criteria the current and projected labor supply is expected to fall significantly short of meeting manpower requirements of essential activities, where essential activities account for at least 40 percent of the total nonagricultural workers in the area. Thus, not only would timely performance on the proposed contract be difficult, but timely performance on the large amount of essential work already in the area would be jeopardized.

(2) Before placing contracts involving significant additional manpower in labor shortage areas, Contracting Officers will obtain detailed information on labor market conditions. A net increase of two hundred above the current employment level will be considered "significant additional manpower."

(c) Procurement in Group IV areas. To the extent practical, procurement should be placed in labor market areas having surplus manpower (group IV areas). Sections 1.302–4, 2.205, 2.406–4, 3.105, and 3.219 of this title prescribe procedures applicable to procurement in group IV areas.

(d) Government facilities. Procedures set forth in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section are similarly applicable to Government-owned and operated facilities. The procedures will be used in reaching decisions regarding the location, relocation, expansion, or contraction of such facilities when the decisions would involve significant changes in the current employment level. Construction manpower is not involved in this consideration. Commanding Officers will furnish local public employment offices timely information regarding civilian labor requirements at Government facilities.

(e) Labor market-areas. (1) Classification of labor areas are listed bimonthly by the Department of Labor, and interim notices are published as required. The listing appears in "Bimonthly Summary of Labor Market Development in Major Areas." Contracting Officers are responsible for utilizing this publication. It may be obtained by application to the Bureau of Employment Security, United States Department of Labor, Washington 25, D. C.

(2) At times it is necessary to determine whether there is an adequate labor supply in market areas in addition to the designated areas. In such cases, Contracting Officers will secure additional detailed manpower information direct from the Department of Labor and affiliated State Employment Offices.

(f) Application of policy contractor. (1) Small business specialists and Contracting Officers, should urge prime contractors to be guided by this policy.

(2) Prime contractors should be encouraged to advise their subcontractors to inform local public employment offices of anticipated labor requirements for fulfillment of Government orders.

§ 590.355 Use of certificates of necessity and expediting production funds. It is the policy of the Department of the Army that Certificates of Necessity and the utilization of Expediting and Production Funds will be recommended for approval only in those instances where no other adequate facilities for the furnishing of the supplies or services exist which can be operated by responsible firms.

5. Paragraph (a) of § 591.204 is revoked, and §§ 591.206 and 591.206–2 are added as follows:

§ 591.204 Bidders mailing list. (a) [Revoked.]

§ 591.206 Synopses of proposed procurements.

§ 591.206–2 Preparation and transmittal of synopses—(a) Instructions for teletyping of synopses. Teletyped synopses will be prepared for transmission as follows:

(1) The first line of the text of the message will state the number of the synopsis being sent. Synopses will be numbered consecutively.

(2) The second line will state the name and location of the purchasing office straight across the page (not to exceed 70 typewriter spaces) continuing on the next line if necessary.

(3) The description of the item being procured will be set forth in capital letters, using the dash for commas, and will not exceed 31 typewriter spaces per line. The description will be clear, concise, abbreviated wherever possible, but in sufficient detail for clear understanding by interested parties; it will consist of a minimum general description of the item being procured and, when appropriate, will include commonly used names of supply items, basic materials from which fabricated, general size or dimensions, etc. Citations to specification, drawing numbers or other identifying data will be included, if such information will assist prospective suppliers in determining whether they are interested in the procurement.

(4) The column designating the quantity to be procured begins on typewriter space 32 and will not exceed 10 spaces per line. The quantity should be centered between spaces 32 and 41. Quantity to be procured will be indicated, except when purchasing offices deem it advisable, quantities may be published as "more than ---------."

(5) The column designating the invitation or request number begins on typewriter space 42 and will not exceed 16 spaces per line. Invitation for Bids numbers will be followed by the letter "B." Request for proposals or quotations will be indicated by the letter "Q" or, if numbered, the number will be followed by the letter "Q." The invitation or request number should be centered between spaces 42 and 57.

(6) The column designating the opening date (or last date of submission of proposals or quotations) begins on typewriter space 58 and will not exceed 13 spaces. The date should be centered between spaces 58 and 70.

(7) Columnar headings will be omitted.

(8) Receiving machines automatically cut stencils at the time the message is received, and any deviations will cause the format of the synopsis printed by the Department of Commerce to be out of line. Therefore each reporting office will adhere to these instructions.

(9) Each reporting office will discuss the instructions contained in this paragraph with its communications office so that the manner in which the message is to be transmitted is thoroughly understood by the office preparing the message and the communications office.

(b) Alternate transmission media. Where access to the Army Command and Administrative Network (ACAN) is not available, synopses will be dispatched via air mail to the following address:

Administrative Office, U. S. Department of Commerce, 433 West Van Buren Street, Chicago, 7, Ill.

(c) Contents of synopses when not teletyped. Synopses air mailed will contain the same information required for synopses which are teletyped in substantially the same form as prescribed in paragraph (a) of this section. In addition to this information, appropriate columnar headings will be used.

(d) Information copies. In addition to requirements of § 2.206–2 (a) of this title, a copy of the synopsis will be forwarded by mail to Procurement Information Center, Office of the Assistant Secretary of the Army (Logistics and Research and Development), Old Post Office Building, 12th and Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington 25, D. (b) Cases not encompassed by the delegation referred to above and those doubtful cases which the delegates elect to submit to higher authority for determination will be forwarded direct to the Deputy Chief of Staff for Logistics, Department of the Army, ATTN: Chief, Purchases Branch (with copy to the Head of the Procuring Activity concerned), and will include, in addition to the supporting data required by Chapter I of this title, the Contracting Officer's statement of findings and recommendations as called for by § 2.405–2 (e) of this title, in triplicate as well as a clear statement that an award has not been made.

(c) Where circumstances require such prompt action as to preclude transmittal of the case by mail, Contracting Officers will use telegraphic, telephonic, or radio means of communicating with the appropriate higher authority, furnishing, so far as possible, the information called for by § 2.405–2 (e) of this title.

(d) Notice to Contracting Officers of determinations made by higher authority and instructions based thereon will be issued by the head of a technical service when so authorized, or by the Deputy Chief of Staff for Logistics (Chief, Purchases Branch), to the Head of the Procuring Activity, except that in the latter instance Contracting Officers may be notified direct in cases requiring expeditious action and the Head of the Procuring Activity notified simultaneously.

(b) To disbursing officer. The Contracting Officer will furnish a copy of the administrative determination, or a copy of the decision of the Comptroller General, if any, respecting a mistake in bid, to the Disbursing Officer to support any payment made or to be made by him.

§ 591.405–51 Title II of the First War Powers Act, 1941. Mistake in bid cases processed under authority of Title II of the First War Powers Act, 1941, as amended, will be governed by Subpart D, Part 606 of this subchapter.

(b) Delivery orders for supplies listed in the Federal Supply Schedule will be addressed and forwarded direct to the Contractor indicated and shall contain sufficient data to enable prompt identification (by disbursing and auditing agencies) of the correct listing in the proper Federal Supply Schedule. These data will include contract number, item number, and where applicable, supplement, region, or zone number.

(e) In the case of service station deliveries of gasoline and lubricating oil under Federal Supply Schedule (Classes 7 and 14) by means of an identification card, the delivery ticket prepared by the service station and signed by identification card holder at the time of delivery constitutes a "Delivery Order." When such a delivery ticket is used as a "delivery order", the provisions of paragraph (c) and (d) of this section do not apply.

§ 594.103 Mandatory use of Federal Supply Schedules.

§ 594.103–1 Exceptions to mandatory use—(a) Emergency procurement. When purchase is made from the open market of supplies or services listed in Federal Supply Schedules and designated as mandatory on the Department of Defense, the voucher submitted to the Disbursing Officer for payment shall contain a finding that the purchase was justified because the supplies or services could not be furnished under Federal Supply Schedule contracts at the time such supplies or services were required. Such finding shall be final and conclusive. In each instance, the finding will set forth the specific reasons why the time element made the emergency purchase necessary. The determination that the supplier could not furnish such supplies or services by the time required can be made only if the suppliers in the applicable schedules have been given the opportunity to so state.

SUBPART B—PROCUREMENT FROM FEDERAL SUPPLY SERVICE STORES DEPOTS

§ 594.204–1 Common administrative supplies. The use of DD Form 738 (Order and Voucher for Purchase of Supplies and Services), for purchases not in excess of $1,000 constitutes another simplified small purchase method to be considered for use under § 5.204–1 (b) of this title.

SUBPART F—PROCUREMENT OF PRINTING AND RELATED SUPPLIES

§ 594.601 Printing and related supplies. Procedures applicable to the procurement of printing and related supplies are as follows:

Where appropriate, request should also set forth facts concerning general impact which would result from failure to secure contracts with the contractor concerning whom the request is made.

12. Section 602.1701–1 is revised to read as follows:

§ 602.1701–1 Records of plant equipment. The form of property records to be maintained for plant equipment shall be prescribed by the respective technical service, giving due consideration to the provisions of SR 715–5–25. In addition to the exceptions provided for in paragraph 304.3 (a) and (b) of the manual, the following exception also is applicable:

(a) Records of plant equipment priced at $500 or less with the exception provided for in § 602.1705 (g). Items of plant equipment of identical nomenclature and operating performance for which individual item accounting is not required may be recorded on a single record. In the event such items of property listed on a single record have serial numbers and/or manufacturer's number, these numbers will be listed on the appropriate record or on a single supporting list.

(b) Description of equipment. The description of accessory and auxiliary equipment specified by paragraph 304.3 (a) of the manual, to be entered on the plant equipment record of the item on which they are being used should not be construed to require records of motor serial numbers to be kept current during the life of a contract, reflecting changes between machines for maintenance purposes. The procedures of the Property Administrator and the Contractor will, however, upon receipt and inspection of equipment at contract completion or termination account for all accessory and auxiliary equipment which is attached to or otherwise a part of an item of plant equipment, and which is required for its normal operation.

TITLE 47—TELECOMMUNICATION

Chapter I—Federal Communications Commission

[Docket No. 11312; FCC 55–562]

TABLE OF ASSIGNMENTS; TELEVISION BROADCAST STATIONS

1. The Commission has before it for consideration its notice of proposed rule making and order to show cause (FCC 55–353) issued in this proceeding on March 24, 1955 and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on March 30, 1955 (20 F. R. 1991). The notice advised that Mt. Mansfield Television, Inc., permittee of television Station WMVT operating on Channel 3 at Montpelier, Vermont, had filed a petition requesting rule making to amend the table of assignments contained in § 3.606 of the Commission's rules and regulations so as to assign Channel 3 to Burlington, Vermont, instead of Montpelier, Vermont. Mt. Mansfield Television, Inc., was also ordered to show cause why its outstanding authorization should not be modified to specify operation on Channel 3 at Burlington in lieu of Montpelier.

2. No comments opposing the proposed amendment were filed. Mt. Mansfield filed comments in support of the amendment and in consent to the order to show cause.

3. In support of its requested amendment and show cause order, petitioner notes that Channel 3 is the only VHF assignment in the State of Vermont; that it is the permittee of Station WMVT on Channel 3 in Montpelier with temporary studios authorized at Burlington, and that its present transmitter site, located on Mt. Mansfield, 28 miles from Montpelier and 20 miles from Burlington provides greater than the required "principal-city" coverage over the entire City of Burlington. Petitioner urges adoption of the proposed amendment for the reasons that Burlington is the largest city in Vermont and the terminal for network programs; that Burlington affords greater opportunity for local programming than does Montpelier because of the number of educational, religious and farming organizations located there; that Burlington is more accessible to the majority of the people in Vermont than is Montpelier, and that operation of Station WMVT from studios in Burlington is more convenient and economical since only a one-hop STL is necessary between studios located in Burlington and the transmitter site whereas two such hops are needed for studios located in Montpelier.

4. The Commission is of the view that the amendment proposed by Mansfield would be in the public interest since it would provide a more effective use of the available facilities. In addition, since the amendment adopted herein involves an existing station, the Commission believes that the public interest would be served by making the amendment effective immediately.

5. Authority for the adoption of the proposed amendment is contained in sections 4 (i), 301, 303 (c), (d), (f), and (r), 307 (b), and 316 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

6. In view of the foregoing: It is ordered, That, effective immediately, the outstanding authorization of Station WMVT is modified to specify operation on Channel 3 at Burlington, Vermont, instead of Montpelier, Vermont.

7. It is further ordered, That effective immediately, the table of assignments contained in § 3.606, rules governing television broadcast stations is amended, insofar as the cities named are concerned, as follows:

Burlington, Vt	3, °16+, 22+
Montpelier, Vt	40

PART 3—RADIO BROADCAST SERVICES

PART 4—EXPERIMENTAL AND AUXILIARY BROADCAST SERVICES

PERIOD FOR WHICH VARIOUS STATION RECORDS MUST BE RETAINED IN STATIONS' FILES

1. Parts 3 and 4 of the Commission's rules and regulations provide that broadcast stations must maintain various records with respect to station operations. However, in many instances, the rules do not specify the period of time such records must be retained by the stations. This lack of specificity has resulted in a burden on the part of the licensees in their record keeping. Accordingly, the Commission believes that the public interest, convenience and necessity would be served by amending its rules to specify the length of time such records must be retained in the stations' files.

2. Existing rules provide that program and operating logs of broadcast stations must be retained for a period of two years, with certain exceptions. Our experience indicates that this two-year period is satisfactory and does not constitute an undue burden on the part of the broadcasters. The Commission has therefore decided that this two-year retention period should also be provided for other records which must be maintained by broadcast stations. Accordingly, the Commission is amending its rules and regulations with respect to the keeping of records by broadcast stations as set forth below.

3. Authority for the adoption of the amendments herein is contained in sections 4 (i) and (j), and 303 (r) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

4. In light of the nature of the amendments adopted herein, prior publication of notice of proposed rule making is unnecessary and the amendments may be made effective immediately.

5. It is ordered, This 11th day of May 1955, that, effective immediately, Parts 3 and 4 of the Commission's rules and regulations are amended as set forth below.

(Sec. 4, 48 Stat. 1066, as amended; 47 U. S. C. 154. Interpret or apply sec. 303, 48 Stat. 1062; 47 U. S. C. 303)

Released: May 13, 1955.

[SEAL] MARY JANE MORRIS,
Secretary.

PROCEDURE ALTERATIONS

The standard instrument approach procedure alterations appearing hereinafter are adopted to become effective when indicated in order to promote safety. Compliance with the notice, procedures, and effective date provisions of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act would be impracticable and contrary to the public interest, and therefore is not required.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

[47 CFR Part 3]

[Docket No. 11331]

ORDER EXTENDING TIME FOR FILING COMMENTS ON OPERATION OF CO-CHANNEL AMPLIFYING TRANSMITTERS IN CONJUNCTION WITH MAIN TRANSMITTER

In the matter of amendment of the Commission's rules and regulations governing Television Broadcast Stations to permit the operation of co-channel amplifying transmitters in conjunction with the main transmitter; Docket No. 11331.

1. On March 31, 1955, the Commission issued a notice of proposed rule making (FCC 55-404) instituting the subject rule making proceeding. The Notice provided that comments should be filed on or before May 20, 1955, and that reply comments should be filed on or before June 9, 1955.

2. On May 9, 1955, Radio-Electronics-Television Manufacturers Association (RETMA) filed a petition requesting the Commission to extend the time for filing comments to July 21, 1955.

3. In support of its request, RETMA states that during the last year its Satellite Television Committee has given intensive consideration to the subject matter of this proceeding and is presently preparing comments; that the Commission's Notice requests a considerable amount of technical data; and that although its Committee is presently accumulating this data, additional time is required to complete this undertaking.

4. The Commission believes that RETMA has established good cause for the extension of time for filing comments in this proceeding and that the additional time requested within which to file comments is warranted. The Commission has concluded, therefore, that extending the time for filing comments in this proceeding would serve the public interest, convenience and necessity.

5. In view of the foregoing: It is ordered, That the time for filing original comments in the above-entitled proceeding is extended to July 21, 1955, with replies thereto 20 days thereafter.

Adopted: May 13, 1955.

Released: May 16, 1955.

[SEAL] MARY JANE MORRIS,
Secretary.

TABLE OF ASSIGNMENTS

In the matter of amendment of § 3.606 Table of assignments rules governing Television Broadcast Stations; Docket No. 11391.

1. Notice is hereby given that the Commission has received a proposal for rule making in the above-entitled matter.

2. Bi-States Company, permittee of television Station KHOL-TV operating on Channel 13 at Kearney, Nebraska, filed a petition on February 21, 1955, requesting rule making to amend the Table of Assignments contained in § 3.606, rules governing Television Broadcast Stations, so as to assign Channel 6 to Hayes Center, Nebraska, a community not presently listed in the Table.

3. In support of the requested assignment, petitioner urges that the southwestern portion of the State of Nebraska does not now have an operating television station; that there are no applications for the nearest assignments at McCook and North Platte; that the proposed assignment would conform to the Commission's rules; and that in the event the assignment is made final, an application will be filed for a new station at Hayes Center to be operated as a "satellite" of and duplicating for the most part, the programs of KHOL-TV at Kearney.

4. The Commission is of the view that rule-making proceedings should be instituted in this matter in order that interested parties may submit their views. The subject petition is made a part of this docket.

5. Authority for the adoption of the proposed amendment is contained in sections 4 (i), 301, 303 (c), (d), (f), and (r), and 307 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

6. Any interested party who is of the opinion that the amendment proposed by petitioner should not be adopted, or should not be adopted in the form set forth herein, may file with the Commission on or before June 15, 1955, a written statement or brief setting forth his comments. Comments in support of the proposed amendment may also be filed on or before the same date. Comments or briefs in reply to the original comments may be filed within 10 days from the last day for filing said original comments or briefs. No additional comments may be filed unless (1) specifically requested by the Commission or (2) good cause for the filing of such additional comments is established. The Commission will consider such comments before taking final action in this matter, and if any comments appear to warrant the holding of a hearing or oral argument, notice of the time and place of such hearing or oral argument will be given.

7. In accordance with the provisions of § 1.764 of the Commission's rules and regulations, an original and 14 copies of all statements, briefs, or comments shall be furnished the Commission.

Adopted: May 11, 1955.

Released: May 13, 1955.

NEW MEXICO

CLASSIFICATION ORDER

MAY 13, 1955.

1. Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Director, Bureau of Land Management, by Order No. 541, dated April 21, 1954, 19 F. R. 2473, I hereby classify as hereinafter indicated, under the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938 (52 Stat. 609, 43 U. S. C. 682a), as amended, the following described lands in the New Mexico land district, embracing approximately 235 acres.

NEW MEXICO SMALL TRACT CLASSIFICATION NO. 40

For lease and sale for homesites only:

T. 29 N., R. 13 W., N. M. P. M.,
Sec. 12, SW¼NE¼, E½NE¼SW¼, E½ NW¼NE¼SW¼, SW¼NE¼SW¼, SE¼ SW¼, W½SE¼, SE¼SE¼.

The land is situated on the peninsula between the Animas and San Juan Rivers east of and near the Town of Farmington, New Mexico. The area is approximately 2 miles east of the Town of Farmington and one mile north of State Highway No. 17. It is situated at two elevations which are described as follows:

The greater part of the area lies on top of and to the east of a high bluff. The topography is rolling, and in places, quite rough, but it can be used for the purpose of the proposed classification. A great part of this area is covered with scattered pinion and juniper with a sparse grass and sagebrush understory. There are intermingled patches of good soil and sand-rock outcroppings.

The NW¼SW¼NE¼ and the NE¼ SW¼ are situated below and to the west of the bluffs. Portions of the two tracts are below the main irrigation canal. One has been farmed in the past. The remainder of the area between the canal and the bluffs could be reclaimed for garden areas and irrigated with small pumping systems from the canal. It may be very difficult and quite costly to obtain a potable water supply. There are no utilities on the tract, but all are available. Natural gas can be obtained from existing pipelines situated less than one-fourth mile from the north boundary of the area. Electric power and telephone connections are available from one mile either to the west or south of the area. Schools, churches and recreational facilities are available in the Town of Farmington.

2. As to applications filed on these lands prior to 10:30 a. m., March 30, 1954, this order shall become effective upon the date it is signed, provided said applications are made to conform to the type of use and descriptions of lands specified in this order.

3. This order shall not otherwise become effective to change the status of such lands until 10:30 a. m. on June 18, 1955. At that time the said lands shall, subject to valid existing rights and the provisions of existing withdrawals, become subject to applications under the Small Tract Act as follows:

(a) Ninety-one day period for preference-right filings. For a period of 91 days, commencing at the hour and on the day specified above, the public lands affected by this order shall be subject to applications under the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938, 52 Stat. 609 (43 U. S. C. 682a) as amended, by qualified veterans of World War II, subject to the requirements of applicable law. All applications filed under this paragraph, either at or before 10:30 a. m. on June 18, 1955, shall be treated as though filed simultaneously at that time. All applications filed under this paragraph after 10:30 a. m. on June 18, 1955, shall be considered in the order of filing.

(b) Date for non-preference-right filings. Commencing at 10:30 a. m. on September 17, 1955, any lands remaining unappropriated shall become subject to disposal under the Small Tract Act only. All such applications filed either at or before 10:30 a. m., September 17, 1955, shall be treated as though filed simultaneously at the hour specified on September 17, 1955. All applications filed thereafter shall be considered in the order of filing.

4. A veteran shall accompany his application with a complete photostatic, or other copy (both sides) of his certificate of honorable discharge, or of an official document of his branch of the service which shows clearly his honorable discharge as defined in § 101.36 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations, or constitutes evidence of other facts upon which the claim for preference is based and which shows clearly the period of service. Persons asserting preference rights, through settlement or otherwise, and those having equitable claims, shall accompany their application by duly corroborated statements in support thereof, setting forth in detail all facts relevant to their claim.

5. The lands will be leased in tracts of approximately 2.5 acres, 330 feet by 330 feet. Leases will be for a period of 3 years at an annual rental of $5.00 per year payable for the entire lease period in advance of the issuance of the lease.

6. Leases will contain an option to purchase clause at $400.00 per tract.

(a) Applications for purchase may be filed during the term of the lease, provided that minimum improvements suitable for the purpose for which the lease is issued shall have been constructed prior to the date of application to purchase. Minimum improvements shall consist of a modern 2 bedroom house with a minimum of 800 square feet of floor space. The houses should be permanent, sightly and constructed in accordance with good architectural practices. Adequate community sanitation standards shall be required. Requirements for improvements prior to application to purchase may be waived for those lessees who enter into binding agreements with their neighbors to observe acceptable building, sanitation and health standards.

Leases issued under the terms of this order shall not be subject to assignment unless and until improvements as mentioned in (a) above shall have been constructed.

PETER MEYNS AND PETER MEYNS & CO.

ORDER TEMPORARILY DENYING EXPORT PRIVILEGES

In the matter of Peter Meyns and Peter Meyns & Co., Borgfelderstrasse 16, P. O. Box 789, Hamburg, Germany; Respondents.

The respondents, Peter Meyns and Peter Meyns & Co. are the subject of an investigation concerning alleged transhipments to Hong Kong and China of commodities exported from the United States under General License to certain European destinations, and the Director, Investigation Staff, Bureau of Foreign Commerce, has applied for an order temporarily denying to them all export privileges pending completion of the investigation and determination of any charges which may be brought against them. The application was made pursuant to § 382.11 (b) of the export control regulations (15 CFR 382.11), and, in accordance with the practice thereunder was referred to a Compliance Commissioner of the Bureau of Foreign Commerce who, after considering evidence in support of the application, has recommended that the application be granted.

Now, upon receipt of the Compliance Commissioner's recommendation after reviewing and considering the evidence submitted in support of the application and being of the opinion that there is reasonable ground to believe that the respondents have unlawfully transshipped to Hong Kong and China commodities exported from the United States under General License permitting their shipment to certain European destinations, and that they are soliciting orders from Communist Chinese buyers for commodities under General License not permitting shipment to Hong Kong or Communist China, which orders are being solicited upon representations that they will ship such commodities to such buyers in spite of regulations prohibiting such shipment, and having concluded (a) that it is advisable that all United States exporters be informed by publication of this order of the provisions hereafter set forth and (b) that this order is reasonable and necessary to protect the public interest and to achieve effective enforcement of the Export Control Act: It is hereby ordered:

(1) All outstanding validated export licenses held by or issued in the names of the Respondents, or any of them, or in which they appear or participate as purchaser, intermediate or ultimate consignee, or otherwise, are hereby revoked and shall be returned forthwith to the Bureau of Foreign Commerce for cancellation;

(2) The Respondents, and each of them, their successors or assigns, directors, officers, partners, representatives, agents, and employees, are hereby denied all privileges of participating directly or indirectly in any manner, form or capacity in an exportation of any commodity or technical data from the United States to any foreign destination, including Canada. Without limitation of the generality of the foregoing, participation in an exportation shall include and prohibit said respondents' and such other persons' and firms' participation (a) as a party or as a representative of a party to any validated export license application; (b) in the obtaining or using of any validated or general export license or other export control document; (c) in the receiving, ordering, buying, selling, using, or disposing in any foreign country of any commodities in whole or in part exported from the United States; and (d) in the financing, forwarding, transporting, or other servicing of exports from the United States;

(3) This denial of export privileges shall apply not only to the named Respondents, but also to any person, firm, corporation, or business organization with which they, or any of them, may be now or hereafter related by ownership, control, position of responsibility, or other connection in the conduct of trade involving exports from the United States or services connected therewith;

(4) This order shall be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER, shall be effective forthwith and shall remain in effect until the completion of the investigation of the conduct of the respondents and until the final determination of any compliance proceeding which may be brought against these respondents, except insofar as this order may be amended or modified hereafter in accordance with the export control regulations;

(5) No person, firm, corporation, or other business organization, within the United States or elsewhere, and whether or not engaged in trade relating to exports from the United States, shall, without prior disclosure of the fact to, and specific authorization from, the Bureau of Foreign Commerce, directly or indirectly in any manner, form, or capacity (a) apply for, obtain, transfer, or use any license, shipper's export declaration, bill of lading, or other export control document relating to any exportation of commodities from the United States, or (b) order, receive, buy, use, dispose of, finance, transport, forward, or otherwise service or participate in an exportation from the United States, or in a reexportation of any commodity exported from the United States, with respect to which any of the persons or companies within the scope of paragraphs (2) and (3) hereinabove have any interest or participation of any kind or nature, direct or indirect.

(6) A certified copy of this order shall be served upon the named respondents by registered mail.

(7) In accordance with the provisions of § 382.11 (c) of the export control regulations, the Respondents, or any of them, may move at any time prior to the entry of a final order of suspension to vacate or modify this temporary suspension to vacate or modify this temporary suspension order by filing an appropriate motion therefor, supported by evidence, with the Compliance Commissioner and may request oral hearing thereon, which, if requested, shall be held before the Compliance Commissioner at Washington, D. C., at the earliest possible date.

NOTICE OF HEARING

A public hearing will be held under section 605 (c) of the Merchant Marine Act, 1936, as amended, upon an application of States Steamship Company for an operating-differential subsidy agreement, under which it would be permitted to operate a minimum of 24 and a maximum of 30 subsidized sailings per year in the U. S. Pacific Coast/Far East service, described as Pacific Northwest ports and thence California ports to the Far East, returning to the Pacific Northwest with fortnightly sailings approximately alternatively to:

(a) Yokohama, other Japan ports, Okinawa, Keelung, Pusan, and return via Japan;

(b) Manila, other Philippine ports, Saigon, Bangkok, returning via Philippines and occasionally Japan/Korea; and a minimum of 10 and a maximum of 16 subsidized sailings per year in its Pacific Northwest/Far East service, on Service 3 of Trade Route No. 30, with the privilege in both services of also calling at Alaska and Pacific Canada ports, and as to 12 sailings per year of returning from the Far East via California ports.

The purpose of the hearing is to receive evidence relevant to the following: (1) Whether the application is one with respect to a vessel or vessels to be operated on a service, route, or line served by citizens of the United States which would be in addition to the existing service, or services, and, if so, whether the service already provided by vessels of United States registry in such service, route, or line is inadequate, and in the accomplishment of the purposes and policy of the act additional vessels should be operated thereon; (2) whether the application is one with respect to a vessel operated or to be operated in a service, route, or line served by two or more citizens of the United States with vessels of United States registry, and, if so, whether the effect of the subsidy contract would be to give undue advantage or be unduly prejudicial, as between citizens of the United States, in the operation of vessels in competitive services, routes, or lines; and (3) whether it is necessary to enter into such contract in order to provide adequate service by vessels of United States registry.

The hearing will be conducted before an Examiner at a time and place to be announced in accordance with the Board's rules of practice and procedure, and a recommended decision will be issued.

All persons (including individuals, corporations, associations, firms, partnerships, and public bodies) desiring to intervene in this proceeding are requested to notify the Board within ten (10) days from publication hereof and should promptly file petitions for leave to intervene in accordance with said rules of practice and procedure.
